MR JAMES M. UPCHURCH
1435 SCALEY
SAN ANTONIO, TX 78210

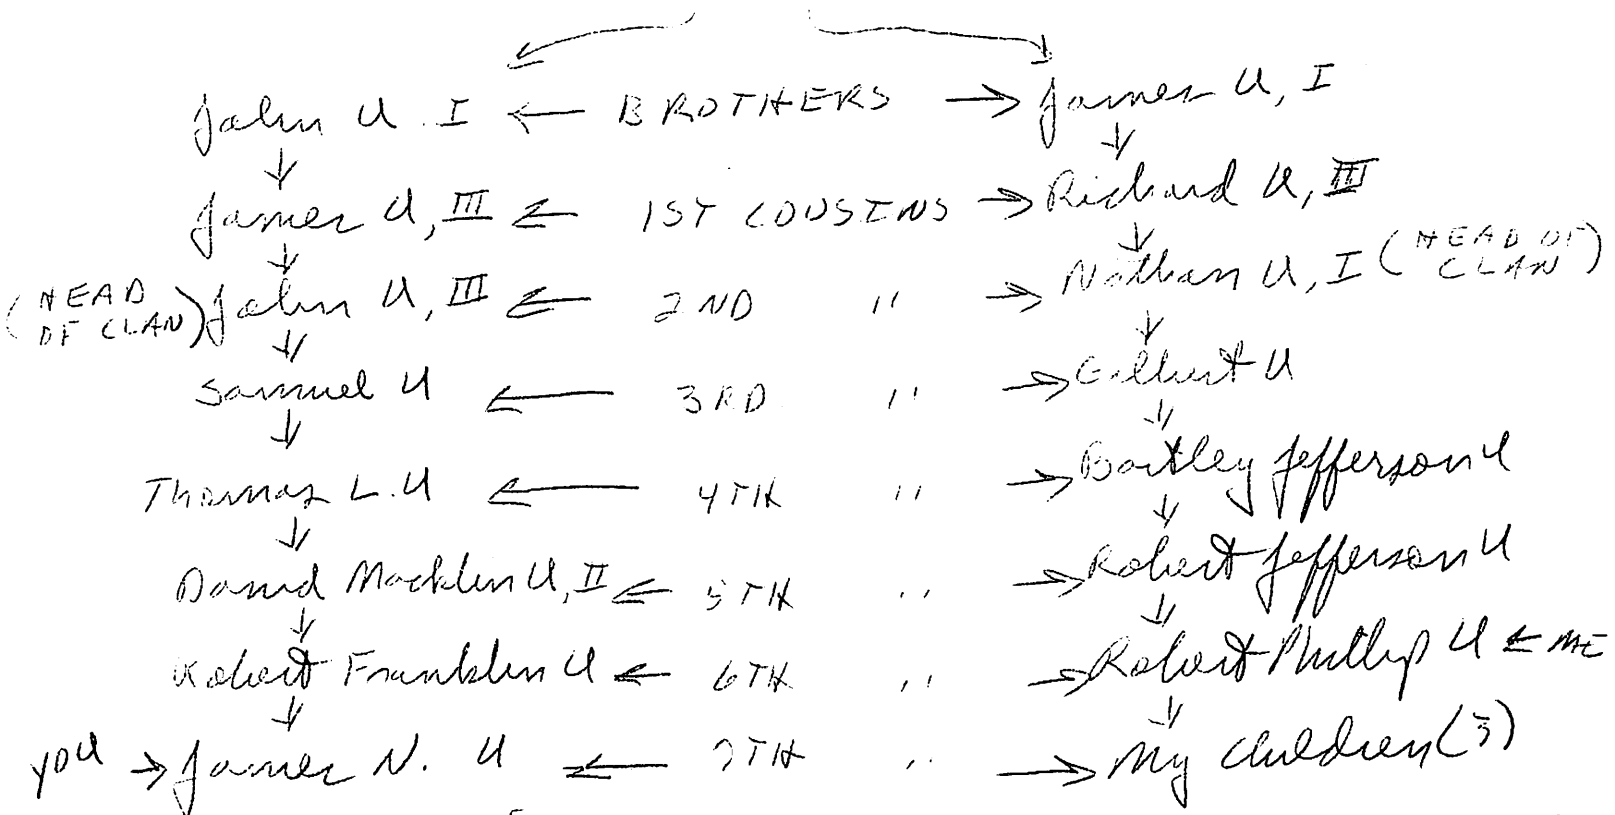

Dear James,

The family history provided with your letter of 9 MAR 88 is a most exciting document for me and I appreciate it greatly. I have spent many hours extracting all of the details for my Biopic and Master Outlines. I already had the broad framework for the John U. III / Samuel Upchurch Subclass but this document provides verification and substantial new information. This is not my own direct line but I am working the entire Upchurch family. I have about 10-15 correspondents who do belong to this particular subclass and if you have no objection I will announce in the next Upchurch Bulletin that this special history is available and I will offer to send a copy upon request without charge. The material written by your father is fascinating to those of us who have a special interest. I realize that you have not developed a special interest and I have no right to infringe on your time. However, I do hope you will be willing to exchange a couple of letters as you have details that will be difficult for me to get elsewhere.

Here is how you and I are related.

Michael U, I (original immigrant came to VA 1649)
Richard U, I

So your father and I are 6th cousins, you and my children are 18th cousins, while you and I are 6th cousins once removed. Not much but still some.

My GGGF Nathan U, I settled in western Wake Co, NC about 1802. His 2nd cousin & your ancestor John U, III moved from VA to Chatham Co, NC about 1786 and died there in 1795. This was about 5 miles from where Nathan U, I lived. Samuel U left NC about 1805 and moved to TN and then on to Southern Illinois.

I am unsure to know when Robert Franklin wrote the document you sent and who worked with him. Since he died 13 MAY 1965 and the death of his wife on 7 JAN 1966 is typed on the manuscript in the same format as the rest of the document it seems clear that someone kept working on the manuscript after he died.

I have identified your GF as David Mocklin U, II and there are 3 people in the John W. Samuel U Subclan with the name David Mocklin U. I wish I knew where the name Mocklin came from. It appears over and over again in this Subclan.

On an attached sheet I have posed some questions you may be able to help with if you are so inclined.

If you are willing to accept it I would be pleased to send you the 1988 copies of the Upchurch Bulletin without charge as a token of my appreciation for letting me have the manuscript prepared by your father.

If you do have any questions please let me know. Some people are into about golf or fishing. My thing happens to be Upchurch Family History. I was up at 5 AM today getting records in order.

Sincerely yours
Phil Upchurch

REC'D

7 Mar 88

Dear Phil,

I am sending you the material I mentioned on the phone. I don't know how much it will help you. As you can see, it was made up for our immediate family and has things in there that would be of no interest to any one else.

My middle name was spelled Newman, however, to shorten it some what, I have always spelled it Human.

I bought 4 of the "Updunk" books for my 4 children, but to be real truthful, I'm not real interested. Guess I should be, but I'm really not.

Hope the info will be of some value to you.

Sincerely
James N Updunk

Δ DAVID MACKLIN U, II "FATHER"
Δ SARAH FRANCES GRISHAM "MOTHER"]

□ David Macklin Upchurch, II
- Born - June 2, 1846
- Deceased - December 22, 1874

Δ + □ + □ The son of Thomas L. and Mary Davis Upchurch was born June 2, 1846.

Δ + Δ He and mother, Sarah Francis Grisham, were married January or February, 1873 and moved to a log home which he had built. The house
Δ did not even have a loft in it and they did their cooking on the Δ fireplace. Father also had built a tobacco barn, a log stable, and
- small crib and a smokehouse.

Δ + Δ I was born December 27, 1873. Father died December 22, 1874 at
- about the age of 28, with what was called at the time, consumption,
Δ and my only sister was born February, 1875

→ [MARY PARLEE U]

Δ + Δ I very well remember when mother bought her first stove, a very
- small cook stove; and also when the north porch was built up for Δ a cook room. That is, I remember the porch before it was made Δ a kitchen and I also remember when neighbors donated the labor,
- cut logs, hauled them to the saw mill and hauled the lumber back
Δ to put a loft on our house. Frank Upchurch, whom we called Cousin Δ Frank, was a man we almost worshiped and Ed Anderson, a cousin of
- mine, did the most of the work gratis.

↳ [EDWARD T. ANDERSON]

COPIES OF PAGES 4, 5, 6 & 7 MADE FOR:
Δ ROBERT FRANKLIN U "I"

□ Sarah Francis Grisham

□ + Δ My mother, as already stated, was the daughter of Daniel and Δ Mary Marshal Grisham, whose maiden name was Critcher. Both were
- from North Carolina and emigrated to Tennessee when mother was Δ + Δ about three years old and her brother George was about 2 years
- old. They lived there until the fall before the close of the - Civil War which was in the spring of 1865 so they say, and
- suffered the ravage of war.

- They had to smuggle their way out, telling the gorillas they Δ were just moving down the country a way. Mother at this time
- was about 13 years old.

- They bought and (settled at the place where Herman Upchurch lives;
Δ + Δ + Δ where grandfather died. Grandmother then sold the place to H. L. → [HIRAM LEWIS U] □ + Δ Hiram Upchurch and lived with brother which was after father's
- death. ? ← → [SARAH FRANCES GRISHAM]

Δ + Δ + □ + □ Mother by the help of grandmother and father's mother and hard □ labor managed to make a living for my sister, whose name was Δ + Δ Mary Parlee. Mother raised tobacco, wove, washed, knit, and Δ sewed for neighbors. By this time, we had at that time what
- was called a common living.

- At that time it was not to uncommon for women to walk 2 or 3
- miles or even more to town and young folks to do the same to
- church and other things to do.

Δ + Δ At the age of 2, I had a siege of pneumonia and at 4 I had the Δ same and again at 6. This I very well remember. All this Δ added to mother's burden.

Δ + Δ As we think back of these days, the labor, hardships and love of Δ a mother and my mother had plenty of all this, it almost brings Δ tears to my eyes. My Uncle George Grisham moved in with us about
- 1880 and made a crop. All of us together were 10 in this log
- house. This did not help us much for the chinch bugs had almost
- destroyed the crops everywhere together with the drought. Uncle Δ + Δ moved back to his home on the farm and Biram Felps, mother's
- nephew came to farm for the next year.

Δ + Δ In January or February, mother married N. J. Barton - he had one
Δ boy, Joe, 4 years old, and I was 8 years old. On December 4, Δ + Δ Henry E. Barton, my first half brother was born. This was about Δ 1882 and September, 1884, Sam was born.

→ [N. J. BARTON]

- △ + △ Stepfather was a good man, labored hard and I don't think was
- △ ever out of debt until I was about grown-up. Sickness and doctor
- △ + △ bills kept us down or in debt. He and my sister both had typhoid
- △ + △ fever which took my sister away at the age of 12 and Henry when
- small had a long siege of sickness.
- △ All this, together with hard work, broke mother's health down.
- △ Up to this time, she had been a real strong woman and although
- able to do housework, never gained her health back.

28 FEB 1988

MR J. N. UPCHURCH
1455 SCHLEY
SAN ANTONIO, TX 78210

Dear Cousin James,

It was great to talk to you recently when I was in San Antonio on business. I wish we could have visited by phone and in person but the press of business made the phone the only possibility. Both you and I are descended from Michael U. I., the original Upchurch immigrant who came to America in 1649. I'll send you a sketch of your line and mine to show how we are related in due course.

I am very anxious to have a copy of the information collected by your father and hope you can send this to me. I spent all my time on the plane back to Tucson extracting the Morgan Book as it related to your line. As soon as I get the information from you I'll complete my Master Outline insofar as possible and will be happy to make a Xerox copy for you if you so desire. It will be just a few pages.

Could you also send me an update on your immediate family. Here are my questions:

1) For yourself.

- a) Is your middle name properly spelled NEWMAN?
- b) when were you born?
- c) where were you born?
- d) when were you married?
- e) where were you married?
- f) what is your wife's full maiden name and when and where born? Still living?
- g) Did you have just 3 children?

2) For James David U

- a) when and where born?
- b) Full ^{maiden} name of spouse & when & where born?

Dear Cousin James,

I have now extracted all the details provided in your letter of 12 MAY 1988 and placed them in the appropriate Biopiler and on my Master Outline. They help a lot and I am grateful to you for sending them.

The record of the four 1988 issues of the Upchurch Bulletin goes to the printer tomorrow. It should be to you and the other readers before June is over. I'll be sending you a copy of Vol 9 #1 at the same time so that by the end of 1988 you will have seen an entire year.

On a separate sheet I have listed missing details on the children of Robert Frankland in case any of them can be provided. I appreciated your comments on him and wish I had that ability to remember. It must have been a real gift.

I too have traveled a great deal - outside of the US on business with the University, the U.S. State Dept & with Monsanto Co - on inside the US on business with my family. Hope you enjoy your travels this summer. Sincerely yours
[ROBERT PHILIP UPCHURCH]

Dear Mr Lifchuck, REC'D 12 May 88
16 MAY 1988

I will try to answer some of your questions, but doubt that I have the answer to all of them.

I do not know when my father wrote the document I sent you. I know my sister Una Lee helped him and probably added that part that was added after his death. I don't know who else might have helped. I do know that my father with a 4 or 5 grade education had a wonderful memory that stayed with him most of his 91 years. He was a Primitive Baptist minister & had memorized more of the bible than any man I know of.

If you wish to send me a copy of your Bulletin I certainly would read it and I imagine my boys would also.

Dear Mr Upendra

There is to thank you for your letter of 18 APR 1988 and for the information provided which has been extracted. Also I have written to Mrs Charles Upendra and to Mrs Donovan Campbell as you suggested. I called information in Corsicana, TX to try to reach Mrs Fred Gray U but found no number listed for her. (In the process I talked to another Upendra who is not of your branch but which led to some interesting details. Mrs Fred U is of considerable interest because of what she has collected. Some 13 years ago I ran into one of her letters which a correspondent gave to me but I was never able to fit her into the picture until your letters helped. I have asked Mrs Donovan Campbell if she knows how to contact Mrs Fred U. Also I am writing my new contact in Corsicana, TX to see if she can ask around the area.

you did not ask how we are related but you have been so helpful I cannot resist setting forth the bare details, which are:

Michael U, I (original immigrant
England → VA in 1649)

Richard U, I

↓
James U, I

Richard U, II

Charles U ← BROTHERS → Nathan U, I

Thomas Guy U, Sr ← 1ST COUSINS → Gilbert U

James Simeon U ← 3RD " → Robert Jefferson U

Claude Elmer U, Sr ← 4TH " → Robert Phillip U ← ME

so your father and I are 4th cousins, you and my children are 5th cousins, while you and I are 4th cousins once removed.

you have been very considerate to supply
a lot of information and I am very appreciative.
I don't have any more questions. If at any time you come across more information I would welcome it and if you should ever desire more details just let me know.

Sincerely yours

Dear Mr Upchurch

I am keenly interested in the Upchurch Family and its history and spend a great deal of my spare time collecting and publishing details on the extended family. Recently I was in San Antonio, TX and talked with your daughter-in-law Becky Upchurch. Since then I have exchanged letters with Becky & Alan and they seem to be developing an interest in the family also. Alan has subscribed to the Upchurch Bulletin.

Becky thought you might have an interest in the family and might be willing to provide me with some missing details on the family. Here are my questions:

- 1) For your father - Candace Upchurch
 - a) what was his full name?
 - b) where born and where died?
 - c) what were the names of his several wives?
 - d) what were the names of his children?

2) For yourself

- a) when were you born?
- b) where were you born?
- c) when and where were you married?
- d) what is your wife's full maiden name and when and where was she born?
- e) Did you have just two children?

3) For your father (Jesse Jackson U)

- a) when in 1882 did he marry?
- b) what was the full maiden name of NANNIE CASTELLOW and is the spelling I have used correct? was her real name "NANNIE" or "NANCY"?

Any of the above details you can provide will be greatly appreciated.

If you so desire I will be happy to send you a sketch of your line and mine back to Michael Uphurch, I showing how we are related. You are an 11th generation descendant of Michael U, I who came to VA from England in 1649. Your ancestors lived in VA, NC, TN and TX. I have a great deal of information on them. My ancestors stopped off in NC which is where I was born & raised.

Details on the Uphurch Bulletin are enclosed. I would be happy to have you as a subscriber.

Please let me know if you have any specific questions

Sincerely yours,
Phil Uphurch

Dear Mr Upchurch

Since your letter of 1 APR 1988 arrived I have spent every spare moment extracting the details and working them into my master files. One fact has led to another and your letter has had a far greater impact than you can imagine. I am deeply appreciative of all the records you sent.

Until your letter arrived I had you linked to the wrong Claude Upchurch. Now I know for sure that you are a member of the Charles Upchurch / Thomas Gay Upchurch Senior subclan. Your ancestor Charles Upchurch fought in the Revolution as did his brother Nathan Upchurch, I, who is my GGGF.

Charles U and his son Thomas Gay Upchurch Sr moved from NC to Henry County GA about 1820. Your GF James Simeon U is a son of Thomas Gay U, Jr. Thomas Gay U Jr moved to Clay County, AL just after the civil war. Some of the descendants are still there but some moved on as did your GF James Simon U. His brother Robert Gay U settled in Louisiana and his descendants are still there.

If you would be willing to help me fill in some missing details that you might have I would be most grateful. Perhaps you have some of these in your memory or they may be easily accessible. Here are the needed items:

MA 185~~5~~ 1859 (Chatham Co, NC) Isabella Caltrane (McFarland) Thomas. She had earlier been married to James R. Thomas b 1827 & 1898. On the 1860 census in the household of JMU & Isabella four young children were listed as follows:

1. [△] John L. Thomas 7 - Did he become [△] John L. U 7
2. [△] Wm A. Thomas 5 - Did he become [△] Wm A. U 7
3. [△] Benjamin F. Thomas 4 - Did he become [△] Benjamin F. 4
4. [△] James R. Thomas 5 1/2 - He appears later consistently as James R. U. All things considered it appears he should have been listed as U in 1860 and as Thomas.

Earlier I had #3 listed as 2 people

• [△] Frank Thomas U XID-4116

• [△] Benjamin U XID-4115

My tentative conclusion is that there is one person Benjamin Frank Thomas → BFU?

STATE OF TEXAS
COUNTY OF HILL .

JRU ↑

Before me the undersigned authority , on this day personally appeared Mr. J.R. Upchurch, known to me to be an honest citizen of the State of Texas and of the above County. He states that he is seventy-four (74) years of age, that he was not in the Confederate Army, and that he did not serve in the War, but he knows positively that his brother, W.H. Upchurch was a soldier in the Confederate Army; W.H. Upchurch was in Company "C" 5th, Alabama Calvary; he enlisted as a private and he served from the time he enlisted to the close of the war. He served honorably and did not desert. Mr. J.R. Upchurch states that there was no other soldier by the name of his brother, W.H. Upchurch who served in the war.; that his brother surrendered at Molten, Alabama 1865.

WITHESS my hand, this the 4th day of September,
A.D. 1922.

NOTE: Among many dozens of white & Negro [W & N] deaths reported for IL the above 4 seem peculiar based on the Sex/Race designations. Normally sex was recorded as M or F and Race as W or N. I * could be the "N" in the above means Negro but what "S" stands for is unclear - RPA 8 SEP 2002

Headline Page 1, "Wardens at Florence, Fort Grant are Fired". Arizona Department of Corrections Director James Richitt fired the warden of the Arizona State Prison at Florence yesterday, after a riot earlier this month in which one inmate died and eight others were injured. --- "Other changes announced by Richitt yesterday are • James Upchurch, who had been acting Warden at Florence, is returning to his deputy warden position at the Perryville Correctional Training Center."

② 24 OCT 1993 - On this date RPU stopped with visitors at the Museum in Florence. When one of the volunteers saw my name on the guest list she asked me about James, who works for the AZ Prison System. She said the Florence Prison System has two major units with a Super Manager in charge of both. She said James is in charge of the "old" complex. She spoke highly of him and gave me the Prison No (868-4011). The number for James is 868-5069. She thinks he is divorced and has a daughter Sally.

Catalina boys' prison chief is transferred

By Pam Izakowitz

The Arizona Daily Star

The announced retirement of the warden at the state prison at Florence has resulted in the transfer of the superintendent of Catalina Mountain Juvenile Institution, corrections officials said.

Lloyd Bramlett's retirement Friday from the Arizona State Prison Complex at Florence will create room for James Upchurch's transfer from the boys' prison north of Tucson.

Upchurch is one of four prison officials to be transferred after Bramlett retires.

Corrections Spokesman Michael Arra said Upchurch's transfer has no connection to his recent "admonishment."

Upchurch, 38, was reprimanded last month for putting youths who refused to work into handcuffs and leg irons at the 180-bed prison north of Catalina State Park, contrary to state Corrections Department policy.

Last week, Upchurch became the acting deputy warden of Cell Block 6, where the state's most dangerous inmates are housed.

In a telephone interview from Florence last week, Upchurch described his transfer as "a very positive thing. It gives me a chance to learn about inmates I'll be dealing with."

The department had announced in May that Upchurch would become the deputy warden of the Special Management Unit, a super-maximum facility under construction two miles north of the Florence prison. The Florence prison has 3,200 inmates.

The 760-bed facility for the most dangerous and troublesome inmates in the state prison system, including 187 prisoners currently in Cell Block 6, is expected to be completed in July 1987.

Upchurch said that if Corrections Director Samuel Lewis had transferred him for other reasons, "he would tell me straight out. He wouldn't beat around the bush."

Donna Leone, president of Middle Ground, a prison-reform group that disapproved of Upchurch's actions at the boys' prison, said, "It's unfortunate they are moving him anywhere."

But Upchurch replied: "I intend to do the best job I can here. This is my career, and I will do the best I can."

Upchurch was named superintendent of the boys' prison in January after 3½ years as a deputy warden at the Arizona State Prison Complex at Perryville. Before coming to Arizona in 1982, he was a warden at the Mississippi State Penitentiary.

Catalina Mountain was his first experience working with juveniles.

Bramlett will join a Phoenix architecture firm as a consultant on prison design Dec. 1.

Robert Goldsmith has been named acting warden of Florence. John Avenenti, formerly the deputy warden at Cell Block 6, becomes acting deputy warden of the Florence Central Unit.

Gene Moore, who heads the Corrections Department's parole office in Tucson, will temporarily replace Upchurch at Catalina Mountain.

Stricter juvenile camp aims to teach respect

James R. Upchurch, new superintendent of Catalina Mountain Juvenile Institution: "I'm looking forward to the challenge"

New director lists changes

By Pam Izakowitz
The Arizona Daily Star

They didn't get there by being Boy Scouts.

And because they aren't Boy Scouts, the new superintendent of the Catalina Mountain Juvenile Institution hopes to instill some Boy Scout honor, respect for authority, and self-discipline within those committed to his institution.

"The most exciting part about coming down here is the chance to impact human beings and change lives," said James R. Upchurch. "I'm looking forward to the challenge."

Upchurch took over as head of the Department of Corrections facility for boys north of Tucson two weeks ago after 3½ years at the state prison in Perryville where he was deputy warden.

At 37, this is his first experience working closely with kids.

He replaced William Gaspar, who was transferred to the state prison on South Wilmot Road. Before coming to Arizona in 1982, Upchurch was a warden at the Mississippi State Penitentiary.

Upchurch said he will apply rules and regulations that have not been rigorously enforced in the past.

In doing so, he'll be acting on the orders of Corrections Director Samuel Lewis, a former deputy director of the Department of Public Safety who proposes teaching youths "duty, honor and country."

Lewis wants juveniles to adhere to stricter discipline and undergo daily room inspections. He wants both the offenders and correctional officers to wear uniforms.

Upchurch's job is to implement those ideas.

"He (Lewis) doesn't want programming and individual treatment to disappear as a result of teaching self-discipline and socially acceptable behavior," Upchurch said. But in the past, he said, juvenile offenders lived in a too-permissive environment. The proposed changes call for a more structured atmosphere.

Upchurch said profane language will not be allowed. And beginning in July, youths will be required to wear uniforms — blue jeans and shirts that identify which state facility they are in.

Placing the correctional officers in uniforms as of Feb. 15 will set an example for the youths once they are released, Upchurch said. "Juveniles at one time or another will deal with uniformed officers — be it police, sheriff or the Department of Public Safety."

According to Upchurch, Lewis believes the purpose is not to demean or punish, but to teach them through habit to respect authority.

"We're doing a disservice if we don't teach them to respect authority," Upchurch said.

Other items on Upchurch's agenda include more frequent inspections of the youths and the institution. He will enforce a clean appearance and short hair. Shirttails must be tucked in.

He plans to begin civics classes, in which the kids will study government, leadership and history. He wants to teach health, personal grooming and cardiopulmonary resuscitation. He'd also like to enhance vocational training, which now offers little more than automobile mechanics.

Each day the youths will stand at attention while an American flag is raised, and again when it's lowered.

"It won't hurt them, but will it help?" Upchurch wondered aloud. "That remains to be seen. But why not try it? The majority of kids have had a minimum of guidance in their lives. We need to show them the benefit of taking direction."

Although he has concern for the offender,

Upchurch said, he is also mindful of the taxpayer, who is supporting the state's four juvenile facilities.

The state will spend $26,771 to keep a juvenile offender in Catalina Mountain this year — roughly twice what is spent on adult offenders.

"We won't let them tear up the property and abuse the staff," Upchurch said. "There are appropriate ways to release emotions without cost to the taxpayers."

About 173 boys live within the barbed wire fences and orange-colored concrete-block houses beneath a panoramic view of the Catalina Mountains at 14500 N. Oracle Road.

Unlike adult prisons, this place has no armed or uniformed guards. The correctional officers help counsel the youths, who are imprisoned for assault, robbery, burglary and murder.

The youngest offender is 12, the oldest 18. The average age of the juvenile locked up here is 16.

For the most part, the youths at Catalina have poor social skills and may have a drug or alcohol dependency. Some have been physically or emotionally abused at home, said Mike Hutchins, the treatment manager.

Many don't understand what led to their criminal activity, and most have difficulty dealing with authority figures, Hutchins said.

Thirty-nine percent are Hispanic, 37 percent are Anglo, 15 percent are black, and 6 percent are American Indians.

Many have been in the system for years — repeat offenders with long rap sheets. Of the 173 locked up, about 70 are repeaters who have violated parole.

But unlike their counterparts in the adult prisons, the youthful offenders "are less sophisticated. They're not looking at 20 years. The majority haven't given up hope," Upchurch said.

All the youths committed to the Department of Corrections spend 30 days at Adobe Mountain Juvenile Institution in Phoenix undergoing a series of psychological and educational tests. Their reading levels and vocational skills are measured.

After the month, boys either remain at Adobe Mountain or are sent to Catalina Mountain.

Girls are assigned to the New Dawn Juvenile Institution in Phoenix. At present, 663 male and female juvenile offenders are committed to the Department of Corrections.

At Catalina, youths are assigned to cottages designed to deal with their particular problems.

There are cottages for kids who have committed property offenses — shoplifting, burglary, car theft.

Two other cottages are for youths who have committed more violent crimes, like assault and murder.

Another cottage is designed for those who are emotionally disturbed and mentally ill.

Their days are a combination of classes, work assignments, counseling and recreation.

Last year, the average length of stay at Catalina was 7½ months. Juvenile Court judges impose minimum sentences, which the offenders must serve. After their sentences run out, Catalina officials ultimately determine how much longer the youths stay behind bars.

Upchurch said he'd like to establish new criteria for returning the juveniles back to the community.

"The longer you keep them, the more they'll be institutionalized," Upchurch said. Whatever the sentence, all juvenile offenders are released when they reach 18. Some return home, others go to halfway houses or support programs in the community.

In the long run, Upchurch said, he believes the changes he advocates will be positive.

"The kids are reacting well. We don't expect it (acceptance) to occur immediately," he said. "If it does the kids harm, I'll scream bloody murder and we'll adjust."

Hutchins, however, said the juveniles have been more anxious since the new superintendent arrived.

Replied Upchurch: "Change always increases anxiety. I'm anxious myself."

Juvenile jails

Kid prisons a revolving door world

This was it — his one last chance.

The boy had tried it all. Countless drug treatment programs, house arrest, intensive probation, counseling and a group home.

None of it worked.

Now the 15-year-old had at last exhausted Pima County Juvenile Court's resources. And its patience.

Finally this day had come. Everyone knew it would, and everyone knew what would happen.

The boy was short with a slight dusting of a mustache. A dark blue, detention uniform two sizes too big draped his body. Fringes of thread from the long, unhemmed pants skimmed his socked feet and brown, plastic sandals.

Sandwiched between his mother and his lawyer, he sat before the judge, awaiting his fate. His tattooed fingers drummed an impatient, nervous beat.

Without delay, Judge Pro Tem Stephen M. Rubin announced the expected — juvenile prison for a period not to exceed the boy's 18th birthday.

"You will be transported immediately," Rubin said.

The boy's fingers froze.

"With your juvenile record. . . you're going to get the maximum term if you're sent to adult court," Rubin continued. "This is your last opportunity in the juvenile system to make the changes you need to make."

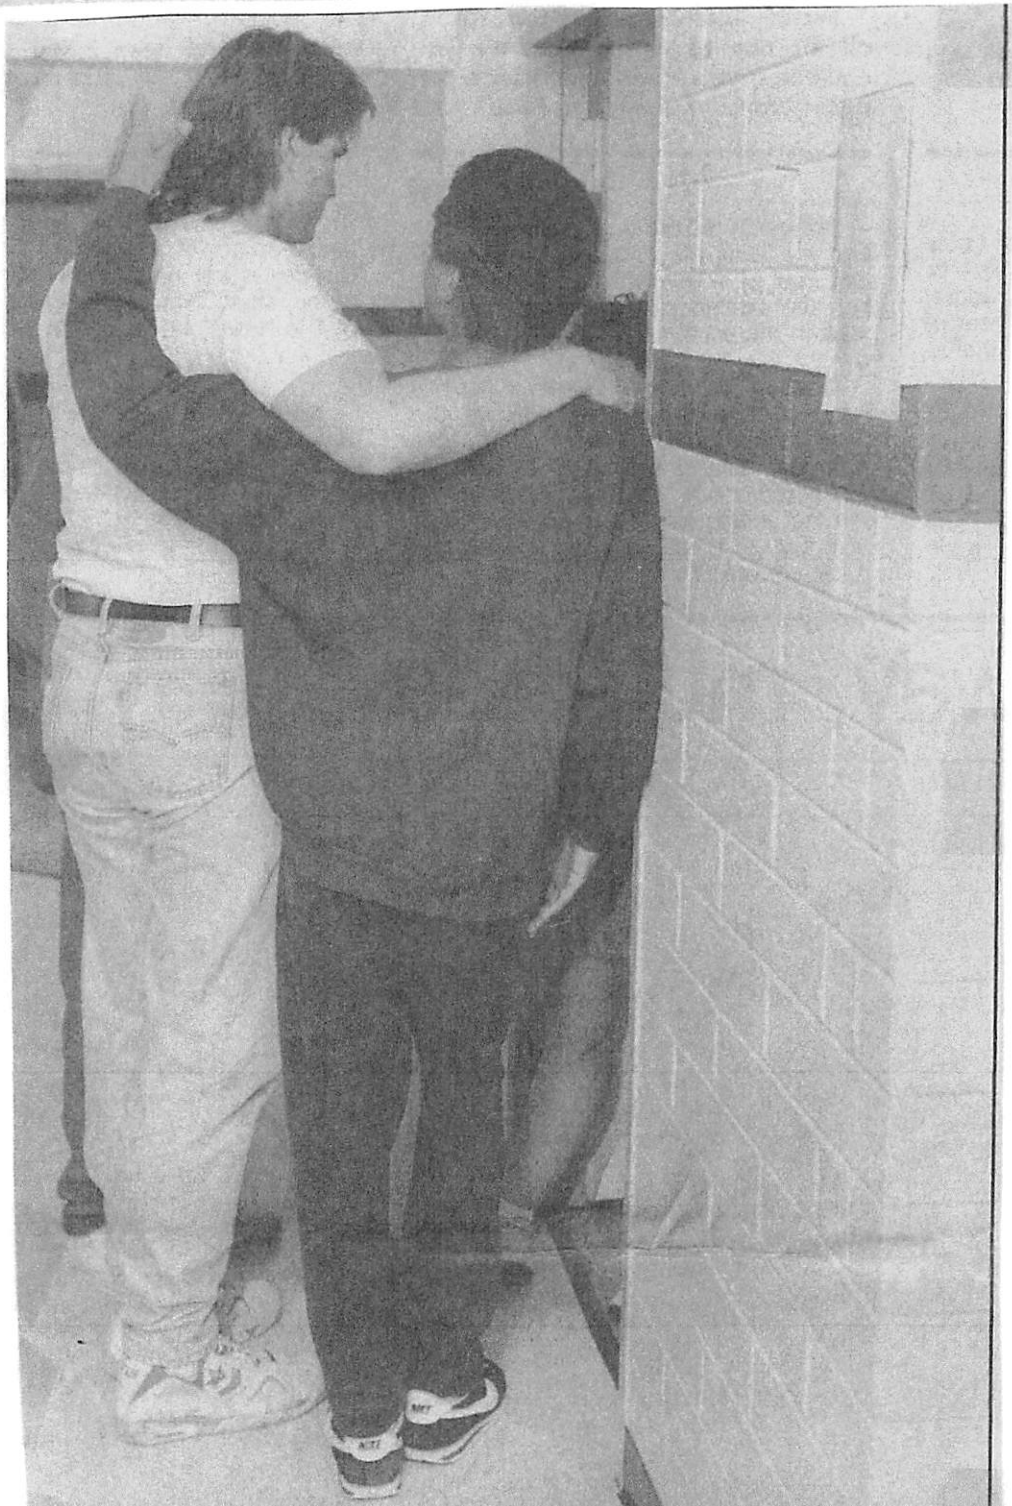

In 15 minutes, it was over. The youth rose without a word, his mother gently patted him on the shoulder. They left the courtroom in different directions, both dry-eyed and resigned.

Whether the judge's words will have any impact remains to be seen. Everyone will have to wait.

Most likely, they won't wait long.

3 months in kid prison

Three months — that's the average stay

Benjie Sanders, The Arizona Daily Star

Kevin Lendo, left, a youth care worker at Catalina Mountain school, with an inmate for youths jailed at the Arizona Department of Youth Treatment and Rehabilitation, better known as kid prison. It holds the state's most dangerous and chronic juvenile offenders.

Judges tell stories of youths who leave the department's institutions almost as quickly as the van that brought them. The same kids pop up in courtrooms again and again, and judges aren't even notified they are free.

Worse still, judges say some kids beg to be locked up, knowing they won't stay long.

"They come in and say, 'Judge, please send me to DYTR.' Send me there and I'll be out in 15 days, and I'll be having a great time," said Judge James E. McDougall, presiding judge of Maricopa County Juvenile Court.

Agency workers joke about replacing the chain-link, double-gated entry ways at the three boys' institutions with something more appropriate — a revolving door.

Some youths are released early only to fall into their old habits. And another offense on a youth's criminal record, even if it's not a violent act, could lead to a prison term with an adult sentence of years, not months.

That's why rehabilitation is vital at the department. It's the last chance to save kids who have bounced through the juvenile justice system. But helping troubled youths is not easy, and the problems are daunting.

Problems such as violent youths incapable of remorse, growing numbers of delinquent girls, a critical lack of community services, unequal treatment programs and deteriorating buildings. All this the agency must remedy while struggling to find room for the juveniles committed by 15 counties.

"Population is our everyday concern," said Michael Bronson, acting superintendent of Catalina Mountain School, the juvenile lockup 13 miles north of Tucson.

Under a court order, the department's three lockups should average no more than 380 boys a month. The agency has yet to meet that cap.

Department officials blame judges for sending non-violent youths who don't need to be incarcerated. Judges counter that the department fails to consider that a juvenile's non-violent act might be the latest entry on a long rap sheet.

McDougall and others contend the agency's space crisis is due to its lack of guidelines regarding commitment and lengths of stay, which are now being developed.

Scarce resources and cramped quarters have resulted in a less-than-ideal treatment setting with kids flitting back and forth between freedom and state lockups. With so little time spent in the facilities, many question how much rehabilitation the youths receive.

Department director Eugene Moore said his facilities are "in some ways, the best and the worst."

A handful of youths get top treatment at three prototype cottages. The cottages can provide better staff interaction and more intense therapy because there are fewer juveniles. The rest of the boys live in run-down, cramped units.

Moore plans to have all the cottages remodeled like the prototypes. He hopes Arizona will move toward what's considered an ideal juvenile corrections department — small, staff-intensive, secure facilities and plenty of community-based treatment programs.

In such a system, only the worst, most chronic offenders would be locked up. The vast majority of youths could be helped through strong family and community involvement.

But until that Utopian vision becomes reality, Moore said his department will continue to do the best it can with what it has. He admits that in some cases his agency can do little to make much of a dent in young lives ravaged by years of neglect and abuse.

As the debate over at-risk children and the juvenile justice system rages on, the Department of Youth Treatment and Rehabilitation is a main focal point. What the department does affects society just as much as it affects the youths in its care, because as Bronson noted, "They all get out."

Oversees lockups

The youth-rehabilitation agency oversees three juvenile lockups for boys and one wing of a psychiatric hospital that treats girls.

The department calls its facilities "schools." And in some respects, they're much like a regular high school campus. The youths go to classes and can attend group activities. Vast, grassy fields are ideal for soccer and softball.

But chain-link fences topped with coils of razor wire enclose the grounds. Youngsters cannot go home after school.

They live in tiny rooms with graffiti-etched walls. Windows are barred, doors are locked. The scant furnishings include a metal bunk bed, a toilet and a sink.

Students at these schools excel in one particular subject — crime.

Murderers, rapists, burglars, even runaways make up this varied population. The mix can be volatile with older, violent youths preying on the younger ones.

Rapes and beatings occur, just as they do at an adult prison, employees say. But unlike an adult prison, the department's goal is rehabilitation, not punishment. Its schools can be places to learn and grow, but at the same time can be dangerous.

Making state lockups safer is one of the youth-treatment department's goals. Specialized programs separating violent and sexual offenders from the non-violent are scheduled to open later this year.

Already in place are department-wide programs that seek to change festering criminal habits.

The agency has come a long way from the days when it was a branch of the Department of Corrections. Its turnaround is the result of a lawsuit and subsequent court order requiring the department to improve conditions at its locked institutions by the end of this year.

Three weeks ago, a monitoring committee met for the second time to review progress the department has made toward fulfilling the court mandates, which include vast improvements in education, treatment and housing.

The court order — which is expected to cost the department $12 million — was the culmination of a lawsuit brought against the department by youths who said their constitutional rights were violated.

Resembled adult prisons

Rehabilitation wasn't always the Department of Youth Treatment and Rehabilitation's goal. For years, juvenile institutions fell under the purview of the Department of Corrections. So it was no surprise that the juvenile facilities resembled adult prisons.

"Most other states had at least come around to realize juveniles were different from adults and that you had to make some sort of effort to look at their needs," said David Lambert, an attorney with the National Center for Youth Law based in San Francisco. "(Arizona officials) were one of the last holdouts to the notion that you can punish kids into reform."

Workers routinely shackled boys with metal handcuffs as punishment, and department officials failed to provide required special education, Lambert said.

The atmosphere was stifflingly punitive, the conditions unbearable. And in 1986, Matthew Davey Johnson complained.

At the time, Johnson was an inmate at Catalina Mountain School, then Catalina Mountain Juvenile Institution. He was committed in 1985 and spent much of his time in solitary confinement in Yucca Cottage, where youths considered to be discipline problems were held.

When Grace McIlvain, who along with Lambert represented Johnson, first saw the youth and his surroundings, she couldn't believe it.

"I was appalled at the conditions," said McIlvain, a Tucson attorney. "I grew up on a farm and I've seen animals treated better than the boys in Yucca."

Lambert agreed that the conditions were among the worst he'd ever seen.

"The kids would sit in these barren cells with no intervention, no counseling, nothing to do," Lambert said. "They would yell, scream, bang on the door, which would evoke more extreme punishment... A lot of these kids would cut on themselves. They'd cut up their arms, their legs."

"For a while there, there were kids who smeared feces all over the wall," he continued. "They would save their blood in cups. It got to the point where kids would urinate into cups and throw them at the guards, and so the guards would go in in rain coats instead."

There was no doubt that Johnson had a case.

And after seven years of litigation, the case — which ballooned into a class action suit — was settled last year when both sides agreed to a court order signed by U.S. District Judge Richard M. Bilby.

The order set forth the department's new mission: rehabilitation rather than punishment. And if kids can be treated in their communities and pose no threat to society, they needn't be locked up.

The court established a three-person committee to oversee the department and monitor its compliance with the new guiding principles until 1997.

The committee members are Peter Leone, a professor of special education at the University of Maryland; Allen Breed, a national authority in juvenile and criminal justice from California; and Russell Van Vleet, director of the Center for the Study of Youth Policy at the University of Utah.

At the committee's last meeting June 16, monitors reported that the agency was making some headway with the court-ordered provisions but was far from complete compliance. By November, the department must meet most of the mandates and it must have made a good faith effort to fully comply.

It's been slow going so far — as expected by many associated with the lawsuit.

"To fundamentally reform a bureaucracy of that size is extremely difficult to do," McIlvain said.

The department began improving many of the areas specified by the court even before the lawsuit was settled, and it has made significant progress, said Leone, chairman of the monitoring committee.

"But," Leone said, "I think I can safely say the agency has a long way to go."

Neglect complicates task

In recent years, the department has been struggling to become an agency with a full range of services, but years of neglect have made this task difficult. It is still trying to recover from the several years it spent in the Department of Corrections' shadow.

"You can't change a system that was so poorly funded for many years and expect a miracle in a year," said Judge Raner C. Collins, former presiding judge of Pima County Juvenile Court.

And while Arizona spends so little, it wants so much.

"You see a system that is trying to be all things to all kids, which is an impossible thing to do," said Jan Christian, director of The Juvenile Justice Project, a program that advocates balanced juvenile justice policy. "It's an impossible task and then we blame it for its inability to do that."

Critics unjustly fault the department for problems that result from a lack of "front-end" preventive services. But some say the agency's most significant obstacle lies with its constantly changing administration.

The department has had four directors in as many years. Experts complain about the revolving door in the institutions, but child care advocates lament the revolving door in leadership.

"In terms of consistency and leadership, in terms of DYTR and the (Arizona) Supreme Court working together, in terms of the left hand knowing what the right hand is doing — it hasn't happened," said Maria Hoffman, executive director of the Arizona Council of Centers for Children and Adolescents, a professional association for human service agencies.

When Gov. Fife Symington asked department Director John Arredondo to resign in January, it angered local and national juvenile justice experts, who thought Arredondo had done much to reform Arizona's system.

The governor's office maintained Arredondo was ousted because Symington felt a change in leadership was needed, and a Department of Public Safety review ordered by Symington after Arredondo's dismissal uncovered numerous areas of concern.

Investigators described such deficiencies as poor accounting procedures, untrained employees and failing to fully investigate gang fights.

But others privately said that Arredondo's emphasis on "soft" solutions like rehabilitation clashed with the governor's desire for a tough stance on crime.

Regardless of the reason, the switch meant back to square one for child care advocates like Hoffman.

"Every time there's a new governor, every time there's a new director of DYTR, it's like starting over," she said.

In March, Hoffman criticized the state's lack of public policy and a firm statement of what Arizona wanted to do with juveniles. But by the time the state Legislature ended its session in April, it had taken steps to change that.

Legislators passed a juvenile justice reform bill that brought together recommendations from separate commissions. The Legislature also appropriated $5.1 million to use toward the court order.

It's a start, but not necessarily much of one, some experts said.

Critics allege the Legislature merely assuaged the public's call for action by dealing with the back end of the system — and once kids get to that point, it's too late.

"One of the best things you can do for the juvenile justice system is to do things that aren't even connected to it on the surface, like beefing up social services," said Judge McDougall.

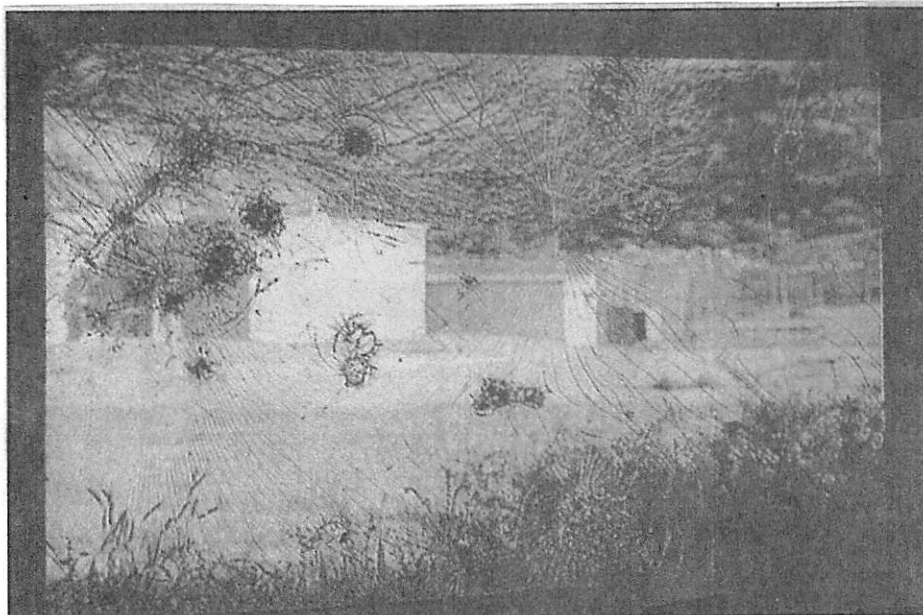

"I deal with kids 8 to 18, most of these kids, their thoughts, their behavior patterns are formed before they get to me," McDougall said. "So the more that you can do on the front end of this — working with families and allowing them to connect with services that will help them be families — that's helping me."

And helping Arizona's youths.

There's still much to be done to improve juvenile corrections, and the experts say it is still too early to see where Arizona's new reforms will lead.

We'll have to wait. And just like the 15-year-old boy sentenced to lockup, what the future holds for Arizona's juvenile justice system remains to be seen.

STORIES BY KRISTEN COOK

Teen justice an enigma in violent times

A 14-year-old girl shoots a 50-year-old man and leaves him to die in the desert.

Police arrest two boys, ages 8 and 9, in the alleged rape of a 5-year-old girl.

A judge sentences a 15-year-old boy to spend the rest of his life in prison for the carjack-murder of a 26-year-old woman.

Another 15-year-old boy is accused of brutally stabbing and burning the body of a high school student over an $80 Super Bowl bet.

That's just in Tucson.

Violence among the young is spreading — not just in Arizona but across the country. And while these stories grab headlines and shock the public, violent crimes account for only a minority of juvenile offenses.

Statistics show that 15 percent of the youngsters sent to the state's locked juvenile facilities committed violent crimes against people. The rest are burglars, drug users, car thieves — offenders who attract much less attention.

The violent and the non-violent end up at the Department of Youth Treatment and Rehabilitation — the agency that handles the state's dangerous and chronic young offenders — after they have gone through all the resources the juvenile courts have to offer. This is the last stop before adult prison.

The juveniles are tucked away from society in kid prisons and receive treatment that is intended to halt their budding criminal careers.

But critics question how much rehabilitation is accomplished at the rundown, overcrowded lock-ups. And as Arizona and the nation debate the problem of juvenile crime, the department is a key element to any solution.

Over the next three days, The Arizona Daily Star will examine the agency — which faces intense scrutiny and the pressures of a federal court order to improve conditions — as it struggles to meet the needs of Arizona's kid criminals.

Lessons learned

Prototype care gives offenders brief respite from war zone outside

The real names of the juveniles interviewed for this story were not used. The Department of Youth Treatment and Rehabilitation forbids the identification of incarcerated juveniles in its care.

He could be anyone.

The polite, quiet boy next door. Or a popular high school student. Maybe the fresh-scrubbed kid who bags your groceries.

But this 16-year-old is a killer.

His friend has a penchant for assaulting police officers. And because of this, their home — for now — is Catalina Mountain School, the juvenile lockup 13 miles north of Tucson.

Chris and Gerry are two of 20 boys who occupy Catalina's prototype cottage, a model unit with a smaller population and better privileges than the others. Two other prototype cottages operate at Adobe Mountain School in Phoenix.

Officials hope that one day all the units in Arizona's locked juvenile facilities will be like this one, which is called Chiricahua Cottage. But right now, only a handful of selected youths live here.

And all kinds of kids make up this delinquent family.

"Everybody's different," said Gerry, 17. "There's people in for GTA (grand theft auto) and all kinds of stuff — armed robbery, murder, burglary."

This is Gerry's second stint for the same crime — assaulting an officer. With two strikes against him, Gerry faces being transferred to Superior Court and the possibility of seven to 10 years in prison.

In the meantime, he waits it out in Chiricahua Cottage.

He and three others talked about their home with pride. It's all right, they said, for a locked facility.

"We're able to work better with both youth and staff . . . The gang violence stuff isn't used as much as in other cottages," Gerry said.

"It's pretty cool," said 16-year-old Chris, who is in for murder. "I like this cottage. It's nothing like I thought it would be."

The modest brick building is free of graffiti. Individual rooms and common areas are clean and orderly. And, as Gerry pointed out, their cottage doesn't stink. Others tend to reek like a rest stop bathroom — a competing mix of urine and the sharp, stinging aroma of antiseptic.

Yeah, the accommodations aren't bad, the boys said. Still, they can't wait to get out even though their imminent releases won't mean the end of their problems.

For these boys, the outside world is a war zone between right and wrong. Temptation is great. But another crime means doing adult time. A single slip-up can mean they're out of luck and back in lockup — for good. The responsibility of freedom is often too great a burden to bear.

"I don't think I'll behave because of all the problems out there," Gerry said matter-of-factly. "In the last few days, I've had a couple of friends die."

"All this gang stuff," he continued, his voice trailing off. "I think all my gang problems are going to catch up with me when I get out."

Tyrell, 16, the father of two, shook his head. "To me, whatever you want in life, you can get," he told Gerry. "You can stay out of gangs."

Gerry clucked his tongue in disagreement. "You can take somebody out of the hood but you can't take the hood out of somebody," he said simply.

But the boys refused to give up.

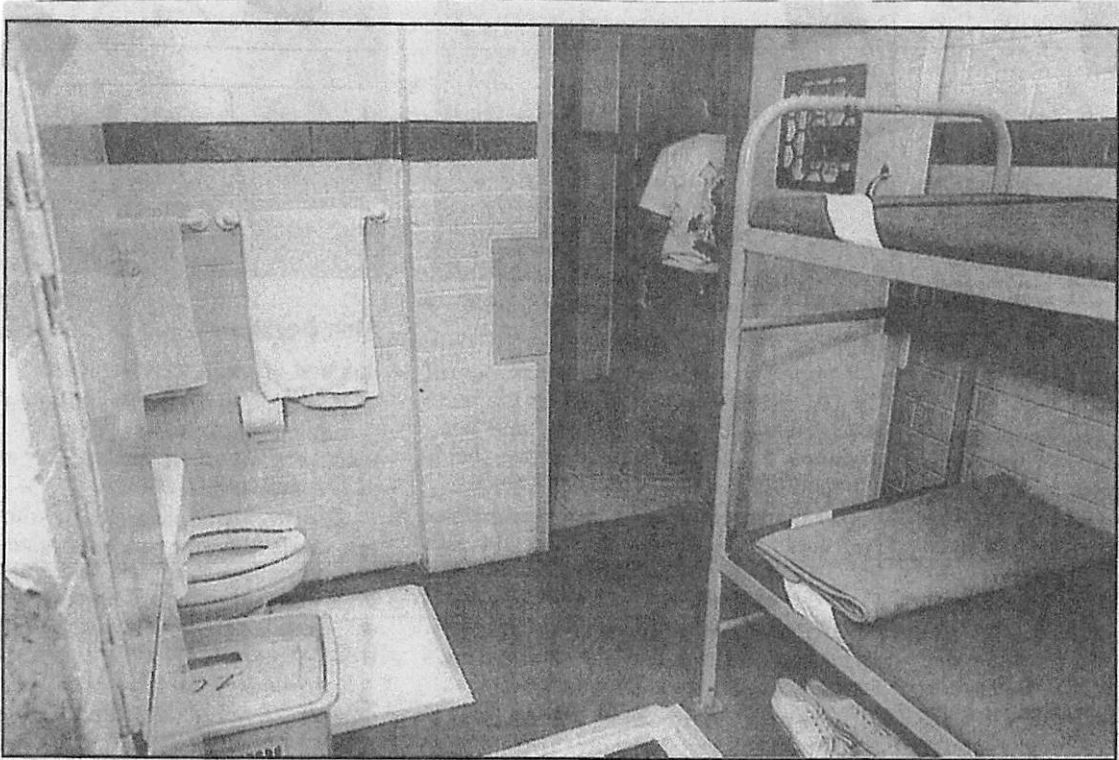

"It depends on what you want to do when you get out," chimed Mario, also a parent at the age of 17. "If you want to get in trouble, then you will. If you don't, you won't."

Mario, who beat two attempts to transfer him to adult court, said he knows if he messes up again, he will be tried as an adult. To him, the run-ins with the law were an educational experience.

"If I'm going to get in trouble, I'll do it now so I get it done now instead of when I'm an adult," he said. "I'll learn my lesson fast instead of in prison."

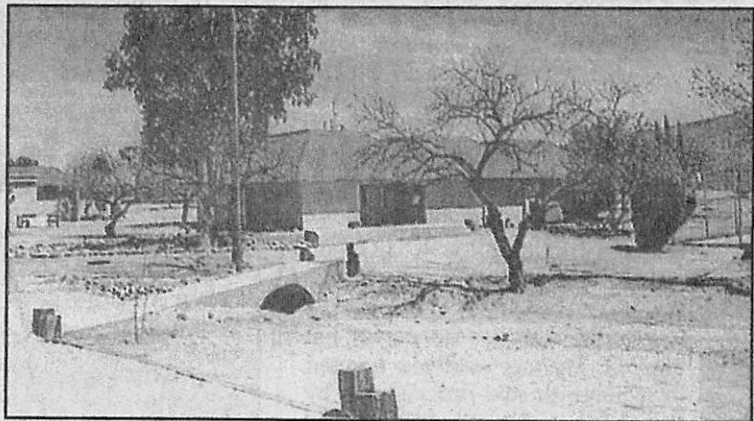

Not Gerry.

"I think that's where I'm going to learn it," Gerry said with a shrug. "If you do the crime, you got to do the time."

BOWLING GREEN, KY 42101

Dear Cousin,

I am really ashamed that it has taken me this long to process your letter of 26 NOV 1979 in which you provided me details on your part of the Upchurch family. The fact is that your letter along with quite a few others refused to come to the top of the pile. Finally, I have taken two weeks vacation (my first in several years) to catch up on genealogy records. Your letter has been completely processed now and a profile made for each individual. You are XID-11612. What you sent was most useful and I do appreciate it.

In the meantime I am in the fifth year of publishing the Upchurch Bulletin (details enclosed) and by the end of 1984 will have identified and published the names of 12,000 members of our extended Upchurch family. A great deal of information is surfacing on the Samuel Upchurch clan to which

You belong in fact I have discovered two brothers of Samuel U and am publishing substantial material on them.

You and I are related as follows:

Michael U I (Original Immigrant)

↓
Richard U I

John U I ← ~~Michael U I~~ BROTHERS → James U I

↓
James U II ← 1ST COUSINS → Richard U II

↓
John U III ← 2ND " → Nathan U I

Samuel U ← 3RD " → Gilbert U

Thomas L U ← 4TH " → Bradley Jefferson U

Joseph Calum U ← 5TH " → Robert Jefferson U

James Thomas U ← 6TH " → Robert Phillip U ← me

James Roy U ← 7TH " → my children (3)

James Roy U Jr ← 8TH " → my grandchildren (2)

you → James Randall U ← 9TH " → my great GC (0)

So your GC and I are 6th cousins, you and my GC will be 9th cousins while you and I are 6th cousins 3 times removed!

Please let me know if you have any questions about the Upchurch family. I'll do my best to answer. If you have collected additional information or if you have knowledge of births, deaths, marriages, divorce, etc that have come about since you last wrote, I would be pleased to have them.

Here are some questions you may be able to help with

1) For yourself

- a) when & where was your wife born?
- b) Still just 3 children?

2) For James Roy U. Jr

- a) when in AUG 1941 married?
- b) when and where was Anna Jewell Finner born?
- c) what was the full maiden name of Mable Ogala and when & where born?

3) For James Roy U. Sr

- a) where died?
- b) where married?
- c) Full maiden name of Lalah Whiteside, where born, where died?

4) For James Thomas U

- a) when in 1869 born
- b) where died, where married?
- c) Full maiden name of Effie Hall, when & where born, where died, where married?

If you can answer any of the above, I will be more than grateful.

Sincerely yours
Phil Upchurch

Dear Mr. Gehrhardt

Many thanks for your letter of November 26, 1979 and for the information provided. In due course it will all be crunched into the files. You have Olive Mary Ann Cook and now see how we fit together. Provided herewith is a copy of my January 1980 edition of "An Outline of Colonial Upchurches". This ~~is~~ ^{is} the sheet covers the first five generations of Upchurches in America. The 5th generation members I have designated as Heads of Clans. You belong to Clan (14) (headed by John U III (XID-157)). I belong to Clan (3) (headed by Nathan U (XID-78)). John U III and Nathan U, the Heads of our respective Clans were 3rd cousins or you will see from the chart. Our common ancestor is Richard U I (XID-144), the son of ~~the~~ Michael U, the original immigrant. Nathan U was my great-great grandfather and he was a Revolutionary War veteran as were his brother Charles and Moses. Note that I assign identifiers, numbers to individuals (XID numbers). I am getting ready to publish an UPCHURCH BULLETIN in 1980 and will write to you later about that.

I have just finished a review of the Chatham Co, NC Census Records relative to entries for Upchurches. I am especially interested in this County because Nathan U (XID-78) and his brother Moses moved from the Eastern side of Wake County to the Western side about 1800. Moses settled just over the line in Chatham County and Nathan settled just on the Wake side. There are my great-grandfathers, Gilbert U, and my grandfather, Bartley Jefferson U, were born. I have been back to the area several times and there are still many Upchurches there.

On the 1800 Chatham County NC Census I found only two Upchurches - Samuel U who had 3 males <10, one male 26-45, 2 females <10, ~~one~~ 1 female 16-26 and 1 female 26-45. I presume this is your Samuel U (XID-4129). The son of John U III (XID-157). The other Upchurch heading a household is Amos U with 2 females 16-26, 1 female 10-16, 2 females 16-26 and one female >45. I presume this Amos U is ~~Amos U~~ Ann Hammett XID-2068, the widow of John U III (XID-157) - What do you think?

On the 1810 Chatham County NC Census there are 4 Upchurch households - Moses U (XID-1) and two of his sons Ruffin U (XID-9) and Gillsam U (XID-6). plus John U, whom I presume to be the brother of your Samuel U ~~and~~ according to Olive Morgan.

I was born and raised in Southern Wake Co, NC and lived there until I was about grown. Since I have lived in California, Florida, St Louis and now for the past 5 years in Tucson.

There is much information for me to share and much more to be collected. I'll look forward to hearing from you and to whatever we can exchange.

Sincerely yours
Phil Upchurch

Boy of 12 Years Meets Death at Play Near Pump Station Sunday Afternoon

Ray Upchurch, age 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alanzo Upchurch of Number One, was accidentally killed Sunday while playing near the Pump Station when he grabbed an electric wire that had fallen down on some bushes from the line going to the Shady Nook Inn.

The boy was running and started to fall and grabbed the wire for support. He called to another boy who was playing with him to help him but was dead before the boy could give him any assistance.

The line looked as if it had first been shot nearly in two and then weighted down with the snow.

Coroner John Huffer was called and held an inquest, the jury returning a verdict of accident caused by grabbing the electric wire.

JAMES REID U

XID-14690 ①

○ From Ltr 31 MAY 1999 Gloria Jean Bayles DRA

James Bernard worked as a store clerk in a drug according to his son, Reid. Since he had been sick and unable to work for a long time they were poor. Mama told me they did not realize how poor they were because no one else had much either. After "Bun" died, my grandmother Ophelia did not have means to take care of the 5 children. James Redoluphs "Dol" and Florence Ann (Johnson) Mitchell, (her parents) went in the wagon to their home and loaded all to go and live with them. They moved from the town of Buies Creek to the country of Buies Creek. Since grandpa Dol was a farmer there was now plenty of food. She told me even though times were hard they never went hungry and always felt loved and wanted by their grandparents. They helped with the farm when they could. Ophelia helped cook for the farm hands.

Mama had a bit of artist in her but no one else seem to share her talent even in the next generation. There are 3 pastel chalk pictures she did when she was about 12-13 years old that survived. Guess the rest were not kept. I have one, my sister has one and a Bayles cousin that my mother was very close to has the 3rd. For a young child they are wonderful, however she was not allowed to pursue "this useless pastime." Many years later my father encouraged her to try again. She took lessons in oil painting. Family members now share her paintings. Several years before her death, she put the name of who was to inherit her work on the back of each picture. Of course my sister and I had 1st choice. Mama's oil paintings are proudly displayed.

On medical history:

Mama was diagnosed with Diabetes in her 50's. About the same time, her oldest sister Lucille and cousin Una Earl (daughter of Charles Herbert) both discovered they also had it. They thought it must have come from the Upchurch side since Una Earl had it too. Do you know of any other family members with diabetes. Would be interesting to know if their theory was correct.

23 AUG 1982

Dear Reid,

When I talked to you on 17 JUL 82 I had hoped to write right away but some out-of-the-travel came up. I talked to Susan and to Mary Heba, to Mary Florence and to Woody and made some progress. If we will all pool our information we have a better chance of locating your line to the rest of the Upchurches. We are all related. See attached flyers.

It is hard to know when to start on the questions but let me begin with some very ones.

- 1) when and where were you born?
- 2) when and where were you married the 1st and 2nd time?
- 3) when and where was Ada Florence Gray born and is she still living? if not when and where did and where buried?
- 4) when and where was Allene Brasley born?
- 5) when and where were your two daughters born?
- 6) when and where were your two sons-in-law born?
- 7) when and where were your four grandchildren born?
- 8) when and where was James Bernard U born, when and where did and where is he buried?
- when and where did he marry?

- 1) Do you have any idea or have we might get more information on your grandfather James U.?
- 2) What is the full maiden name of your sister Pansy U. and when and where was she born?
- 3) What is the full name for your sister Grace U. and when and where was she born?
- 4) When and where was Luelle Edna U. born?

We know that your great-grandfather was Benjamin U. He and two other young Upchurch males appeared on the 1850 Census in Cumberland Co. NC. (Harnett Co was a part of Cumberland until 1855). The three boys were in separate homes none of which was headed by an Upchurch. They were Benjamin U. age 20, John U. age 19 and Nathan U. age 18. We figure that these three boys were brothers and that they were put out in the community under guardianships while they were under legal age. Sooner or later we hope to find the names of the parents of these 3 boys.

I am anxious to hear from you and to have whatever information you have or can get.

Sincerely yours
Phil Upchurch

Re JRUP "A tumor was found under his right rib cage almost a year ago for which he underwent treatment. It was the worst kind. & spread real fast. He was fortunate in that only the last three weeks confined him to bed & semi-conscious state. Bessie and boys kept him at home which meant so much to him."

Enclosed is a crude chart (11" x 17") showing the first six generations of the Upchurch Family in America. I have highlighted your line down to Clarius Upchurch, I (XII-70). He was a 1st cousin of my Grandfather Gilbert Upchurch (XII-82). I am sure your mother has read her Upchurch Bulletin. By scanning them you will note that I have published a great deal on the Richard Upchurch, III Family.

Enclosed are details on the Upchurch Publications. Perhaps you will run across someone who would find an interest in these items.

Please give my very best regards to your mother.

Sincerely yours
