Hello Phil,

Our schedule on Saturday is very loose, but we probably won't be in a rush to St. Louis on Saturday. The stamp exhibition shouldn't take long unless there is something truly interesting being offered by the dealers. So I would expect we can wander over your way by around 2:00 p.m. give or take a bit.

We have decided to be stodgy when it comes to some of the new technology -- neither of us have cell phones as the students long ago convinced us that to be out of contact is sometimes a good thing. Also my hearing is such that I don't get along with phones at all. A GPS seems like a device that would almost immediately go into a drawer unused -- unless I were to set out on an old ambition to walk the western Cascade-Sierra trail from Canada to Mexico (sigh, probably won't happen). But Google Maps nicely shows where you are located and I don't think we will manage to get lost. The press of my wife's teaching (she is retired, but we will explain Saturday) and her book editing means we will have to return Saturday evening. Charles

P.S. Intelius People Search suggests that Wesley Upchurch (age 24) is probably the son of Ronald Wesley (age 50) and Doretta Rae Upchurch of Memphis and Cordova, Tennessee, and Lake Milton, Ohio.

Hi Charles---

Your plan sounds great and we look forward to seeing you and Virginia early tomorrow afternoon. There are two gates to our Baxter Point Villas Community. The one on Baxter Road should be open. Google has taken some visitors to a back gate which is always locked. Re the GPS--we were given one for Christmas two + years ago and it is still in the box. We seem to have the same mind set.

⑬ 27 AUG 2011 - Notes of Charles & Virginia Peterson to home of RPH & SSU - They spent 2:45 PM - 8:30 PM including being over quite for dinner at mini's. We just had a meal in our living room over tea with a chat about several family history items I had brought out for Charles & see including: Master outline book for his Mover 4 / Courtney 4 Sublan; Profiles for Charles & his ancestor Courtney 4, Chart showing Charles mother in 3rd cousin of Sharov K. Rose (a good cooperation), Census Record for 1880 & 1900 MS for U, 2

one of which Charles had donated in 2003, and the profile on Wesley U. of Columbia, MD (about which Charles has recently been giving me input) and the recent book about prostitution in Waco TX containing a chapter about James Tany U. Charles was polite about all of these items but showed no interest in asking questions or wanting more input.

He was willing to help on some things if I would ask. He could not recall how he produced the 1900 MS census he sent in 2003 (I advised him how to produce same). He could not recall & later a bit of my computer did not jog his memory.

We discussed historical records & the one I am reading on Darwin. Little mention was made of their adopted son Nathaniel except Virginia told SSA he had returned from Puerto Rico.

Charles & I discussed digitizing certain UPchurch records & I conclude a typed index (or outline) should go with the master outlines of NLSU & be posted online.

After an hour upstairs Virginia & Charles continued. At that upstairs Charles & I went downstairs for an hour. Charles introduced me to www.intelivis.com which is a good site I must learn how to use. He also described www.switchboard.com for website page address. Charles remained in my mind as a firm Armed type - know it all, dogmatic, but at the world - we may be only fools. He willing to help me.

Charles has no close association with his MS roots although he has passed through the small towns there where his mother Edna Jerome Bishop was born. Her father died when she was age 3 and her mother had a challenge to bring up six children. Edna learned to be a sheet metal worker through a six week course in MS and applied for and got a WWII job in Seattle, WA & never looked back. Charles was surprised that she applied for the Seattle job as she led him to believe she was sent (I don't understand the difference)

Virginia is now retired from her tenured professorship in Biochemistry which position she got late in life having spent many years in a non-tenured position. As she neared retirement the Dept Head paroled a number of the regular professors were willing to teach her Biochemistry course & manage undergraduates for years.

Virginia is much more comfortable in discussing general professional or life style matters but is soft spoken. They seemed not to want to leave and very well may return for evernight. Charles collects Scandinavian stamps. He seems to dislike both political parties. I saw he leans to the environmental & liberal side but sees Gov't as making a mess of things. Charles gave me a stack of envelopes & a surplus UB

Hello Phil,

We enjoyed our too short visit on Saturday and again thank you for the wonderful hospitality.

After thinking about the census for a bit, I realized that what I send you came from Heritage Quest, an alternative website to Ancestry.com.

A search for Upchurch in 1930 shows the following records in Texas, and then probably duplicates what I sent you. You can't subscribe as an individual to Heritage Quest, but should be able to access it through your local library if it has a subscription (the columns should rectify if you copy and paste, then change the font to a typewriter font).

As for the computers, you might try BestBuy to see if they can check them for viruses, etc. The hackers write new viruses as fast as the virus protection programs can be programmed to detect the old ones. Although old, your computers should not be that slow. Charles

Thanks for your email of Aug 30 which prompted me to make a visit to the St Louis County Library on Lindbergh Boulevard. We were there yesterday and learned several things. Their new Family History Center to be built across the street from us is scheduled for construction in 2012. They will be happy to have me as a volunteer.

I took with me several versions of the census printouts you and I discussed plus the one you sent on the 30th. I learned that they subscribe to Heritage Quest and that I can access it remotely. The staff member was very helpful and showed me how to access and printout records from both Heritage Quest and Ancestry. He described the pros and cons of each. Now I have to practice on my own to see how much I retained and the results I can produce. I still do not see my way clear to produce exactly what you provided in 2004 but now I need to do my homework. What you sent on the 30th provides just heads of households whereas what you sent in 2004 provided all household members. The staff member explained that Heritage Quest indexed all occupants up to a certain point and then just quit. So this is a little complication.

On computers I am like a monkey taught to drive a car but does not know how to put gas in the tank or how to read road signs. I have concluded I need to allocate time to teach myself some more of the tricks of computers that would be especially helpful to me. I know how to make a plan to do this--now I need the discipline to do so.

We were pleased to have the chance to visit with you and Virginia and trust we will have the opportunity again soon.

Hello Phil,
I suspect that Heritage Quest found it could not compete with Ancestry.com. In 2004 I think there may have been a third genealogy site with comprehensive census information, but they too are now gone. Various others are also redoing census indices because the error rate of transcription in the ancestry.com and other files is so great. You might check www.familysearch.org to see what they now have available -- the LDS people also have more information available, with a massive project to index the information they have on their 2,000,000 microfilms of county and other records.
I will look forward to the new genealogy library -- I hope they will have the microfilm of the St. Louis city deaths from the 1850s. I think a great-great-grandmother is listed, but the St. Louis Genealogical Society transcription of the microfilm did not get her name correctly. We will be off to Seattle shortly to visit friends and my brother and sister. Charles

Hello Phil,
Sorry that this is short notice. We will visit the stamp exhibition at the Renaissance Hotel near the airport on Saturday. That shouldn't take all that long as I find most of the displays to be rather specialized and generally outside of my area of collecting interest. So we will be at loose ends on Saturday afternoon before we return to Columbia. Just wondered if you were around for a short visit. Charles

Hi Charles and Virginia---

It was nice to get your card while you were on your cruise and to learn that you were having an enjoyable trip. I assume that by now you are back home and into your normal routine.

We have now pretty well settled into our new location and feel it was a right move for us. I am still working on a process operating out of an office in our apartment and one in the Valley but I am getting there.

Re Allied Families we have the good news that IRS has granted us 501 (c) 3 tax-exempt status. My associate Mary Lou Brown and I have been working to upgrade our website so it will be more helpful when we solicit members. Just yesterday we got to the point that we felt our draft was too complex so today my job is to create a simplified version. I hope we can have it on the site in a couple of weeks. We already have some special contributions to enrolling 10 families so that part of our plan of action seems to have good potential. I have a draft for three enrolled families including one for your ancestor Moses Upchurch.

Best~

Hello Phil,

I seem to keep forgetting to send the attached newspaper item to you, from the Columbia Tribune about 4 weeks ago. So better late than never. [RE WESLEY A U]

I had a nice time in England with a Wells family group, visiting the family environs in Kent from whence my Wells immigrant ancestor came to America about the same time that Michael U. arrived in Virginia. I doubt they ever met, however.

Hi Charles---

Thanks for the input on Wesley U. We have other items in his Biofile that shows he likes to live next to the edge. He must be a colorful character but I doubt he is much of a church goer. Our speculation is that his father was Ronald Wesley U. but I have not been able to establish the complete line. I have now added several items to my Biofile System on several names that may in the future help to establish his line. I will welcome any additional items about this news making Upchurch. Family historians cannot afford to be judgemental.

If you can find time I hope you will look over the material I sent out on August 19 about the Moses U. Family. It is an awkward transmission as our website is not yet quite ready for it to be placed there. I am using email transmissions to send out draft versions on several families "enrolled" under the banner of Allied Families. The planned program of work for our new organization is rather extensive and it will take time for us to get fully organized. In the meantime I am pleased that quite a few of our earlier supporters are showing faith in our plans.

From experience I know you enjoyed your travel overseas and that you are glad to be back home.
Best to You and Virginia~

Hi Charles

I write to thank you for your Christmas message and note that you continue to be very active in retirement including doing some extended travel. I hope I can convince Sallaine to do one more trip --perhaps on the Danube.

Thank you for your $50 contribution to the Allied Families program. Since you did not specify I have allocated it to support the ongoing enrollment of the Moses Upchurch Family of which you are a part. This makes you a Co-sponsor of the enrolled family. You are the forth person to support the enrollment of this family and this take us to $540 contributed. Having reached the level of $500 the contributions beyond this are set aside in a reserve to support the enrolled family long term. This is the second family to reach the $500 target

I am pleased to report that Cousin Michael L Upchurch of Texas has become a volunteer transcriber for the Moses U. Family. He is proceeding transcribe the Biofiles for the children of Moses Upchurch for us to put online. I have already received his transcriptions for the five daughters.

Sallaine and I hope your travels will take you and Virginia to the St Louis ares soon and that we will have the opportunity of showing you our new retirement abode. We are quite pleased with it.

Merry Christmas and may 2015 be kind to us all~
Phil Upchurch

Hi Charles

Thank you for your generous donation in support of our family history work. This contribution will cover your 2018 membership in Allied Families as well as support of the Upchurch Collection at NCSU. I have exchanged emails with NCSU and now have the address necessary to send your contributions on to them. The endowment at NCSU now approaches $60,000. Your support of the Upchurch Collection is most gratifying to me.

You are probably aware that we have a project to transcribe and post the Biofiles for the patriarchs, and their children and grandchildren, plus all the spouses, of early enrolled families. Currently about 150 out of 300 have been posted to our website. The latest to reach my desk is that of Sarah Upchurch, a granddaughter of your ancestor, Moses Upchurch. A copy of the draft prepared by volunteer Carla Michaels of our Cary Facility is attached. I send it in case you might have anything to add to make it more complete. Let me know if you would like to give a hand with any of the remaining transcriptions.

I write for another reason. Over the years cooperators have sent me family history compilations that did not fit neatly in the Upchurch Bulletin or on our Allied Families website. These are the kinds of items that have often been lost to future generations. We are now contemplating having a link on our Upchurch Story website to accommodate such items with the heading of "Phil's Attic" or something else along that line. I therefore ask if you have any such compilations or collections that would fit under this heading?

Beyond the above I will write that in our Cary Facility we have the capability to accept family history collections of individuals including wills, deeds, summaries, etc when they are no longer needed by the owner. If this might fit you at some point please let me know.

We are making excellent progress on converting records for the Moses Upchurch clan to on-line access via our websites. Several volunteers are helping in this effort.

I do hope you and Virginia will be in the St. Louis area again soon and we can have a chat.

Sending all best wishes~

Hi Charles---

Good to hear from you and to learn you and Virginia are well and enjoying life. I trust your upcoming travels will be enjoyable.

My pancreatic cancer tumor is stable after 16 months of treatment which is amazing. I am deeply involved with my memoir and with perfecting our Allied Families Association. These activities are highly recommended by my medical team. Sallaine and I sailed the Danube last July to celebrate our 69th and have plans to do the Baltic this next summer for number 70. Our daughter and her husband accompany us to help accommodate my neuropathy which is manageable. I still drive.

I will welcome your return to family history in due course. We need your help or at least advice in producing census sheets for the 1940 census as you did for the other decades. The sheets, which I annotated, have been immensely helpful. I took examples on my last trip to Cary to illustrate their utility to our Volunteers.

We are in the midst of upgrading our websites and moving to a more digital operation. It is a challenge but we are up to it. Have a look from time to time.

I hope you will have reason to visit our area in due course and that you will spare some time for us. We have a lot to show you.

Sending All Best Wishes~

Phil Upchurch, Manager Allied Families

Hello Phil,

Sorry to not have let you know we are alive and well here in Columbia, but we have been quite busy and genealogy has been set aside for the moment though I did spend some time trying to catch up with one of the group of cousins and a quick jaunt south to Bentonville, AR was a complete waste of time trying to track a long lost Peterson relative.

Fall was occupied with a trip to Michigan to visit our son, then a lengthy process of removing a large 5-trunk birch tree from the back yard (they tend to start drooping toward the ground and become a problem) and a surprise when a minor storm took off the top of a sweet gum in the front yard. Also a few other time consuming home projects to get the house ready for winter. And last week my main computer died. We are off to the Falkland and South Georgia Islands right after Thanksgiving, but I am hoping the New Year will offer a respite from other tasks to get back to the genealogy which has been so long neglected. Hope that you and your wife are doing well, Charles

Hi Vicki---

You have offered to help with the Family Tree Project on Ancestry.com for the Moses Upchurch Clan to which you belong. We have several of this Clan who have offered to help and we are evolving a plan.

Ancestry® | Genealogy, Family Trees & Family History Records

ancestry.com

Discover your family history and start your family tree. Try free and access billions of genealogy records including Census, SSDI & Military records.

In the meantime I ask if you would be willing to divert slightly and transcribe the Biofile of your ancestor Hanson Upchurch, a GS/O Moses Upchurch, for us to place on our website. Assuming you will agree I have cleaned up the Biofile and am asking Jay Buck to scan and send it to you along with guidelines for transcribers. Feel free to add items to the Biofile showing your name, a source and the date.

Back to our Plan for the Moses Upchurch Clan. One of our Cary DAR Volunteers has created the Moses Upchurch RPU Legacy Tree on Ancestry.com for us. It represents exactly what is in my set of Master Outline Notebooks and is not to be changed. We are currently vetting this Legacy Tree.

For a couple of years, Sharon Self of MS has been working as Editor of the Ancestry.com

Hi Charles---

I write to thank you for your interest in our family history venture and to tell you of a new milestone reached regarding data processing. From the copy of the forwarded email below you will see we have reached out to 50 remote volunteer computer operatives to update our collaboration and to set priorities. Having 50 such volunteers is a major achievement and shows the strength of our family history approach

We do not have you listed as a remote volunteer computer worker and hereby extend an invitation for you to join our volunteer ranks. You may not be able to accept for whatever reason but do know such help is vital to keeping up the fantastic momentum we have achieved so far in Allied Families dealing with our shared heritage.

In any case please do visit our two websites to stay current on our progress and let us have your comments and advice from time to time.

In appreciation for sharing your heritage and for making it a part of our growing American family~

Phil Upchurch, Manager, Allied Families.

Hi Kendal---

This email is to thank you for your participation in our Allied Families History Association and to ask for your feedback concerning your future participation. You are among fifty on our list as active Biofile transcribers or as active in helping to create "Trees" on Ancestry.com. This same email is being sent to all cooperators who have volunteered to make computer entries for our family history effort. Our focus has evolved along the way and I may have missed a beat with some cooperators. This email may even cross paths with other exchanges I have with you. Let me describe to you our current priorities to give you more background.

Biofile Projects:

Part I: We are using Volunteers to transcribe the Biofiles of the Patriarchs of enrolled families along with Biofiles of their children and grandchildren and their spouses. This will extend to about 500 Biofiles of which over 100 have been transcribed and are posted on our website. We want to continue this process and to recruit more transcribers.

Part II: In our Chesterfield office we have a team working on preparing Biofiles to be scanned and to be put on-line. This effort goes far beyond the 500 Biofiles of Part II as we probably have about 250,000 Biofiles to scan. We have budgeted about $7500 to make Part II happen.

Master Outline Projects:

Part III: During forty years of research I manually placed family history records in 50 Notebooks. They are subject to being lost by fire, flood or otherwise. Our current highest priority is to enter the data from these Notebooks into Ancestry.com trees Clan by Clan and to label them "RPU Legacy Trees" They are not to be changed but the data will be available for adoption or as a source to be cited. If you are familiar with making entries in Ancestry.com or are will to learn your help as a volunteer Tree Master will be highly valuable.

Part IV: After Part III has been completed we will ramp up our effort to create "Living" Trees on Ancestry.com for each of our enrolled families. Some of this work has been started but we prefer to concentrate on Part III covering the the Master Outlines for now.

Our correspondence with Cooperators has been somewhat irregular as we have juggled duties and my health issues and as the above process has unfolded. Sorry about that--now we hope for more orderly exchanges going forward. This brings me to ask you for your response to the following:

A. Re my past/current volunteer effort:

1. I have in fact been a volunteer to input data--Yes_____ No_____

2. Re a current project :

a. I have and unfinished project-- Yes_____ No. _____

b. I have and unfinished project which is_____.

B. Re a future project:

1. I am willing to enter data going forward-- Yes_____ No_____

2. I prefer the following:

Yes Thank You

Dear Dr. Upchurch,

We are so glad to hear that you are working and that the tumor remains stable. Thank you for the gift from your family member, the person to contact in Friends of the Library is Allison Hughes (gjrbaud@ncsu.edu) and her phone number is 919 515 2841. The mailing address is North Carolina State University Libraries, Campus Box 7111, Raleigh, NC 27695-7111.

Please give my best to Salliane, Deb and Mary Lou.

Hi Eli,

This is to update you on the progress Mary Lou Brown and I are making on my memoir. We continue to work on it 1-2 days per week. Many of the chapters are now in final form and we are giving them one last review. A few chapters need more attention.

Along with progress on our draft being prepared for an online component of the Upchurch Collection at NCSU, we are organizing supporting documents in a manner to be shipped to you at the right time.

Amazingly, I continue as a 25 month pancreatic cancer survivor and am still functioning. The tumor remains stable. Should my health take a turn for the worst, Mary Lou and my daughter Deb Heck will be positioned to send the digital memoir and supporting documents to you.

I now ask you for a favor. A family member has sent a modest donation to support our Allied Families Association. He requests that a portion be sent for the NCSU Upchurch Collection Endowment. Would you please give the name of the person and the address to whom I can mail a check?

I understand you and Greg are involved in the replacement of Susan Nutter, and I wish you both well in that venture.

Best wishes and thanks,

Hello Phil,

Enclosed is an obituary which I forgot to send you.

We will add to our travels this fall with a booking on a cruise to the Northwest Passage and to Greenland. This will be our third excursion on the FRAM which ~~will~~ took us to the Antarctic and will take us to the Svalbard Islands.

We will also show pictures at the March Scandinavian Heritage Society's meeting of our last visit to Norway. It was a fantastic visit and we are looking forward to our May trip although my land excursion has already been Cancelled because of the heavy snow fall this winter. Given that the annual high temperature in the Svalbard Islands is barely above freezing, the snow will remain. Whatever happened to global warming?

Hello Phil

It is good to hear from you. Sorry to be so slow to reply, but a series of minor ailments - nothing serious - makes one rather lethargic. Also the gray days of winter, but spring will soon be here.

In May we will be off to Norway on a voyage to the Svalbard Islands. We return and a few days later off to England with a Towne Family Association tour.

Otherwise too many things keep me occupied and I haven't really gotten back into the genealogy. The 1750 census should be available soon and that should be a strong incentive to go back to the family studies. My internet file at Rochester still generates a few inquiries, but far fewer than a few years ago. Thus not any new information I could pass along to you.

I think it great that the Upchurch project is being placed on a solid permanent foundation. Will try to spend some time in the near future to look at the internet files.

Hi Charles ---

Many thanks for your generous support of Allied Families for 2017 which came by the way of your $250 check in the mail yesterday. I am delighted that you recognize the importance of having a permanent fund the earnings of which will support Allied Families and each of it's enrolled families long-term. The goal of having a minimum $10,000 endowment to support each enrolled family is ambitious but doable. It sets a goal for each family enrolled and gives descendants a way of participating that is meaningful. I am finding that this works. Thirteen have so far contributed to building an endowment for the Moses Upchurch Family. Your donation brings the contributions up to $2,385. Of this the first $1,000 is used for upfront enrollment expenses and additional amounts are sequestered. So we have $1,385 towards the $10,000 goal. So far we have a collective sequestered amount of about $9,000 for all families.

Your comment about the 1950 census brings to mind the necessity of developing a plan to continue beyond my life augmenting the Upchurch files I have worked to accumulate over many years. We are in the process of adding three Board members to Allied Families--all connected to our Cary Facility in N.C. My hope is that one of these, Mike Upchurch, will become the Coordinator for augmenting our files in the future using volunteers and some paid help. It is only one of a number of projects I am beginning to assign others. I hope I can count on you as a consultant about how to augment our records. We can do this via phone and email but it would be more productive if we could meet in person to discuss the many options open to us.

I agree with you that this winter has been a bit of a downer and especially with all the cloudy weather. Fortunately it should be about over with lots of sunshine ahead.

Thank you for the update on your future travel plans. They sound great. You are at a good time in your life where you can accommodate desires to visit foreign places. The memories will serve you well.

Do come to see us when you can. We would love to show you our retirement setting and our Allied Families office in the Chesterfield Valley.

Sending all Best Wishes to You and Virginia~

Dear Charles-

We have continued to make progress in Allied Families and this is a progress report.

The enclosed UB for 2016 shows our shift to digital which has been a significant achievement. The enclosed summary shows what we have done in our shift and what we have to do in 2017 with the help of many. of our 200 participants the burden of funding our $25,000 2017 budget falls largely on 50 of us. Whatever encouragement you can provide will be welcomed.

I am especially pleased with the progress in developing our Allied Families Family in Cary, NC. I will be there March 29 - April 2 to move it along even faster.

Enjoyed your Christmas card and the reports of your travels. It is a good time in your life.

My best to you and Virginia

Hi Charles---

We are now well into our budget year of 2016 for Allied Families. I write in hopes that you still plan to renew your support for our family history effort as you have done so generously in past years. A membership form is attached. We have continued to grow our effort in a number of ways. Our number of participants has grown to 175 of whom many have continued to renew their membership but not all. Our budget is at about the $10,000 per year level. We have quite a few volunteers including 17 remote transcribers of Biofiles and more are expected. Even some modest growth in our budget will allow the hiring of some much needed part-time help for our Chesterfield, MO and Cary, NC operations. Help is available at $10 /hour. I could make good use of some help.

A significant part of our financial plan is to allocate as much as possible to the long-term support fund destined to reach endowment levels for reach enrolled family. So far we have a pooled amount of about $6,000 sequestered. Endowment earnings will keep Allied Families operational down the road.

I am especially proud of the progress we have made on enrolling the Moses Upchurch Family to which you belong. I hope you will review our website from time to time to note progress and that you will offer suggestions.

In appreciation all you have done to help us make a lot of progress on our shared Upchurch heritage~

Hi Charles---

Just want to alert you to the fact that I will be visiting the Allied Families Cary, N.C. Facility in early August. Will fly in on August 1 and out on August 7 thus will be working in the Facility for the 2nd through the 6th. If your schedule permits it would be great to have you visit while we are there. Representatives of the Abel Upchurch, Sr and the Richard Upchurch,III families are already scheduled to attend.

We will participate in the volunteers work session on Thursday August 3 2-4 pm and have a round-table discussion for visitors on Saturday August 6 2-4 pm. These would be good times for you to come but if other times suit you best just let me know what is convenient and a chat can be arranged. On our visit we hope to continue helping the Cary Facility to evolve to be the national headquarters of our Association.

Sending All Best Wishes~

Hi Charles----

Because of the strong collaboration you and I have had on family history I want to alert you to the fact that my health issue made it prudent for me to resign last March as President of Allied Families. The Board elected Dr. David Thomas Upchurch of Georgia to succeed me. I am leaning on Tom and others to take over the leadership of our Association. My duties are step-wise being handed off to associates in our Chesterfield and Cary offices in an orderly manner. I will help out as long as I can. For 11 months I have tolerated well the chemo treatments for my pancreatic cancer but my doctors only say "You have beat the odds so far, enjoy each day". Truly, I am blessed.

You will probably hear from Dr. Tom and I hope you will collaborate with him as you have with me.

Our heritage represents the building of America since 1638. Our continued success in Allied families will be a tribute to those who have worked since 1950 to document our pathways and a boon to future generations who will want to know their heritage--two worthy goals. We have come a long way together. May the journey continue.

Fraternally Yours~

Hello Phil,

The annual philatelic show is at the end of the month at the Renaissance Airport Hotel. We expect to visit on Friday, 31 March. Normally I don't spend more than a couple of hours at the show as the displays tend to be highly specialized and not in my area of interest and the dealers don't generally have much of interest either. If you are at home this afternoon, we could stop by for a long over due visit. Charles

Hi Charles---

Many thanks for the obituary for Ruth Upchurch of Coffeerville, MS. I am/was well acquainted with Ruth and her Husband Joe Upchurch. In fact, I visited in their home in MS and gave an Upchurch talk to kin they had invited. Joe was a long-time supporter of our Upchurch work. It is possible you and he crossed paths as he was a Soil Scientist at the University of Missouri. The Obit has been placed in her Biofile.

You and Virginia have an ambitious set of travel plans upcoming. It sounds as if you need to take warm clothes. Our only travel programmed at the moment is a trip to North Carolina later this month. I will spend several days building momentum in the Allied Families Cary Facility. We have a great group working on Allied Families projects there and it is necessary to draw some conclusions about how the workers can be best coordinated.

Stop along the way and remind yourself that you are retired and now doing just what you want to do.

Trusting that you and Virginia will enjoy your travels~

Hi Charles---

Thanks for alerting me that you will be in our neighborhood on March 31. This would have provided an excellent opportunity for us to confer about our progress on family history. There are a number of issues I have wanted to talk with you about. However, it so happens that I will be in North Carolina March 29 to April 2, 2017 working in our Allied Families Cary Facility there. I regret that we will miss the opportunity to have a chat and hope that there will soon be another opportunity.

My Best to You and Virginia~

Hi Charles-----

I am delinquent in thanking you for your emails of April 5 and 6 for which a belated thanks. Both have been printed and placed in a queue to be given more attention later. I am sure you can appreciate that our obligations to prepare for our move has taken a lot of time. All seems to be in order now and the movers come on May 15 to move our final belongings. It will take us a little while to become operational and familiar with our new setting. A special challenge will be for me to become used to working at home and at my office in the Valley. I have long anticipated that this time would come so now I will have to figure out how to make it work.

In addition to our challenges about moving Sallaine and I both have had serious colds and finally went to Urgent Care for help. We still have some symptoms but are past the worst of it.

The trip to England with Wells cousins will no doubt be very enjoyable. The four of us are fortunate to be retired and in good health so as to enjoy our freedom. There always seems to be more to do than can be easily accomplished but at least we are the ones making the decisions'

For the rest of the year I hope to be spending quite a bit of time on Upchurch And Allied Families Association. Soon I will be making a push to increase our 2014 membership up to a target of 100. We are about 2/3rds of the way there now. I'll also be working on illustrative details on how we propose to treat enrolled families.

As always, it was great to see you and Virginia. Sallaine and I send our best wishes for a great summer.

Hello Phil,

I was working on my Wells family cousins and came across a rather curious error which I should have caught long, long ago when I entered my Mississippi Upchurch cousins into my genealogy file.

Using information from Genevieve Little's Those Mississippi Upchurchs, you have

XID-14945, William Maurice Jackson born 6 July 1928

XID-14946, Sallie Jackson, daughter of XID-14945, life dates 10 June 1926 - 12 June 1926.

(This in the Bulletin, Vol. 7, no. 1, p. 38, January 1986.) Genevieve had Sallie's mother as Pauline Roach, XID-14966. Pauline's death was given as 25 April 1923, which later was corrected to 25 April 1963.

Since Pauline, actually Eva Pauline Roach was born 18 July 1922, she can't be Sallie's mother unless Sallie's life dates are in error (by 20 years?).

William Maurice Jackson's correct life dates are 5 July 1909 - 2 November 1970. He and his wife are buried in the Evergreen Baptist Church Cemetery in Louisville, Mississippi. I haven't seen another reference to Sallie Roach.

Maybe you already have this sorted out. Charles

Hello Phil,

Attached are two files for Lucinda Upchurch, one for each of her marriages. This updates a bit any information on her descendants I have sent in the past. Also a photograph which I found on Ancestry.com. If anything was passed down to daughter Cordie McHann Bishop, it was lost when the home burned in the late 1930s or early 1940s with a total loss of possessions. Thus I am happy that the picture was posted by someone on the Adams side of the family.

You can also add a daughter for my nephew Matthew Peterson -- Midori Freedom Peterson, born November 2012 if I recall correctly. I need to add her to the files. Nothing about the mother which you can consider is a reflection on the modern generation. I have to confess I haven't done a lot with the genealogy in the last few years and only recently have started to look at the 1940 census records to update my files.

We enjoyed the altogether too short visit with you and your wife. I am sorry we didn't have a chance to look at your recent efforts regarding the Upchurches. I will look at your website in detail one of these days, but have too many other things occupying me at the moment. Only one of which is genealogy, to update some Wells family information as I will be off to England on a tour with Wells cousins in July. That should be interesting as there is a bit of a disagreement about the lineages around the end of the Revolutionary War.

With best wishes for an uneventful move into your new home, Charles

Birth: 23 August 1891, Winston County, Mississippi
Death: 19 July 1973, Mississippi

Family record: Before marriage to James Ellison, she had a son Hernando Desota (nicknamed Bill) Burgess who committed suicide at age of about 21. He is buried in Vaiden, Carroll County, Mississippi. Upon Jesse Bishop's death, the farm property in Sunflower County was sold and divided into seven [sic] shares, divided equally between the six children of the first marriage and the widow and her family. If this is correct, then this division of property was not in accord with Mississippi state law under which the rights of the children of the second family would have been protected. [But see below.] Cordie left the Mississippi valley to return to the hill country of Carroll County.

Family History Report

Springfield High School Capitoline 1938. Charles Peterson (January graduate): Music is this boy's hobby, recreation, and ambition. He can swing a tune on a sax, or, for contrast, play stately music on the organ. Member: advance band.

Like his father, this Charles was also very talented musically and spent much of his working career involved in music, as a performer using a wide range of instruments, as a composer in his own right, and as a transcriber of the music of others. During World War II he served as clarinetist with the 388th Army Special Forces Band at Fort Lewis, Washington. He also worked in the broadcast industry, for many years as a radio announcer, as well as maintaining an amateur (ham) radio station license.

When he left the United in 1962 to go to the Panama Canal Zone, he started a new career as a radio mechanic and then joined the United States Civil Service as a member of the operations staff (variously working as an electrician, lock operator, and locomotive operator at the Gatun Locks) of the Panama Canal Company. He retired in 1982 and shortly thereafter moved to Freeport, Bahamas, with his then wife. It is unfortunate that Charles was the result of a marriage in which the parents were advanced in age (his father was 51 when he was born, his mother 40), and being childless, had turned their energies to a very active social life with friends and associates in the Springfield community. The arrival of a child did little to change this, to the detriment of that person's ability to develop lasting and mature relationships with others. The father was preoccupied with his business and social relationships, the mother with the latter, and the child was a neglected encumbrance. Of the several marriages of Charles, only the third produced acknowledged children.

The Freeport News, 31 May 1994, p. 3, obituary, Charles J. Peterson: Funeral service for Charles John Peterson, age 74 formerly of Springfield Ill, and a resident of 83 Casa Bahama, Freeport, who died in Freeport, Monday, May 30, will be held at the Gravesite of the Grand Bahama Memorial Park, Frobisher Drive on Wednesday at 5:00 p.m. Officiating will be Local Spiritual Assembly of Baha'is of Freeport. His survivors includes [sic] three children, Charles, Richard and Mary, and many friends. In lieu of flowers donations may be sent to the Grand Bahama Children's Home, Freeport. Funeral arrangement entrusted to Yager Funeral Home, Queen's Highway Freeport.

Buried Freeport Cemetery, Freeport, Bahamas.

Birth: 6 April 1983, San Lorenzo, Paraguay

Family History Report

Upchurch Bulletin, vol. 16, p. 118, 1995. XID-37368.

Nathaniel was adopted at about the age of four. Like many others in his native country, his birth was not registered with the government and thus there exists no documentation on him until he became a ward of that country's social welfare system. The date of his birth was assumed to be the day for which St. Sixtus is the patron saint; his Paraguayan name Sixto was retained at time of adoption to preserve his sense of personal identify, though in America he has come to prefer Nathaniel, a traditional family name selected by his adoptive parents from his mother's maternal line.

Some information about Nathaniel's parents and his original family has been inferred from discussions with Paraguayan officials and from chance remarks made by him before memories of Paraguay faded. It is believed that the father was a member of one of the Paraguayan military services; he may have been killed in a fight. Without a husband, the mother was incapable of providing care for three young children. She disappeared with a nursing baby; Sixto and a younger sister Christina were abandoned into the care of an elderly couple who were living near a military base. This couple was extremely poor, but a military retiree allotment of food was adequate to feed them and the two children. For perhaps two years the children, however, were otherwise unsupervised, with Sixto responsible for the welfare not only of himself but of his sister. Ultimately the old couple turned the children over the Paraguayan authorities. Sixto's sister, renamed Amanda Dawn, was adopted by Gary and Jean Boyd of Mansfield, Texas. A fourth sibling is believed to have died. Daughter of Gary and Jean Boyd, Jeanne Marie who married Peter Pakele. Son Jacob Boyd Pakele born 5 October 1998.

Hi Charles--

This report I sent to Allied Families Founders earlier today is being sent to you to keep you in the loop. I forgot to mention that the Nuance merge program will allow us to keep making a website pdf ever larger and search-able.

Trust all is well with you.

Phil Upchurch

Hi All---

I think we have just about reached a milestone in our AF operation and I provide you this update. The milestone was amplified in a meeting yesterday involving Bob Heck, Mary Lou Brown, Jay Buck and myself. Deb and Bob have been interfacing with Teresa to see how we can most effectively continually add to our AF website. Our basic proposed advance is that we can use the merge program we have purchased (Nuance) to continually merge new data/text we have digitized with related data/text already on the website. Yesterday we were all pretty much able to get on the same page. Jay in AF Headquarters will now work closely with Bob as he and Deb interface with Teresa to iron out any wrinkles. The mechanics are all beyond me but I have confidence that our Team now in place will get the job done. It has taken us quite a few months to get to this point as the advice of well meaning experts has not always been such that we could grasp what to do next. Now we have adopted a plan to be tested.

In the intervening months we have proceeded to advance our AF work schedule using the expertise of Mary Lou and Jay and bringing volunteers to our undertaking. The result is portrayed in the attached Status of Work. Note that we are in one stage or another of enrolling 27 families. We hope to add more enrolled families concentrating on families that lived close to our enrolled Upchurch families for many decades. This way our in depth work on an enrolled family will reinforce the records of other enrolled families in in the same geographic area. We need to get at least a rough narrative on the website for each enrolled family and Jay is working with me on drafts to send to Teresa. Jay has already created rudimentary Family Trees for many of the families and we are recruiting volunteer Tree Masters to proceed to embellish the trees taking the workload out of our Headquarters. Likewise we hope volunteer Administrators can be recruited for the Group Facebook pages. Note that we are beginning to recruit Researchers who will be surfacing information to be posted on our website for the enrolled families they represent.

Our most robust venture is to recruit volunteer Transcribers. They will concentrate at first on digitizing the Biofiles for the first three generations of enrolled families. These Biofiles are from the late 1700's and early 1800's and contain really valuable information. It is easy to recruit volunteer transcribers as we can assign skinny Biofiles to transcribe so as to not overwhelm a transcriber at first. As they get into the work and see their efforts portrayed on our website they will become more closely tied to AF. This is a really important tool for building momentum and gaining serious participants. Before long we should have a steady flow of several new transcribed Biofiles each month.

Mary Lou and I are well advanced in substantially expanding the information under our Projects Tab on the website and will soon be sending Teresa our version and getting her inputs as she adds this to the website.

Mary Lou and Jay together provide 20 hours of staff time in AF Headquarters. They are both extremely competent and productive and they give us a chance to make AF work for the long term. However, we must improve our revenue stream if we are to afford this help in 2016 and beyond. Now that Jay is getting to the end of some key projects I hope he and I can work together to undertake special initiatives to recruit members and financial support for AF. At some

Hello Phil,

Sorry to hear that. Reminds me of the person who asked for all my files because I seemed to have the most complete European royal family compilation he had ever seen. Only thing worse that I can think of would be to receive a diatribe because my documented files disagree with their family history. Oh well, too many other things to do than to worry about these idiots. Charles

Hi Charles---

This person has leaned on me heavily for help and I have given him a lot. His request of you seems entirely unnecessary as he is asking for details I have already supplied. I always try to help but in this case it seems he is expecting more from of we Upchurch researchers than is reasonable.

Thanks for thinking of me.

Hello Phil,

I owe you an apology for neglecting to look at the Upchurch site. I have been trying to finish lots of projects and time flies by so quickly -- genealogy has been neglected except for the jaunt to England. Small contribution enclosed for continued membership & support of the family project. Not sure yet if the Patagonia trip has left us solvent, but I suppose I could forget to pay our taxes in January [:-)].

*The real Christmas feeling
That warm friendly glow
Comes from greeting the people
We're happy we know!*

Hello Phil

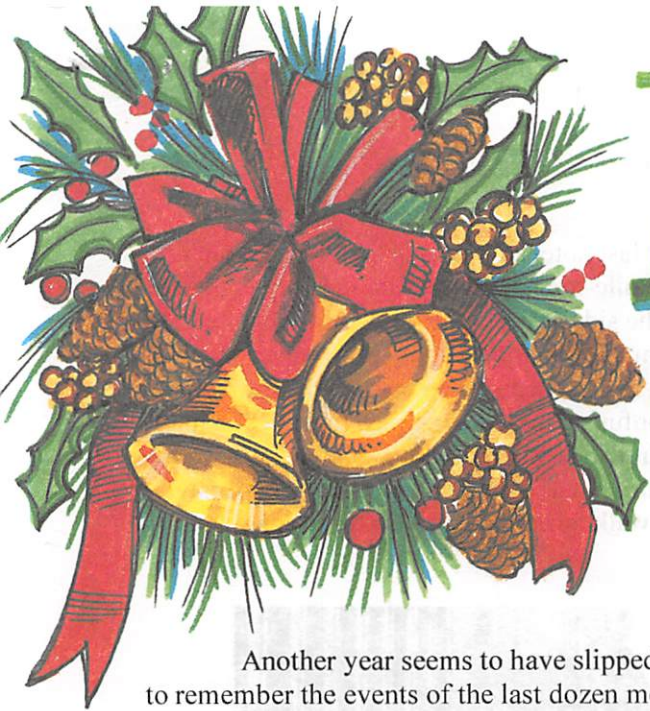

- Ours was a modestly busy year and most genealogy was put aside. We did get to a town^{*} Family Association reunion and next year I expect to go to England with a group of Wells family relatives (no direct relation to Lynchunks though they may have known each other in Rutherford County, NC long ago). I have also volunteered to help index the Bulletin of the Old Tryon County Genealogical Society. We will also spend much of next year's Social Security on an extended cruise to the north of Norway in June, so 2014 portends to be busy also. But will try to fit in an overdue visit to St. Louis - Charles

HOLIDAY GREETINGS

Another year seems to have slipped by, all too quickly, but the Christmas season is always a time to pause to remember the events of the last dozen months. We started the year perhaps a bit unusually -- we stayed home! At least to June, that is, when we spent two weeks touring by automobile in southern Finland, a very pleasant and quiet trip that took us to Turku (the old capital), Tampere (an industrial city), Rauma (has a wealth of preserved 19th century buildings), and a few other places.

Porvoo - scenic view here

Porvoo - farm

Porvoo - flowers

Rauma - Finland's best preserved old town

Rauma

Rauma - street

Rauma - sculpture

Rauma - moose statue

The only real adventure we encountered was the search for our last hotel stop in Helsinki, located on a tiny street not to be found on the city maps, access to which required a mile-long detour to find the only entrance into the area. It was right next to the city railway station, but none of the side roads are readily accessible because the main roads around the station are designated to accommodate an immense number of city bus routes. We will also note that roads in Helsinki (and the other cities of Finland, for that matter) seem to be marked, if at all, only by exceedingly tiny signs at second floor level, and these were most confusing until we realized that street names were not changing, but were alternatively in Swedish and Finnish as Finland is still a bilingual nation. We were happy to be free of the rental car as one would need to be a bit mad to drive in the city (and parking is expensive, 4 euros per hour!), but central Helsinki is not at all large and we could walk most places. Also there are wonderful trams!

Central Helsinki is graced by the Esplanade, a tree-lined park running several blocks to the central marketplace and harbor and lined with marvelous Victorian era buildings. Of especial interest were our excursions to the old Swedish castle and fortress on the island of Suomenlinna (where we were drenched with rain, although the day began so wonderfully sunny that we left umbrellas behind) and on the next day to the open air museum on Seurasaari with its numerous historic homes and buildings that have been brought to the site (only modest rain that day, no drenching).

Actually returning home after this altogether too short vacation was a bit of an adventure. We were to change flights in Toronto where TSA and US Immigration & Customs have moved to ameliorate border checks within congested American airports. No luggage shows up -- without luggage we can't clear immigration and we miss our flight! Oh bother! In due course, authorities became convinced the luggage was lost and we were allowed to proceed to St. Louis on a later flight. There our suspicions were confirmed -- our luggage was present, having been efficiently transferred to the original connecting flight and neatly bypassing border security!

2013 was also the year of our 50th high school reunions, but their inconvenient scheduling made it inopportune to return to Washington to visit both, so we attended neither. We will make a special effort when the 75th reunions occur. In the fall we drove to South Carolina for this year's Towne Family Association meeting with a side trip to the National Quilt Museum in Paducah, Kentucky. The family reunion was held in Beaufort where cousin Laura Towne, a dedicated abolitionist, established in 1862 and operated for 40 years the Penn School for education of freedmen.

On the home front -- this year we had snow, so the new snow blower which had remained in its box last year, came out and showed its advantage over a shovel, although a snow shovel doesn't vibrate, loosening bolts and allowing various and sundry pieces to fall off routinely. Spring was rainy, then we got near softball sized hail and in consequence a new roof. Summer and fall were marked by drought and continuous woodpecker-like hammering as roofers worked their way through the neighborhood. In other words, the year's weather was typically Missouri atypical.

After recuperation from a foot operation in February, Virginia returned to her weekly assessments of Eagle applications at the regional Boy Scout office. She also participated as a mentor in the University Hospital STEP (Senior Teacher Educator Partnership) program, and became more involved as an officer in the Booneslick Quilting Guild. Charles continued as President of the Columbia Philatelic Society and spent other time on various craft projects. A major effort was to replace the basement carpet (and its 15 years of hidden dust that had eluded the vacuum cleaner) with a hardwood floor, necessitating the moving of more books and furniture than one would care to remember.

Our son Nat continues to live in Michigan where he is completing night school courses as a step toward leaving his work as a contract welder. He is doing well and expects to return to Missouri when the schoolwork is finished.

This is again a time to reflect upon the loss of friends this year. They are missed. We also lost our small grey tabby cat due to kidney failure. She, too, is missed, but surviving Max now has achieved her wish to be the ONLY cat.

--- The Petersons

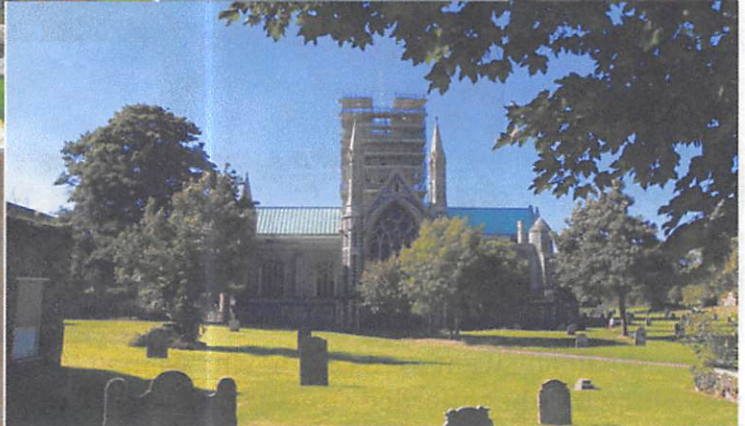

sailed on Alaska's "Marine Highway" ferry to Skagway where Virginia's grandfather arrived in 1898 on his way via Chilkoot Pass and the Yukon River to the Yukon gold country. We drove over the mountains to Whitehorse, then north to Dawson City outside of which he mined for two years (he was lucky, he broke even and lived to return to the United States). We returned to Alaska via the international "Top of the World" highway—some asphalt, some gravel, but mostly mud—which no doubt has spectacular scenery when there are no clouds and fog. Then north to Fairbanks, south with a stay at Denali National Park (there may be a high mountain here, but we didn't see it) en route to Anchorage, and then home via the Alaskan Highway. This famous, or better infamous, highway was a bit of a disappointment as the spirit of adventure is now gone. It is relatively well maintained, has little traffic (mostly immense motor homes), and is now just a long—a really, really long—highway through unchanging forests. There are few stops along the way as roadside attractions have gone with the decline in traffic due to air travel. Nevertheless we are glad to have made the trip, but our next visit to Alaska will be by air.

Our England trip was with 30+ other members of the Towne Family Association, to visit locales in the southeast associated with the Towne and related families who immigrated to the colonies about 1635. We had a most pleasant week-long stay in Norwich, from which daily and six of their eight children were baptized here.

 They founded the Towne family in America. Two of their children, Rebecca and Mary, were executed excursions went here and there, to two stately homes, to the Norwich museum, etc. We were graciously received at various parish churches, especially at the St. Nicholas Cathedral in Great Yarmouth where ancestors William Towne and Joanna Blessing were married and most of their children were baptized. Before returning home, we tarried for a few days in London, to visit the sights and especially the British Museum with its archaeological treasures. It was also quite interesting to see the changes in Britain since our last visit nearly 30 years ago.

Our son Nat remains in Michigan, but is planning on leaving his career in construction welding (something for which we are happy due to health considerations as well as the all too often ill treatment that workers are subjected to) and enter the field of health care. He is now enrolled in college full time with study of anatomy, etc.

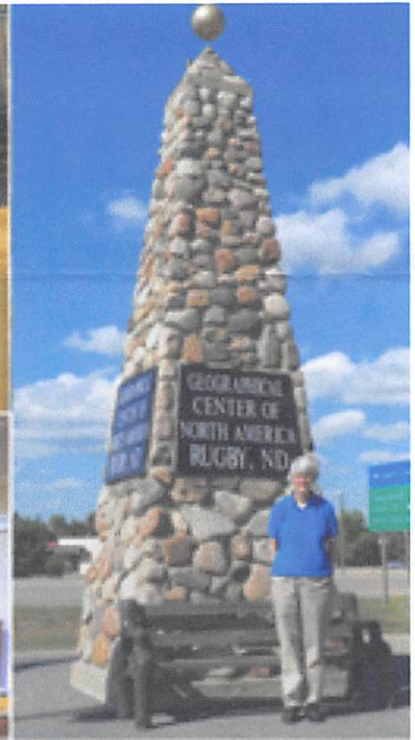

As for our future plans, for now we will stay home, read some books, host friends for Christmas dinner, and finish the fall raking of leaves should they ever come down. But already we are thinking of another trip ...

With best wishes to all for a festive Christmas holiday and a prosperous and healthy New Year – the Petersons, Virginia, Charles, Max and Min you will note that I manually reformatted your output allowing for me to make a number of notations. I do not make an effort to complete all needed notations at once but return it each set of sheets as I have time as as I have need to solve a particular issue. The "S" indicates I have taken the information for placement in an individual's profile. As I get the sheets more and more complete they become more and more valuable as reference points. In the early years Cousin Roy wrote, he contributed quite a few extracts, then I did a few done and then your contributions arrived. Just wanted to thank you again for them and to let you know how useful/valuable they are.

The year 2012 has been among the busiest, most productive, most enjoyable I have had with both of us having good health. On the other hand Sallaine through our pace a bit more. She watches over her brood like a hawk. She is afraid I will "wear out".

With my website now back up I am planning in the next several months some substantial additions of Upshunk material. I'll send out an Upshunk E-Newsletter in the first Quarter of 2013 to alert everyone and hope to get a lot more traffic. As a preview you can have a look at 4 videos already posted on YouTube with the help of Cousin Tom Upchurch.

Three of them are easily reached via my website (www.upchurchstory.com) and the 4th by going directly to YouTube and typing in "Michael Upchurch - videos". I have already spotted some errors and have asked Tom if he can correct a date or a word here and there.

Tom visits I have to make several dozen such videos.

I was glad to learn that Nat is looking at a new/better option. The kids in the work world have a real challenge these days. Following our 3 children and 8 grandchildren gives us a good sample of what those in the workforce face.

Sallaine and I do hope the two of you will find it convenient to visit us again and to use our guest bedroom. It would be a great pleasure to chat about all sorts of things including as much family history as Virginia & Sallaine will tolerate.

Merry Christmas & Happy Trips! Phil Upchurch

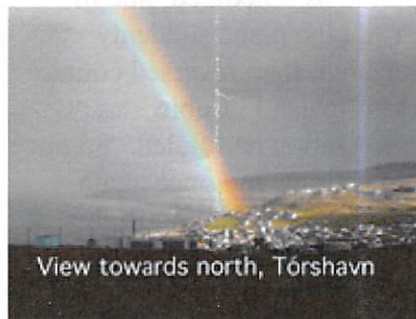

HOLIDAY GREETINGS

In July Charles traveled to the Faroe Islands in the North Atlantic, halfway between Iceland and Norway. Virginia, having a prejudice against any place which can experience all four seasons on any day of the year, stayed at home. The flight on Atlantic Airlines (you won't find them on Expedia!) was without incident, though there was light rain and sleet upon arrival.

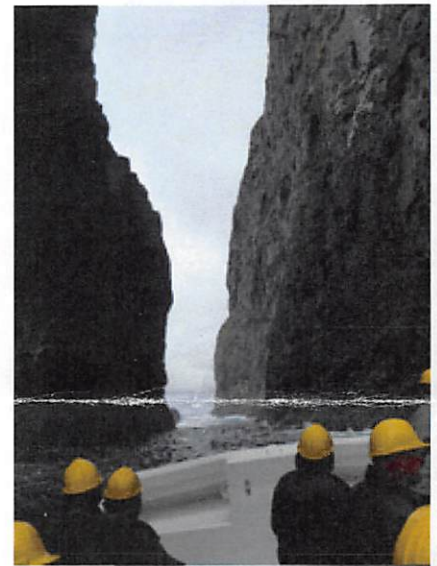

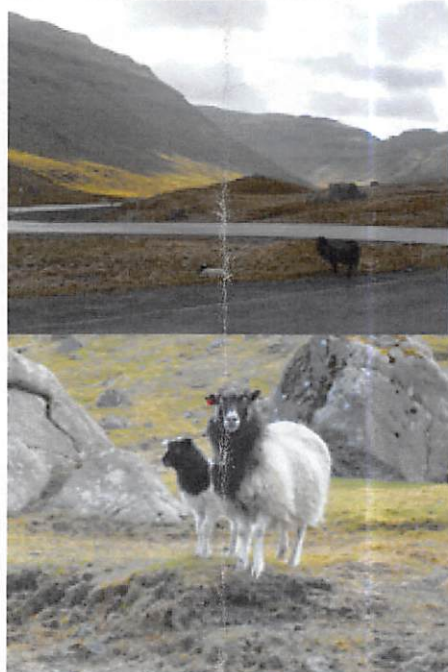

But the following day there was sunshine which regularly changed places with fog and rain -- as expected, the temperature never got above 50°. His self-drive tour went to most of the main islands with overnight stays in the capital Tórshavn (half the island's 48,000 inhabitants live here and there are 3 traffic lights!) and several small villages. Time was spent in sight-seeing, hiking amongst the ubiquitous sheep which well outnumber the people, and a coastal boat tour from

Vestmanna to the northern cliffs (very rough seas on a "calm" day, not for the faint of heart) where nest thousands of birds, all nearly invisible from the rocking boat. There was also a guided tour with a party of Danes to the southern island of Sandoy where the

"highlight" was the former largest postbox in the world, built for no other reason than to place the islands in the Guinness Book of Records. Other than the Danes, the only tourists seemed to be a small group of Italians and me, possibly the lone American in the Islands. Coming home was more of an adventure. On departure day, the rain was steady and heavy; that is when one discovers the airport does not have radio facilities to guide landing planes during bad weather. So we waited and ultimately conditions improved so our plane could arrive, but with a late departure we arrived in Reykjavik moments before the continuing flight was leaving for the United States -- at the other airport 45 km away! Icelandic was kind enough to reschedule even with arrival on their doorstep 2 minutes before closing time. This meant an unexpected night in Reykjavik, but accommodations were available. On the morrow, Icelandic departed as scheduled, but an hour out the plane suddenly descended, then reversed course back to Iceland. Cabin pressurization had failed. So once again waiting and once again rearranging connecting flights. But one eventually returned home. All in all, a marvelous visit, leaving Charles only two more Scandinavian countries to visit (Finland and the misnamed Greenland). Virginia, meanwhile, was busy working on the revision of her portion of a biochemistry textbook and otherwise preparing for retirement.

In March we presented a slide show of our last year's Inlands-banan travel in Sweden to the local Scandinavian Heritage Society. Charles has been asked to present the Faroe Islands trip this next year.

We did take time out to visit old friends in Ames, Iowa, whose son was marrying. Along the way we went to the Swedish museum at Swedborg and spent a day in the Amana Colonies.

Then in August was a major trip to Virginia's Towne Family Reunion, held this year in Salem, Massachusetts. Along the way we stopped at the American Philatelic Museum in Bellefonte, Pennsylvania. The several days in Salem allowed much sight-seeing as well as visiting with relatives. A visit to the 350 year-old Rebecca Nurse (a Towne relative accused of witchcraft) home was well worth the visit, but otherwise Salem has sadly befallen to New Age nonsense. On the way home we had a wonderful visit to Sturbridge Village, which preserves a number of colonial-era buildings and is a living demonstration of colonial life.

While in Salem, Virginia received a panicked e-mail from the Chair of her department. The professor assigned to take her laboratory class in the fall was to have emergency surgery, and with a faculty of 40 members, there was no one to take his place -- could Virginia fill in for the fall? So much for retirement, but then the stipend was rather generous. The Chair's poor negotiation skills would have resulted in an even more generous payment, except the department's account clerk pointed out that the department didn't have that much money. In any case, teaching in the fall wasn't that much of a problem in that the book editing took until the end of November to complete. The text went to press at the beginning of December so as to be available to students in January.

In spite of the teaching, we took time out to visit old friends -- college classmates -- in Oregon and Washington, a trip delayed for far too many years because of career commitments. The salmon, halibut, and Spruce Goose are now wonderful memories.

We also saw Charles's sister and brother and met for the first time the newest member of the family, nephew Matt's daughter Midori.

If 1400 miles to Salem is not enough to delay retirement, we will try 8500 miles in January. Last year a planned trip to New Zealand didn't occur because three months in advance was inadequate to secure flight reservations; we remained at home and shoveled snow over and over. This year we planned earlier and barring another volcanic eruption in Chile, another strike on Quantas, and another earthquake in Christchurch, we will have three weeks touring the northern and southern islands and enjoying the southern hemisphere summer. While we are gone, it can snow all it wants to in Missouri.

On the home front, nothing of major import happened. Virginia had her university work though she made time to do a bit of quilting and is getting around to working through her large fiction library that has accumulated over the years. Charles has his stamp collection, also reading, and the usual household projects like the annual application of 5-year (Hah!) preservative to the deck, shoveling winter snow (bah!), and so forth.

To all our friends and relatives, we wish the merriest of Christmas season and the best in the coming New Year.

(P.S. The world will not end in 2012 -- the Mayans were wrong.)

P.P.S. My department held a wonderful reception for my retirement that was attended by many from across campus. One of my colleagues taught me a salsa dance (see picture) and we lived up to what the Dean says at commencement, "Don't be afraid to try something new and have fun." Now, if I would only leave the building. Va.

Then I insist that priority must be given to finishing processing several boxes of ^{papers of} my professional associations with the Council for Agricultural Science & Technology 1971-1984 for shipment to the Yelverth Collection at N.C. State University. When it gets I need to spend 2-3 weeks in NC again. But the firm obligation is to participate in our granddaughter's wedding on 30 OCT 2011 in Las Vegas, NV - and so it goes.

At some point I need to program time to get my family history records ready to ship to the collection in NC - but I keep saying that is down the road a bit. In the meantime I am working with the collection managers in NC to start getting some of the collections on line. It is a must happen!

Charles, I always need to thank you again for all you have done to help on the Yelverth Family History Project - We do hope that we will be able to have more personal interactions. To this end if - either you or Virginia or both happen to be in our area it would be a pleasure to have you as guests in our home.

Phil Yelverth

CHRISTMAS 2010

We thought we would make a January trip before the start of the winter semester. "Where would you like to go?" he said. She replied, "Somewhere warm!" So we went to Australia, having found a tour that would take us to the tropical coast near the Great Barrier Reef, then into the desert interior (the Great Outback), and ending in metropolitan Sydney. Upon arrival in warm and humid Cairns, we discovered we were the tour – the only persons to have booked on the first offering of this excursion. No matter, we had a great time.

Fish at the Great Barrier

Downtown
Cairns

Cairns was warm and humid and being the off-season, relatively free of tourists and quite pleasant. We spent half a day boating out to Green Island on the Great Barrier Reef, and the next day on the tourist train to Kuranda in the mountainous rain forest. In Cairns, we had noticed the bats hanging from the trees, but it was evening that presented us the spectacular flight of thousands of fruit bats (flying foxes) leaving their roosts in and near the city to forage in the surrounding forest.

A rarely seen spoonbill, on the beach at Cairns

On the train to Kuranda

We expected Ayers Rock and Alice Springs to be hot and dry desert, but the remnant of a cyclone gave us rain and the area received several times its annual rainfall shortly before and while we were there – in fact, one of us was drenched on the way back to the hotel from shopping. We thus joined the minority of tourists to witness waterfalls on the Rock and to see flowing water in the river at Alice! Unfortunately the wet meant the animals had moved away from the resort and town areas where water is usually available. Our wildlife tally, other than the birds and insects (and the bats), was one large lizard, a half dozen rabbits, and one-third of a kangaroo (it was hiding behind some rocks).

Sydney is a wonderfully vibrant city although the numerous new skyscrapers mask the economic downturn the area was feeling due to the world recession. Some of the older

Find the kangaroo

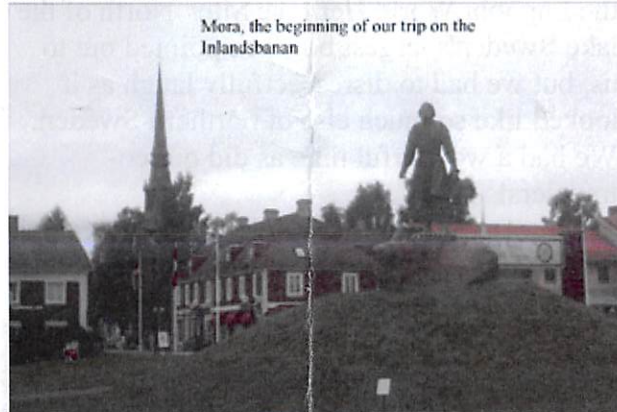

Victorian era buildings still survive and the Strand and the Victoria Building are marvelously restored indoor shopping malls. Sydney is also the home of the iconic Harbor Bridge and Opera House as well as a number of great parks and a botanic garden near city center.

Altogether a wonderful and definitely too short a trip. But home again to winter semester at the University. The major item to mention was recruiting which produced a record number of over 150 new freshman into the Biochemistry program. Virginia or one of the other faculty advisors met with every student to consider their interests and to plan their curricula – very time consuming to say the least.

This summer we returned to Scandinavia. We had a few days in Stockholm before and after the main point of the trip, to take the Inlandsbanan northward from Mora to the Arctic Circle.

Mora, the beginning of our trip on the Inlandsbanan

Rail travel in Sweden is wonderful with fast, clean trains that run on time and which put to shame any rail travel in the United States. But the Inlandsbanan is, well, something else. The inland rail line was to be abandoned years ago by the State Railway, but the local communities joined to purchase the line to operate it for local traffic and tourists. The train operates daily and consists usually of one passenger car which on our trip rarely exceeded 20 passengers. The trip north (about 1000 kilometers) took four days with overnight stops in Östersund (the only large town on the route), Arvidsjuar, and Gällivare. On day one we made a tourist stop for a short hike over the peat bogs to a bear cave (see picture next to map – the bear probably went away 20 years ago). This same day the train hit a grouse on the tracks (the birds like to roost on the dry rails), so we halted and backed up to recover the bird for the engineer's dinner. A few times we were sidelined to let higher priority logging or ore trains pass. Now you have an idea of what this trip was like. Fantastic for rail buffs, but perhaps not for the common tourist! The scenery was kilometer after kilometer of forest, streams, and lakes. We passed the Arctic Circle and a beautiful lake which is part of the Lapponia World Heritage Site. North of the lake Sweden's largest bog was pointed out to us, but we had to disrespectfully laugh as it looked like so much else of northern Sweden. We had a wonderful time as did our co-travelers!

At Gällivare we rejoined the marvelous State Railway to head into Norway, then a bus to Harstad on the coast of that country.

Our trip continued down the Norwegian coast on a "ferry" (more of a cruise ship, actually) of the Hurtigruten shipping line through absolutely spectacular scenery – fortunately we had one fantastic sunny day.

Then again by train back to Stockholm, and alas, too soon back home, to the fall semester, and the usual duties which now included preparation of the succeeding staff for Virginia's expected retirement next June.

We planned to visit New Zealand over the Christmas and New Year holiday, but were not able to get the lower airfares associated with our expected tour, so we shall stay home this year. But next Christmas

Our son Nat continued with his contract construction work in Indiana and most recently in Tennessee. A heart-to-heart talk with his boss about why the company was having problems hiring qualified workers (salary!) had led to a permanent job, with benefits! Nat is expected to be with us for Christmas, which should be happy indeed. It is our wish that our relatives and friends will have the best of holiday seasons and an even better New Year.

Hello Phil,

This New Year has been busy - we went to Guatemala in January and had a nice trip (except for some illness). We are already planning on Germany in August. Have completed several home projects including a two-level rotating bookcase which I have wanted for about 40 years. Otherwise it has taken only a decade to get around to replacing the carpet on the stairway with hardwood.

As you might guess from the envelope, I am also a stamp collector, something to which I have returned after 40 years. I am concentrating on Sweden as it is a nice way to tie into the family origin. The genealogy has been rather neglected, but I finally have located a cousin in Indianapolis so must visit soon - she is 90+ - there are not a lot of us on my father's side of the family. Will let you know if our travel plan will allow a stopover for a few hours in St. Louis.

Hello Phil,

We are keeping busy - Virginia very much so as the University has been inundated with new student enrollments and I have more subjects than I can keep track of. We did manage a stormy trip to visit friends in Washington DC with a return via Minneapolis to search for a great-grandfather's records. Now we are preparing for a longer trip to Sweden during which we will visit the birthplace of my great-grandfather who came to America in 1852 - there may still be distant cousins on the farmstead! Also a brief excursion by ferry to Finland just because it's there. Unbelievably expensive as our dollar is worth about a Continental! We will see what the budget looks like at the end of August to see if we can send a second check to NCSU.

Christmas 2009

The years pass far too quickly, but we pause during the Holidays to think of our friends and relatives, especially those we have lost during the year, and to reflect on our own life during the previous twelve months.

Most importantly, we have stayed healthy this last year and have had no other surprises of note. Well, there was that explosive crash one 2:00 am when the large bathroom mirror came smashing down to the floor. If it had been properly glued to the wall when our home was built a dozen years ago, it would have been fine – but it was glued to the paint on the wall and the paint finally gave way. It has now been long enough ago that we no longer find mirror chips when we clean.

Virginia has been busier than ever (this seems to be an annual lament) as the number of biochemistry majors whom she advises has grown significantly. Students actually like to talk to an advisor and many have changed their majors to biochemistry because of their welcome reception in that department. The entering freshman class, and she meets with every one and often also their parents, was very large. As her retirement draws near, her fellow faculty may discover with great surprise just how much effort she was putting into student relations. She also completed this year her share of a second revision of a chemistry and biochemistry textbook.

Charles is free from such duties, although retirement has hardly meant being less busy. One can always find repairs and new alterations to do on the house and in the yard. He has joined the Columbia Philatelic Society and the American Philatelic Society as he continues expanding his Scandinavian stamp collection. Family history and genealogy may now come second, but he was able to meet for the first time cousins on his father's side of the family (there are not that many descendants of his Swedish great-grandfather). He has also been assisting in the editing of a genealogy book being written by one of Virginia's Towne family cousins. We have also found a local Scandinavian Heritage Society to join.

One disadvantage of retirement was the loss of our web pages on the University computer system. But with a bit of revision, we have now been able to re-post some of our efforts at <http://sites.google.com/site/petersonfamilyhistory/>. There will be found the edited letters which grandfather Paul B. Towne sent to his family during the Alaskan Gold Rush; the life stories written by Virginia's mother Nina Towne Selvage; and a genealogy of the Selvage family, Miles from Kentucky. There are some other things we will add this next year

We took two foreign trips this year. Wintertime is so ideal for a trip to warmer climates that in January we went to Guatemala with Caravan Tours. The highlights of the trip were excursions to the Mayan ruins at Copan (spectacular) and Tikal (a bit of a disappointment, but only because the site is so spread out and heavily forested that one cannot obtain a true perspective of its grandeur). We spent two days at a resort in Chichicástenango on Lake Atitlán, where dormant (not dead) volcanoes rise spectacularly on the horizon. Guatemala is not the safest country in the world to visit, but our tour was well guarded and we enjoyed it immensely.

In August we had an equally memorable tour to Germany, although the itinerary was rushed as we visited Frankfurt, Cologne, Berlin, Leipzig, Nuremberg, Heidelberg, Munich, and Oberammergau in the Black Forest, thus circumnavigating the county in an altogether too short a period of time. There were stops at several cathedrals, castles and royal households, the wonderfully preserved medieval town of Rautenburg, and, of course, the historic districts of Berlin. Even a museum, although we suspect that most of the other tour members considered the cuckoo clock shop to be the trip highlight. The trip also included a visit to the Disneyesque castle of King

Ludwig (who we shall not refer to as mad as the Bavarians seem a bit sensitive about this; actually Disneyland properly should be called Ludwigesque). Germany struck us as an especially vibrant modern country, well along in its reconciliation of west and east, with local and national public transportation systems that put almost anything in the United States to shame. Well, the Frankfurt tram ticket machine did eat our Euros and we never did find our tram stop on the information board in order to pay the correct fare, but then we watched some Germans having equally poor luck with obtaining tickets.

Our son Nat was not able to accompany us on our travels. He has been working for several years as a contract welder and at the beginning of the year was employed in Texas. The recession, however, seriously affected construction and project assignments disappeared. After some difficulty, he found a position with a company in Indiana although at a lower salary (something which the government economic bean counters no doubt completely ignore when they term the recession "over"). Nevertheless, with so many others unemployed, he is fortunate to be working and with a company that treats its employees reasonably. At the moment he has been on assignment in Savannah, Georgia, involved in reconstructing a sugar plant that blew up last year.

Winter here in Missouri seems to be ignoring the National Weather Bureau's forecast of mildness; therefore, we indeed are looking forward to warmth again in January, this time in Australia!

It is not often a cousin gets the cover article of a national magazine. The enclosed may suggest this occurs too often!

All quiet here in Columbia. Our New Zealand trip at Christmas fell apart when our travel agent delayed one day too long to book our tour, so we had a quiet Christmas at home. Last month I went to the same islands for a week - my wife refused to go, something about the 50F temperature. Also she is busy working for portion of a forthcoming text. Next month we will be off to a Tove family reunion in Salem, Mass. Then then take to the Pacific Northwest to visit friends and family. We will try New Zealand again this Christmas if the Chilean volcano is quiet.
