○ Re SARAH U b OCT 1855 (NC) on 1900 CENSUS - NASH CO, NC
AZ of 30 DEC 2003 I am unable to link thru Sarah U
but details & some speculation is given below - RPM

A. The Census Record - 1900 - South Mannings TSP, Nash Co, NC

C. H. STALLINGS 47 b NOV 1852 (NC)

MARY J. STALLINGS 48 b FEB 1842 (NC) (m & 30 YRS, 8 children,
4 living) - [Note if b 1842 she would be 58 in 1900
or if 48 in 1900 she would have been b 1852 - RPM]

MILLARD STALLINGS 20 b FEB 1880 (NC) [SON]

ROBERT LEE STALLINGS 16 b AUG 1883 (NC) [SON]

SARAH U PLUMORCH 44 b OCT 1855 (NC) (SINGLE) (COUSIN)

MACIS STALLINGS 20 b DEC 1879 (NC) (NEPHEW)
^{SP?}

B. RPM SPECULATION:

I f Mary J. Stallings is nee Mary J. Uplchurch, she could be D/O Willie U & G/O Benjamin U - Head of Clan.
Thus Sarah U could be her 1st Cousin, possibly the
D/O Alfred A. U S/O James U, II - Head of Clan.

Note that as of 1900 descendants of Willie U and
Alfred A. U lived in South Mannings TSP of Nash
Co, NC where Sarah U is recorded.

It is assumed that Sarah U never married rather than being single as in husband is deceased, departed, etc.

"I called Nattie Perry Stallings and we went over what we know of Stephen Pearce (brother of Arthur, Philip & John). The following is accepted locally as fact. It is said that Stephen Pearce never married. He had one son by an Indian girl named Mary Stallings ↑. This son was Bryant Stallings. Bryant had two sons to whom Stephen Pearce bequeathed land.

[Note: Stephens will written 1823 confirms by implication the 2 grandsons but shows clearly that Stephen Pearce did have a wife Elizabeth (—) Pearce who was living as of 1823 - also he had 2 grand daus - RPA]

[See It's 30 MAY 1982 Edythe Lee Medlin to RPA - the above is wrong Stephen Pearce [son of Nathaniel Pearce b. 9 JUL 1735] and Elizabeth — & had issue. He also had a first widow Elizabeth Stallings (Not Mary Stallings) by whom he had sons Calvin Stallings & Bryant Weston Stallings]

Middlesex and Stallings Brothers celebrate 52 years together

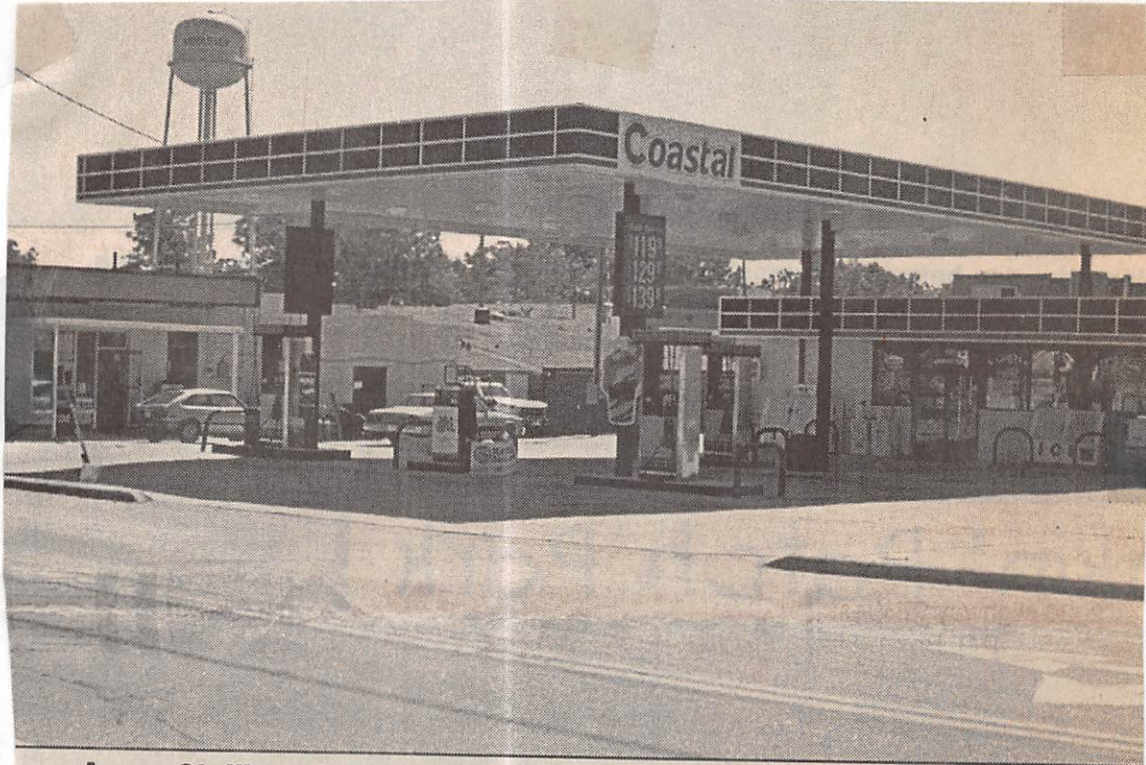

'Monkey wrench' station still pumping

By Sandra Freeman
CORRESPONDENT

Brothers Oris and Ed Stallings took $600 on June 16, 1947, and began a service station business at the intersection of U.S. 264 and N.C. 231 in Middlesex. This business has lasted 52 years and, even though it has changed management this year, it is still owned by two Stallings siblings — Randy and Jeff, the sons of Oris.

So running the place runs in the family.

"It is hard to believe that $600 started this business," Oris Stallings said. "Today, that amount of money couldn't start much of anything."

A new Stallings Brothers station was built in 1997 at the same location.

People still come from miles around to Stallings Brothers for their car needs.

STAFF PHOTOS BY SAUNDRA FREEMAN

"We attended to farmers with their tobacco barns with fuel oil, automobiles and Super-A tractors with gas," Oris Stallings said. "In the late '50s, when farm tractors began using diesel fuel, we added again. In 1985, we began to sell wholesale and retail propane, then we added tankers. Today, we have seven that run regular."

With more and more stuff on-site, the chance of more and more danger intensified. Yet Stallings Brothers has dodged any big blows.

"Over the years, we have had only two bad accidents with the tankers," Oris said. "One was a rollover with no spill. The other was '93 or '94, when a tanker caught fire and burned. The driver was pumping gas into a ground tank when there was a spark and it caught. We buried tanker and all."

Meanwhile on the home front, their homes were bulging with children. Ed and his wife have a son and two step-grandchildren.

Oris and his wife, Mary, have four children — three sons and a daughter. Oris and Mary have been married 52 years.

"Ed retired 12 years ago and sold out to me," stated Oris Stallings. In July of this year, Oris sold two of his sons the enterprise. Randy delivers oil to homes, while Jeff manages the office.

Oris' oldest son, Tim, runs Midway, an auto body shop. He has a son, Tracy, who runs Midway Salvage, and three grandchildren (two girls and a boy). Dillon, the youngest of Tim's grandchildren, rides home with his great-grandfather each Sunday from church.

The middle son, Randy, has two sons and a daughter, Sue, who is an elementary school teacher in Wilmington with two daughters of her own. The youngest son, Jeff, has two Rotweiler dogs.

"All the boys worked at the station at one time or another," stated Oris Stallings. "Randy and Jeff decided that they wanted to carry on the family business. I think Sue assisted the secretaries one summer."

It hasn't been strictly a by-blood-only operation, though.

"A lot of young men have worked here during the summers," Oris said. "Arnold Brown, who just retired from Peoples Bank and Trust, began working here at the age of 13 and did so until he graduated high school. He ended up being our financial adviser. We called him our 'no-kin brother.'"

"The biggest change I have seen over the years is the escalation of prices," Oris said. "We used to buy a crate (24) of Coca-Cola for 80 cents and sold it for a

He owes a lot of the credit for a kinder, gentler past to the White House administration. "When Eisenhower was president was the best of times, I think," he said. "Even though wages were only a dollar an hour, you could save $10 to $15 a week out of $50 or $60. Today if you make $500 a week, you still need $50 to make ends meet. Now you detail cars for $40 or more. We are still a 'monkey wrench-type station' and do most anything we can to help our neighbors."

But time flies, and 50 years to the day since its grand opening (June 16, 1997), a new convenience store and self-service station planted right next door to the old-fashioned familiar station that served Middlesex so well.

But the past will head into the future alongside the present. The old station remains open weekdays from 8 a.m.-6 p.m., and on Saturdays till noon.

"We probably won't change very much," Randy Stallings said. "Daddy is still here and probably will be every day, and we wouldn't have it any other way. It will always be a family business."

Oris Stallings still goes by the place every day to attend to details, even though he announced his retirement in 1989. There, he can rely on seeing Tommy Perry — who has worked for Stallings Brothers the past 30 years.

“I don’t think I have been away from the business more than two days, and that was probably a vacation,” he said. “I have been lucky to have not been sick or anything.”

“We had an Exxon distribution at the beginning,” Oris Stallings said. “Today we are Coastal.” Despite that change, the previous affiliation sign is still on the side of the building.

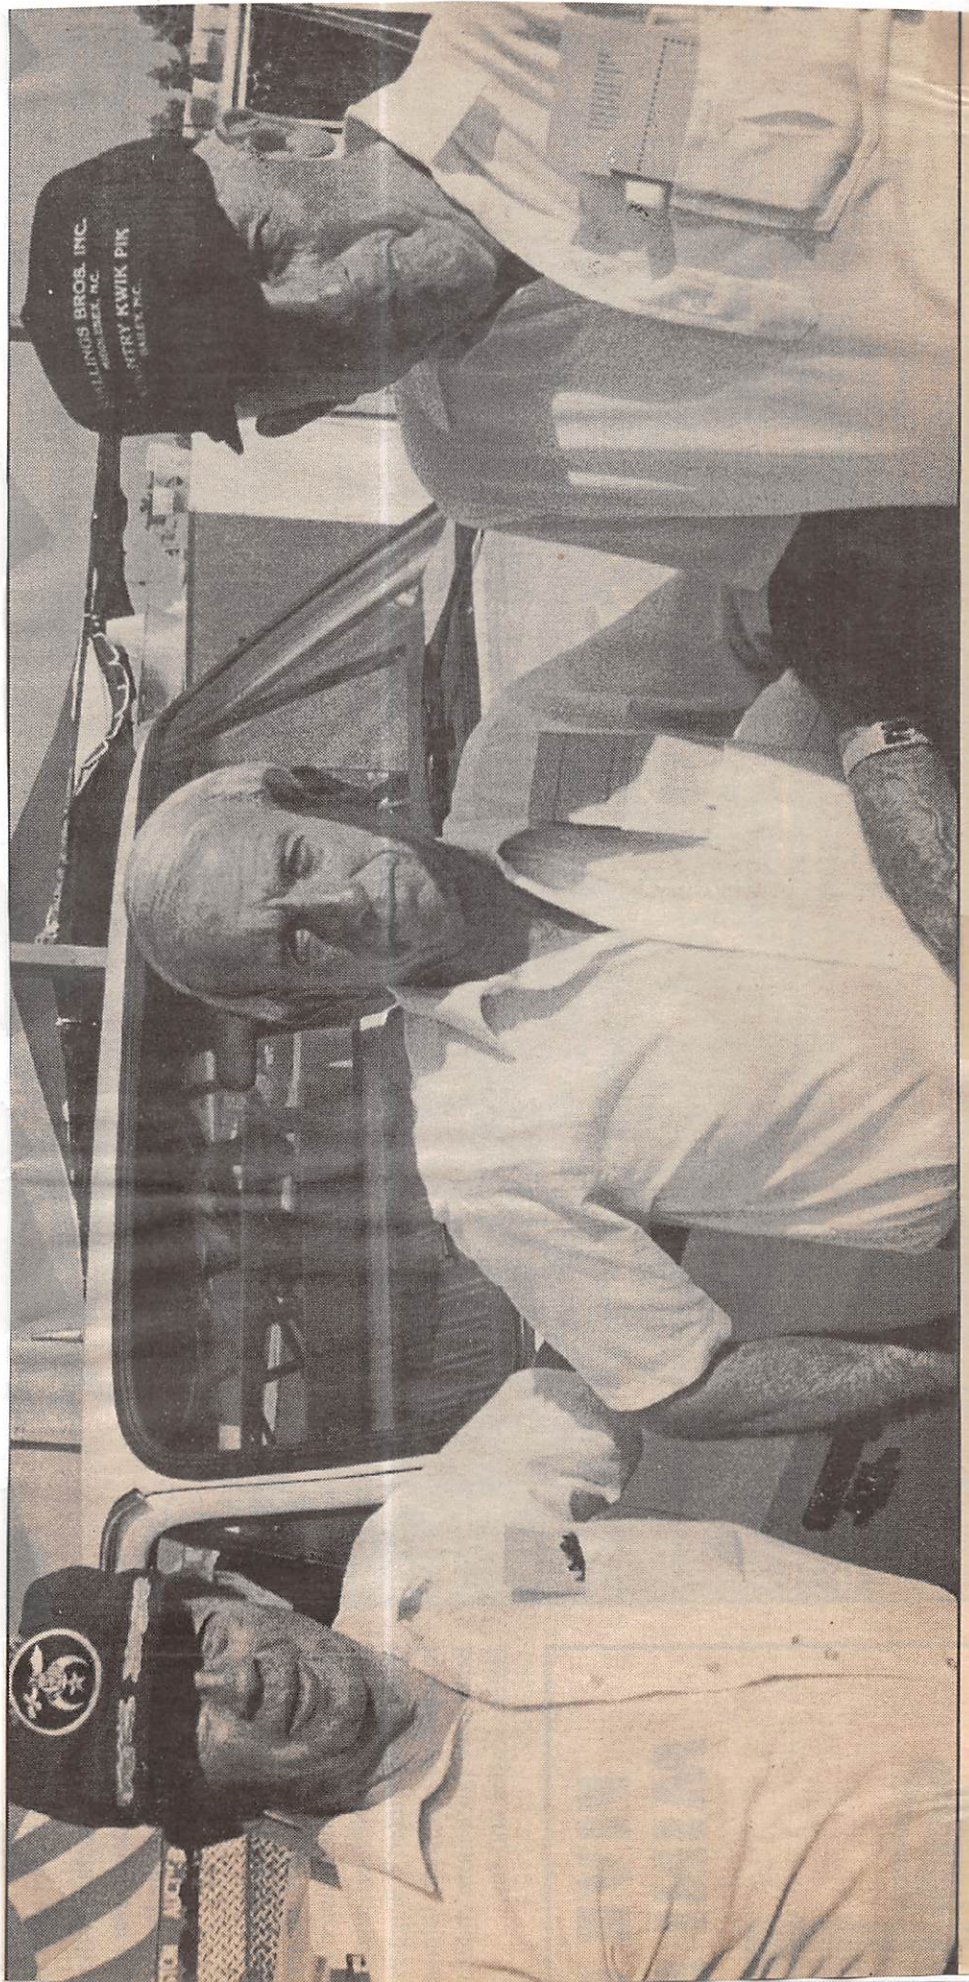

“We wanted to change from Exxon, and a gentlemen we talked to in Nashville wanted to sell us gas for $25 a month,” Oris Stallings stated. “Back then, gas was sold to service stations for a penny a gallon. Apparently he had a bad experience and wanted it on a monthly basis. We would have had to sell 2,500 gallons of gas a month.”

Stallings Brothers bought that business, thus expanding theirs in 1952. And in the two-mile radius of Middlesex, Stallings Brothers became a very popular hangout.

Arnold Brown (left) began working at Stallings Brothers at the age of 13 for brothers Oris (middle) and Ed Stallings.

STALLINGS, R. G. Sergeant

Enlisted in Wake County on 1 April 1864, for the war. Mustered in as Private and promoted to Corporal on 1 December 1864. Paroled at Appomattox Court House, Virginia, 9 April 1865. Rank given on parole as Sergeant.

The company, known as "Cedar Forks Rifles," was from Wake and Chatham Counties and enlisted in Wake County on 28 May 1861. It went into the camp of instruction near Company Shops (Burlington), Alamance County, 1 June 1861, and was assigned to this regiment [Sixth Regiment] as Company I. After joining the regiment, the company functioned as a part of the regiment, and its history for the war period is recorded as a part of the regimental history.

The information contained in the following roster of the company was compiled principally from company muster rolls for 20 June 1861, through February 1864, and 15 September through December 1864. No company muster rolls were found for the period prior to 20 June 1861; for March through 14 September 1864; or for the period after December 1864. In addition to the company muster rolls, Roll of Honor records, receipt rolls, hospital records, prisoner of war records, and other primary records, supplemented by state pension applications, United Daughters of the Confederacy records, and postwar rosters and histories, all provided useful information.

Wilmington Record (Hornet Ed) THUR 21 OCT 1999 Wilmington, NC

"We attended to farmers with their tobacco barns with fuel oil, automobiles and Super-A tractors with gas," Oris Stallings said. "In the late '50s, when farm tractors began using diesel fuel, we added again. In 1985, we began to sell wholesale and retail propane, then we added tankers. Today, we have seven that run regular."

With more and more stuff onsite, the chance of more and more danger intensified. Yet Stallings Brothers has dodged any big blows.

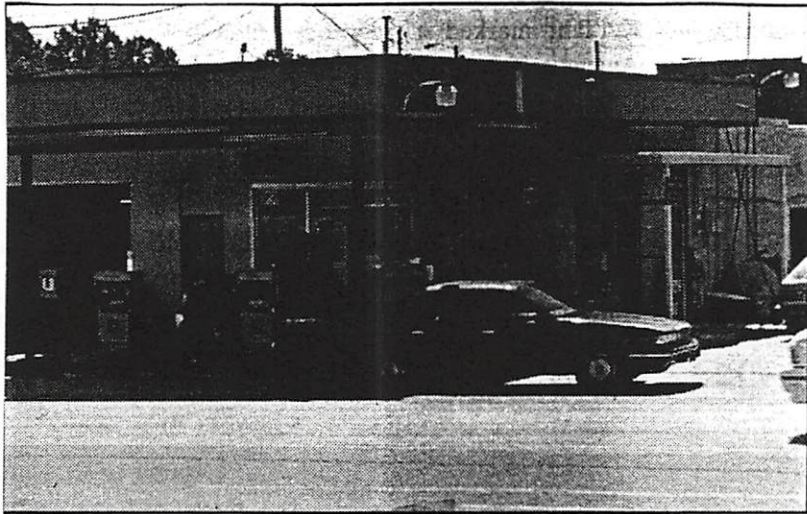

"Over the years, we have had only two bad accidents with the tankers," Oris said. "One was a rollover with no spill. The other was '93 or '94, when a tanker caught fire and burned. The driver was pumping gas into a ground tank when there was a spark and it caught. We buried tanker and all."

Meanwhile on the home front, their homes were bulging with children. Ed and his wife have a son and two step-grandchildren. Oris and his wife, Mary, have four children — three sons and a daughter. Oris and Mary have been married 52 years.

"Ed retired 12 years ago and sold out to me," stated Oris Stallings. In July of this year, Oris sold two of his sons the enterprise. Randy delivers oil to homes, while Jeff manages the office.

Oris' oldest son, Tim, runs Midway, an auto body shop. He has a son, Tracy, who runs Midway Salvage, and three grandchildren (two girls and a boy). Dillon, the youngest of Tim's grandchildren, rides home with his great-grandfather each Sunday from church.

The middle son, Randy, has two sons and a daughter, Sue, who is an elementary school teacher in Wilmington with two daughters of her own. The youngest son, Jeff, has two Rotweiler dogs.

"All the boys worked at the station at one time or another," stated Oris Stallings. "Randy and Jeff decided that they wanted to carry on the family business. I think Sue assisted the secretaries one summer."

It hasn't been strictly a by-blood-only operation, though.

"A lot of young men have worked here during the summers," Oris said. "Arnold Brown, who just retired from Peoples Bank and Trust, began working here at the age of 13 and did so until he graduated high school. He ended up being our financial adviser. We called him our 'no-kin brother.'"

"The biggest change I have seen over the years is the escalation of prices," Oris said. "We used to buy a crate (24) of Coca-Cola for 80 cents and sold it for a

He owes a lot of the credit for a kinder, gentler past to the White House administration. "When Eisenhower was president was the best of times, I think," he said. "Even though wages were only a dollar an hour, you could save $10 to $15 a week out of $50 or $60. Today if you make $500 a week, you still need $50 to make ends meet. Now you detail cars for $40 or more. We are still a 'monkey wrench-type station' and do most anything we can to help our neighbors."

But time flies, and 50 years to the day since its grand opening (June 16, 1997), a new convenience store and self-service station planted right next door to the old-fashioned familiar station that served Middlesex so well.

But the past will head into the future alongside the present. The old station remains open weekdays from 8 a.m.-6 p.m., and on Saturdays till noon.

"We probably won't change very much," Randy Stallings said. "Daddy is still here and probably will be every day, and we wouldn't have it any other way. It will always be a family business."

ROBERT STALLINGS, SR

① The Zebulon Record 24 APR 1986 Zebulon, NC

Ogden-Stallings vows spoken

Susan L. Stallings of Durham and Rodney M. Ogden of Zebulon were united in marriage at Ridgecrest Baptist Church in Durham by the Rev. Gary E. Stallings, brother of the bride. The double-ring ceremony was performed on Saturday, April 5.

The bride is the daughter of Ann W. Stallings of Durham and the late Bill Stallings. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. LaVern Ogden of Zebulon.

Escorted to the altar by her uncle, Robert Stallings Jr. of Zebulon, the bride wore a formal gown of white satinette. It had a yoke of illusion ornamented with appliques and sequins, a lace Victorian neckline and Juliet sleeves. An appliqued lace ruffle encircled the hemline. Tiers of lace and ruffles cascaded down her chapel-length train. Her headpiece was a garland of miniature white silk flowers entwined with white satin leaves and accented with pearls, which trailed into a veil.

She carried a cascade bouquet of bridal white silk flowers with rose and wine colored accents which coordinated with her attendants' gowns.

She was attended by Sheri S. Williams of Durham as matron of honor, sister of the bride; and bridesmaid Melissa Eubanks, also of Durham. Junior bridesmaid was Michelle Stallings of Durham, niece of the bride.

The bridegroom chose his father to be his best man. Ushers were Doug Stallings of Durham, the bride's brother; Glenn Williams of Durham, brother-in-law of the bride; Phil Brantley of Zebulon, uncle of the bridegroom; and Bill Hood of Raleigh.

After a reception at the church fellowship hall, the couple left on their wedding trip. They will live in Raleigh.

The bride is a graduate of the Technical College of Alamance. Her husband is a graduate of Zebulon High School and is employed by Carolina Power & Light Co.

Rehearsal dinner

A rehearsal dinner, hosted by the bridegroom-elect's parents, was held at the Fisherman III restaurant in Durham on Friday evening, April 4, for the wedding party and guests. Steak, salad, baked potatoes, bread, beverage and dessert were served.

○ Re SARAH U b OCT 1855 (NC) on 1900 CENSUS - NASH CO, NC
AZ of 30 DEC 2003 I am unable to link thru Sarah U
but details & some speculation is given below - RPU

A. The Census Record - 1900 - South Mannings TSP, Nash Co, NC

C. H. STALLINGS 47 b NOV 1852 (NC)

MARY J. STALLINGS 48 b FEB 1842 (NC) (M & 30 YRS, 8 Children,
4 living) - [Note if b 1842 she would be 58 in 1900
or if 48 in 1900 she would have been b 1852 - RPU]

MILLARD STALLINGS 20 b FEB 1880 (NC) [SON]

ROBERT LEE STALLINGS 16 b AUG 1883 (NC) [SON]

SARAH U PLUMORCH 44 b OCT 1855 (NC) (SINGLE) (COUSIN)

MACIS STALLINGS 20 b DEC 1879 (NC) (NEPHEW)

B. RPU SPECULATION:

I f Mary J. Stallings is nee Mary J. Upchurch, she could be D/O Willie U & G/O Benjamin U - Head of Clan.
Then Sarah U could be her 1st Cousin, possibly the
D/O Alfred A. U S/O James U, II - Head of Clan.

Note that as of 1900 descendants of Willie U and
Alfred A. U lived in South Mannings TSP of Nash
Co, NC where Sarah U is recorded.

It is assumed that Sarah U never married rather than being single as in husband is deceased, departed, etc.

At first glance one might think this Stephen Stallings, witness at a 1880 wedding, more closely related to the Stephen Durwood Stallings Sr, Jr, & III who were prominent in Franklin Co, NC. However S.D.S. Sr was not born until 1893 and his father was Erastus W. Stallings b 1856. Maybe Erastus had a brother Stephen Stallings who would have been of the right age to have witnessed a 1880 wedding - just a thought.

Roasted

The Pilot and Zebulon Lions Clubs got together Thursday night to tickle a funny saw-bones, Dr. Stephen Durwood Stallings (left). The groups joined forces at the Zebulon club's building for "Dr. Stallings Appreciation Night" to honor and roast the physician who recently retired after 33 years of practice in Pilot and the surrounding area.

Those taking turns sharing stories (some true, some stretched) about the good doctor were Zebulon Mayor Frank Wall, Frank Kemp, Crafton Hudson, Clayton Whitley, Stallings' son Stan, and Martin Hagwood. After the roast, the clubs presented Stallings with Lionism's highest honor, the Melvin Jones Award. The presentation was one of only nine conducted in District 31-G this year.

In thanking the clubs, Stallings paid tribute to his family, former classmates and teachers at Wakelon High, and his office employees. "I hope people remember me as an energetic, caring and dedicated person," he said. "The only thing you can do to prepare for retirement is save the happy, pleasant memories for your late years."

Stallings graduates cum laude

Meredith College awarded degrees to 327 graduating seniors and graduate students during its 84th commencement exercises held Sunday, May 12, at 10 a.m. in Raleigh Memorial Auditorium. Grace J. Rohrer, secretary of the N. C. Department of Administration, delivered the address.

Among the graduates was Anita Cooke Stallings, wife of Stephen D. Stallings III of Route 2, Zebulon, and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard R. Cooke Jr. of Raleigh, who received a bachelor's degree in mathematics and graduated cum laude.

Dr. C. Allen Burris, vice president and dean of the college, presented the candidates for the degrees of bachelor of arts, bachelor of science, bachelor of music, master of music and master of education, and Meredith president John E. Weems awarded the diplomas. Dr. Mary S. Johnson, assistant professor of education, presented the academic hoods for the first master's degrees awarded by the college in 75 years. Each graduate was presented a personalized Bible by trustee chairman Seby B. Jones of Raleigh.

During commencement exercises, department heads Dr. Betty Brewer, English; and Dr. Frank Grubbs, history and political sciences; as well as Dr. Vivian Kraines, professor of mathematics; and Dr. Anthony Vaglio, professor of music; were recognized as outstanding teachers. They had received awards at a faculty awards banquet on the campus in April.

Senior class president Kellie Jo Falk of Raleigh, and graduate class representative June Carol Williams of Garner, delivered the farewell from the graduates of 1985 and Weems gave a challenge to the graduates.

○ Zebulon Record (Harvest Ed) THUR 21 OCT 1999 Zebulon, NC

With more and more stuff on-site, the chance of more and more danger intensified. Yet Stallings Brothers has dodged any big blows.

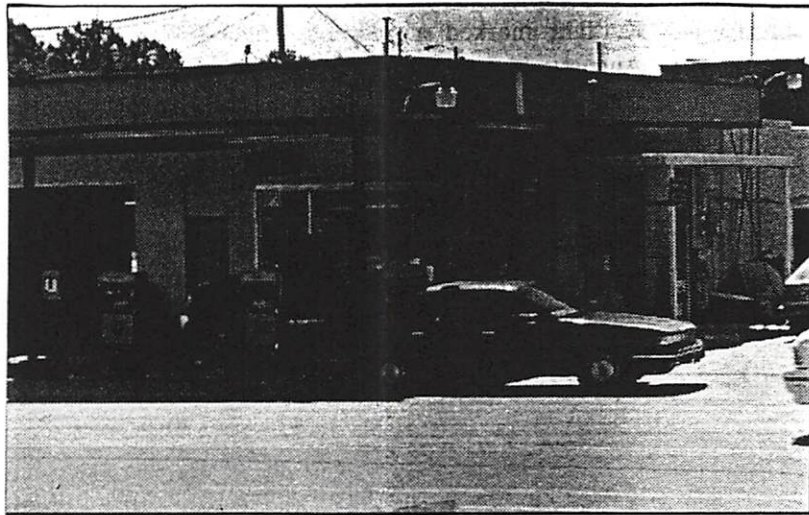

"Over the years, we have had only two bad accidents with the tankers," Oris said. "One was a rollover with no spill. The other was '93 or '94, when a tanker caught fire and burned. The driver was pumping gas into a ground tank when there was a spark and it caught. We buried tanker and all."

Meanwhile on the home front, their homes were bulging with children. Ed and his wife have a son and two step-grandchildren. Oris and his wife, Mary, have four children — three sons and a daughter. Oris and Mary have been married 52 years.

"Ed retired 12 years ago and sold out to me," stated Oris Stallings. In July of this year, Oris sold two of his sons the enterprise. Randy delivers oil to homes, while Jeff manages the office.

Oris' oldest son, Tim, runs Midway, an auto body shop. He has a son, Tracy, who runs Midway Salvage, and three grandchildren (two girls and a boy). Dillon, the youngest of Tim's grandchildren, rides home with his great-grandfather each Sunday from church.

The middle son, Randy, has two sons and a daughter, Sue, who is an elementary school teacher in Wilmington with two daughters of her own. The youngest son, Jeff, has two Rotweiler dogs.

"All the boys worked at the station at one time or another," stated Oris Stallings. "Randy and Jeff decided that they wanted to carry on the family business. I think Sue assisted the secretaries one summer."

It hasn't been strictly a by-blood-only operation, though.

"A lot of young men have worked here during the summers," Oris said. "Arnold Brown, who just retired from Peoples Bank and Trust, began working here at the age of 13 and did so until he graduated high school. He ended up being our financial adviser. We called him our 'no-kin brother.'

"The biggest change I have seen over the years is the escalation of prices," Oris said. "We used to buy a crate (24) of Coca-Cola for 80 cents and sold it for a

He owes a lot of the credit for a kinder, gentler past to the White House administration. "When Eisenhower was president was the best of times, I think," he said. "Even though wages were only a dollar an hour, you could save $10 to $15 a week out of $50 or $60. Today if you make $500 a week, you still need $50 to make ends meet. Now you detail cars for $40 or more. We are still a 'monkey wrench-type station' and do most anything we can to help our neighbors."

But time flies, and 50 years to the day since its grand opening (June 16, 1997), a new convenience store and self-service station planted right next door to the old-fashioned familiar station that served Middlesex so well.

But the past will head into the future alongside the present. The old station remains open weekdays from 8 a.m.-6 p.m., and on Saturdays till noon.

"We probably won't change very much," Randy Stallings said. "Daddy is still here and probably will be every day, and we wouldn't have it any other way. It will always be a family business."

Family pews were marked with cascading arrangements in similar wedding flowers, and other reserved pews were flanked with mixed foliages and white bows. A floral arrangement in mixed wedding flowers was used in the church foyer.

Wedding music was presented by Dr. Cenieth C. Elmore, organist, and Glenda S. Parrish, soloist.

Guest registrar and program attendant was Mary Jane Stallings, sister of the bridegroom. The wedding was directed by William Henry Dickerson.

The bride is a graduate of Franklinton High School and a cum laude graduate of Appalachian State University. She is employed by the Franklinton City Schools System as a first-grade teacher.

Her husband is a graduate of Bunn High School and East Carolina University. He is employed as a financial analyst with GMAC in Raleigh.

After a wedding trip to the U.S. Virgin Islands, the couple will make their home in Pilot.

Reception

A reception was hosted by the bride's parents in the church fellowship hall immediately after the ceremony.

Greeting guests were Jackie Stallings of Pilot, aunt of the bridegroom, and Early H. Journigan Jr. of Franklinton, uncle of the bride.

The bride's portraits and childhood pictures of the bride and bridegroom were displayed in the fellowship hall. An arrangement of mixed flowers complemented the main food table.

Refreshments included ham biscuits, sausage balls, dipped strawberries, mixed nuts, mints, cheese squares with crackers, a fruit-filled watermelon, a variety of vegetables with dip, and punch.

The four-tier wedding cake was topped with an arrangement of mixed flowers. Similar flowers were displayed around and between the layers of the cake. After the bridal couple cut the traditional first slice, Dawn S. Brewer, cousin of the bride, served the cake. Punch was served by Annette Pelliccio of Raleigh.

Georganna Alyce Davis and Olivia Michelle Davis, nieces of the bridegroom, distributed birdseed bags to the guests. The reception was catered by Phyllis Rice and Karen Kilmer.

Rehearsal dinner

Parents of the bridegroom-elect hosted a rehearsal dinner at Riggsbee's Restaurant in Louisburg.

A centerpiece was used for the head table consisting of fuchsia stock, hot pink gerbera daisies, Lady Diana pink roses, dubonet daisies, pixie carnations with soft pink pixies and coordinating foliage.

After a dinner of steak and seafood, a chocolate groom's cake was served. The couple-elect chose this occasion to present gifts to the wedding party.

Additionally, the ARG participated in an amphibious landing exercise off the southern coast of France; a combined ground, air and amphibious exercise with Egyptian forces; and exercise Dynamic Guard off the coast of Turkey.

Elements of the 22nd MEU made port visits to Rota, Barcelona and Palma de Mallorca, Spain; Izmir, Turkey; Trieste, Italy; Toulon, France; and Naples, Italy. This deployment exemplified the mobility, flexibility and capability of the Navy and Marine Corps team from the sea, a press release stated.

WILLIAM HENRY STALLINGS, III

○ The Zebulon Record THUR 17 SEP 1987 Zebulon, NC

Angela Marie Lewis and William Henry Stallings III were married Aug. 15 at the Capital Church. The Rev. Roland Harrell officiated the 7 p.m. double-ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Lewis of Raleigh. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. William Stallings of Raleigh.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white gown of satin and sposabella lace. The fitted basque bodice, which featured a Victorian collar over a sheer English yoke that fell to a low V-back with buttons, was overlaid with sposabella lace beaded with iridescent sequins and seed pearls. Triangular clusters of dangling pearls adorned the throat and front waist. The satin leg-o'-mutton sleeves, which featured sheer organza inserts trimmed with beaded sposabella lace, extended to sposabella lace wedding point cuffs.

The full satin skirt, which fell from box pleats at the waist, extended to a cathedral-length train edged with a wide border of scalloped sposabella lace. The train featured a draped effect sposabella design. Sposabella motifs adorned the train and skirt front.

The bride was attended by Lynne Moose of Maiden as maid of honor and bridesmaids Camille Lore of Raleigh, Traci Butler of Garner, Lynne Overby of Norlina, Delane Whittington of Raleigh, and Cindy Pearce of Wendell, cousin of the bride.

The attendants each wore a red moreille taffeta, tea-length dress that fell off one shoulder. The dresses were enhanced with matching gloves and headpieces.

Amanda Raford of Wendell was flower girl and Steven Denning of Clayton was the ring bearer.

The bridegroom chose his father to be his best man. Ushers were Tracy Beach of Garner; Barry Stallings, brother of the bridegroom, and Benjie Lewis, brother of the bride, both of Raleigh; Kevin Long of Burlington; and James Haden of Apex.

Wedding music was presented by Billie Butler, organist; Cathy Ward and Tim Harrell, vocalists; Van Chappell and Tracy Beach on the trumpet; and Daimon King on the trombone.

JoAnne Phillips of Raleigh directed the wedding and Krisan Eason of Raleigh attended the register.

The bride is a student at N.C. State University and teaches baton at the Garner School of Arts and Massey School of Dance in Zebulon. Her husband is a graduate of Wake Technical College and is employed by Hi Tech Fabrications as a computer programmer.

After a wedding trip to Gatlinburg, Tenn., the couple will make their home in Raleigh.

A reception was held at the church fellowship hall. The couple had twin wedding cakes joined by a stairway on which handpainted and decorated figures of the bride and bridegroom and attendants were displayed. A fountain in the middle held a flower bouquet made of satin and pearls. The cakes were created by the bride's mother.

The cakes were cut by Pam Watson and Cindy Wilder. Punch was served by Melanie Wall and Tracey Fowler.

A rehearsal dinner was given by the bridegroom-elect's parents and grandmother, Mrs. Dorsie Lee, and was held at the McCullers Ruritan building.

A bridesmaids' luncheon was held at the Kanki restaurant in Raleigh. Miss Lewis presented her attendants with strands of pearls that were worn with their wedding attire.
