○ THE POE FAMILY OF APEX, WAKE CO., NC

The name of Herbert Mont Poe is to be on the 2012 DEC Apex home tour. Hope Blockford provided RPL some related data - some of which came from Mrs. GD Karen's only Ray. She Karen's profile - Entry 19 NOV 2012 for more detail. Some items described & disposed of as shown below:

1. OBIT of Herbert Mont Poe - To his Profile
2. Article re Poe Brothers store closing (undated)
 - △ to Apex file - picture of Herbert Mont Poe and Ralph Durham Poe
3. Article "Poe Brothers" re the Apex store written by H. Vernon Poe (s/o Herbert Mont Poe) on 5 JUN 1993 - To Apex File. Excerpts:
 - △ Founded 1881 BY: W. H. HARWARD & A. B. HUNTER
 - 1903 HUNTER BOUGHT OUT HARWARD
 - △ 1903 S. C. OLIVE bought in - became Hunter & Olive until Olive died in 1910
 - 1910 Herbert Mont Poe went to work in the store & bought an interest from Hunter in 1912 - became "A. B. Hunter & Co."
 - 1920 Ralph Durham Poe employed
 - 1935 - Hunter sold to Herbert & Ralph - became "POE BROTHERS"
 - 1973 - Store Closed

Three pages of text records how the store operated, merchandise offered, etc.

Subject: Poe DNA project: New Finding
Author: poewilliam
Date: Tuesday, March 29, 2005
Classification: queries
Surnames: Poe

I am going to offer a preliminary report because help researching a new finding will be appreciated.

The DNA project has shown us a very clear branching of the Poe family out of Essex County, VA from 1704. One branch is represented by marker #458=16. This is a group descended from or closely related to Simon Poe SR (1707-1793). Another branch is represented by marker #458=15. This group does not descend from Simon Poe SR and is not "closely related" but still the same Poe family. These men probably descend from a contemporary (William Poe or Benjamin Poe especially who were active from about 1726 on).

Since they settled in Essex County, though, these two branches clearly had close ties. Now we find that members of both branches came together in Fayette County, AL.

Until the DNA results, the James Poe (born 1797) who married Mary "Polly" McMillan was assumed to be a "JR" son of Major James S. Poe (c. 1740-1727). But Willim Moody Poe, a descendant, shows marker #458 = 15 putting him in the 'non-Simon' group. And that forced us to take a good look at the records. It turns out that the records make it clear this James Poe is not the JR son of Major James Poe. That son already appears in Chatham County records showing he must be born in the 1760s. Also, the Anson County, NC census lists both Major James Poe and James Poe JR (when the James under discussion was only three). That 1800 census has Poe spelled Powe.

A recent uncovered "note" from a researcher on this line posits that James Poe (b. 1797) came "with his brother" from Wake County, NC. This is an area where, indeed, we find a Benjamin Poe settled. This Benjamin Poe is the one listed in the 1771 Joab Books Muster Roll alongside other men from Culpeper County, VA (where the marker 15 men's line all seem to trace back to). Also, we see other Poe family in Wake County associated with the Hutchens family (there is possibly a Quaker connection with this Hutchens / Poe group).

What made it seem that James Poe (b. 1797) was of the family of Major James Poe is that a son of Major James Poe named Simon Poe married Margeret McMillan.

Clearly, the Poe story is more complex than the records have led us to imagine.

Anyone with research on James Poe (b. 1797) who married Mary "Polly" McMillan or research on the Wake County Poe family -- could you offer what you know?

thanks,
 William Poe

Benjamin Poe b. 1749 Culpeper County VA states in a Rev. War Pension claim (see below) that he lived in Wake County, but moved to Randolph County, NC in 1789. It appears his son Benjamin remained in Wake County if this is accurate. The claim also states that he lived in Chatham County, NC when he entered service in 1775. In a 1771 Chatham County Muster roll for the Siler City area of Chatham County, Benjamin Poe is listed.

* This record confirms that the elder Benjamin Poe of Wake County is the Revolutionary War soldier who states in pension files that he was born in 1749 in Culpeper County. William and Johnson and Benjamin are his sons. They appear later in Allen County, KY where Benjamin died. However, the War Pension claim (see below) says that Benjamin moved to Randolph County in 1781. The Benjamin remaining in Wake Co must be the son if the claim is accurate. The claim also cites Lovel Stinson as "witnesses" to his claim. See below that Stinson was in Wake Co in 1797.

Allen County, 9 Oct. 1833, in open court, BENJAMIN POE, aged 94 deposes that he entered service Dec. 1775 in N.C. and then moved to Randolph County N.C. In Sept. 1781 served again in the company of horsemen under CAPTAIN T. MARSH (or MASH). In Dec. 1781 again entered service in the company of mounted infantry under CAPTAIN CHARLES GOULDSTON. "Having served this tour he returned to Randolph County, N.C. and found his dwelling house reduced to ashes. His property was destroyed, his wife and children driven away by the Tories and cast upon the charity of the world for support."

Again entered service March 1782 in the company of mounted infantry under CAPT. JOSEPH ROSSER. Total service one year. Was born 14 Aug. 1749 (old Stile)* in Culpeper County, Va. When he entered the service he lived in Chatham, or Chatham and Wake Counties N.C. and in Barren, Monroe and Allen Counties, Ky. He was in no general battle, but in many skirmishes. Cites JOHN DYSON, LEVI ROARK, clergyman, ROBERT F. PULLIAM, JOHNSON J. COCERILLE, ROBT. H. PARIS, WALTER THOMAS, ISAAC TRACY, LOVEL STINSON (STENSON) as neighborhood witnesses. IMPORTANT DATE !!!!!!!

JUNE 11, 2005 at 11:00 o'clock a.m. the Jesse Poe Family Association will gather for our 15th annual reunion. The location will be again at "our shelter", number 9, at Seaforth on Jordan Lake in Chatham County, N.C., US HWY 64 East of Pittsboro.

Mr. Gene Brooks, a retired teacher and historian from Pittsboro, and his wife will be our guests. He will share with us information which he has gathered about the 1st Court House Location and Colonial Times in Chatham County. He will also show Deeds, Maps and other items of interest.

As is our custom, family group pictures will be taken just before lunch, at Noon.

Lunch as always will be a picnic shared with all. Please bring enough food for your family and three (3) others; you know how folks like to drop in on the Poes. Table service and drinks, including the famous Poe Family lemonade, will be furnished, but please bring serving pieces for your dishes of food.

Lawn chairs will make for more comfortable seating when visiting; bring some along. The lake water should be warm for those who desire to swim and get some rays. If you have information or items of interest you wish to share, there will be time for this also.

Please check your calendar now for SUNDAY, June 11, 2006. Some people have expressed a desire to have our reunion next year at Gum Springs Church, after the morning service. If you have thoughts about this, please come prepared to express same.

James Clovis Adams, who was called Clovis, was for more than 50 years a sawmill operator and lumber manufacturer in the Carolinas. He was associated in this business with his brothers, and from 1930 until his death in 1944 he and his brother C. V. Adams were engaged in the lumber business in Warren County, NC. △

The following obituary was published March 24, 1944 (probably in The Raleigh News & Observer) and there was also an obituary published the same day in the Warrenton Record.:

Vaughan.--James Clovis Adams, 71, sawmill operator and lumber manufacturer in the Carolinas for more than 50 years, last surviving son of the late Lt.-Col. James T. Adams of Holly Springs, died here Wednesday morning at 8:30 o'clock after a critical illness of four months. He and all of his four brothers and his father were well known as lumbermen in the Carolinas for many years.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Nannie Gibson Adams of Vaughan; three children, Leary W. Adams, Charlotte newspaperman, Mrs. Robert H. Williams of Cayce, S.C., and Mary Elizabeth Adams of Vaughan; three sisters, Mrs. Joe Massey of Apex, Mrs. Maggie Oldham of Holly Springs, and Mrs. Maude Holleman of Raleigh. △

Mr. Adams numbered his cousins and nephews by the hundreds, all among the Adams, Beckwith, Hunter, Olive, Burt, Holland, Horne, Norris, Holleman, Massey and Oldham families of Wake County and Central North Carolina.

Mr. Adams was the fourth of the nine children of the late Col. Adams, commander of the North Carolina Twenty-Sixth at Appomattox, and the late Lucy Ann Beckwith Adams, daughter of Green Beckwith, who before the Civil War had a 5,000-acre plantation between Holly Springs and New Hill.

Mr. Adams suffered a severe fall near his mill early last November and received internal injuries from which he never recovered. He had been in bed most of the time since mid-November and his condition became grave several weeks ago.

Funeral services will be held at the Holly Springs Baptist Church Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

There will be no registration by mail this year; however, name tags will be available. If you have questions you may contact Ann Poe Grebing at 919-362-8980. We have attempted to contact everyone for whom we have a good mailing or email address, but you might wish to contact folks in your line to assure that the notice has been received. (Updated addresses, USPS and email, are always appreciated.) Looking forward to a nice cool day by the lake and of course the wonderful Poe Food, but most of all seeing our family and friends again will be the delight of the day. Best wishes for a safe trip, good health and happiness.

The Poe Family

Simon Poe, with other members of the family, came to Chatham County from Virginia as early as 1759 and settled near George's Creek. In the early years of the Revolution, Benjamin and Jessie Poe, came from Culpepper County. It was in the home of Simon's son, Stephen, that Chatham Court was held until the first courthouse was built. Stephen was elected to represent Chatham in the Colonial Assembly of 1774, but died before taking his seat.

Dr. Clarence Poe

Clarence Hamilton Poe (1881-1965), born near Gulf to William Baxter and Susan Dismukes Poe, became assistant editor of The Progressive Farmer at the age of 16, and two years later he was made editor. In 1903 he purchased the magazine, and for the rest of his life used it as an instrument to promote improved farming and better living conditions throughout the south. In the thirties he launched a nationwide campaign for good health. The North Carolina Medical Care Commission was a direct result of his report to Governor Broughton and the General Assembly on the findings of a commission which he headed to investigate health needs of the state. He served on the American Commission on Hospital Care (1944-46) and in 1951 was appointed by President Truman to a committee on health needs of the nation. Dr. Poe married Alice Aycock, daughter of Governor Charles B. Aycock.

Poe, McKee united at Apex Baptist Church

Carolyn Andrews Poe of Rock Hill, S.C., and Todd DeWitt McKee of Charlotte, were united in marriage October 20, 1990, at the Apex Baptist Church. The Reverend Phil Qualls and the Reverend Joel Smith, uncle of the bride, officiated at the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Poe of Apex. The bridegroom is the son of Pam Johnson of Kenton, Ohio, and Charles McKee of Forest, Ohio.

Given in marriage by her parents, the bride wore a formal gown of ivory bridal satin and reembroidered alencon lace accented with seed pearls and iridescent sequins. The fitted sweetheart bodice featured a yoke of English netting with a wedding band collar, a basque waist, and leg-o-mutton sleeves. From subtle hip gathers flowed the full ballgown skirt which extended into a cathedral length train with lace ornamented fabric bows at the back waist and on the train. A finishing hem of beaded lace completed the gown.

The bride's headpiece was a wreath of ivory satin leaves and pearl sprays. A two-tiered veil of French illusion flowed from the soft pouff. She carried a lace handkerchief which belonged to her great-aunt.

The groom's co-workers gave him a surprise breakfast and miscellaneous shower on October 10.

A bridesmaid's luncheon hosted by Mrs. Marl E. Ray, Mrs. Ralph Poe, Mrs. Vernon Poe, and Mrs. William Hartman, was given on Friday, October 19, at the N.C.S.U. Faculty Club.

The Rehearsal Dinner was held Friday night, October 19, at the C.C. Jones Community Building and was hosted by the groom's parents. A pig-pickin' with all the trimmings was served.

On the morning of October 20, the bride and groom and guests were entertained at a wedding brunch at the home of Larry and Suzanne Coats of Apex. The brunch was hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Coats, Mr. and Mrs. Hermon Byrd, Wendy Byrd, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Northrup, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Hagwood, and Mrs. Linda Hagwood.

Barbara Poe of Raleigh, sister of the bride, served as Maid of Honor. Bridesmaids were Amy Hardee of Durham, and Barbara Poe of Delray Beach, Florida, sister-in-law of the bride.

The bridesmaids wore teal satin jacket dresses with full-length sleeves and a lace-covered peplum. They carried mixed flower bouquets with peach and burgundy flowers.

Steve Smith of Columbus, Ohio, served as best man. Groomsman were Brian Hess of Shiloh, Ohio, Bob McKee, cousin of the groom, of Forest, Ohio, Brett McKee of Charleston, S.C., brother of the groom, and Scott Morris of Forest, Ohio, cousin of the groom.

The mother of the bride wore a street-length jacket dress of peach chiffon. The mother of the groom wore a street length jacket dress of mint green.

Music was provided by the handbell choir of Apex Baptist Church, under the direction of Jim Costilow, who also rang a handbell solo, "The Lord's Prayer." Organist was Dorothy Goodwin, and pianist was Eleanor Brown.

A reception was held at the C.C. Jones Community Building.

The bride is a graduate of Apex Senior High School and the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. She is employed as a registered nurse on the Progressive Care Units at Piedmont Medical Center in Rock Hill, S.C.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Riverdale High School in Mt. Blanchard, Ohio and the Ohio State University. He is employed as a registered nurse in the Cardiovascular Recovery Unit at the Carolina Medical Center in Charlotte.

After a wedding trip to Breckenridge, Colorado, the couple will reside in Rock Hill.

Clarence Poe, The Crusader

A Personal Recollection

BY FRANCES A. SMITH

*One who never turned his back but marched breast forward,
Never doubted clouds would break,
Never dreamed, though right were worsted, wrong would triumph,
Held we fall to rise, are baffled to fight better,
Sleep to wake.*

— Robert Browning, Epilogue to Asolando

Few people living had the privilege of working with Dr. Clarence Poe while he was the active, sagacious editor and board chairman of The Progressive Farmer. I am one.

I remember him with a respect and fondness that approach reverence because he was one of the greatest and most genuine people I have known, a person with resolve, a cause that he believed in to the depths of his soul for as long as he lived.

When I was assistant editor of the Carolinas-Virginia edition of The Progressive Farmer, Dr. Poe was already in his declining years, but his aging was evidenced only in the distinguished graying of his hair, the deepening lines around his eyes and the slight shuffling of his feet when he walked. His vigor and enthusiasm had in no way diminished, and his capacity for work kept younger members of his staff hustling. Though he emerged as a leader while still in his teens, becoming editor of The Progressive Farmer at 18, he was still writing his monthly full-page editorial and taking an active part in the editing of the magazine when those figures had reversed themselves.

Through all of those years, Clarence Poe was more than anything else a crusader, following one passion — to lift the Southern farmer out of the poverty of Reconstruction days when most rural people in the South were shackled by the blight of one-crop farming, time-price usury, uncontrolled erosion, poor schools, poor roads and poor medical care. In an excerpt from one of his essays, Dr. Poe explains the circumstances that drove him forward to become a leader in the remaking of Southern agriculture during the early decades of this century:

I was born in the years of the South's deepest poverty and trials and so shared the struggles and sorrows of humble men and women who knew hardship but also had pride and faith and heroism and honor — unsung heroes who were not great men but lived great lives.... The experience I had when I struggled with my family to help pay off with five-cent cotton a mortgage on the old home of our ancestors, gave me a lasting sympathy for all other struggling poor people which I think I may sincerely say has ever since been the dominating passion of my life.

In response to this challenge, Clarence Poe at age 16 laid down his hoe in the poor cotton fields of Chatham County and rode a railroad pump cart to Raleigh to join the staff of an eight-page weekly agricultural journal. Within two years he was editor and through his lifetime saw The Progressive Farmer transformed into a full-blown magazine containing often over 100 pages and having a circulation of one and a half million. (In 1966, two years after Clarence Poe's death, The Progressive Farmer spawned a new publication, Southern Living. By then the company was operating under the name Southern Progress Corporation. In February 1985, Time Inc. purchased, for $480 million, Southern Progress Corporation, which included The Progressive Farmer, Southern Living and Oxmoor Press, the company's book publishing arm. At that time, the circulation of The Progressive Farmer was 500,000 and the circulation of Southern Living was 2.3 million.)

Through the pages of The Progressive Farmer, Dr. Poe gave voice to his crusades for better farm practices and better lives for farm people. In his own opinion his most valuable crusade was for "Two-Armed Farming," a phrase he used to describe the South's need to add livestock to its age-old tradition of crop farming. Knowing that crops and livestock were almost equally balanced in flourishing farming areas, he urged that livestock be added to Southern farms to provide a full year of farm production. Other causes championed by Dr. Poe and his magazine included better public schools, cooperative marketing, soil conservation, rural health, rural industries, world peace and rural beautification.

Dr. Poe gave up the opportunity for a formal college education; however, he read most of the classics by age 20 and traveled over the United States, Europe and Asia studying people, their history and their agriculture. He received four honorary doctorates.

He developed great proficiency as a writer and became a skilled and exacting editor requiring of himself and his associates the most accurate reporting, the clearest exposition and the most engaging rhetoric possible. I well remember the great care he took in preparing his monthly editorial. He would pen it in longhand, have it carefully typed by his secretary, Ruth Reynolds, edit it and have it typed again, edit it and have it typed again — sometimes three or four times. Then, not having computers or other new-fangled mechanical devices common in today's publication offices, he would have it packaged and mailed to Birmingham, location of The Progressive Farmer's main offices and printing presses. However, before the U.S. Mail had time to do its job, Dr. Poe was often on the telephone instructing the Birmingham editors to make certain changes in his copy when it arrived. (Up until press time the editors there were in danger of receiving another call.)

His associates had a keen appreciation and respect for the careful attention Dr. Poe gave to finding the exact word, achieving the best approach and honing his writing until it would fit perfectly into the pocket of his reader's mind. In a tribute to Dr. Poe after his death in 1964, Eugene Butler, president and editor-in-chief of the magazine at that time, acknowledged his colleague's abilities as an extraordinary editor:

His editorship was marked by the art of persuasiveness. He was a man of strong convictions, but he had that rare talent of being able to disagree without being disagreeable. In addition to his crusading spirit, he had writing skill that has been the envy of his associates.

Combining this writing skill with keen insight and unflinching vigor, he published seven books, among them A Southerner in Europe, Where Half the World is Waking Up and, after he was 80, True Tales of the South at War and My First 80 Years.

But Clarence Poe's voice carried even beyond the pages of The Progressive Farmer and those of his books, being often heard in the service of state and national committees and organizations. He was a member of President Truman's Committee on Health Needs of the Nation as well as chairman of North Carolina's Hospital and Medical Care Commission. He was first Master of the North Carolina Grange, chairman of a National Advisory Committee on Rural Electrification, president of the American Country Life Association and for many years an elector for the Hall of Fame for Great Americans. He also served on the International Development Advisory Board with Nelson Rockefeller.

Although such pragmatic matters as these occupied much of Clarence Poe's thought and required much of his energy, he was also genuinely interested in great literature and great art. Each year he would publish in a winter issue a listing of classic books that he encouraged his subscribers to read during the long winter nights when chores were minimal. He strove to use quality paintings and photographs on the covers of The Progressive Farmer and encouraged readers to vote for their favorite covers at the magazine's booth at the North Carolina State Fair. So great was the response to this poll that each fall most of us in the Raleigh office were for several days engaged in tallying the votes.

From around 1915 Dr. Poe was a strong leader in promoting art and art appreciation in North Carolina. As chairman of the executive committee of the North Carolina Art Society, whose foremost object was the establishment of the North Carolina Museum of Art, he was one of a small group chosen to oversee the purchase of the first large acquisition of paintings for the museum. The purchase involved one million dollars from the State with matching funds from the Kress Foundation.

A favorite painting from Dr. Poe's personal collection, Corn Harvest on the Brandywine, by N.C. Wyeth, hung in The Progressive Farmer offices during the nine years that I worked there and longer. This painting, a harvest scene dominated by the lush fall foliage of Delaware's Piedmont, was donated to the North Carolina Museum of Art and now hangs in its gallery of 20th-century art.

Dr. Poe's awards were myriad. Three that he was especially proud of were his citation as North Carolina Citizen of the Year in 1955, a State of North Carolina Award for Public Service and a Freedom Foundation of Valley Forge Award to The Progressive Farmer.

Clarence Poe made an indelible impression on me and on others who worked for him, but much more than that, he made an indelible impression on Southern farm people and on Southern agriculture. The devotion and the respect his readers felt for him were evidenced in the hundreds of letters, cards and telegrams sent at his death and in a colorful array of crepe myrtles in summer, many of these planted in his memory across the Southern countryside by farm people. This "flower of a hundred and one days" was a favorite of Dr. Poe's.

Now, The Progressive Farmer continues to aid farm people as in the past. And now these farmers face new crises, some in great peril of losing their farms. Some find that prices paid for crops will not pay for the high technology and big machinery needed to grow and harvest them. Land is being swallowed up by developers and government subsidies are down. If Dr. Poe were living, he would help find answers; he would offer encouragement; he would instill hope. In considering the responsibility he and his staff faced in publishing The Progressive Farmer for Southern farm people, he said, "We must fight to carry into their lives all the progress and comfort, all the richness and beauty and health and hope it is possible for us to stimulate." ■

Simon Poe, with other members of the family, came to Chatham County from Virginia as early as 1759 and settled near George's Creek. In the early years of the Revolution, Benjamin and Jessie Poe, came from Culpepper County. It was in the home of the Simon's son, Stephen, that Chatham Court was held until the first courthouse was built. Stephen was elected to represent Chatham in the Colonial Assembly of 1774, but died before taking his seat.

Dr. Clarence Poe

Clarence Hamilton Poe (1881-1965), born near Gulf to William Baxter and Susan Dismukes Poe, became assistant editor of The Progressive Farmer at the age of 16, and two years later he was made editor. In 1903 he purchased the magazine, and for the rest of his life used it as an instrument to promote improved farming and better living conditions throughout the south. In the thirties he launched a nationwide campaign for good health. The North Carolina Medical Care Commission was a direct result of his report to Governor Broughton and the General Assembly on the findings of a commission which he headed to investigate health needs of the state. He served on the American Commission on Hospital Care (1944-46) and in 1951 was appointed by President Truman to a committee on health needs of the nation. Dr. Poe married Alice Aycock, daughter of Governor Charles B. Aycock.

An Institution Passes

Herbert M. Poe, an institution in Apex retail business, died last Thursday at the age of 90.

FOR 64 years he ran the Poe Brothers' Store along with his brother Ralph. In 1974 the Western Auto moved into the Poe store.

Herbert was born on August 9, 1886 in Chatham County. He was one of six children in a farming family, and he brought austere, hardworking sense of values from the farm to his business. The central pillar of his life was his strongly held religious beliefs. He was a member of the Apex Baptist church for 70 years -- longer than many men live.

Poe Brothers got its name on January 1, 1935 after A. B. Hunter had sold his remaining shares in the business in 1933. Herbert came to the A. B. Hunter store in September 1910. By 1912 he was a partner in the business, and the name was changed to A. B. Hunter and Company. At that time the business was largely focused on farm supplies and hardware.

The ladies department and dress materials area was introduced after Herbert's arrival. Ralph Poe came to the store in 1920 and became a partner in 1923.

Mr. H. Vernon Poe, a professor of electrical engineering at Clemson University, said of his father's business, "I'd like to have a nickel for every carload of flour or tin we handled. Most of all he just enjoyed meeting and greeting people."

Mrs. Inez Ray of Raleigh, the coordinator of curriculum materials at the School of Education at NC State, said her father believed that if a man was frugal and worked hard, then he would be blessed materially.

At one time or another all the children worked in the store, and Mrs. Ray said more than anything she disliked matching buttons.

She remembered when the store was sold - "Daddy and Uncle Ralph just couldn't sell out the goods. They were from a different time and didn't know how to merchandise, so they brought in an outside concern to handle it. Well, they cut prices by 25% and then 33%, and I remember Daddy saying it just wasn't fair to the man who paid more for the goods before the price cut. But that's just the way he was."

Vernon said the worst thing for his father was when he lost his drivers license. "He just couldn't stop fast enough to suit the officer," he added. W. Curtis Roe, associated with the Jefferson Standard Life Insurance Co. in Raleigh, said he remembered his father as fiercely independent.

Also surviving Mr. Poe is his daughter Mrs. Lucille Hartman of Riverside, Conn., a brother Ralph Poe of Apex, 12 grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

The funeral was held at the Apex Funeral Home on Sunday with burial in the church cemetery.

TO RPU

Hi Karen---

You will note from the forwarded email that the home of your GF is to be on the Apex home tour which I assume is in December. I actually have nothing on the home but will send Hope what have on the family which is a bare bones outline based largely on what Ann gave me in 2003. (Let me know if you want a copy of that.)

Before responding to Hope I wanted to touch base with you to see if you have information you would be willing to share and if so would you like to respond directly to Hope or would you like to send stuff to me to send to her?

I will not share your name or contact information with her unless you agree for me to do so.

Of course Ann would be the ideal person to respond but that does not seem to be in the cards. I did not get a response to my September 20 email to Ann and Ron following the exchange you and I had.

Re Hope-- I will note that she is a behind the scenes worker for the Wake County Genealogical Society and is also active in the Apex Historical Society. She has been very helpful to me and frequently sends details to me. Just yesterday she sent the Incorporation record for the 1927 creation of the Apex Bank. Your GF was one of the incorporators. Let me know if you want a copy

Trusting this finds you well and that the accreditation came out OK.

Hi Phil,

I was just wondering...do you have any information on Herbert M. Poe (born August 9, 1886 and died May 12, 1977, son of D Mont Poe and Henrietta Poe)? He married Nancy Katherine Anderson, dau of George W. Anderson and Martha Scarborough (per her death certificate). His family in 1900 consisted of:

Census 1900: Household Members:

Name	Age
D Mont Poe	46 (father)
Henrietta Poe	44 (mother)
William D Poe	20
Bessie W Poe	17
Herbert M Poe	13 (*)
Carnie L Poe	10
Ralph D Poe	2 (brother)
Callie B Poe	4/12
Pearl Bynner	62 (housekeeper)

Home in 1900: Cape Fear, Chatham, North Carolina [Chatham]

Herbert co-owned with Ralph Poe a store at 126 N. Salem St. ("Poe Brothers Store, which sold dry goods and "notions" and, from what I've read elsewhere, items for local farmers").

We're actually trying to find out more information about his house at 212 Center Street for the Apex Historical Society Home Tour. Thanks! Hope

James Clovis Adams, who was called Clovis, was for more than 50 years a sawmill operator and lumber manufacturer in the Carolinas. He was associated in this business with his brothers, and from 1930 until his death in 1944 he and his brother C. V. Adams were engaged in the lumber business in Warren County, NC. △

The following obituary was published March 24, 1944 (probably in The Raleigh News & Observer) and there was also an obituary published the same day in the Warrenton Record.:

Vaughan.--James Clovis Adams, 71, sawmill operator and lumber manufacturer in the Carolinas for more than 50 years, last surviving son of the late Lt.-Col. James T. Adams of Holly Springs, died here Wednesday morning at 8:30 o'clock after a critical illness of four months. He and all of his four brothers and his father were well known as lumbermen in the Carolinas for many years.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Nannie Gibson Adams of Vaughan; three children, Leary W. Adams, Charlotte newspaperman, Mrs. Robert H. Williams of Cayce, S.C., and Mary Elizabeth Adams of Vaughan; three sisters, Mrs. Joe Massey of Apex, Mrs. Maggie Oldham of Holly Springs, and Mrs. Maude Holleman of Raleigh. △

Mr. Adams numbered his cousins and nephews by the hundreds, all among the Adams, Beckwith, Hunter, Olive, Burt, Holland, Horne, Norris, Holleman, Massey and Oldham families of Wake County and Central North Carolina.

Mr. Adams was the fourth of the nine children of the late Col. Adams, commander of the North Carolina Twenty-Sixth at Appomattox, and the late Lucy Ann Beckwith Adams, daughter of Green Beckwith, who before the Civil War had a 5,000-acre plantation between Holly Springs and New Hill.

Mr. Adams suffered a severe fall near his mill early last November and received internal injuries from which he never recovered. He had been in bed most of the time since mid-November and his condition became grave several weeks ago.

Funeral services will be held at the Holly Springs Baptist Church Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

The Poe Family

Simon Poe, with other members of the family, came to Chatham County from Virginia as early as 1759 and settled near George's Creek. In the early years of the Revolution, Benjamin and Jessie Poe, came from Culpepper County. It was in the home of Simon's son, Stephen, that Chatham Court was held until the first courthouse was built. Stephen was elected to represent Chatham in the Colonial Assembly of 1774, but died before taking his seat.

Dr. Clarence Poe

Clarence Hamilton Poe (1881-1965), born near Gulf to William Baxter and Susan Dismukes Poe, became assistant editor of The Progressive Farmer at the age of 16, and two years later he was made editor. In 1903 he purchased the magazine, and for the rest of his life used it as an instrument to promote improved farming and better living conditions throughout the south. In the thirties he launched a nationwide campaign for good health. The North Carolina Medical Care Commission was a direct result of his report to Governor Broughton and the General Assembly on the findings of a commission which he headed to investigate health needs of the state. He served on the American Commission on Hospital Care (1944-46) and in 1951 was appointed by President Truman to a committee on health needs of the nation. Dr. Poe married Alice Aycock, daughter of Governor Charles B. Aycock.

○ RPU NOTE

In the year prior to 2012 I had extensive interaction with Ann Poe, D/o RDP. In the last year or so Ann seemed to dictate the emails and husband RON processed them. My last one was on 23 MAR 2012. In recent years for some peculiar reason the emails were made to appear as if they came from "RALPH POE" [RDP ↑?] - apparently a ruse of some sort to thwart those of ill will

Hymn Stories

Hymnology of Great Hymns of the Faith

"A Mighty Fortress Is Our God"

United Methodist Hymnal, p. 110, 1989 Edition

The Power of Christian Song

There's something about a fine old hymn
That can stir the heart of a man;
That can reach to the goal of his inmost soul
Such as no mere preaching can.

It's more than the tune of the song he sings
And it's more than the poet's rhyme-
It's the Spirit of God working through these things
That gives them their power sublime!

So we thank Thee, Lord, for the fine old hymns;
May we use them again and again
As we seek to save from a hopeless grave
The souls of our fellow men!

Author Unknown

The Lord is my rock, and my fortress, and my deliverer; my God, my strength, in whom I will trust; my buckler, and the horn of my salvation, and my high tower.

Psalms 18:2

The Christian faith is a singing faith. Hence the singing of the people-congregational singing-is the most important form of music in an evangelical church. Christian song is the overflow of the Christian heart. If our hearts are full, our singing will be full. Hymn singing reflects a congregation's spiritual vitality and their response to God's grace. A spiritual church is a singing church.

Throughout church history great periods of spiritual fervor and revival have always been accompanied by a renewed interest in congregational singing. Historians have stated that Martin Luther won more converts to Christ through his encouragement of congregational singing than even his strong preaching and teaching. Of the Wesleys it was said that, for every person they won with their preaching, ten were won through their music. D.L. Moody said, "Singing does at least as much as preaching to impress the Word of God upon people's minds. Ever since God first called me, the importance of praise expressed in song has grown upon me."

And so it has been through the ages, even to the present time: the songs of Martin Luther, Isaac Watts, Charles Wesley, John Newton, Ira Sankey, Phillip Bliss, Fanny Crosby, John Peterson and other contemporaries have been used providentially by a sovereign God to challenge the unbeliever, to edify the saint, and to fan revival fires. It is my hope and prayer as your. Pastor that these monthly newsletter articles will be used of God to challenge the unbeliever, to edify the saints, and to fan revival fires as Ebenezer becomes a full-time church!

"A Mighty Fortress Is Our God"

Martin Luther was born on November 10, 1483 in Eisleban, Saxony, Germany. He was educated at the University of Erfurt, later becoming an Augustian monk, teaching philosophy and theology at the University of Wittenberg. On October 31, 1517, sometimes called the "4th of July of Protestantism," Martin Luther nailed his ninety-five theses to the door of the Cathedral of Wittenburg, Germany. These theses condemned various practices and teaching of the Roman church. After several years of stormy disputes with the Pope and other church leaders, Martin Luther was finally excommunicated from the fellowship of the Roman Catholic church in 1520.

The final profit for the recent barbecue lunch was $1,701.50. Thanks to Richard Poe for reimbursement for the can opener.

Mother's Day Service

On May 9th, Sue Watson read a poem during the morning worship service to honor the mothers in our church. Each mother was then presented with a rose. Inez Truelove was recognized as the oldest mother in attendance and Denise Jones was recognized as the youngest. Denise Jones and Paulette Brown were recognized as having the most children present.

M is for Mother, but also for Mom
O means only that she's like no other
T is for the time she shares with me
H is for the heart of purest gold
E is for the extra special things she does
R is for helping me reach my dreams

Brown-Baldwin Circle

There isn't a lot of news from the Brown-Baldwin Circle- We had our May meeting in the church annex with all members present (which is true almost every meeting). Our hostess was Erma Sikes. As always we enjoyed her delicious salads and goodies for our refreshments. We are pleased to have increased our number on the roll from 8 to 9. Our newest member is Brenda Wills who lives in the log house near the church. We have enjoyed having her and feel she enjoys our company as well. She will be a good addition to our circle and looks forward to being an active member.

Zelma Ward opened the meeting with a lovely devotion. Erma Sikes provided a good and inspiring program.

We are so thankful for all our senior citizen members. It's a day once a month that all look forward to. We all enjoy getting together visiting and chatting with each other. We hope we can continue on for many more years with "God's Blessing - we will."

We never have a meeting without all expressing their thanks to all our young people that are active in the church and for our Little Ones that we love and enjoy so much. They are our future leaders. Let's all show our love and appreciation to them as well as to all in our church.

We are the Seniors in our church- so we thought this was good to close with-

Well what a life!

The preacher came to visit a lady one day-and he told her at her age she should be thinking more about the "hereafter." She told him, "Oh, I do, all the time. No matter where I am- in the parlor, upstairs, in the kitchen or down in the basement- I ask myself " Now, what am I here after?"

"Remember Me"

*Do not discuss me as if I am not present.
My mind is foggy but my heart is clear.
Do not criticize my imperfections.
If only I could choose to remember even the simplest of tasks.
Do not resent my frequent repetitive questions.
I am scared and confused.
Your answers slip from my desperate grasp.
Do not stop loving me because my actions are inappropriate.
Use patience and kindness to remind me of my manners for
They have disappeared with other fragments of my mind.
Do not recent my frequent pacing or attempts to "go home."
This is not my home. Nothing here is familiar or reassuring.
If only I could go home, I would surely find my memory there.
Do not remind me of my recent hurts.
I do not recall that my mate has passed-
or my house has burned to the ground.
Do not speak to me as a child.
I have a lifetime of experience despite my childlike ways.
Remind me of your name and the place you hold in my life.
I would love to recall, for I? Feel your love and kindness.
Show me the world-nature, music, and art-
For I have forgotten the amazing joy it holds. Allow me to use the tools that remain,
To hammer out my mark and unwrench my heart.
Forgive me for my imperfect past;
If only I remembered I would surely apologize.
You need not fill our time with many words.
Your presence help fill my void.
The blame does not lie with you or me.
Love me for who I am now and the person I used to be.*

Administrative Council Meeting

The administrative council met May 22nd following the morning worship service. Al Whorley, treasurer, reported that the church is currently ahead of budget and doing well financially. Judy Poe brought up a proposal by Kathy Rigsbee to childproof the nursery. Concerns include loose table legs, inappropriate height of the current tables, the need for a changing table, and the need for new or cleaned carpet. Polly Dupree will check on the cost of changing tables. Vicki Vaughn reported that the new floor has been ordered and should be installed by July 11th, which is the first day of Vacation Bible School. The carpet in the nursery will be replaced at the same time. The need to replace or improve the shelter tables were discussed. Jerry Poe proposed that new tops be placed on the tables which are the perfect height for preparations of the chickens for the Barbecue lunch fundraisers. Another suggestion was buying folding table legs and making tops. Denise Jones brought up the need for power washing the shelter. A church workday was scheduled for June 5th. Work will begin at 8 a.m. Volunteers can bring brushes, rollers, and hammers and choose their own workstations which will include power washing the shelter, working on the shelter and nursery tables, and planting bushes. The nursery will also be painted and the chalkboard taken down. The chalkboard is scheduled to be converted to a corkboard. It will be hung outside the nursery for a picture display. Rori Powell proposed that the church make annual contributions to the Chatham County Project Graduation. An annual donation of $100 was approved. Stephen Ferguson will check on the reason the nursery sound system is not operating properly.

Annual Conference

The NC Annual Conference will be in session June 9-13. This year the conference will be meeting at the Cumberland County Auditorium because the conference has out grown the auditorium facility at Methodist College. Visitors to the conference are welcome, especially on Saturday for the Missions Fair. If you would like to attend Saturday please let Rick know so that you may have a reserved lunch.

Annual Poe Reunion

The annual Poe reunion was held May 16, 1999 at the church. There were 54 people in attendance. A monetary contribution was made to the church.

Information for the monthly newsletters

If you have any information that you would like to put in the newsletter, please contact: Rebecca and Stephen Ferguson (577-9029). Any input is greatly appreciated. We request all articles and/or other information be submitted by the third Sunday of each month. The deadline for the June newsletter is June 20th.

The History of Ebenezer United Methodist Church

Ebenezer United Methodist Church was organized in the home of Mary Minter Farrar widow of Captain Edward Farrar. Soon after a log building was built where circuit riders held monthly meetings. Later a framed building was built. This structure was replaced sometime between the beginning of the Civil War and 1895. This is the sanctuary in which members and visitors worship today. The pews and the pulpit were handmade by Dallas Matthews, a member of the church. In 1914 two Sunday School rooms were added. In 1948, the annex was added along with the bathroom and kitchen facilities. In 1954, Ebenezer was joined with Merritt's Chapel to create the Ebenezer-Merritt's Charge, and a gas heating system was installed in the church and annex. The church was moved to its present location on June 26, 1973 and a new annex constructed. The first service at the new location was held on November 18, 1973. The picnic and storage shelter was built in 1975 in memory of Truby Thrailkill.

Next time you are at Ebenezer Beach, take a look at the monument erected in 1996 to mark the site of the original church building. The construction of Jordan Lake required Ebenezer move to its current location, but the monument reminds us of the rich history of our church.

- *Don't forget our workday (June 5th at 8:00 AM until ?) to spruce up the church and picnic shelter, as well as childproof the nursery.
- *With everyone's help, we can make our community Hot Dog Social a fun and effective outreach to our neighborhood.

I have not been lucky enough to live in Wake Co, NC since 1965. We lived in St Louis 1965-1975 when I worked for Monsanto. Then from 1975-1994 we were with the University of Arizona in Tucson. In December 1994 we moved back to Missouri where I play at farming and work on family history. EBENEZER UNITED METHODIST CHURCH

Message from the Pastor

A monthly meditation/homily on the Eucharist

“Visible Tokens”

Based Upon Acts 2:1-4, 38-42

Dietrich Bonhoeffer was in prison in Berlin in 1943 when the day of Pentecost (Whitsunday in Europe) arrived. He began a letter to his family that Sunday which he finished on Monday. In it he said this:

Well, Whitsuntide is here and we are still separated; but it is in a special way a feast of fellowship. When the bells rang this morning, I longed to go to church, but instead I did as John did on the island of Patmos, and had such a splendid service of my own, that I did not feel lonely at all, for you were all with me, every one of you...

It is now Whitmonday, and I was just sitting down to a dinner of turnips and potatoes when your parcel that Rudiger brought as a Whitmonday present arrived quite unexpectedly. I really cannot tell you what happiness such things give one. However certain I am of the spiritual bond between all of you and myself, the spirit always seemed to want some visible token of this union of love and remembrance, and then material things become the vehicle of spiritual realities. I think this is analogous to the need felt in all religions for the visible appearance of the sacrament.

I think so, too. And I am overwhelmed by these simple profound words from one of God's saints. A little gift in prison, a table spread in church: visible tokens of the union of love and remembrance that we have in Jesus Christ. On the day of Pentecost, the Holy Spirit manifested himself visibly and audibly to the church. The same spirit manifests himself to us, too, when we receive his tokens of presence. May the bread and wine be the vehicle for the spiritual truth God would share with each of us.

Let us remember these things as we gather at Ebenezer UMC around the Table of Our Lord-as He “re/members” us-bringing us together with God, with Christ, and with each other. As always, let us remember who we are and Whose we are!

BBQ Chicken Review

Many thanks to everyone that contributed to the successful luncheon, Friday, April 23rd. Four hundred and forty eight BBQ chicken plates with all the fixings (slaw, potatoes, roll and dessert) were sold.

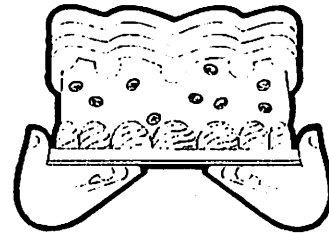

The men did a fine job keeping the grills going and had the chicken done in plenty of time for the assembly line to pack lunches. The ladies donated over 500 servings of dessert.

The Siler City location of the Dry Dock Seafood Restaurant donated the slaw. Jordan Oil Co., Inc in Apex donated propane gas for the grills. If you frequent these businesses, please take the opportunity to thank them for their contributions. Monetary donations of $80.00 were received.

There were at least 24 helpers Thursday night packaging rolls and deserts and washing the chickens. Friday 18 helpers worked to package and deliver the plates. A special thank-you to Richard Bradley for helping on Thursday and Friday and to Billy Farrar for helping on Friday.

The next day of fellowship will be scheduled for September. If you missed this one, plan to join in on the fun then.

Recipe of the Month
White Chocolate Cheesecake

Ingredients

Crust

1/2 cup butter, melted
2 cups Lorna Doone Shortbread Cookies, finely ground

1 ounce white chocolate, grated

1/4 cup sugar

Filling

2 pounds cream cheese, softened

1 1/4 cups sugar

pinch salt

4 eggs

3 ounces white chocolate, grated

Topping

2 cups sour cream

1/4 cup sugar

1 teaspoon vanilla

1 ounce white chocolate, shaved

For crust:

Combine all ingredients in small bowl and press evenly into 10-inch springform pan.

For filling:

Preheat oven to 350 degrees.

Combine cream cheese and sugar, beating mixer until fluffy. Add salt and mix well. Add eggs, one at a time, beating with mixer on slowest speed. Add white chocolate and pour into crust. Bake 40-45 minutes. Remove from oven and let cool 10 minutes.

For topping: Combine sour cream, sugar, and vanilla in small bowl. Spread on cake. Place cake back in oven 10 minutes and then refrigerate immediately. Top with white chocolate shavings before serving.

Serves: 10

Information for the monthly newsletters

If you have any information that you would like to put in the newsletter, please contact: Rebecca and Stephen Ferguson (577-9029). Any input is greatly appreciated. We request all articles and/or other information be submitted by the fourth Sunday of each month. The deadline for the June newsletter is May 23rd.

Mothers And Others

Others weary of the noise,
Mother play with girls and boys.

Others work with patient will,
Mothers labor later still.

Other's love is more or less,
Mothers love with steadiness.

Others pardon, hating yet;
Mothers pardon and forget.

Others keep the ancient score,
Mothers never shut the door.

Others grow incredulous,
Mothers still believe in us.

Others throw their faith away,
Mothers pray, and pray, and pray.
Amos R. Wells

The late Professor William James, Harvard's famous psychologist, would frequently illuminate a misty subject with a homespun anecdote. Discussing motherhood once, Professor James said: "A teacher asked a boy this question dealing with fractions: 'Suppose that your mother baked an apple pie, and there were seven of you-your parents and five children. What part of the pie would you get?' ' A sixth ma'am,' the boy answered. ' But there are seven of you,' said the teacher. ' Don't you know anything about fractions?'" Yes, teacher,' replied the boy. 'I know all about fractions, but I know all about Mother, too. Mother would say she did not want any pie."

Excerpt from Christina Clippings

A little boy who was told by his mother that it was God who makes people good, replied, "Yes, I know it is God, but mothers help a lot."

James Clovis Adams, who was called Clovis, was for more than 50 years a sawmill operator and lumber manufacturer in the Carolinas. He was associated in this business with his brothers, and from 1930 until his death in 1944 he and his brother C. V. Adams were engaged in the lumber business in Warren County, NC. △

The following obituary was published March 24, 1944 (probably in The Raleigh News & Observer) and there was also an obituary published the same day in the Warrenton Record.:

Vaughan.--James Clovis Adams, 71, sawmill operator and lumber manufacturer in the Carolinas for more than 50 years, last surviving son of the late Lt.-Col. James T. Adams of Holly Springs, died here Wednesday morning at 8:30 o'clock after a critical illness of four months. He and all of his four brothers and his father were well known as lumbermen in the Carolinas for many years.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Nannie Gibson Adams of Vaughan; three children, Leary W. Adams, Charlotte newspaperman, Mrs. Robert H. Williams of Cayce, S.C., and Mary Elizabeth Adams of Vaughan; three sisters, Mrs. Joe Massey of Apex, Mrs. Maggie Oldham of Holly Springs, and Mrs. Maude Holleman of Raleigh. △

Mr. Adams numbered his cousins and nephews by the hundreds, all among the Adams, Beckwith, Hunter, Olive, Burt, Holland, Horne, Norris, Holleman, Massey and Oldham families of Wake County and Central North Carolina.

Mr. Adams was the fourth of the nine children of the late Col. Adams, commander of the North Carolina Twenty-Sixth at Appomattox, and the late Lucy Ann Beckwith Adams, daughter of Green Beckwith, who before the Civil War had a 5,000-acre plantation between Holly Springs and New Hill.

Mr. Adams suffered a severe fall near his mill early last November and received internal injuries from which he never recovered. He had been in bed most of the time since mid-November and his condition became grave several weeks ago.

Funeral services will be held at the Holly Springs Baptist Church Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

The Poe Family

Simon Poe, with other members of the family, came to Chatham County from Virginia as early as 1759 and settled near George's Creek. In the early years of the Revolution, Benjamin and Jessie Poe, came from Culpepper County. It was in the home of Simon's son, Stephen, that Chatham Court was held until the first courthouse was built. Stephen was elected to represent Chatham in the Colonial Assembly of 1774, but died before taking his seat.

Dr. Clarence Poe

Clarence Hamilton Poe (1881-1965), born near Gulf to William Baxter and Susan Dismukes Poe, became assistant editor of The Progressive Farmer at the age of 16, and two years later he was made editor. In 1903 he purchased the magazine, and for the rest of his life used it as an instrument to promote improved farming and better living conditions throughout the south. In the thirties he launched a nationwide campaign for good health. The North Carolina Medical Care Commission was a direct result of his report to Governor Broughton and the General Assembly on the findings of a commission which he headed to investigate health needs of the state. He served on the American Commission on Hospital Care (1944-46) and in 1951 was appointed by President Truman to a committee on health needs of the nation. Dr. Poe married Alice Aycock, daughter of Governor Charles B. Aycock.

DEEP RIVER CHURCH IN CHATHAM
COUNTY, N. CAROLINA

REV. PHILLIP MURKIN, a Baptist Minister of the "Separatist" persuasion, early established a Church and Congregation on DEEP RIVER in what is now CHATHAM but was then a part of ORANGE COUNTY (1769). Murkin was born in HALIFAX COUNTY, North Carolina. Those who established the DEEP RIVER Church were PHILLIP MURKIN and wife, STEPHEN HOWARD and wife, JOSEPH BREED and wife, NICHOLAS HOWARD and wife, BENJAMIN GIST and wife, CHARLES THOMPSON, THOMAS THOMPSON & RACHEL COLLINS. (Paschall's History of the Baptist Church in North Carolina.

The persons named, headed by the minister PHILLIP MURKIN emigrated from DEEP RIVER to Fair Forest in S. C. before 1760, but many of the members did not accompany the contingent who moved South, and among those remaining in CHATHAM COUNTY in 1764 were NATHANIEL POWELL, CONRAD DOWD and his wife, ISAAC BROOKS and wife, MARY BROOKS, MR. HODGE, JAMES STEVARD, SIMON POE, ROBERT CALLEE and SAMUEL MARSH, also NICHOLAS HOWARD (Journal of Morgan Edwards). Long after the establishment of the DEEP RIVER CHURCH, the names of its old members - many of them - appear on the records of the State of GEORGIA, including PHILLIP MURKIN and NICHOLAS HOWARD (Who left will in GEORGIA) and the descendants of ROBERT RUTHERFORD and the MARSH FAMILY, who drifted to S. C. and other parts.

The Poe Family

Simon Poe, with other members of the family, came to Chatham County from Virginia as early as 1759 and settled near George's Creek. In the early years of the Revolution, Benjamin and Jessie Poe, came from Culpepper County. It was in the home of Simon's son, Stephen, that Chatham Court was held until the first courthouse was built. Stephen was elected to represent Chatham in the Colonial Assembly of 1774, but died before taking his seat.

Dr. Clarence Poe

Clarence Hamilton Poe (1881-1965), born near Gulf to William Baxter and Susan Dismukes Poe, became assistant editor of The Progressive Farmer at the age of 16, and two years later he was made editor. In 1903 he purchased the magazine, and for the rest of his life used it as an instrument to promote improved farming and better living conditions throughout the south. In the thirties he launched a nationwide campaign for good health. The North Carolina Medical Care Commission was a direct result of his report to Governor Broughton and the General Assembly on the findings of a commission which he headed to investigate health needs of the state. He served on the American Commission on Hospital Care (1944-46) and in 1951 was appointed by President Truman to a committee on health needs of the nation. Dr. Poe married Alice Aycock, daughter of Governor Charles B. Aycock.
