Clyde, (Called Stone) and his family were living in Blufford, WV when WWII started. He was a representative of ~~the~~ Smucker's Food Products but a shortage of sugar meant he could not fill orders taken. So he decided to join the Army Air Force. He completed basic training which amounted to almost a college education and received his wings at Roswell with the rank of 2d Lt. Stone was based overseas, and wrote V-mail letters home. In one he said "The 461st Group has really grown into a big outfit now.
We have about three thousand men in it as compared to the original three hundred that activated back at Cowan in August. Of course, you have to go overseas full strength and that calls for eighteen combat crews for each of the four squadrons. All the rest are needed to keep those seventy-two crews in the air". Stone was a squadron leader and flew fifty ~~with~~ missions, returning from one with a flak hole peppering the plane. He and his crew were recommended for the Distinguished Flying Cross. They received the Oak Leaf with Clusters. Stone was advanced to the rank of Major before his enlistment came to an end with WWII. His first mg ended in divorce and he started a new career with the Western Home Corp. in Idaho. Virginia had been married before and had a son whom Stone adopted. They had two children and one adopted. There was one child of the first mg.

② RPU Question - Is this the same Floyd Stevens who I and Glenn Klingman shared as a Technician at NCSU circa 1953-1955? - 3 DEC 2012

③ From RPU call to Eva Warner - 4 DEC 2012.

Eva says she worked for years with Luna Stevens, the wife of Floyd Lee Stevens, Jr. Her son FLS, Jr committed suicide. Eva could not confirm my suspicion that FLS, Jr worked at NCSU in the 1950's (as the technician for RPU & Glenn Klingman).

○ An Excerpt from Notes of RPU Call 24 JUN 2007 to:
Frederick Hughes Bailey "TED"

Re Enterprise School Ted says it was about 2 miles from their Farm. He says there were 2 rooms and each teacher had 2-3 grades. As teacher he remembers only MISS CREEL and Mrs Shearon who drove an Essex automobile. Ted had a classmate [△] DAVID DOZIER STEPHENSON and went from school to spend the night with him. It snowed & Ted could not get home for 2-3 days. Ted tells of a prank he and classmate Paul Stevens (S/o John Stevens) played at school. They loaded the pot bellied stove up with light wood & unnailed on it. When the fire got started it caused a stink & Mrs Shearon had to open the windows. The culprits were not identified / punished.

son of Walter and Manda Etta (Grinn) Behannon.
Ken had a natural talent for mechanics. When radio came into being, Ken built crystal ~~sets~~ sets which were very popular. He made the cabinets from empty pasteboard containers that had held rolled oats. He wrapped copper wire around the cylindrical oatmeal box and fitted a small crystal to the copper wire which was moved back and forth across the wire to find a station. A set of earphones was attached and handed back and forth around the set so that all might enjoy the miracle of radio.
Relatives and friends were persuaded to eat oatmeal every morning and keep the oatmeal boxes rolling to him for 'cabinets'. Iva and Ken lived in Philadelphia

 NOVEMBER 14, 1919 - JUNE 25, 2012

RALEIGH
 John Stevens, Jr., 92, of Raleigh, died June 25, 2012. He was born on November 14, 1919, in the Rhamkette area of North Carolina, the youngest son of John Stevens, Sr. and Corinna Goodwin Stevens. John graduated from Cary High School, attended N.C. State University (known then as State College) and served in the U.S Army during World War II.

Craig Stevens. He is survived by his wife of 51 years, Vickie Stevens, a son, Carter Smith, of Raleigh, and daughters, Susan Battle and her husband, Ed, of Cary, and Sally Johann and her husband, Peyton, of Richmond, Virginia. John also leaves behind seven grandchildren and six great-grandchildren who fondly remember him as Papa, the man who was never without a joke to tell.

During his career, John worked as an independent insurance agent for several years before joining Durham Life Insurance Company. He served as a District Manager for Durham Life in Fayetteville, NC, and Macon, Georgia, before coming to work at the Home Office in Raleigh where he remained a Regional Vice President until his retirement. Throughout his life, John received many awards from Durham Life and, more importantly, the loyal friendship of countless co-workers, neighbors and fellow church members.

John was an avid gardener and rabid N.C. State Wolfpack fan. He was preceded in death by his seven brothers and sisters and his oldest son, John

A memorial service for John will be held at 2 p.m. on Sunday, July 1, at Christ Covenant Church, 6501 Fox Road in Raleigh. In lieu of a visitation, a reception will be held for the family and guests immediately following the ceremony at the church. Those wishing to honor John's memory may do so by sending a contribution to Christ Covenant Church, 6501 Fox Road, Raleigh, NC 27616, or to the charity of one's choice. Funeral arrangements are being managed by Mitchell Funeral Home, 7209 Glenwood Avenue, Raleigh, NC 27612. Condolences and special memories can be shared at www.MitchellatRMP.com

This meticulous lady always looks as though she just stepped out of a fashion layout, even after a rough day at school or a day of fishing. David and Susan have no scion. ② 3 MAY 2007 - RPU met with James Burwood Thompson "Dick" who suggested RYSR as a source for SCTSP History Project. RYSR was Wake County Mgr and is now a State Legislator

③ 4 MAY 2007 - James Durwood Thompson "Rich" called RPU and gave me the phone no of RYS (919) 851-1177 and indicated RYS would expect my call.

④ 12 MAY 2007 Called RYS and had a brief chat. He was in a hurry to get to a luncheon but even so was very cooperative. I explained that I knew his GF - John. I explained my SCTSP Project and asked if he would help re getting the News & Observer to release copies of the Rhamhatts Roaster. He said he would make the call late this next week or soon thereafter and get back to me. He seems to know the right person at the News & Observer. He says a complete set of the N & O is on microfilm in the Cameron Village Library. He says his GF cooperated with Josephine Daniels on the Rhamhatts Roaster.

⑤ 7 JUN 2007 sent copy of UB 28#1 to RYS

⑥ 9 DEC 2012 called RYS (919) 851-1177 & left a message to call me

⑦ 12 DEC 2012 - Richard called me

I explained my effort re INSPGNTS and the fact that the Stevens/Stephen Family is being featured in Issue 3 now in draft stage. He agreed to return < r.stevens@smithlaw.com >. He has a picture of Enterprise School. He will share with me. He says his Uncle William Walter Stevens has no issue. He does not know where Donald Campbell's 2nd wife is buried (on Dore Farm Rd ??)

⑧ 2 & 3 MAY 2007 Input from James Denwood Thompson "DICK" PG 45

Dick was first employed as An First County Extension Agent in Wake Co, NC (under John Anderson) with responsibility in soil conservation. Helped lay out terraces on Bait Moore & Bailey Place. There was an byshunt on the County Commissioner (From Apex) at the time

The State bought first got the Bailey Place - The Farm Manager was L.O. Page

Dick went with A. O. Fundley in 1943. Trojan Sales was an A. O. Fundley subsidiary. They first bought the Pond. Then Dick convinced Fundley to buy land and in 1947 1000 Acres was bought for a beef cattle operation [Mark says Dick renovated the Dairy Processing Plant into an apartment & lived there - Got divorced - and a lady 20 years his junior]

Land south of Swift Creek had earlier been sold to Superior Store - who sold it to John Buffalo

Dick says part of the 1000 Acres was from Stewart & Sullivan 1200 Acres which border Kerge Orchard on the East & South.

Fundley sold the land in 1963 to NCSU for $1,000/A when he could have gotten 20,000/A [Mark says he got $18,000/A]

Dick only knows about W. W. Stephen

Dick will contact Helen Crain at NCSU & try to get me the NCSU Book "Knowledge in Power"

Name one way you would change government.

It's time for a change in Raleigh. We've had too many years of inefficiency and corruption. We've got to face our budget situation. We've got to get very disciplined with how we deal with our budget while also taking care of education, transportation and health care.

Richard Stevens not running for re-election

Sen. Richard Stevens of Cary, the co-chairman of the Senate Appropriations Committee, will not seek re-election.

Stevens said that after serving in the Senate for a decade it is time to step down. The 63-year old former Wake County manager has told friends he has wanted to spend more time with family and considered not running last time.

"I want you to know that I have decided to not seek re-election in 2012," Stevens, said in a statement. "It is time for a new chapter in my life and for someone else to take on the responsibility of representing the 17th district."

A Republican, Stevens has a reputation as an individual who could work across party lines.

"From my time in the General Assembly, some of my fondest memories will be of when individuals of both parties reached across the aisle and found ways to move this state forward," Stevens said. "The greatness of North Carolina comes from our diversity and I hope that all who serve will put aside their differences as often as possible in service for the good of all."

UPDATE: Senate leader Phil Berger: "Few people have the management skills and budgetary expertise that Richard Stevens displayed in the North Carolina Senate. For a decade, he brought a no-nonsense approach to state government - working across the aisle to balance our budget, streamlining state government, and advocating for higher education. The General Assembly and the people of Wake County will sorely miss his leadership."

UPDATE: Gerrick Brenner, executive director of Progress North Carolina: "Richard Stevens' retirement from the N.C. Senate shouldn't surprise anyone. He was a moderate in an increasingly extremist legislature. He was an advocate for education, but education was trampled by the fury to cut and slash budgets within the Republican caucus. In one infamous episode this summer, he dodged voting on a controversial women's health issues. Polling shows voters in his district are unhappy with the legislature."

Sen. Stevens resigns, joins law firm :: WRAL.com

Sen. Richard Stevens, a 5-term Republican lawmaker from Wake County, has resigned his Senate seat as he starts a new job with Smith Anderson, a law firm here in Raleigh.

Stevens did not file to seek re-election, so his early resignation is something of a surprise. Typically, lawmakers make such a move if they plan to take a job in the administration or want to start the clock on when they would be allowed to lobby.

Stevens says it is "yet to be determined" whether he will lobby at the legislature.

"That's to be determined based on client needs," he said.

Under current law, Stevens won't be able to register as a lobbyist for at least six months. However, Stevens said, both he and others at his firm said they felt it would be best for him to resign and avoid the appearance of conflicts.

"This firm does have a number of clients it represents down at the General Assembly," he said. However, he pointed out that lawmakers had finished their sessions for the year, although there will be study committees at work until the legislature reconvenes in January.

Stevens is a former Wake County manager and said he will be working with the firm of economic development, local bond issues and local government issues.

"It's a very broad portfolio," he said.

A release from Smith Anderson says Stevens "will advise the law firm's clients on a wide range of matters, including economic development, state and local regulatory issues, land use, local government law, government contracting, bond financing and state policy issues."

Sen. Phil Berger, the Senate President Pro Tempore, called Stevens "a dedicated public servant whose budgetary expertise, tireless work ethic and ability to work across the aisle made him a successful and effective legislator. As a champion for our state's public universities, his support was instrumental in shaping legislation that made the UNC system a national leader in higher education. The General Assembly and his constituents in Wake County will miss his leadership and we wish him well in his future endeavors."

Stevens became budget chairman when Republicans took over the General Assembly in 2011 and was known for his expertise on education policy. When Democrats last controlled the General Assembly, he was one of only a handful of Republicans tapped to chair key committees.

"I'm excited to open a new chapter in my career by joining Raleigh's leading law firm," Stevens said in a written statement. "Smith Anderson's broad expertise will enable me to continue serving our community, region and state."

More from a Smith Anderson news release:

"Stevens, a Raleigh native, earned his bachelor's degree, law degree and master's in public administration at The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. His ties to the university remain strong, having served as chairman of its Board of Trustees, General Alumni Association, Foundation and Endowment Board. He also is a member of Cary Academy's Board of Directors.

A past president of the North Carolina City and County Management Association, Stevens has taught courses on intergovernmental relations at North Carolina State University and on state government at UNC-CH's School of Government. He also has served as a member of the Board of Directors of the Centennial Authority, which operates the PNC Center, home to the Carolina Hurricanes and the N.C. State men's basketball team.

Stevens' wife, Jere, is the owner of Jere's Landscaping. They have two adult children."

Hi Richard---

I am delighted to have the picture of Enterprise School. It is the only one I have ever seen and it will be a part of what will be presented on schools in a future issue of INSIGHTS. I am assuming that there is no identification list for those shown. I am guessing that the girl behind the center front row little girl in white could have been my mother who would have been 11 or 12. I am guessing that the adult female in a white blouse just below the white door might have been Ms Shearon

I have this morning put the final touches on the issue of INSIGHTS in preparation and will have a draft for you to see as soon as we can get it in the computer.

Thanks and Merry Christmas.

Unfortunately there is no list of names. I know that my father, Floyd, and his brother, Raymond, are in the photo.

My father would have been 8 in 1910 and his brother 6.

Hi Richard---

In our recent exchange you offered to take a look at issue 3 of my Swift Creek Community E-Newsletter given that it deals with your family. I know it does not do justice but I hope it will stimulate interest in the local scene. See below for a draft. I hope to get this out before January 1 if possible. Any advice or comments you have will be welcomed. I would also welcome email addresses of any who might be interested. Or, perhaps you would be willing to send the final copy to some and to ask them to contact me to be put on the distribution list for future issues.

Best.

Phil,

We were away for the holidays.

Here a few comments for your article:

My parents were buried at Oakwood Cemetery in Raleigh as was my Uncle and Aunt Walter (Walton) and Emily Stevens.

The Soup Kitchen in Raleigh is at Good Shepherd Church where my Uncle Walter was Senior Warden for many years.

You may want to mention the Stevens Nature Center at Hemlock Bluffs Park.

My grandfather was John Stevens (1877-1948) His son was John, Jr.

At John Stevens death, his farm was acquired by my Uncle Walter by purchasing his sibling's interests. He owned it for a number of years, built a rental house and a pond.

My grandfather was struck by a truck in 1948, not a car.

My mother's Yates family was not the Wake/Chatham group of Yates. The family had a king's grant on what is now known as Reedy Creek Road in Cary. They were related to the Yates of Yates Mill.

I'd ask you to omit the story of the pot bellied stove at Enterprise School.

I do have some family records if you later decide to do more in depth research.

Hope this is helpful.

Hi Richard---

Thanks for your comments. I will make the revisions you suggest. With regard to the incident at Enterprise School I will revise it to eliminate the specifics of what took place and just refer to the fact that a prank took place for which the two named culprits were never punished. This will allow me to retain the historic facts that two specific individuals of local families were students at Enterprise School and that they studied under Mrs Shearon. I hope this will be OK with you. The family records you mention sound very interesting and I would like to know more about them or simply to have copies if that would be feasible. I do hope to visit NC next May and if it seems appropriate we could confer then on the papers or otherwise.

With Appreciation

Hi Richard---

I am doing a little follow up on the Swift Creek Community e-Newsletter I distributed electronically on March 3, 2013. I have had some feedback but not a lot.

I assume you got the copy I sent. I hope nothing I wrote was offensive to you. When we talked you indicated you had some more information on the Stevens/Stephens family in Rhamkatte you would be willing to share with me. I got the Enterprise photo which is great. Anything you send would be appreciated and I would use it as a starting point to go over my records and pull together related materials. My home address is 351 Shetland Valley Court, Chesterfield, MO 63005 in case you need it.

If you have any thoughts about this venture you would like to share I would very much like to have them. The history of the community and its people are of great interest to me but it is unclear how much others are interested. Also, there is the question of whether my approach in sharing hits the mark. My thought had been to stimulate interest with the idea that when I get around to a book on the subject there would be a prearranged audience. The book would probably be online via my website and long term would be a part of my Upchurch Collection at NCSU and, hopefully, kept online by them. As you know we all have many ways to use our time and choices must be made. You have been so helpful in the past that I venture to ask for your considered input.

As sort of a ps I will mention that I am disappointed that the place where Lake Wheeler and Tryon Roads cross has never been given a name. There is some logic to naming it the Upchurch Crossroads but a stronger case can be made historically for naming it the Rhamkatte Crossroads. You, among all people, would know of the issues that would arise if one tip-toed into these waters. I wonder if there is a good enough reason to do so?

Best!

Phil,

Thanks for adding me to your e-newsletter. I enjoyed the March issue.

It is not easy to get an intersection named. Generally there needs to be a reason to name it, such as for directions to a major attraction. For example, we have been unable to get a signs on Interstate 40 for Yates Mill Park because it has yet to achieve the needed volume of attendance.

The other materials I have are mostly about the family tree. I don't have anything specifically about Swift Creek.

99) Notes of APU Call to Monk 4 DEC 2012 - CONTINUED

Re the Stephens family. of the children of John Stephens, Sr Monk knew only William Walton Stevens & spent quite a bit of time with him. John & Alton O. Perry, Sr worked together in the cotton business in Raleigh and it was normal for John to ride home with Alton. Alton worked for Parker Brothers bonded cotton warehouse and from 1921 to 1963 would grade & buy cotton from farmers on the street. Later he traveled to cotton bins to buy cotton for Parker Bros. Monk said the competing buyers had profits. On reflection Monk thinks John, Sr could have been an official carrier.

[LATER MONK SAID AGE 21 HENCE 1925-1963]

[JOHN STEPHENS, SR]

Monk is of the opinion that the farm John, Sr owned was small - 40 acres and thus it is likely Gray Stevens, Sr & Gray Stephens Jr never moved to the 40 acre farm but continued to live in the Inwood Church Community.

Other info shows these older Stevens/Stephens did have land on Boney Farm Road - probably from the Campbell relatives

① NOTES OF RPU CALL 12 DEC 2012 TO MILEY ALBERTY PERRY

Man's recites the employment of his father, Alton Owen Perry saying he started to work at Parker Brothers Bantle Warehouse at age 21 met in 1921.

Re. interaction with William Walton Stevens whom he called "Walter" and some called "Stew". He had no issue. Walter would come to by eggs from Alton and would bring roosters that he let run around. He & Walter would graze & down together & even Man's son Owen hunted with Walter. Walter's 1st wife would come with him. After she died Walter remarried, sold his home on St. Mary's Street & moved to the home of his new wife in Zebulon.

Man's feels that Walter owned the site of the Hemlock Bluffs area but the reason is unclear.

We discussed the Cotton Gin on South Wilkinton Street in Raleigh. Man's does not recall a gin & that but remembers it as the Baskley Cotton Oilseed Company or something like that. He says they would deal with soybeans & crush them.

Man's reports that Nellie Gray Stevens, # never married and lived out her life in the home of John Stephens, Sr, her father. Man's thinks John may have lost the place and that William Walton Stevens got it.

Man's & I speculate that the John Stephens, Sr farm could well have been a segment of the original Donald Campbell Farm.

Probably the most active of John and Corrina's children is William Walton Stevens. His education in geology, soil science, and plant science led him to a long and distinguished career with the Federal Soil Conservation Service. He worked on the first erosion control work conducted by a public agency in the State of North Carolina in Stokes County in 1933. He developed soil survey standards, land use surveys and technical guides throughout North Carolina and was instrumental in the development of the national program for soil, water and plant conservation.

He served as the State Soil Scientist and State Soil Conservationist for North Carolina in the U.S. Department of Agriculture. He prepared the first published soil erosion report in Soil scientist Col. William Walton Stevens of Zebulon was honored by the N.C. State University Alumni Association May 5 with the '95 Meritorious Service Award.

The award is given to an alumnus for service to the university, the community and the recipient's profession. Stevens received the honor at an awards luncheon that was part of the annual N.C. State "Alumni Weekend" activities.

Stevens was watershed coordinator for the N.C. Department of Natural Economic Resources from 1969-75. Prior to that, he worked at the Soil and Water Conservation Service for 35 years. During World War II, he served in the Army's 77th Infantry Division, attaining the rank — and the nickname — of colonel.

For his service, he has won the Governor's Conservation Award and been named professional conservationist of the year by the N.C. chapter of the Soil Conservation Society of America. In 1969, he was elected a Fellow of the Soil Conservation Society — the highest honor the organization bestows.

He is one of the founders of the Soup Kitchen in Raleigh, and was instrumental in the establishment of Hemlock Bluffs Nature Preserve in Cary. Stevens received his bachelor's and master's degrees from N.C. State in 1931 and 1933, respectively.

the United States (Reedy Fork Creek, Guilford County, N.C.), helped in developing a Universal Soil Loss Prediction Equation, and trained hundreds of soil and water conservationists. He married Emily Wilson Inscoe of Louisburg, N.C. Among the many honors he received are election as a Fellow in the Soil Conservation Society of America in 1966, and the Governor's Conservation Award of the Year given by the Wildlife Federation of North Carolina in 1964. He also had a distinguished Army career and retired as a full Colonel after 32 years of service in active duty and the reserves.

WILLIAM WALTON STEVENS

William Walton Stevens, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Stevens, was born in Wake County, NC on October 29, 1909. As a boy, Stevens developed a love for nature, the outdoors, and a great concern over the misuse and waste of our lands and natural resources. Even then he realized that if mankind is to survive, we must take care of our natural resources. Through education, he was determined to prepare himself for a profession in which he could devote himself to the conservation of our natural resources. He attended the public schools in Wake County. Upon graduation from high school, he entered N.C. State College (now V.C. State University) in Raleigh where he earned his B.S. and M.S. degrees, specializing in geology, soil science and plant science. He worked his way through college and graduated with honors.

From 1930-1933, he participated as an assistant in carrying out experimental erosion control work and in teaching soils and geology. In 1933-1934, he served as a technical foreman in an erosion control camp in Stokes County, NC. This was the first erosion control work conducted by public agencies in the State of North Carolina. In 1934 Stevens became an assistant soils expert in the U.S. Department of Interior Soil Erosion Service. In April 1935, the Soil Erosion Service was transferred to the U.S. Department of Agriculture and became the Soil Conservation Service.

Stevens was truly a pioneer in the effort to conserve our natural resources. He was dedicated to this effort even before Dr. Hugh Hammond Bennett of Wadesboro, NC (founder of the Soil Conservation Service) appeared before the U.S. Congress in the early thirties (the "Dust Bowl Days") to plead for legislation to authorize a national erosion program.

Stevens continued to serve in professional positions in the Soil Conservation Service until his retirement in 1969. He served as Regional Soil Scientist for south eastern states 1937 to 1947 except for the time he was in the army and as State Soil Scientist from 1947-1954 and as State Soil Conservationist from 1954-1969. In these positions, he furnished technical leadership and guidance to a large number of soil scientists and soil conservationists throughout North Carolina and nation.

He prepared the first published soil erosion survey report in the United States. He furnished the leadership and procedures for defining and establishing the principles of land capability and land use treatment. He developed the first research needs for conservation in North Carolina. He had the responsibility for developing technical guides used by the Soil Conservation Service for the state of North Carolina. A Universal Soil Loss Prediction Equation was developed and put into use in this state under his supervision.

During World War II, Stevens served as an officer in the U.S. Army. He entered on active duty in 1941 and was released from active duty in 1946 with the rank of full colonel. He remained in the active reserve and is now retired from the military. While in the active reserve, he was responsible for organizing a research and development group for the military in North Carolina. He was the Commanding Officer of this group for several years. He later organized the U.S. Army Reserve School in Raleigh for eastern North Carolina. He was Commandant of this school from its inception.

Following his retirement from the Soil Conservation Service in 1969, Stevens became a watershed coordinator for the State Soil and Water Conservation Committee for the State of North Carolina. In this capacity, his primary duties were to assist soil and water district supervisors, watershed sponsors, and local organizations in the development of watershed plans for total resource development. He later changed jobs in State government and served as programs and planning coordinator for the North Carolina Department of Natural and Economic Resources, Office of Earth Resources.

In this position, his main duties were to work with federal, state and local agencies in developing guidelines for planning total resource development, while giving due consideration to social, economic, physical and political influences.

Stevens is a lifelong Democrat and an active church member. He served as member of the vestry of his church for two three-year terms; as director of the Brotherhood of Saint Andrew of the church; and as president and teacher of the Bible Class.

In 1966, Stevens was elected a fellow in the Soil Conservation Society of America which is the highest award given by the national society. In 1964, he received the Governor's Conservation Award of the Year from the North Carolina Wildlife Federation. He received a meritorious citation from the Soil Conservation Service for 1962 and 1964 for major creative contributions in developing technical programs and for superior service in the performance of duties in the soil and water conservation programs in North Carolina.

Throughout his life, Stevens has been a man of honesty and integrity. He believes in work and in excellence.

"He was ever searching for more fundamental principles on which to base new concepts, new approaches, new procedures. North Carolina's citizens, those of today and those to come, will forever be indebted to those leaders whose lives have been dedicated to the planning, conservation and development of their state's natural resources. Surely W.W. Stevens has earned a place in the forefront of that very special group"

During his retirement he has continued to be active in civic and church related activities and in professional soil and water conservation organizations. He is married to the former Emily Inscoe of Louisburg, NC and resides at 1629 St. Mary's Street in Raleigh.
