PREFACE

The original marriage bonds of Franklin County, North Carolina, are in the archives of the North Carolina Historical Commission, Raleigh, North Carolina. They are filed alphabetically by the groom and may be consulted by the public.

These bonds were abstracted by a group of youths of Wake County, North Carolina, working on a National Youth Administration project, alphabetized by workers on the Historical Records Survey project of the Works Progress Administration, and checked by Mrs. William S. West, a member of the staff of the North Carolina Historical Commission.

The word "colored" following the names of the bride and groom means they are Negroes.

The small -x- following a name means that the person did not sign, but made his mark.

The above compilation was typed and the index of brides was made under the supervision of the Genealogical Society of Utah, 80 North Main Street, Salt Lake City, Utah.

Typist: Miss Bernetta Garner.

Franklin County was formed in 1779 when Bute County was abolished and its territory divided into Franklin and Warren Counties.

The act which authorized the marriage bonds was passed in 1741 and it remained the law until 1868 when the present form of marriage license was authorized.

NOTE:

After these bonds were abstracted, alphabetized, and typed, several hundred additional marriage bonds were found. They have been abstracted, alphabetized, and typed, and placed in the front of this volume for the convenience of researchers.

PREFACE

The original marriage bonds of Franklin County, North Carolina, are in the archives of the North Carolina Historical Commission, Raleigh, North Carolina. They are filed alphabetically by the groom and may be consulted by the public.

These bonds were abstracted by a group of youths of Wake County, North Carolina, working on a National Youth Administration project, alphabetized by workers on the Historical Records Survey project of the Works Progress Administration, and checked by Mrs. William S. West, a member of the staff of the North Carolina Historical Commission.

The word "colored" following the names of the bride and groom means they are Negroes.

The small -x- following a name means that the person did not sign, but made his mark.

The above compilation was typed and the index of brides was made under the supervision of the Genealogical Society of Utah, 80 North Main Street, Salt Lake City, Utah.

Typist: Miss Bernetta Garner.

Franklin County was formed in 1779 when Bute County was abolished and its territory divided into Franklin and Warren Counties.

The act which authorized the marriage bonds was passed in 1741 and it remained the law until 1868 when the present form of marriage license was authorized.

NOTE:

After these bonds were abstracted, alphabetized, and typed, several hundred additional marriage bonds were found. They have been abstracted, alphabetized, and typed, and placed in the front of this volume for the convenience of researchers.
