- *Rev. Johnson Olive had accepted the pastorate of Swift Creek Baptist Church for the year 1885. Rev. Olive died at his residence in Apex, North Carolina on Saturday, January 24, 1885 and is buried in the Apex Cemetery. At the time of his death, he was pastor of Swift Creek, Cary, Holly Springs, and New Bethel Churches. He never preached at Swift Creek as pastor.

- Many of the early pastors served four churches at a time preaching at each one week-end a month. The first full time pastor at Swift Creek Baptist Church was Rev. Paul Pridgen, Jr. in 1954.

- As was the custom of the times in the early years, pastors were "called" on an annual basis. The call was for the calendar year. This practice continued at Swift Creek Baptist Church until 1952. Rev. Paul West, Jr. was the last pastor to face an annual call.

- △△△ Interim pastors who have served since 1979 are Dr. James Heaton, Steve Roy, Joe Zimmerman, Donald McNair, and Gerald Richards.

- △△ Youth, Mr. Christopher Dawson. Part time Ministers of Youth since 1979 include Bill Howard, Douglas Lax, Joseph Kennedy, Jr., Melissa Livengood, Patrick Smith, Tim Wiles, David Price, James Upchurch, and Christopher Dawson.

- In 2004, Swift Creek Baptist Church licensed Christopher Dawson for the ministry. △ Carlisle Franks, who grew up in the Church, was ordained to the ministry by Calvary Baptist Church in Goldsboro, NC.

Cemetery restoration delayed?

By JAY PRICE
Staff writer

The planned restoration of White Plains Cemetery and the gravesite there of early area resident Nathaniel Jones may be delayed until spring, a representative of the developer planning the work said.

Pam Sullivan of SunSouth Homes, Inc., said Thursday that the restoration may be on hold until her firm begins developing the area in which the cemetery is located.

The cemetery is in woods behind Coral Court in Maynard Oaks subdivision, which SunSouth is developing. The company is currently working on Phase II of the subdivision and probably won't start Phase III — where the cemetery is located — until spring, she said.

"Once we start doing that, (the work on the restoration) will really start going quick," she said.

SunSouth has begun a trust fund for the restoration, and Ms. Sullivan said she had been contacted by representatives of the Children of the American Revolution, whom she said were "very, very happy" to hear the site would receive attention. That organization wanted to help with the work and was ready to get started on it, Ms. Sullivan said.

SunSouth's next step, she said, would be to make definite plans for the restoration, including firm estimates of the project's costs.

Nathaniel Jones came to the area about 1750, and legend has it he named his plantation here White Plains because of its vast fields of cotton. The name lives on in White Plains United Methodist Church.

His second wife, Rachael Perry Jones, was buried with him in the cemetery, along with other family members. Several family slaves supposedly were buried around the cemetery.

According to the book "Around and About Cary," by Tom Byrd, Jones was a progressive man for his day. In his will, Jones apparently had a clause that his slaves be freed upon his death, though state law ultimately prevented this.

The site, overgrown with vegetation and strewn with trash and chunks of decorative marble, is now almost unrecognizable as a cemetery. The 15-foot stone obelisk marking Jones' grave has been defaced with graffiti and is tilted. Other grave markers are missing or damaged.

When SunSouth began construction in Maynard Oaks in 1985, it agreed to set aside the land the cemetery is on.

Cemetery restoration plans okayed by panel

By JAY PRICE
Staff Writer

A plan for restoring White Plains Cemetery — which contains the 15-foot-high monument marking the grave of Nathaniel Jones — gained the endorsement of the Town Council Public Works Committee Aug. 5.

Because it includes some town funding, the plan must now be referred to the Council's finance committee before going to the full Council for consideration.

The cemetery is located in the woods behind Coral Court in Maynard Oaks subdivision.

Jones, who came to the area about 1750, owned a large cotton plantation. The fields of the white fiber sparked the nickname for the area of White Plains.

The obelisk over his grave is covered with graffiti and is noticeably tilted, and other grave markers on the site have been vandalized.

The monument may be the oldest structure in Cary. Many of the other nine graves within the cemetery — which are of other Jones family members — are not recognizable as graves. Four small tombstones have been removed by vandals and an above-ground tomb for Jones' second wife, Rachel Perry Jones, has been broken and scattered.

The restoration plan, which was recommended by the town planning department, includes participation by the town, by SunSouth Homes, which is the developer for the land on which the cemetery sits, and by the Cary Historical Society, which has long been interested in restoring the cemetery.

Under the plan, the historical society would be responsible for acquiring the contracts and directing the work involved. It also would install a low stone wall around the cemetery to serve as a foundation for a fence and would put up a sign identifying the cemetery.

SunSouth would donate $3,530 toward the restoration, mainly to help in replacing the wrought iron fence that once surrounded the cemetery. The developer also would replace the four small grave markers, remove undergrowth on the site and provide shrubs and ground cover as required by the town horticulturist. It also would reconstruct the above-ground grave of Mrs. Jones.

The town would donate $1,500 toward the cost of straightening and cleaning the monument over Jones' grave. The town horticulturist would work with SunSouth to insure that landscaping on the cemetery would be low-maintenance, but authentic for the cemetery's period. Also, after the restoration of the cemetery was complete, the town would assume ownership of the property and would maintain it.

J.W. Shearin, a planner with the town, told the Public Works Committee that the historical society, SunSouth and the town planning staff all approved of the proposal.

Discussions at recent meetings of the historical society have centered around restoring the cemetery, which the society has identified as its current main project.

Plans to restore the White Plains Cemetery Public Works Committee have been approved by the Town Council

The Town Council's Finance Committee endorsed a plan Wednesday to restore historic White Plains Cemetery, which the Cary Historical Society calls "the oldest tangible link to the history of the immediate Cary area that exists today."

The cemetery — located in Maynard Oaks subdivision behind Coral Court — is that of the Nathaniel Jones family, which in the late 1700s and 1800s lived on a plantation that covered much of what is now Cary.

The most notable object in the cemetery is the 15-foot obelisk marking the grave of Nathaniel Jones himself.

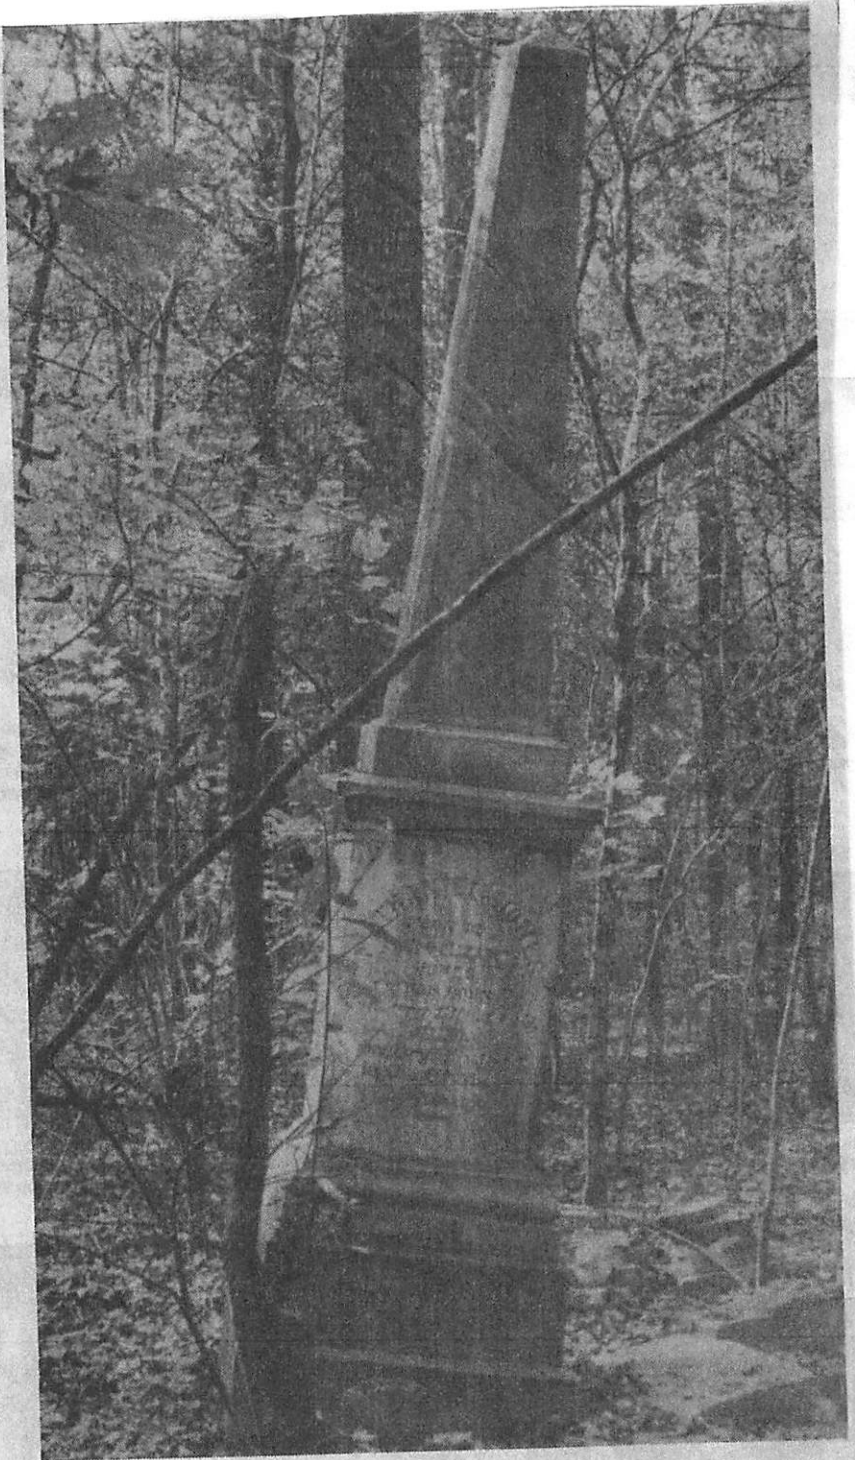

According to a proposal for the restoration penned by the historical society, Jones was an early sheriff of Wake County, a county commissioner, clerk of court and representative in the General Assembly, where he was elected to the Council of State. He died in 1815.

If the full Council agrees with the finance committee's recommendation, the town would spend $1,500 toward straightening and cleaning the monument and direct the town horticulturist to work with Maynard Oaks developer SunSouth Homes, Inc. to insure that landscaping at the cemetery consist of low-maintenance plants of the proper time period.

After the restoration is completed, the town would assume ownership of the property and keep it maintained, at least until a homeowner's association is formed in the subdivision. At that point, the association would share the maintenance with the town.

SunSouth Homes would kick in $3,500 toward the restoration, primarily for replacing the wrought iron fence that once surrounded the cemetery. It also would replace four small grave markers, remove undergrowth and provide shrubs and ground cover on the cemetery property to screen the graves from adjacent homes, as required by the town horticulturist.

The historical society would be responsible for administering the restoration contracts, installing a low stone wall around the cemetery to serve as a foundation for the wrought iron fence and for putting up a proper sign identifying the cemetery.

In recent meetings, the society has identified the cemetery restoration as its current major project.

Planner J.W. Shearin told the committee that the planning staff, developer and the historical society had agreed to the terms of the plan.

The full Council will consider the matter at its Aug. 27 meeting.

○ The Cary News WED 3 SEP 1986 Cary, NC

The grave of Nathaniel Jones, a Cary resident before there was a Cary, is a sad sight these days.

The 15-foot obelisk marking the plantation owner's final resting place is canted like the Leaning Tower of Pisa and has been splattered with paint and engraved with dozens of initials, names and dates. Two large stones over the remains have been thrown aside, and a fresh, 2-foot hole dug in their place.

The rest of the nearly-forgotten White Plains Cemetery, located in the woods behind Coral Court in Maynard Woods, looks even worse. The vault that contained the remains of Jones' second wife, Rachael Perry Jones, is nowhere to be seen. Other headstones are almost unrecognizable. The stone foot of the wrought iron fence can only be seen in outline for a few feet and the whole site is littered with paper, broken glass and chunks of decorative marble.

But finally, after years of neglect and vandalism, things are looking up for the historic cemetery. Maynard Oaks developer SunSouth, Inc. has started a trust fund to use in restoring it, and will soon begin plans for the work, said Pam Sullivan, a SunSouth secretary in charge of the project.

"Possibly we will be putting the headstones back up and maybe putting the fence back, but we don't have any definite plans yet," Ms. Sullivan said.

"We have just started construction back there and are just beginning to figure out what we want to do," she said.

The cemetery is in Phase III of the subdivision, where the only work done so far has been clearing. Ms. Sullivan said SunSouth hoped to have the restoration of the cemetery complete before streets for the phase are finished, though she didn't know when that would be.

When SunSouth began construction on Maynard Oaks in 1985, it agreed to set aside the land the cemetery is on, Ms. Sullivan said. Reading from a prepared statement on the project, she said that SunSouth had designed Phase III around the cemetery with its preservation in mind.

SunSouth already has contacted the Cary Historical Society and the Children of the American Revolution to gain more information about Nathaniel Jones and the cemetery, she said, and may approach them in the future to ask for help in restoring the site.

Cemetery facelift proposed

By JAY PRICE
Staff writer

The town also is interested in seeing the site restored. During the Aug. 14 meeting of the town council, Mayor Harold Ritter directed members of the town staff to look into what was going on with the cemetery.

J.W. Shearin, zoning code enforcement officer, said Tuesday that he had just mailed a letter to SunSouth asking them to submit a plan for the work on the cemetery.

"Hopefully we can get something together soon, before they go ahead and complete the phase," Shearin said.

Shearin said that when plans for the subdivision were approved, SunSouth had agreed to set aside a lot containing the cemetery, with the improvements to it to be agreed upon at a later time. "And I guess this is the later time," he said.

According to the book "Around and About Cary," by Tom Byrd, Nathaniel Jones came to the area about 1750.

FRIDAY HARBOR, WA 98250

Dear Cousin Pat,

Thanks so much for your letter of 8 FEB 1995 about our common Upchurch heritage. I have also received more input from Dorothy Bates. The master outline for the family of Nathan Buford U has been upgraded and a copy including continuations sections 5 & 14 is included hereunder. Three sets of questions have been prepared and set A & C are provided hereunder. I'll be grateful for any answers you have or can get. I am sending Questions sets A & B to Dorothy. I am also in touch with Candice U (Mrs Gerald Steen U).

You asked about connections of your line to the Revolution. George U (XID-137; Head of Upchurch clan No 5) was b. 1757 and thus was of the right age to have participated in the Revolution. While he might have done so I do not have any evidence in this regard. His father Michael U, III was b. 1728 and d. 1795 and could have participated although he might not have been enrolled because of age. Again, I have no evidence. This couple were in Brunswick Co, VA at the time of the Revolution and it is there (2) that one might search for evidence.

Thanks for the invitation to "come by".
We would love to do so as we really appreciate your part of the world. We have few end-of-state trips planned for 1995 (NY, AZ, TX & TN/NC). Maybe 1996 or 1997 would hold promise for a trip to the Northeast.

On 4 JUN 1995 I will be giving an Upchurch Lecture in Jamestown, Fentress Co, TN where Nathan Buford U was born. There is a lot of Upchurch history there. This will be my first trip.

Please let me know if you have any questions about the Upchurch Family.

With All Best Wishes

☺ Sincerely yours
Phil Upchurch

Dear Cousin Phillip:

I really appreciate receiving the copies of upchurch Bulletin, although our maternal grandmothers' (⁽⁴⁰²⁾ Rosina Wells upchurch) family genealogy has been ⁽³⁷⁷⁾ explored in detail (ad museum), Nathan B upchurch was rather a mystery. Aside from ^{our} being closely associated with the great-aunts (⁽⁴⁰¹⁾ Victoria W. Halshaw and ⁽⁴⁰¹⁾ Samantha W. Sewell) little was known of his family beyond this. Even where he was born.

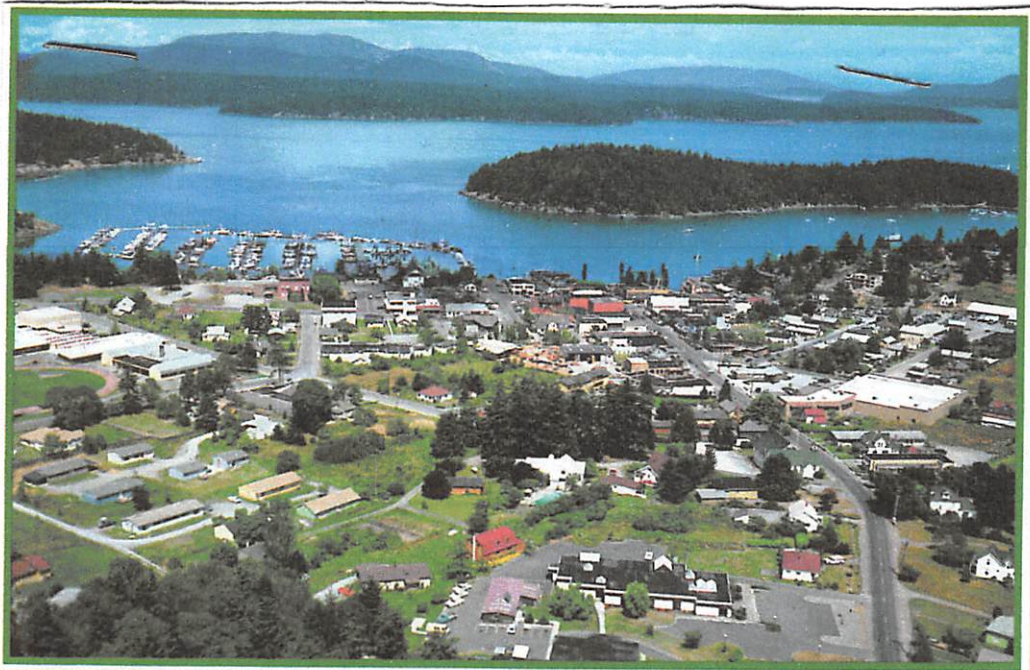

If you took the ferry from Vancouver Island, you must have stopped at our Island. It is the first stop after Sydney BC. We have lived here since 1945 and have seen it grow from a tiny village of 400 to 2500. It is the County seat and has become an immense tourist attraction. Much to our dismay!

Enclosed find check for postage. It was so kind of you to send the information

Sincerely

Patricia Fairweather

Are there any Revolutionary War connections in our line?
The next time you come this way, call me.
(360) 378-4624 I would love to meet you.

○ From Sta Dorothy says U DRPM (9)

In this Sta Dorothy pays for a 1995 U B subscription for her first cousin "Pat" and inquires about availability of selected back issues of the U B she wants to send Pat
An excerpt from the letter:

In talking to my Cousin Pat in Washington, she asked if I had info on new Upchurch line. I'm sending her all of the information I've gathered from you, but I also would love to send her some individual copies. I see you send volumes but I should like her to have Vol 1 - Number 1, Vol. 12 Number 1 and Vol. 15 Number 4. Can you do that? and if so - how much for each issue? I'm also missing Vol. 11 No. 2, and Vol 15 No. 2. So how much will it be for all 5 ~~volumes~~ issues?

Pat is Patricia Jean Jones, only daughter of Lona Upchurch Jones, sister of my father, George Louis Upchurch. She and her husband Jack have lived in the San Juan Islands for over fifty years. Jack Fairweather was the Port Captain, Harbor Master in Friday Harbor, part of entry into U.S. for small craft, and their granddaughter is Harbor Master now.

Jack Fairweather died this past year so Pat is alone, except for two daughters and their families also living at the Island.

to Buschart Gardens in Victoria.

I am most pleased to have your interest in your Upchurch heritage. There is a great deal to it and much for us to share.

Hopefully in getting you off to a good start and over time I will be able to fill in more. Enclosed is a list of what is missing on your mother's line. I will appreciate any answer you have or can get.

With all best wishes!

Sincerely yours

Jones, Flora to wed

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Allen Jones of Route 2, Spring Hope, announce the engagement of their daughter, Veronica Lynn Jones, to Dean Paul Flora, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Floyd Flora of Route 1, Spring Hope.

○ The Zebulon Record THUR 24 MAR 1988 Zebulon, NC

Flora, Jones exchange nuptial vow

Veronica Lynn Jones of Spring Hope and Dean Paul Flora of Wilson were united in marriage March 12 at Macedonia Baptist Church near Spring Hope. The double-ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Jack R. Burnette.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Allen Jones of Route 2, Spring Hope. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Floyd Flora of Route 1, Spring Hope.

Given in marriage by her parents, the bride wore a gown of taffeta that was floor length with a cathedral-length train. The fitted bodice was covered with lace and accented with seed pearls. The long sleeves were also trimmed with pearls ending in points over the wrists. The skirt and train were bordered in lace and pearls with cutouts of lace motifs and beads scattered on the skirt. Her headpiece was a halo of silk and satin flowers with beads and a flowing veil. She carried a bouquet of mixed silk flowers placed on a white Bible used by the bridegroom's mother on her wedding day.

She was attended by Janis Finch of Zebulon as maid of honor and bridesmaids Teresa Kirkland of Wilson, sister of the bride, and April Kay Flora of Spring Hope, sister of the bridegroom. The attendants wore full-length dresses of lavender taffeta and lace. Their halo headpieces were mixed silk flowers and pearls in shades of lavender and white.

The bridegroom chose his father to be his best man. Ushers were Mack Vester of Rocky Mount, cousin of the bridegroom, and Gregory Dento of Zebulon, cousin of the bride. The junior usher was Michael Wooten of Spring Hope, brother of the bride.

Wedding music was presented by Deloris Parker of Nashville, organist and pianist, and by Betty Lane Bissett of Spring Hope, soloist.

Jean Burnette of Spring Hope directed the wedding. Susannah Fleming of Raleigh, cousin of the bridegroom, presided at the register. Birdseed bags were distributed by Kristen Vester, cousin of the bridegroom, and Jennifer McLain, both of Spring Hope.

The bride is a graduate of Southern Nash Senior High School. She is employed with White Star in Spring Hope. Her husband is also a graduate of Southern Nash Senior High School and is attending Wilson County Technical College. He is employed by Firestone in Wilson.

○ The Philip Jones Family - Alan R. Jones - 24 APR 2007 - DOC
"Doc" actually refers to two documents obtained by RPH from Alan R. Jones on 24 APR 2007. The second and invaluable pages 13 - 25 and is actually an oral interview given by 90 year old CAROLINE AUGUSTA JONES "CARRIE" to Charles H. Utley in 1936. Carrie never married, was a teacher and lived in Snyft Creek TSP, Wake Co, NC. She was d/o Barnabas Jones, II "Barney Jones" 1819-1906; G-D/o Martin Jones & G-G/O Ethelred Jones 1748-1835.

EXCERPT: RE SETTLEMENT OF JONES FAMILY IN WAKE CO, NC

There is a strong probability that, if not the very first, almost the very first was the ancestor of the Joneses, now rather numerous in the locality.
Mr. Lytle Jones is authority for the statement that at a very early date one, Philip Jones, father of Ethelred Jones, settled on the side of Dutchmond. In my early boy-hood there were four large Walnut trees on the East side of the road about one hundred yards below Mrs. Bessie Jones' barn, and, I think the sign of an old house fifty yards East. Mr. Tom Wood says that my grandfather Beverly Jones told him that at an early date there was a cabin in Tom's field about three hundred yards back of his present home; and a walnut tree still stands there. Between these two points there is a spring. Philip Jones died in 1760; and his son Ethelred twenty-five years later took up some two or three thousand acres of land along Dutchmond and Camp branches. Martin Jones, son of Ethelred married in 1713 and settled on Dutchmond near where Frank L. Lorbacher lived. This indicates that the present road had not been cut.

NOTE: The above paragraph involves the interview (Charles Houston Utley) speaking although he may have been using some ideas gathered from Carrie - RPH

(133) EDWARD JONES (Searcy Map). See the records of GRANVILLE COUNTY and its earliest organization, beginning on page 209 for information in regard to EDWARD JONES. There is also an account of EDWARD JONES on page 43 (Of the INDEX SECTION) in connection with an account of COL. WILLIAM EATON and his genealogy. He was the father of PRISCILLA JONES who became of the wife of GIDEON MACON. Any purported account of the early history of GRANVILLE COUNTY could not be written without mention of EDWARD JONES and his descendants who exercised a wide influence on the destinies of the Province of North Carolina, and particularly GRANVILLE COUNTY.
