This copy provided to R PH by Lotte Lee Danner, a granddaughter of E.H.U., when R PH met her on 3 APR 1998. According to Lee & her brother John the Public Sale on 9 MAY 1920 was at a place called "THE BRICK", apparently based on the main house being made of brick. John says E.H.U. farmed at other locations and may have lived there after the sale. John is uncertain as to whether E.H.U.
actually owned the "Brick" place.
Earlier, E.H.U. had farmed at another location a short distance from the Brick.

To Celebrate Golden Wedding

Mr. AND MRS E. H. UPCHURCH...

On Wednesday, Feb. 9th, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Upchurch of Irving township will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary.

Mrs. Lola Burk, Irving, Ill.

Mrs. Alice Downs, Irving, Ill.

R. Lee Upchurch, Irving, Ill.

Although Mr. Upchurch will celebrate his 80th birthday on the 21st of next month and although he has helped provide for a family of 13 hungry mouths and has borne the burden of being the head of a large family for fifty years, time has treated him kindly and he is active, strong and possesses the mental alertness of most men half his age. Mrs. Upchurch is thirteen years younger than her husband and will township. She was born April 3d, 1853. She and Mr. Upchurch were married Feb. 9th, 1871, at her home by Rev. Hiram Gregory and have spent the entire fifty years of their married life in the community where they now reside and where Mrs. Upchurch was born.

Thirteen children were born to Mr. and Mrs. Upchurch, all of whom grew to manhood and womanhood. Two of these children, Margaret and Harold were victims of the influenza epidemic two years ago. The surviving eleven children are:

Mrs. Myrtle Townsend, Los Angeles, Calif.

Mrs. Kathryn Buttweiler, Los Angeles, Calif.

Mrs. Joyce Thalgott, of Fairfield, Iowa.

Mrs. Maude Clotfelter, St. Louis, Missouri.

Mrs. Belle Thalgott, St. Louis, Mo.

Mrs. Lula Doerster, St. Louis, Mo.

Mrs. Stella Gorham, St. Louis, Mo.

Mrs. Nora Cress, Irving, Ill.

 nicknamed "Scooter". He was my grandfather's brother".

③ See #5 Fair Cook to RPA 15 JAN 1978

"I do not know when or if Lindsey II migrated to Illinois. He may have stayed in North Carolina and his children, some of them, went to Ill. I know that Escue and R. Madison went to Ill. as my mother was born in Springfield, Ill and lived there until she was 16 years old. They then moved to Aringer(?) Texas -----"

④ See #5 Fair Cook to RPA 21 JAN 1978

"Perhaps the correct spelling of E. H. Upchurch is ESCUE.
 I have his anniversary cards up of him and his wife and they refer to him as E. H. Upchurch. In one letter from my Uncle Arthur to my mother spells it ESCUE.
 I can remember my mother always speaking of him as Uncle Scote. So take your choice."

Divorce was granted during March term of Superior Court 1920, and child custody given to Pl. Pl alleged that she had been a resident of Wake Co. for more than 2 years, and Def was a Wake Co. resident also. They were married on 18 July 1916 and lived together until about 1 Mar 1917. Pl further alleged that about 1 Mar 1917 "and at various other times thereafter and prior thereto," the Def committed adultery with Eva MULLIN and with other women unknown to Pl.  touring the Cross Roads / Bethany Church Area of
 Wake Co, NC

Next we drove to the Bethany Church Area and stopped to inspect property once owned by Waylon H. It is in the SW corner of the intersection but not quite to the crossroads.
 Jean recalls visiting here in her youth and remembered the graveyard which stood on the south side of the house and that there were graves of several infants. Jean got the occupant of the house to come out for a visit and she showed us the gravestones which are on adjoining property. We read some names on the stones looking over the fence as follows:

WILBERT CARLYLE 8 NOV 1911 - 25 OCT 1914
 SPO W/M A. C. BROUGHTON
 JOHN LEA WEATHERS 1866 - 1913

TEMPLE A. GRIFFIN 1869 - ?

WIFE OF J. L. WEATHERS

It was out back of the house that the mother*[†] of four children Bell, Jr was murdered. One story is that theives stole goods and were running away in a buggy and the female was killed accidentally as an attempt was made to stop the theives. Another version is that the mother*[†] was killed because of infidelity.

THE SMITHFIELD HERALD

SMITHFIELD, N. C., FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 29, 1922

WHITE WOMAN IS KILLED BY UNCLE

Miss Essie Upchurch, of Eagle Rock, Shot Late Saturday Night.

Miss Essie Upchurch, formerly Mrs. Joris R. Bell, and a daughter of W. A. Upchurch, a well known citizen of the Zebulon section, was shot and instantly killed by her uncle, C. L. Cotton, at the home of her sister three miles from Eagle Rock, about midnight Saturday night. Cotton was released under a bond of $1,000 at the direction of Solicitor Norris yesterday.

C. L. COTTON

Miss Upchurch was seen to leave the dwelling earlier in the evening and go to the strip house. Later she returned to her room, and then went back to the strip house again. Between 11 and 12 o'clock Cotton saw her emerge from the house, accompanied by a man, according to the story he told of the killing to Solicitor Norris yesterday. He called on them to halt.

The man became abusive, cursed Cotton and threatened to shoot him, according to the man who did the shooting. He had a pistol, and was about to open fire when Cotton shot.

The woman dropped, shot through the left breast. She died without uttering a word. The man who was with her at the time ran, entering his automobile which had been left standing two hundred yards away.

Cotton immediately went in search of an officer and gave himself up. W. A. Upchurch, father of the woman who was killed, and brother-in-law to Cotton, signed his bond yesterday afternoon before T. Lloyd Tilley, deputy clerk of the court.

There is an outside chance that Estelle U (D/o Robert F.U)

The evidence is N.C. Birth Records & ① alone showing as living in Lumberton, NC.

Mrs Fred ALICE GRAY
Oppchurch,
Austin 3, Texas.

Dear Mrs Oppchurch,-

Your letter received, and glad to hear from you. Wish I could give you all the history regarding the Oppchurch family.
As best I remember we are Scotch.

I am sending your letter to one of my brother-in-laws to see what he can get for you. He is an Oppchurch also but seems to be of another family. He is a Baptist minister, and circulates a good bit in the vicinity of Wake, Johnson and Franklin counties. [HUGH CONWAY U]

Rev. H. C. Oppchurch, Micro, N.C.

I believe he can get a lot of information for you, if he does not know him self, I think he knows where he can get it, or some that he might not know.

I will send you a few of our names,
but cannot give it to you complete at all.

Yours very truly, E. E. Oppchurch.

13. Eta- This may be Lega. I do have one list that has Lega in the list of kids, but no one in the family seems to know anything about either. There were many things that were never discussed so it is possible that they were both still born or died soon after birth.

Ellie Upchurch lived with my grandfather, Lex Upchurch to help take care of my father, Larry and his two sisters, Agnes and Marjorie after the death of their mother Elsie. Ellie gave the family Bible belonging to John Upchurch to my aunt Agnes. She kept it until her death and shortly after the funeral Marjorie ended up with it. I wish I had photo copied it or written down the information, but I did not see it until she was leaving with it. Unfortunately it will most likely end up in the trash if it hasn't already.

Ellie was Cherokee, but I am unsure if she was full-blooded. She knew a lot of native american medicine and tried to pass it on, but the racism was prevalent at the time and no one in the family seemed to be interested in claiming their heritage.

I have heard that John Upchurch had illegitimate children, but I was unsure of how many or who they were. My dad remembers Cora and Vallie very well. They would often come to visit. Mark and Benton also came to live with them to help raise the kids and provide financial support. Mark amassed a large sum of money from some businesses he owned in Louisiana and brought the cash back to TN. He provided the majority of financial support and parental guidance for all 3 kids until his death.

Johnnie Eugenia Upchurch. However, it is my father - Gilbert Rivers Upchurch - who is the oldest grandchild of Lessie and Mac Upchurch's and he remembers them and their home (visited in the summers). We have met w/Debbie Douglass before and I think Elaine Cannon (Theda Upchurch Crumpler's daughter) will try to arrange a time when my parents can join at the beach a lot this summer but I am sure all would welcome you too and find it interesting to meet. I would love to join also if I could

Okay - I found your information very interesting and I will look forward to learning more.

I am emailing - via cc - my mother here...so you know how to contact her.

Medicare drug coverage to expire soon for some drugs

BY ANNE KRISHNAN
STAFF WRITER

Some seniors may feel like the victim of an April Fool's prank when they show up at the pharmacy Saturday.

Friday is the end of a transitional period for people whose Medicare Part D prescription drug coverage started in January, February or March. Until now, the private insurers running the plans have been required to pay for patients' medications, even if those drugs weren't on the company's list of covered medicines, called a formulary.

But starting April 1, the insurance companies administering Part D are required to pay for only the drugs on their own for-mularies. That means patients could come in for a refill, only to find out their insurance company won't pay for it.

"There's definitely going to be some confusion," said Mike James, owner and pharmacist at Person Street Pharmacy in Raleigh. "This whole program has been built around confusion and I think this is going to be another step in that process."

Does this affect everyone on Medicare Part D? Not immediately. Enrollees who started receiving benefits in January, February or March have until the end of this month to evaluate their options. People whose enrollment starts in April or later get a 30-day grace period to work out the kinks.

By March 18, about 350,000 people in North Carolina had signed up for Part D through new stand-alone prescription plans and Medicare Advantage plans, according to the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services.

How can trouble be avoided? Check with your pharmacist before you need a refill to make sure you don't have any medications that fall under the transitional program. Pharmacists have been trying to notify patients who may need to change drugs, but it might not sink in until patients can't get their medicines, James said.

If my drug isn't covered, what should I do? Meet with Pharmacist Mike James says there will be confusion.

Upchurch says patients must be 'very active.'

your doctor to figure out whether your current medicine is your best option.

If there's a suitable alternative to your drug, talk to your doctor about switching to that.

If your doctor thinks you need a drug that's not on the list, he or she can apply for an exception to continue the current prescription. If the plan denies the request, you can appeal.

If all else fails, consider finding a different Medicare Part D plan that covers the drug in question. You can switch plans with no penalty through May 15.

"It's the consumer that's going to have to be a very, very active participant," said Gina Upchurch, executive director of Senior Pharmacist in Durham, which helps with the new drug plans.

As needed, a better medicine

By VICKI CHENG
 STAFF WRITER

David Work, executive director of the N.C. Board of Pharmacy, has said for years that the medicine bottle needs an overhaul.

"We've had instances where patients have died because they read part of the prescription label but not all of it," he said, referring to a case in which a woman accidentally overdosed on medication for psoriasis because she misunderstood the label on her bottle of methotrexate.

That's why he's so excited about plans at Target pharmacies to roll out a completely redesigned prescription bottle Sunday. The last substantial change to the bottle took place 30 or 40 years ago, when it went from glass to plastic, said Work, who has been in pharmacy work for half a century.

"This is the first advancement in prescription packaging in over 50 years," he said, noting that his opinion was personal — not necessarily that of the pharmacy board. "The Target labeling is a good wake-up call for health care."

The new bottle is in Target's signature red. It's bigger than most, so it's easy to grip. It has two flat surfaces for labeling, so there's no need to rotate the bottle to read the instructions. It also has a space behind the label to tuck a patient information card. A color-coded ring around the neck indicates which family member the medicine is for. Warning icons were redesigned to make them easier to understand.

In October, the bottle will be exhibited at New York's Museum of Modern Art, according to Target.

Deborah Adler, now a senior designer with Milton Glaser Inc. in New York City, came up with the idea as part of her master's thesis at the School of Visual Arts in New York. As far as she could tell, very few people had looked at medical packaging over the years. After her grandmother accidentally took her grandfather's medication one day, she decided to create something more user-friendly.

"When I looked at the bottles, I couldn't believe how easy it was to make that mistake," she said of her grandparents' pills. "They looked identical. I wanted a system that helps people understand how to take their medication. I wanted to make it so that when you open up your medicine cabinet, you instantly know the name of the person, name of the drug and how to take it. ... The round bottles, you have to look at it from three different points. Sometimes, warning stickers cover up important information."

She first pitched her idea to the Food and Drug Administration, but switched to Target because the bottles would get to the consumer faster. Feedback has been good so far, especially from parents who like the syringe that comes with the liquid medication, which allows for easier measuring. In the future, Target might include a thin magnifying lens for people with vision problems and an "intelligent" label that will display a red X when the medication has expired.

Mistakes are made

Gina Upchurch is executive director of Senior PHARMAsist, a program that helps Durham seniors obtain the medications they need and avoid the ones they don't (www.senior-pharmacist.org). She said it's not unusual for someone to come in with five or six medications or more.

"We literally had one woman the other day that takes 37 medications, prescription or over-the-counter," she said.

According to a recent report by the Kaiser Family Foundation, almost 90 percent of seniors take prescription drugs. About 40 percent of the 17,685 surveyed in 2003 did not adhere to their doctors' directions, but mostly because of cost, because of bad experiences with the medication in the past or because they didn't think they needed the drug.

"The issues are even more primary than the way the bottle looks," Upchurch said. "They are, 'Are we listening to people? Are we engaging them in their own health care?'

She has known patients to take two doses of the same drug because they didn't realize their generic was the same as the brand-name sample they got at the doctor's office. About 17 percent can't read a label, she added.

She thinks that although most people should talk with their doctors, pharmacists and family members to make sure they are taking medication correctly, anything that makes the label easier to read is a step in the right direction. Her suggestions were to include both generic and brand names on the bottle, and to display prominently what the drug is for.

"Take this for your high cholesterol. Your high blood pressure. Your pain." That would be huge, especially for older adults," Upchurch said. "When somebody says, 'I take that as needed,' we'll say, 'As needed for what?' They go, 'I'm not really sure.' In the Target bottle, indications can be found on the patient information card.

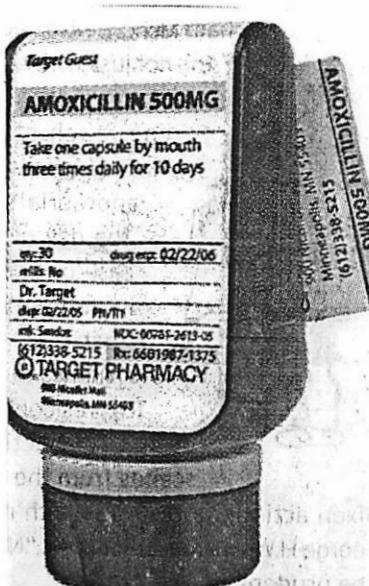

Work said he has floated ideas in the past of including voice-recorded instructions with prescription bottles, but that kind of thing costs a lot. And he has called for an improvement in graphics.

"For the elderly, who have poor eyesight, once they see the pictograms, they know what that means," he said. "Look at the Lipton Soup container. You see the cups of water. You can make it without having to know any kind of English at all."

Work hopes the Target bottle sparks other innovations.

"I think it's a long overdue change," he said.

Her mission is right drug, right dose for elderly

By JEAN P. FISHER
 STAFF WRITER

DURHAM — Winning an argument with Gina Upchurch is not easy, especially if the subject happens to be how best to ease the problems

TAR HEEL OF THE WEEK

many senior citizens have obtaining prescription drugs.

Upchurch, a Durham-born pharmacist and public health educator, already knows in her bones she's right.

The Peace Corps veteran and amateur folk musician strongly believes it isn't enough just to help older adults afford prescription drugs. She tells anyone who will listen that it's just as vital that senior citizens get the right medicines and that they know how to take them correctly.

"For every dollar we spend on prescription medication, we spend $1.34 fixing medication-related problems," Upchurch, 39, told a rapt group of church volunteer leaders at a recent workshop in Durham, citing a recent study. "My goal," she said, "is to get the right people the right medications in the right dosages at the right time."

Upchurch, no-nonsense with her bobbed hair tucked neatly behind her ears, is the energetic founder and executive director of a Durham program, Senior PHARMAssist, that provides senior citizens that complete assistance package. And, she'll tell you in her firm-yet-polite Southern way, any prescription drug aid program worth its salt should do the same.

"She's always willing to speak up, always willing to take that line," said Adam Searing, a friend and former UNC-CH School of Public Health classmate of Upchurch and fellow consumer health advocate. "Even when people are probably sick of hearing it, she'll tell them again. She's like a bloodhound on a trail."

Upchurch pushes hard for the approach because it works, she said. For example, an older man recently came to Senior PHARMAssist with medicines and inhalers in tow for a thorough review. The man, an asthmatic, complained that his inhaler didn't seem to be doing any good. Upchurch had him demonstrate how he was using the inhaler and quickly identified the problem — he was using it upside down.

"And this man had been to the emergency room time and time again," Upchurch said. "For all the systems and programs we have in place, we miss a lot of obvious things."

As a member of a committee that advised state officials on a planned prescription drug benefit for low-income senior citizens, for example, Upchurch insisted the program, N.C. CARxES, help senior citizens manage their medicines as well as help pay for them.

Despite the obvious merit in helping older adults unravel what often is a confusing morass of prescriptions from multiple doctors and multiple pharmacies, others on the committee thought the limited dollars available should buy drugs, not counseling, said Searing, who attended some of the meetings. More than once, Upchurch rose from her seat toward the end of the meeting to let it be known she felt "a great opportunity" was being missed, Searing recalled.

Upchurch's persistence paid off: The latest plan for N.C. CARxES allots about $3 million of its annual $35 million proposed budget for counseling, though Upchurch had hoped for more.

Friends say Upchurch's single-mindedness is both a great strength and a failing.

Gina Upchurch discusses medication with a patient at Senior PHARMAssist, where she is the executive director, in downtown Durham.

"If she has a weakness, it's that she's not terribly good at compromise," said Joan Pellettier, the longtime executive director of the Council for Senior Citizens, whom Upchurch counts as a mentor. "Gina believes so strongly in what she's doing and she's so very principled that it's difficult for her to see where concessions may need to be made, especially in a political context. She has the intellect to understand how things work, but no appreciation for it."

Valerie Rosenquist, an associate director of the Duke Endowment, called Upchurch a "national treasure."

"She's been a real leader in forwarding the holistic approach around prescription assistance," said Rosenquist, who last year nominated Upchurch and Senior PHARMAssist for a prestigious Robert Wood Johnson Community Health Leadership award.

Upchurch won the honor, which will bring $100,000 over three years to her program.

Upchurch said she gets her gumption, and much of her genuine admiration for older adults, from her great aunt, the late Emily "Kitty" Griggs.

When Senior PHARMAssist was just coming together in 1993, Upchurch often lunched with her Aunt Kitty or stopped by the woman's home on University Drive for dinner and conversation. They'd cover Upchurch's work, politics, popular culture, you name it. One night, Upchurch was really on a roll, talking passionately about some now-forgotten political point, thinking she was winning her great aunt over.

"And after a good while, I figured I had talked enough, so I stopped, and she put her fork down and looked at me and said, 'I see your point of view, but I mainly see mine,'" Upchurch recalls. "She heard me out, and that's what was important. I realized you can listen to others and still hold onto your deeply held beliefs."

Upchurch's passion for pharmacy comes from spending summer breaks from school hanging out behind the cool marble counters of her grandfather's Upchurch Pharmacy in Salisbury.

Bill "Doc" Upchurch and his granddaughter would eat cantaloupe every morning before heading down to the pharmacy. Young Gina — short for Eugenia, after Bill Upchurch's wife — would help count out pills as her grandfather filled prescription bottles and chatted with customers. Doc Upchurch agreed to barter with customers who didn't have cash for medicine. And, when his own health was failing toward the end of his life, he'd give the medicine away when people couldn't afford it.

Upchurch, much like her grandfather, has made the practice of pharmacy her life's work.

In fact, aside from a short stint as a staff pharmacist at UNC Hospitals before heading off to Botswana for a two-year tour as a U.S. Peace Corps science teacher from 1987 to 1989, Senior PHARMAssist has been her only job. She could earn up to $100,000 working for a retail chain or in the pharmaceutical industry but is content to earn less than half that as Senior PHARMAssist's director.

"I feel really blessed that my work is part of my life's mission," Upchurch said. "It truly doesn't feel like work."

Upchurch doesn't let work dominate her life. She's active in the service activities of the United Church of Chapel Hill, where she is a member. And she maintains close ties with two boys, Mothusi and Sheshane, she got to know in Botswana.

On a trip to Botswana last year, Upchurch helped them, now young men ages 25 and 26, sign up for computer training. Now, they send e-mail every few days, and Upchurch hopes they may eventually come to the United States to live and work.

"They are they closest thing to children I have in the world," she said.

Marnie Bason celebrates

Scores of friends and relatives greeted Marnie Hatchett Bason, widow of the late Samuel Murphrey Bason, long time president of the Bank of Yanceyville, in the Ramseur Room of Woodside Inn near Milton on August 24 from 3-5 p.m.

Hosting the celebration of their mother's 93rd birthday were her children Carolyn B. Long and husband, former Sen. Russell Long of Washington, D.C. and Louisiana; Dorothy B. Burke and husband John J. Burke of Charlotte; and Mr. and Mrs. William Bason of Jacksonville, Fla. A festive banner proclaiming "A Salute to Miss Marnie" was displayed at the entrance to the historic inn.

Those assisting with refreshments in the Rainey Room were Janis Parker, Dorothy Stogner, Bertha Cobb of Yanceyville, Bettie Wallington of Greensboro, and Sandy Bason of Burlington.

"Miss Marnie", as she is affectionately known by former students and friends of all ages, was born and reared in Caswell County and after her marriage she and Sam joined their efforts in many leadership capacities in church and civic affairs. Mr. Bason representing the county several terms in the State Senate.

In her remarks to the gathering, Mrs. Bason said she was having a wonderful and pleasant time and at 93 she was going to explain rather than complain. Thanking everyone for their expressions of friendship, she extended a welcome back home to two special guests: her great niece, Gina Upchurch, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Rivers

Marnie Bason

Upchurch of Reidsville, and William S. Bason, her nephew of Chapel Hill. Miss Upchurch has recently returned from two years in the Peace Corps at Botswana, Africa, while Mr. Bason has recently retired from the staff of Sloan-Kettering Hospital in New York City.

A surprise guest was Miss Cathy Palmer of Charlotte, fiancee of Jay Burke, Mrs. Bason's grandson, who received special greetings from the honoree. Mrs. Elizabeth McPherson received special congratulations on her selection as the 1989 recipient of the Humanitarian Service Award by Food Management Magazine for work toward African famine.

By special request, Mrs. Bason's former pastor, Dr. Donald Boulton of Chapel Hill, concluded the event with prayer. Guests received old-fashioned paper fans printed for the occasion as favors.

Hi

Just now I am doing followup work on the talk I gave in Apex on 12 MAY 2009. It was a pleasure to see so many there but I was disappointed in not being able to chat privately with you and others. Also, there were many more stories to tell but not enough time to get them all in.

If there is any aspect of the talk or any local history or family history matter you would like to explore or share, please feel free to contact me. For more on what I am doing you can have a look at my website <http://www.upchurchstory.com/>. For more on my background you can google Robert Phillip Upchurch and click on the oral history taken in 1994.

Debbie Douglass has mentioned to me several times the interactions you and she have had especially given that she lives in your grandfather's house. I am really anxious to collaborate with you on exchanging Upchurch information. We can work by email and regular mail but at some point I hope we can meet for a relaxed chat. Please let me know your desires in these matters.

I really enjoyed my visit in Apex and am grateful to Debbie Douglass as the key person in The Apex Historical Society for arrangements and to The Halle Cultural Center for their co-sponsorship.

Page 3, Item 20-B, Feb 25, 1978, visit to Lena Perry: Startled to read gossip about my Aunt Sadie! Aunt Sadie married Uncle Harry on Jan 2, 1904, and their only child, John Harry Holcombe, Jr., was born Oct 8, 1904. I have a copy of the death certificate of Eleanor Marks Upchurch. It states her length of residence in Jacksonville prior her death on Oct 4, 1927, as 20 years. In the 1910 Jacksonville Census I located her living in the household of John J. and Aunt Belle. (You may already have a copy of this census record, but I'm enclosing a copy + my handwritten transcription.) Neither my cousin Jean Augur Kilgore nor Frances Register (10 and 9 years older than me) had ever heard this story about Aunt Sadie. We can't prove it untrue at this point, but I personally will be surprised if documentation is discovered. Sadie would have been over age 60 by the time of my first memory of her, but she always impressed me as cheerful and lively. (She and my grandmother Eulah both talked a mile a minute.) Uncle Harry was a hospital administrator, and Aunt Sadie was a social coordinator for hospital functions and such. She gave my mother a beautiful dress for her high school graduation which is preserved in a studio photograph. I remember her as such a proper lady that a picture of her as an outcast just won't form.

[RPH]

Page 5, Item 31, Dec 28, 1980, phone call to Walter Daniel Martin: I never knew Uncle Harvey, but can vouch that Sadie was not a "ne'er-do-well." I visited in her home regularly between the ages of about 8 to 15 (and maybe prior to the age of 4, although I don't remember it). It was not huge but neat and pretty, and in the nicest old neighborhood in Jacksonville.

Their suggestion:

I found her marker in Oakwood Cemetery in Raleigh, NC buried beside her first husband James Pollard instead of with her 2nd husband Francis Dodson Hessey in Melbourne, FL. I added the grave photo but the cemetery location should be changed. (I not related - I was taking a volunteer photo for James Pollard and stumbled upon this one).

Recalling days at the old Stop School

Editor's Note—Following is a recollection of the old Stop School, as written by Wayne County resident Oscar Franklin.

If I remember right, my mother told me that she went to a log school house that set out closer to the road than the other two buildings did. Lula Poe also made mention of a log school house.

The last building was built in 1950, and the one before it, I have a picture of a group of students and a teacher dated in 1912. This is the building that my wife Gladys and I went to. I started in 1934 and went until 1936 in the seventh and eighth grades.

I lived down on Otter Creek at that time at the old home place, and as we stepped out of the door we began climbing this hill above us first thing and it was about three blocks long. It was a good two country miles from home to school.

We always looked forward to Christmas time. The teachers would treat us. Stick candy was the main treat in those days and maybe the students would get an orange or a banana. I remember some coming to get the treat who hadn't been there for school most of the year.

The Stop School playground was the favorite gathering place, especially on the weekends. At school, we played that was called "townball." I don't know how they came up with a name like that. When you hit the ball they would get the ball and try to throw it in front of you before you got on base. If they did you were out. They called it "cross out."

There was an old church building set near the road under two large oak trees and between the building and the oak trees is where we

How Stop Got Its Name (12-17-1910)

This was told to us by Lula Upchurch Poe.

Her father, John Upchurch, had a General Store and was waiting on some government men to come and name a new Post Office which he was to have.

Uncle John saw the men coming up the road on horses, evidently traveling fast, and ran out the door waving his arms and shouting, "Stop! Stop!"

He was afraid they would pass on down the road. The government men said that is as good a name as any. So that was what the new Stop Post Office was called.

pitched horse shoes.

We had some large stone marbles we played with, one of the oak trees had a hollow root above ground where we put the marbles after we were done playing.

We played basketball also. I remember our basketball was rubber inflated with air and it would bounce higher than a regular basketball. So, when another school came to play us we would use their ball for the first half and ours the last half.

The school house had two rooms with a sliding door between the two rooms. Everett Sloan was my teacher and Eva Ramsey taught the lower grades in 1934 and Bonnie Denney taught the lower grades in

Our desks were double, two students sat together. I had three different buddies while I was there and one of them was a cousin of mine, Woodrow Bell and he chewed tobacco. We sat in the row next to the window so he sat by the window and when he caught the teacher's head turned, he would spit out the window.

One hot summer day after we had eaten lunch, we came in the room and the teacher sat down and propped his feet up on his desk and he went to sleep.

Believe it or not we were all quiet so we wouldn't wake him up. We had our grades five, six, seven, and eight in our room.

Sometimes those who were unruly, they would have them stand on tiptoes facing the blackboard and the teacher would make a small ring on the blackboard with chalk the height their nose came to and they stood tiptoe with their nose in this ring.

They also had the right to whip the children when they did something wrong.

I remember in particular this boy sassed the teacher and the teacher got his pointing stick and whipped him with it and broke it in pieces. And also when a child got a whipping at school, most of them they got another one when they got home.

We said Bible verses about every morning. This helped us memorize these verses.

Several of the boys were from farm families and they had to help in the crops, so they had to miss school to do this.

We always looked forward to Christmas time. The teachers would treat us. Stick candy was the main treat in those days and maybe the students would get an orange or a banana. I remember some coming to get the treat who hadn't been there for school most of the year.

The boys about all of them wore overalls and a straw hat, but most of us went barefoot during the summer. I remember my mother telling about living down on Otter Creek and the creek was frozen over and her two brothers, Bob and Silas, were skating on the ice barefoot.

I guess their feet were tough from going barefoot all summer.

One of my buddies I sat with, Junior Guffey, had a pony he rode to school and as we all went down the road going home he would have his pony stand on his two hind feet like the Lone Ranger's horse did.

We always dreaded when they came to give us our shots. Those big old needles hurt and also our arms would swell and get sore.

A cousin of mine, Kathryn Southerland who lived down on Otter Creek below Cabel, told me that she came to the Stop School for four years.

Children from two or three families rode in a covered wagon for about six or seven miles one way each day to school.

I don't know exactly when Stop School started, but we know it was in operation in 1910. I have information to this effect. And then it closed its doors in 1958. Elsie Matthews was the last teacher to teach at Stop.

There were a lot of people who went to school at Stop through the years, many of them I knew when they were grown.

Many of us have fond memories of going to school at Stop.

James Bernard worked as a store clerk in a drug according to his son, Reid. Since he had been sick and unable to work for a long time they were poor. Mama told me they did not realize how poor they were because no one else had much either. After "Bun" died, my grandmother Ophelia did not have means to take care of the 5 children. James Redoluphs "Dol" and Florence Ann (Johnson) Mitchell, (her parents) went in the wagon to their home and loaded all to go and live with them. They moved from the town of Buies Creek to the country of Buies Creek. Since grandpa Dol was a farmer there was now plenty of food. She told me even though times were hard they never went hungry and always felt loved and wanted by their grandparents. They helped with the farm when they could. Ophelia helped cook for the farm hands.

Mama had a bit of artist in her but no one else seem to share her talent even in the next generation. There are 3 pastel chalk pictures she did when she was about 12-13 years old that survived. Guess the rest were not kept. I have one, my sister has one and a Bayles cousin that my mother was very close to has the 3rd. For a young child they are wonderful, however she was not allowed to pursue "this useless pastime." Many years later my father encouraged her to try again. She took lessons in oil painting. Family members now share her paintings. Several years before her death, she put the name of who was to inherit her work on the back of each picture. Of course my sister and I had 1st choice. Mama's oil paintings are proudly displayed.

On medical history:

Mama was diagnosed with Diabetes in her 50's. About the same time, her oldest sister Lucille and cousin Una Earl (daughter of Charles Herbert) both discovered they also had it. They thought it must have come from the Upchurch side since Una Earl had it too. Do you know of any other family members with diabetes. Would be interesting to know if their theory was correct.

} MAT

Dear Mrs Williams,

When I talked with you on 17 JUL 1982 I thought I could write right away but some out-of-state travel has kept me busy. I talked to Mary Reba (Derning) Moore, to Mary Frances (Upchurch) Bayler and to James Reid Upchurch and made quite a bit of progress. If we will all pool information we will increase the chance of connecting your line to the rest of the Upchurches. We are all related. See the attached flyer.

It is hard to know where to start so lets start with the easy questions which are:

- 1) When and where were you born?
- 2) What is your present husband's full name, when and where was he born and when and where were you married?
- 3) What was your first husband's full name, when and where was he born and when and where were you married? Is your first husband deceased? If so - date & place of death & place of burial?

(5)

- 4) For Mary Ellen Barr
 a) when and where born?
 b) when and where married?
 c) Full name of your parents and when & where born?
- 5) For Linda Joe Williams
 a) when and where born?
 b) when and where married?
 c) Full name of Anjester M'Phail and when and where born?
- 6) Can you provide details on your brother Fred Edridge II?
- 7) When & where was Charles Herbert II born, when and where died, when and where married?
- 8) When and where was Mary Ella Stewart born, when and where did she die?
- 9) Any idea on how we can get details on your GF James II?

We know your ggf was Benjamin II. In the 1850 census of Cumberland Co, NC he and 2 other young II males appear in separate households. (Harnett Co was a part of Cumberland until 1855). None of the 3 households were headed by an orphan. Benjamin II was age 20, John II was age 19 and Nathan II was age 18. We figure these 3 were probably brothers put out into the community under ~~a~~ three different guardianships. Sooner or later we hope to find their parents. Let me hear from you.

Sincerely yours

MARION STEWART BYRD
"MEMORIES OF COUSINS AND FRIENDS"

Thinking back on my childhood and teen years in Harnett County in the Buiies Creek area brings memories of many cousins and friends.

One vivid memory is of what I did to my cousin, Mabel Stewart Smith, about 1915 or 1916. Our Uncle Bud Stewart was a barber. So one day I talked Mabel into playing barber shop and I was to be the barber. Mabel was four or five and I was six or seven years old. I tied one of Grandma Stewart's black and white checked aprons around Mabel's neck as I thought a barber would do. Then I cut off a Shirley Temple, sausage curl as short as possible on each side of her head. When Aunt Linda, Mabel's mother, saw the hair cut, she broke into tears, very upset about the appearance of her beautiful little girl. I don't remember what happened to me, but I imagine I shed a few tears after the spanking I probably received for being the barber.

Another memory is of what I did to Euna Earl Upchurch, another cousin. For some reason, I was digging a hole in the yard with a hoe. Euna Earl leaned over to look into the hole and I came down on her head with the sharp hoe, cutting a gash in her head. Seeing blood frightened us, but I don't think she needed a doctor.

There are many memories of cousins growing up on the Wire Road, now Old Stage Road or Highway 27. Carlyle Harmon and I were in a history class together, and the teacher had us learning dates. Carlyle, with his brilliant mind, had no problem but I did. I was so jealous of the way he could remember all the dates the teacher required.

I was the oldest of the cousins in my age group — Mabel, Teeny, and Ashley Stewart were near my age. Their mother, Aunt Linda, made beautiful clothes for them and me. We looked after and loved the younger children — Ashley, Thelma, and Billy. Uncle Haighwood and Aunt Linda were wonderful parents.

Other special cousins were David K. Stewart, Catherine Stewart, and Martha Stewart, children of Kirkland and Blanche Stewart. I thought of these cousins as brothers and sisters. Billy and Martha were born after I moved away. Those are fond memories of my teen age years.

I often visited and enjoyed being with Mattie and Daisy Stewart, Aunt Rena's girls. There are memories of many fun times in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Collier, with the girls, Bernice and Teeny Collier, and their older brothers, Dick, Jim, and David. The brothers treated me like a sister. The oldest Collier daughter, Blanche, was my aunt.

It turned out nicely. A list of those attending the lecture is enclosed. Please let me know if there are corrections or additions.

Thanks for your renewal on the U.B. for yourself and Jack for 1990. I have talked with Jack by phone recently. He has a lot of family information you and others gave him which he plans to send me in 1990.

3) For your Aunt Edela D. Upchurch

a) what was her husband name? (④)
