Dear Margie,

It is time for an update on Allied Families. The enclosed UB for 2016 shows our shift to digital which has been achieved.

Provided is a summary of what we have done in our shift and what we hope for in 2017. We can do a lot with our $25,000 budget for 2017 if we can get it funded. Whatever encouragement you can provide will be welcomed.

I will be in NC March 29-April 2 at the Cary Facility. There will be two events - #1 March 30 Thursday 2-4 - see the Volunteers in action. My talk on the Vision for Allied Families will be at 3 PM. #2 April 1 Saturday 2-4 an open house - Would be great to see you at either or both.

Dear Phil,

I mailed today a letter to you and a check for some publications and also a check directly to N C State Libraries for the Upchurch Endowment. I was waiting to hear from my niece on her wedding date and finally decided to go ahead and mail the additions to your information that I had. Of course, I heard from her this afternoon after mailing your letter. Anyway, you can add that Susanne Park Whitley and Walter Whitley's daughter, Portia, married John Constantine Spengos on May 31st, 2003.

Thanks for all you do. Regards, Margie Lucas

Making History Come Alive

The article about Dr. Tom Stafford in NC State magazine was a great tribute to an enthusiastic and dedicated member of the NC State family. My family and I met him at the Legacy Luncheon we attended with our daughter, Julia, and her family last August when our grandson, Tyler Owens, entered NC State as a freshman. Dr. Stafford was most interested in our family history since Tyler is a 5th generation Wolfpacker. My grandfather, Charles B. Williams, was in the very first graduating class, and each generation has followed with NC State University graduates. Dr. Stafford told us about his Bell Tower tour, and I later arranged for my senior group at Hayes Barton Methodist Church to take the tour. The tour brings to life the story of those first students and physically travels from Holladay Hall, the initial building on campus, to the Bell Tower, noting its beginnings and significance. I had a big surprise when we first took the tour when Dr. Stafford featured a picture of the first freshman class—including my grandfather—and then a picture of my family taken at the Legacy Luncheon. Thank you, Dr. Stafford, for making history come alive.

⊙ This article from NCSU NEWS- Homecoming 2015 - dated 29 OCT 2015 by Tim Peeler - source is Margie Lucas [m@p]. To RPU via email 6 NOV 2015 from Dr Jeff Mullahey. Excerpts made for C.B. Williams, Charles Benjamin Park and Thomas N. Park.

Homecoming Is Family Reunion

Descendants of C.B. Williams, NC State's first valedictorian and captain of first football team. (L to R): Megan Owens, Tyler Owens, Katie Owens, Julia Lucas Owens, Margaret Lucas, Richard Owens, Margie Lucas, Ashleigh Lucas.

Margie Lucas could be the grand marshal of her descendants' own NC State Homecoming parade.

"It's a family thing," she says.

Lucas, 77, was the third generation of her family to attend NC State, following in the footsteps of her football-playing grandfather and father. Two more generations followed, including two granddaughters who are current students here. As always, members of the family that are still based in Raleigh and Cary, will have a family tailgate prior to Saturday's Homecoming game against Clemson.

Her grandfather, Charles Burgess Williams, made his way from the Camden County town of Shiloh in the northeast corner of North Carolina to Raleigh in October 1889 as one of the 72 students to enroll in what was then called the North Carolina School for Agriculture and Mechanic Arts. He was both the captain of the first football team and the valedictorian of the first graduating class, back when Holladay Hall was the school's only building.

"It all started so small," Lucas says. "I think my grandfather would be very proud of what it has become, but it would be overwhelming to him, I'm sure."

valedictorian of the first graduating class in 1893.

History now knows Williams as North Carolina's "Mr. Soybean," having introduced that $6 billion cash crop to the state before the start of the 20th century. He later became head of NC State's agronomy department and the first dean in the College of Agriculture and Life Sciences. Williams Hall on NC State's main campus is named in his honor.

Her other grandfather, Charles Benjamin Park, attended the Raleigh Male Academy before the doors to NC State ever opened, but spent more than a half century as the superintendent of shops for the university's mechanical engineering department. The Park Shops are named in his honor.

Thomas N. Park

Her father, Thomas N. Park, was a three-sport letterman who was a member of the football, baseball and track teams.

Lucas received her undergraduate degree at the Women's College in Greensboro (now UNC Greensboro), but both she and husband Ashleigh earned master's degrees here. Her husband's mother worked for the college's publications and kept all three of her sons on campus.

Lucas' two daughters, Julia and Frances, earned electrical engineering degrees from NC State, as did both sons-in-law.

Three grandchildren have also studied here. Following in their older brother Tyler's footsteps, Megan Owens is a junior Goodnight Scholar studying environmental science, while younger sister Katie is a sophomore in human biology.

Margie Lucas grew up in the Williams-Park House, a two-story Victorian home on Hillsborough Street that was outside Raleigh's city limits when her grandfather built it in 1909.

"I lived so close to NC State I don't remember a time I didn't think about the college," Lucas says.

NC State's first graduating class had 19 students, including C.B. Williams.

She's passed along her athletics knowledge and love for her alma mater to the generations that followed.

"We like to win, but we will root for them regardless," she says. "We wouldn't miss it."

It's been the family tradition for 13 decades.

In high school, she walked to Reynolds Coliseum every day to figure skate, back when the famous basketball arena had the South's first permanent ice rink. That lasted only a few years because humidity from the ice-making equipment caused sound-proofing ceiling tiles to crumble and fall to the floor.

"For three summers, that's all I did," she says. "I was just sick when it closed."

Her father spent years as a timekeeper for the freshman football team, teaching his daughter all about the game he played in college.

"I used to go to the games and sit on the bench," she says. "I learned football like a boy."

Margaret Lucas came and spoke to my class a few weeks ago! She is front row in the red polo, and has so much love and pride for this school. She's probably the biggest N.C. State fan I've ever met. I wish she had been mentioned in the article other than her name being in the caption!

What an outstanding background your family has. You should be, and I am sure you are, proud of family and its affiliation and great history with NCSU.

Go CB, Margie, Ashleigh, all your children and grandchildren and Pack!!!

one of the 9, William Clinton U, I (1813-1806) along with a brother Alfred U came to Raleigh about 1835 when it was but a village. (A grandson of Alfred - EDWARD BRADLEY U was also a member of the first class at NCSU along with your GF)

The story of how WCU, I (& Alfred) helped to build Raleigh is largely neglected in the history books so I have tried to shed light on it. I have huge amounts of information on the ¹² Children of WCU, I who would be Aunts & Uncle of your GM Maggie (Moring) Williams. one of them married my Great Uncle William George U. one of them lived & is buried in the Suptarch Township Community where I grew up. I have fond memories of the Children & grandchildren ^{of the 12} whom I have come to know and who have been so helpful in supplying information. And now I add you to that list of cherished connections.

I was so very to hear about Susanne. She and I had numerous exchanges in the 1990's and she was very helpful in many ways. I have published a Moring picture she supplied.

Maggie, I'll have to follow your lead as to how we might proceed in collaborating on our shared family heritage. As you can tell I have a serious case of family history-itis - and not all have been bitten by the bug.

As one step forward I provide herewith a copy of the 12-page master outline for the Maggie Williams (Moury) Williams Family. I would be most grateful for any correction or additions you might be willing to make.

Also provided are flyers on my Upchurch work. You will note that for $40 I offer to go through the 100⁺ issues of the Upchurch Bulletin and pick out 8 issues that I think might most interest them. You can let me know if you want to go this route. We can cooperate whether you do or do not.

When I visited your mother I seem to recall a portrait in the Living Room of your GGM Patsie Aline (Upchurch) Moury. Can you confirm this and if so, where is it now?

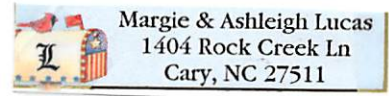

Best wishes

Phil Upchurch

Dear Phil,

Thanks so much for you very nice letter. I apologize for a delayed response as we have been out of town. I was really interested to hear about your family connection and your being an N C State graduate and then a professor. We have received lots of phone calls and emails about the Alumni News letter and picture and appreciate them. The picture was taken at the Legacy Luncheon when our grandson, Tyler, just started school at State last August. Unfortunately, our third daughter, Frances and her family could not attend that day as they were out of town for their daughter's softball tournament. This year, I started volunteering at the Reception Desk about once a month at the new Alumni House on the Centennial Campus and get to see and meet lots of alumni and friends of the University. It really is a small world and most of the time, we never know those who pass by and how we are connected. That's why, it was really refreshing to find out a family connection with your letter. When I attended a "Forever Club" reunion luncheon last spring with my husband, we sat next to some folks I knew 55 years ago and we had a lot of catching up to do. Had they sat at another table I never would have known who they were. My mother did mention years ago that you had stopped by to visit with her. She really did appreciate and enjoy your visit. She passed away at 90 in 2002 and she had been a fountain of information about the family and the past! I also grew up in that house on Hillsboro Street with my parents, siblings and grandparents and it holds many dear memories. My grandfather, C. B. Williams, was such a dear sweet man and he passed away when I was 10 years old. Although he was retired at the time, he frequently went to his office on campus. The family sold the house in 2004 and it is now filled with offices. The good thing is that the owners have kept the house interior pretty much like I remember it (no wall changing, etc.) and have even kept the wallpaper in the parlor that I picked

When I took my position as an Assistant Professor of Agronomy at N.C. State in 1953
I moved into the Williams Hall and served there until I left as a full professor in 1965 not knowing all the while that C.B. was a relative by marriage.

On 20 NOV 1978 I visited your mother in the C.B. Williams house on Hillsboro Street. She was most cordial and helped me a lot with family

Congratulations on ES Tyler entering N.C. State.

Dear Cousin Margie -

Many thanks for your letter of 13 SEP 2012 and for your generous contribution to the Upchurch Collection Endowment, for the $40 for 8 back issues of the UB and for your subscription to the UB for 2012. The 2012 issue should be mailed before Thanksgiving.

I promise to match contributions to the Endowment. I gave an extra $50 last spring so will shortly send another $50 to make up my $100 match for your contributions.

My subscription form shows I will donate a West book to anyone who contributes $100 or more. I do have a few left and you are entitled to one if you so desire. If you want it just send me an email and I'll get it off to you.

I went through the 100+ issues and found 30 that I thought would most interest you. I then graded them A, B, C and am sending you hereby the 8 "A" issues. I will be interested in any comments or questions when you get a chance to read them.

Your letter mentioned sending some updates for the market outline I sent to you but I did not find any updates. Perhaps they are to come later.

I was delighted to learn that you have the Pathe A line portrait displayed in your home. I would very much like to have a copy and would consider it as a prospect to be published in a future issue of the UB.

Maggie, I hope you will be pleased with what you are learning of your Lynch's heritage as well as with the heritage of your other family lines. The details loom large in the history of central North Carolina but we need to highlight our heritage - otherwise it gets lost or told improperly or incompletely. I'll look forward to collaborating with you as your interest unfolds.

Dear Margie:

Now that Allied Families is 27 months old and we are into 2016, it is time to take stock and build momentum. Among our 150 participants, you are part of a key support group for which we are most grateful. On this small (and hopefully growing) group rests the viability of Allied Families. Enclosed is a membership renewal form. I hope you will renew for 2016 and be as generous as your interest and circumstances permit.

Also enclosed is the formal letter showing your 2015 tax-deductible donation.

I have excerpted and attach parts of pages 3 and 4 of the 2015 Upchurch Bulletin which documents the status and prospects of Allied Families. I will welcome your suggestions and actual participation by providing data, expertise, or funding. Some important projects will be coordinated out of our Cary, NC facility and remote participation is possible. More details on this later.
