

- ① RPU Notes Re 1920 Dispositions of Tract No 7 of the Property of BARTLEY JEFFERSON U - RPU 16 JUN 2016
- BACKGROUND - About 1920 BSU gave all of his property to his 11 children. The survey revealed 4 tracts of about 35 acres each reaching Mid-Pines Road. Tract 7 was the northern most of the 4. Tract No 6 adjoined it to the South having been deeded to Eleanor M. Martin (nee Eleanor Markham, II) was DB 358 PG 42 - deed made 10 FEB 1920. Tract No 7 transactions described below contained 15 Acres given to my father Robert Jefferson U.

TRANSACTIONS RE TRACT NO 7

- ① On 11 MAY 1920 BSU made a deed gifting the western 15 Acres of Tract No. 7 to RPU - BK 368 PG 340
- ② On X MAR 1922 BSU sold the 15 Acres to HENRY A. MEDLIN - BK 381 PG 559 for $10+?
- ③ On 15 MAY 1922 BSU sold his 20 Acres to HENRY A. MEDLIN for $750 BK 393 PG 132 - See attached related document.

COMMENTARY

- ① I propose that BSU gave RPU his land thru others because he had supported RPU during his youthful indulgence - but RPU married on 14 FEB 1920 so maybe BSU now had hopes for him
- ② Re the 20 Acres - At about age 10 \pm 2 (1936-1940) I walked over the 20 Acre Tract & noticed a tenant house occupied & a thinly clad young couple. One of several BSU tenant names

Notes from RPH/SSU Visit with William Herbert
Kempner in Greensboro, NC on 23 DEC 2013

I brought up the desk of BJU & Bill offered that his plan had been for it to come to me.
I explained VAFB and the prospect of a repository in Wake Co. NC. He would be comfortable with it being there. He offered to sign a piece of paper designating me as the future owner of the desk "when the time comes". I am to buy a such a paper. He said he rented a trailer to keep the desk up to Greensboro. It was dusty/moldy & Mother used a hose to wash it off. There destroyed the Raleigh - Boston Railroad schedule which was on the desk. Bill says he & Pat saw an identical desk for sale in Danville, VA.

Bill says he has an old clock that came from my Mother but it is not the clock that he saw Aunt Marie send to the BJU home.

- A. Fair remembers Grandpa Bartley Jefferson U. she and other children would say "Grandpa tell us a tale." He would reply "Do you want me to tell you a long tale or a short tale". They would say "Grandpa tell us a long tale." He would say "A dog has a long tale". Then he would tell a story.
- B. Pg 5 shows Nathan or father of Bartley Jefferson U. - This is incorrect as it was Gilbert. Bartley was b 1841, his father d 1845
- C. "In July 1862 Grandpa went to the Civil War. When the war was over he had been taken prisoner. He was kept a prisoner at Elmira, New York for 11 months. During the war he was wounded three times. When he was released from prison he was almost starved to death and almost frozen. They turned him out to die. I think he told me he weighed about 85 lbs. He was so weak he couldn't get on the train by himself - so he paid a negro $5.00 to put him on. Grandpa was 21 years old when he went to war (about 24 when he got out).

He came home to Green Level and tried to farm

Grandpa had a blind brother and sister (Uncle Jar and Aunt Martha)

Grandpa (Bartley Jefferson U) moved from Green Level to 20 miles north of Raleigh. He stayed there about 4 years where he met Aurora Ray and married her in 1869. They continued to live there for a year and then they moved to Rhamkattus 1870. They built the old home place (Grandpa's house - Woodland) (Bill & Grandpa). They moved in in September Jena Judson U was b before they moved in New Home at Rhamkattus. She was born July 1870.

(4) He was called "Meeting House" to distinguish him from other Upchurches in the regiment.

(5) In 3 JUL 1863 Battle he was posted as a sharpshooter 200 yds in front of Confederate breastworks at 4:00 AM. He dug a little hole for protection and shot all of his 40 rounds before 10 AM killing a Yankee with almost every shot. Out of ammunition and unable to return to line for more because of exposure he stayed there til 1:00 PM at which time the Confederate Gun (250) fired twice in one minute and broke up a Yankee Charge. That night another soldier took his place.

"with reference to Bartley Jefferson Upchurch, my grandfather told me he was the youngest in the family. on one occasion when I was a student at the University of North Carolina I visited Uncle Jeff at his farm close to Raleigh. As I recall he was at the time a widower and lived with a blind sister whom I did not meet. He spoke of being a Confederate veteran and having been captured during the war and confined in a Yankee prison where he amused himself shooting at rats with a slingshot. He took me to his barn and showed me a mule which he said was a very fine mule which he bought from an itinerant mule trader and he said there was nothing wrong with the mule except that it did not work and he could not break it, which greatly amused him. — continued —

He told me that he had given all of his property to his children with an understanding that each of them would give him $100.00 a year and permit him to live in the homestead. Papa was preaching at Creedmore, NC when he held a meeting at Inwood Church and met and married ^{30 DEC 1896} Mama (Eleanor Marks U II). Their first child was born at Creedmore (ca 18 DEC 1897) but Papa soon moved to Inwood & bought the Dave Smith House where Beatrice & I were born (2 NOV 1901 & 22 DEC 1904). Papa moved back to Creedmore ca 1907, I think. Dave Smith in his younger days was Grampa's (Bartley Jefferson U) book keeper. Dave tried to "court" Mama.

I don't remember too much about what the children of Bartley Jefferson U did. Mama (Eleanor Marks U II) was the only girl to work outside the home. She taught school. Aunt Lena served the family & cooked. Aunt Maud ran errands & went to the store. Uncle Gellys all seemed to be home a lot when we went.

Dear Phillip:

Thanks for sending the article on the prison at Elmira, N.Y. where our grandfather was held. Grandfather told me about his stay at the prison.

He said that they were fed two meals per day. One meal was boiled vegetables and a slice of bread. The other meal was the water the vegetables were cooked in and one slice of bread.

At one time the guards standing on the wall around the prison yard thought that it was great sport to shoot into the mass of prisoners standing in the yard to see how many they could kill with one shot. When this was repeated several times, the Confederate Commander asked to see the Commander of the prison and told the prison Commander that if this occurred one more time the Confederate prisoners would rush the guards and kill every Yankee in the prison.

In the high school story that I wrote about Grandfather, I told about the twenty dollars that his officer had given him which was taken from a Yankee that Grandfather had shot while being given his sniper post for the day. This $20 was rolled up in Grandfather's coat sleeve and was used to pay a large black man to push Grandfather on the train that was to take him home at the end of the Civil War. Grandfather was so weak that he could not get on the train without help. I never hear him say that he was paroled before the end of the war.

(41) FROM VOL III NORTH CAROLINA TROOPS 1861-1865

COMPILED BY LOUIS H. MANARIS, RALEIGH: STATE
DIVISION OF ARCHIVES & HISTORY 1971

1st REGIMENT N. C. STATE TROOPS

The 1st Regiment N.C. State Troops was organized at Warrenton, Warren County, June 3, 1861. On July 22, 1861, the regiment was ordered to Richmond, Virginia. Only eight companies proceeded to Richmond, however, since Companies D and I had not completed their organization. The eight companies remained in camp near Richmond until ordered to the Aquia District on August 15, 1861. Arriving there at 6:00 P.M. that day, the regiment went into camp at Camp Bee, Brooke's Station. On August 30, 1861, Companies D and I joined the regiment at Camp Bee. Company B was detached in September, 1861, and stationed at Game Point Battery. With the exception of two marches, the regiment remained in camp. From November 9 to 15 it marched to Mathias Point and returned, and from December 9 to 17 it marched to Chatterton and returned.

When the regiment was assigned to the Aquia District it was ordered to report to General Theophilus H. Holmes, commanding. As the number of troops increased they were brigaded, and this regiment was assigned to Brigadier General John C. Walker's Brigade. In addition to this regiment, the brigade consisted of the 2nd and 3rd Regiments N.C. State Troops, 30th Regiment Virginia Infantry, and the 1st Regiment Arkansas Infantry. During its stay in the Aquia District the regiment aided in the construction of batteries at Aquia Creek and Evansport. On January 27, 1862, Company A was ordered to duty at Game Point Battery.

When General A. E. Burnside's troops began advancing from New Bern, troops were sent to North Carolina from Virginia. The regiment received orders to move on March 22, 1862, and marched to Fredericksburg on March 23. There it took the train to Richmond on March 24. Arriving at Richmond on the same day, the regiment proceeded by rail to Petersburg. On March 25 the regiment moved by rail to Goldsboro and went into camp near that town on the Wilmington and Weldon Railroad for about ten days. It then moved to a point on the Atlantic and North Carolina Railroad about four miles from Goldsboro, where the entire brigade had encamped at Camp McIntosh. Here the brigade remained until ordered to Petersburg, Virginia, where it began arriving on May 27. From Petersburg a portion of the brigade moved to Drewry's Bluff, while this regiment was ordered to Richmond. It arrived on the battlefield of Seven Pines just after the battle of May 31. Here it was assigned to a new brigade commanded by Brigadier General Roswell S. Ripley, Major General D. H. Hill's Division. In addition to this regiment, Ripley's Brigade consisted of the 3rd Regiment N.C. State Troops and the 44th and 48th Regiments Georgia Infantry. On June 15, 1862, the regiment was engaged in a skirmish near Seven Pines.

On the morning of June 26, 1862, the brigade moved from its camp near the Williamsburg Road, about five miles from Richmond, to Chickahominy Bridge on the Mechanicsville Turnpike. General Robert E. Lee was concentrating his troops to attack the Federal right at Mechanicsville. At 4:00 P.M., June 26, 1862, the brigade crossed the bridge to aid General A. P. Hill's troops engaged at Mechanicsville. This regiment and the 44th Regiment Georgia Infantry were ordered to move to assist Brigadier General William D. Pender's Brigade and moved against the Federal position at Ellerson's Mill. The attack was made against heavy artillery and infantry fire. Reaching the pond opposite the enemy, the two regiments halted and moved by the right flank into a skirt of woods. The unsuccessful attack cost the regiment 142 men killed and wounded. The 44th Regiment Georgia Infantry lost 335 men killed and wounded. During the night of June 26-27 the survivors of the regiment were gathered together. A portion of the regiment was detailed to guard the Chickahominy Bridge, while a battalion of the regiment, under Captain Hamilton A. Brown, rejoined the brigade. This battalion remained with the brigade throughout the Seven Days' Battles and was engaged on June 27 at Gaines' Mill, where it lost 4 killed and 16 wounded, and on July 1 at Malvern Hill, where it lost 9 killed, 60 wounded, and 6 missing. All totaled, the regiment lost 51 killed and 175 wounded in three of the five major battles of the Seven Days'.

Following the unsuccessful attack on Malvern Hill, the brigade remained in bivouac near that place until it returned to its camp near Richmond on July 9-10. Here it remained until marched to Malvern Hill on August 6, returning to Richmond on the night of August 7. D. H. Hill's Division was left in front of Richmond to watch McClellan's troops at Harrison's Landing while Jackson and then Longstreet moved to confront General John Pope in middle Virginia. On August 19 General Ripley's Brigade moved by rail to Orange Court House, arriving the next day. The balance of Hill's Division moved up and joined Ripley's Brigade and then proceeded to join the Army of Northern Virginia on August 28. The division reached the army on September 2 at Chantilly and crossed into Maryland on September 4-5. Upon reaching Frederick, the army halted, and General Lee determined to send Jackson to capture Harpers Ferry while Longstreet moved to Hagerstown. On September 10 D. H. Hill's Division moved out of Frederick as the rear guard of Longstreet's column. Mounting pressure from the advancing Federals, plus the necessity of protecting Jackson at Harpers Ferry, resulted in the deployment of Hill's Division on the South Mountain gaps below Boonsboro on September 13. This regiment, still in Ripley's Brigade, saw heavy action at Fox's Gap on September 14 and withdrew the next day to follow the army now concentrating at Sharpsburg. Arriving at Antietam Creek on September 15, the brigade went into position on the heights east of the creek. Here they bivouacked through the evening of the next day, when they were moved to the extreme left of General Hill's line and connected with the right of General Jackson's line.

On the morning of September 17 the Federals advanced against Jackson's line. During the seesaw battle, Ripley's Brigade was ordered to close to his left and advance. In the charge General Ripley was wounded, and Colonel George Doles assumed command of the brigade. The brigade advanced as far as the Miller cornfield, when the entire advance was forced to retire. The brigade withdrew and went into position west of the Hagerstown Road. The fighting then shifted to the Confederate center, and the troops on the left established a new line. The fighting continued on the center and right until the Federals discontinued efforts to drive the Confederates from the field. The following day the troops rested on the field and retired across the Potomac during the night of September 18. During the Maryland campaign the regiment lost 18 killed and 148 wounded.

The Army of Northern Virginia remained in the Shenandoah Valley until the Army of the Potomac crossed over east of the Blue Ridge. Using his cavalry, Lee sought to discover the enemy's intentions. On October 28, 1862, Longstreet's Corps moved east of the mountains to Culpeper Court House while Jackson's Corps moved closer to Winchester. D. H. Hill's Division was posted at the forks of the Shenandoah River to guard the mountain passes. On October 31 this regiment was at Upper-ville, just east of the mountains. On November 7, 1862, Colonel Doles was promoted to brigadier general and assumed command of the brigade.

When the enemy's intention was discerned, Lee moved Longstreet to Fredericksburg and ordered Jackson to prepare to move. Hill's Division was pulled back, and on November 21 the regiment left Strasburg in column of march for Gordonsville. From Gordonsville it moved to Fredericksburg. On December 3 Hill's Division was sent to Port Royal, below Fredericksburg, to prevent any crossing at or near that point. Here it stayed until ordered to Fredericksburg on December 12. The division arrived in the morning of December 13 and was placed in the third line of battle. During the Battle of Fredericksburg, December 13, 1862, the division was subjected to heavy artillery fire but saw little action. After the battle it was moved up to the second line. On the 15th it went into the first line where it remained through the 16th. While on the field, the regiment was never actually engaged but suffered 15 wounded from the artillery fire.

Following the Battle of Fredericksburg, the regiment went into winter quarters on the Rappahannock River near Skinker's Neck. There it spent the winter on picket duty. On January 19, 1863, the regiment was transferred to Brigadier General William B. Taliaferro's Brigade, Major General Isaac R. Trimble's Division, Jackson's Corps. General Taliaferro was transferred on February 20, 1863, and Brigadier General Raleigh E. Colston was assigned to command the brigade. In addition to this regiment, the brigade consisted of the 3rd Regiment N.C. State Troops and the 10th, 23rd, and 37th Regiments Virginia Infantry. On April 29, 1863, the division received orders to march to Hamilton's Crossing, below Fredericksburg. General Hooker's Federal army had moved up the left bank of the Rappahannock to cross over behind the Confederates at Fredericksburg, and General Lee was moving to oppose it. The two armies would meet at Chancellorsville.

Jackson's Corps moved down the Orange and Fredericksburg Plank Road toward Chancellorsville on May 1. It reached the Confederate position that evening, and early the next day Jackson's men started the flank march which carried them to a point on the exposed right flank of Hooker's army about four miles west of Chancellorsville. General Colston was in command of the division, which was placed in the second of three lines preparatory to the advance. The brigade was commanded by the senior colonel and was on the right of the divisional line. Soon after the advance the second line began to catch up to the first line, and the two became one as they drove in Hooker's right flank. The advance continued until night, when strong resistance forced a halt.

During the night the lines were reformed, and the brigade was placed on the left side of the Plank Road in the second line. Early the next morning, May 3, the brigade was moved to the right and sent in to support the first line. As the battle raged, a threatened Federal flank attack was met and driven back. During this action the brigade lost four commanders, and Lieutenant Colonel Hamilton A. Brown of this regiment assumed command as ranking officer. The regiment was commanded at the end by Acting Adjutant 1st Lieutenant John A. Morgan. Under these repeated attacks, supported by heavy artillery fire and the pressure exerted on the Federal left and center by troops under Lee, the Federal army began to retire. Once over the strong Federal entrenchments, which had been the object of attack, the Confederates converged on Chancellorsville. From there, the remnants of the brigade were ordered to advance on the left of the United States Ford Road. Finding the enemy strongly posted, the troops were ordered to retire and went into position in the vicinity of the Chancellor house. The next morning the entire brigade was ordered to entrench on the right, perpendicular to the United States Ford Road. In this new line the regiment acted as infantry support to a battery. Here it remained for two days. Finding the Federal army had recrossed the Rappahannock River on May 6, Lee moved his army back to Fredericksburg.

Colston's Brigade was left at United States Ford, where the men supervised the movement of Federal ambulances sent over to care for the Federal wounded. Upon the completion of this task the brigade rejoined the division at Hamilton's Crossing, below Fredericksburg, on May 15. During the Chancellorsville campaign the regiment lost 32 killed, 140 wounded, and 27 missing.

Following the Chancellorsville campaign and the death of Jackson, the Army of Northern Virginia was divided into three corps. Colston's Brigade was assigned to Major General Edward Johnson's Division.

Lieutenant General Richard S. Ewell's 2nd Corps. On May 28 General Colston was relieved from duty, and Brigadier General George H. Steuart was assigned to command the brigade. Thus, for the coming campaign the regiment would be in Steuart's Brigade, Johnson's Division, Ewell's Corps. The division left camp near Hamilton's Crossing on June 5 and moved with the corps in the direction of Winchester, crossing the Blue Ridge at Chester Gap. At daylight on the morning of June 13 the division left camp at Cedarville and moved down the Winchester and Front Royal turnpike toward Winchester. General Ewell sent Major General Jubal Early's Division down the Valley turnpike to gain the heights west of Winchester. Johnson's Division proceeded to within four miles of Winchester, where they encountered the enemy. The division was deployed with the Stonewall Brigade and Steuart's Brigade on the right of the road and the other two brigades of the division on the left. The brigades on the right advanced under cover of woods to a position nearer town and halted. Here the two brigades remained until the morning of June 14, when they were moved farther to the right. Johnson's mission was to engage the enemy's attention on the right while Early moved in on the left to deliver the main attack.

After nightfall, Johnson received orders to proceed farther to the right and get behind the town to cut the Federal line of retreat. Steuart's Brigade was ordered to move together with another brigade and artillery supports. Moving by way of Jordan Springs, Johnson succeeded in getting his men into position at Stephenson's just as the retreating Federals charged. With the aid of the Stonewall Brigade, Johnson succeeded in routing the Federals and captured between 2,300 and 2,600 prisoners. The men of the regiment mounted some captured horses and attempted to overtake General Robert H. Milroy, the Federal commander, but failed to do so. In this action at Winchester and Stephenson's the regiment lost 5 killed and 12 wounded.

On June 18 the regiment, with the brigade, crossed the Potomac River at Shepherdstown and camped on the old battlefield at Sharpsburg. From this camp the division marched, via Hagerstown and Chambersburg, to within three miles of Carlisle, Pennsylvania. Steuart's Brigade had been ordered to McConnellsburg from Greencastle to collect horses, cattle, and other supplies. It rejoined the division near Carlisle. On June 29 the division moved to Greenville and then to Gettysburg, where it arrived too late to participate in the action on July 1. That evening the division moved through Gettysburg and formed a line of battle facing south.

Late the next day, after a heavy artillery engagement, the division advanced over Rock Creek to assault the Federal positions on Culp's Hill. The brigade was on the extreme left of the advancing line. This regiment was held in reserve until ordered to support the 3rd Regiment N.C. State Troops on the right of the brigade line. After taking the first line of works, efforts to take the second line failed, but the Confederates successfully defended their position against repeated attacks. During the night of July 2-3, four companies of this regiment were posted as pickets on the opposite side of Rock Creek. The remaining six companies were placed on the extreme left flank of the brigade. The next morning, July 3, a general assault failed to dislodge the Federal defenders. Later Steuart's Brigade was withdrawn to Rock Creek, where it remained the rest of the day.

Failure to break the Federal center by the Pickett-Pettigrew charge during the afternoon of July 3 necessitated withdrawal. Johnson's Division was withdrawn across Rock Creek and retired through the town to a position north and west of Gettysburg during the night of July 3-4. On July 5 the division began the retreat to Virginia by way of Waynesboro to Hagerstown. A line of battle was established at Hagerstown, but no general engagement occurred. On the night of July 13 the division recrossed the Potomac and marched to near Martinsburg. During the Gettysburg campaign the regiment lost 4 killed and 48 wounded.

From Martinsburg the division moved to Darkesville on July 15, then back to Martinsburg to destroy the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad and repel an enemy advance. When the Federal army began crossing the Potomac River east of the Blue Ridge, General Lee moved his army east of the mountains to interpose it between the enemy and Richmond. By August 1, 1863, the Army of Northern Virginia was encamped near Orange Court House, with the Army of the Potomac at Warrenton. By August 4 Lee withdrew his army to the Rapidan River line. In October Lee attempted to turn the flank of the Federal army. The movement maneuvered the Federal commander into falling back, and on October 14 the Federal rear guard was intercepted at Bristoe Station. Failure to coordinate the attack resulted in the escape of the Federal rear guard and in heavy casualties to A. P. Hill's troops. The regiment took part in the movement as part of the brigade and division, but Ewell's Corps was not engaged at Bristoe Station.

With the escape of the Federal army to Centreville, Lee retired to the upper Rappahannock River. The Federal army soon followed and overran Lee's positions at Rappahannock Bridge on November 7. Lee withdrew his army south across the upper Rapidan River, toward Orange Court House. On November 26 the Federal army crossed the lower Rapidan and turned west to face Lee's army. Lee thought the Federal army was heading south and moved to strike it on its flank. On November 27 the two armies met at Payne's Farm, where this regiment was heavily engaged, losing 5 men killed and 50 wounded. The action proved to Lee that the Federals were advancing westward, not southward. He therefore withdrew his army to Mine Run and entrenched to await attack. General Meade moved his army up and began entrenching opposite the Confederate line. Finding the Federal left flank exposed, Lee determined to strike it. However, General Meade discovered his flank was exposed and decided to withdraw. When Lee's men began to advance on the morning of December 2, they found that the entire Federal army had withdrawn across the Rapidan. Thus ended the Mine Run campaign. Both armies went into winter quarters. This regiment built winter quarters near Pisgah Church and did picket duty at Mitchell's and Morton's fords during the winter of 1863-1864.

The morning of May 4, 1864, dawned with Stuart's Brigade picketing along the upper Rapidan River, while the Federal army under General U. S. Grant was moving across the lower Rapidan. About noon the brigade was put in motion toward the Old Turnpike, along which Johnson's Division would advance as the lead element of Ewell's Corps. The night of May 4-5 was spent in bivouac some two and one-half miles east of Locust Grove. Contact was made with the enemy as the column moved forward on May 5, and Ewell began to deploy his troops. Before his deployment was completed, the enemy launched a surprise attack which routed one brigade and seriously threatened the destruction of another. General Stuart's Brigade moved in on the left of the threatened brigade, while General Ewell advanced fresh troops directly into the threatened area. The whole line moved forward to repulse the Federal advance. In the counterattack Stuart's Brigade captured the 146th Regiment New York Infantry and two guns. Efforts to storm a heavily entrenched Federal line failed, and Ewell's men retired and established their own line. This ended the fighting on this part of the long Confederate line.

It was quiet on the brigade front on May 6, and on May 7 it was discovered that the enemy had retired. Late in the evening of May 7 orders came to close up on the right. Throughout the night of May 7-8 the troops moved to the right. On May 8 the brigade marched to Spotsylvania Court House, where Lee had placed his army to confront Grant's advance. Late in the evening of May 8 the brigade was put into position on the right side of the salient and was firmly entrenched when dawn broke on the morning of May 9. Johnson's Division was placed in that portion of the Confederate line which resembled an inverted V and became known as the Mule Shoe. Stuart's Brigade was on the right side of the Mule Shoe, and on May 10, when the left side was attacked, Stuart's men faced to the rear and advanced to recapture the line.

The initial success of the Federal attack forced the Confederates to strengthen their lines on May 11. As the morning of May 12 began to dawn, a heavy fog lay close to the ground. It began to lift slightly about 4:30 A.M. The noise of activity during the night had led Generals Johnson and Stuart to expect an attack, and they had their men as ready as possible and anticipated the momentary return of the artillery which had been withdrawn the previous evening. However, before the artillery arrived, the Federals advanced in column formation, broke through the Confederate lines, and captured most of Johnson's Division. The Confederates succeeded in stopping the attackers and in driving them back, but the captured men had already been taken to the rear. Because so many of the men had been captured, including General Stuart, Stuart's Brigade ceased to exist as a unit. All but about 30 men of the 1st Regiment N.C. State Troops were captured.

The survivors of the three Virginia regiments in Stuart's Brigade were consolidated into a brigade with the survivors from two other Virginia brigades. The two North Carolina regiments (1st and 3rd Regiments N.C. State Troops) were assigned to Brigadier General Stephen D. Ramseur's Brigade, Major General Robert E. Rodes' Division, Ewell's Corps. General Ramseur was promoted to major general and assigned to command a division, and Colonel William R. Cox, 2nd Regiment N.C. State Troops, was promoted to brigadier general and assigned to command Ramseur's old brigade. Thus, the 1st Regiment N.C. State Troops was brigaded with the 2nd, 3rd, 4th Regiments N.C. State Troops, 14th Regiment N.C. Troops (4th Regiment N.C. Volunteers), and the 30th Regiment N.C. Troops. The ranks of the regiment would increase as men returned or were assigned from conscript camps, but it would never reach regimental size again.

The survivors of Johnson's Division remained with the 2nd Corps following the action of May 12. General Grant made several attempts to break or turn the Confederate line and failed. As he began moving to the east, the 2nd Corps was ordered to reconnoiter and find out if Grant's army was on the move. Ewell's Corps, with Ramseur's Brigade leading, moved out of the entrenchments and engaged the rear elements of the Federal army on May 19. An attack was made but was repulsed, and with reinforcements coming up the Federals began to press Ewell's men. The Confederates held and took advantage of night to break off the engagement and retire. This move disclosed the enemy's movement, and Lee moved his army accordingly. On May 22 Ewell's Corps arrived at Hanover Junction with Longstreet's Corps. Hill's Corps arrived on the morning of May 23. From here the Army of Northern Virginia moved to the North Anna, where they blocked the Federal army once again. At North Anna, May 24-25, Ewell's Corps, now commanded by General Early, was on the Confederate right and was not engaged. Grant withdrew during the night of May 26-27 and crossed the Pamunkey River, again sidestepping to the Confederate right. Early's Corps marched some 24 miles on May 27 and entrenched between Beaver Dam Creek and Pole Green Church. Longstreet's Corps came up on Early's right, and Hill's Corps extended along the left of Early's line. On May 30, under orders from General Lee, Early moved to attack the Federal left at Bethesda Church. The attack failed to turn the Federal left but did reveal that the enemy was moving to the Confederate right.

The two armies began to concentrate at Cold Harbor, and on June 1 a spirited engagement occurred. Again Lee moved to his right, and the new alignment left Early's Corps on the Confederate left. Early was ordered to move out on June 2 to strike the Federal right. The attack was led by Rodes' Division and met with partial success until Federal reinforcements arrived to drive them back. During the Battle of Cold Harbor, June 3, 1864, Early's Corps was under attack by General A. E. Burnside's IX Corps and a part of General G. K. Warren's V Corps. The men of Warren's Corps struck the line held by Rodes' Division and were repulsed. Following the battle, the armies remained in position observing and skirmishing until June 12, when Grant began moving his army to cross the James River. General Early's Corps was withdrawn from the line on June 11 and was ordered to Lynchburg on June 12 to defend that city against an anticipated attack by troops under General David Hunter. Early was directed to remain in the Shenandoah Valley after striking Hunter's force.

General Early's troops began arriving at Lynchburg on June 17, and the balance arrived the next day. Hunter retired, and after an unsuccessful attempt to overtake the retreating Federals, Early proceeded into the Shenandoah Valley. Still in Cox's Brigade, Rodes' Division, this regiment took part in Early's Valley campaign of 1864. On July 6, 1864, Early crossed into Maryland and advanced on Washington, D.C. At the battle of Monocacy River, July 9, 1864, Rodes' Division operated on the Baltimore road while the main fighting occurred on the Washington road to the division's right. Rodes' Division was in the van when the defenses of Washington came in sight on July 11. Finding the defenses heavily manned on the morning of July 12, Early called off a planned assault, and during the night of July 12 the army began to retire toward Virginia. Back in the Shenandoah Valley, Early's troops were engaged at Stephenson's Depot, July 20, and at Kernstown, July 24, before he moved to Martinsburg and gave his men a rest.

Early in August, 1864, the Federals began concentrating a large force under General Phil Sheridan at Harpers Ferry. On August 10 Early began a series of maneuvers to create the impression of a larger force than he had. His men were northeast of Winchester when Sheridan began to move. On September 19 contact was made, and Early concentrated to receive the attack. The Confederates were making a determined defense east of Winchester when the left came under heavy attack and the whole line began to retire. During the initial stages of the battle General Rodes was killed as he deployed his division between Gordon's and Ramseur's divisions. These three divisions held the main line against repeated assaults, and only when the left appeared to be turned did they begin to retire to a defensive line close to the town. Again the Federals assaulted the front and left of the line. Word of a Federal column turning the right caused Early to issue orders for a general withdrawal. Finding the troops moving on the right were his own men adjusting the alignment, Early tried to counter the order. It was too late. The troops continued to the rear through Winchester and rallied south of the town. From there they continued the retreat to Fisher's Hill, near Strasburg.

At Fisher's Hill, Major General Stephen D. Ramseur was placed in command of Rodes' Division. Sheridan struck Early's left and center at Fisher's Hill on September 22 and forced a general retreat. Early regrouped at Waynesboro on September 28. Here he received reinforcements and again began to move down the valley. On October 7 his troops occupied New Market. Moving to Fisher's Hill on October 12-13, Early found the enemy on the north bank of Cedar Creek. On October 19, 1864, Early launched a surprise, three-pronged attack on the Federal camp. The attack was initially successful, and the Confederates succeeded in driving the Federals from two defensive lines. Early delayed the attack on the third line and assumed the defensive. Rallying his troops, Sheridan launched a devastating counterattack and routed Early's army. In this battle the three divisions of the 2nd Corps were commanded by General John B. Gordon. While attempting to rally the men, General Ramseur was mortally wounded and captured. Brigadier General Bryan Grimes, as senior brigadier, was assigned to command the division. Thus, when the 2nd Corps regrouped at New Market after the Cedar Creek disaster, the 1st Regiment N.C. State Troops was in Cox's Brigade, Grimes' Division. With the exception of minor skirmishing and a repulse of a Federal cavalry force on November 22, the army remained inactive.

On December 9 two divisions of the 2nd Corps moved under orders to return to Richmond. A few days later the Rodes-Ramseur Division, under Grimes, was ordered to return to the main army in the Richmond-Petersburg line. The company clerk of Company D recorded activities of the regiment for the month of December, 1864, on the November-December, 1864, muster roll as follows:

The Company broke up camp on the morning of the 14. December 1864 near New Market, and marched to Mount Crofford, a distance of twenty five miles. Next morning we started for Staunton, distance of eighteen miles, which place we reached 4 o'clock P.M. and took the cars to Richmond. After traveling all night we arrived at Richmond 2 o'clock P.M. We marched to the Petersburg Depot and took the cars for Dunlops Station which place we reached about dark. After disembarking we camped one mile and a half West of Dunlop Station. Next morning we were ordered to build winter quarters, and since that time we have been hard at work.

The brigade went into winter quarters at Swift Creek, about three miles north of Petersburg. Here it remained until ordered to the right of the Confederate line about February 20, 1865. Grimes' Division had been placed on alert to be ready to move at a moment's notice. On February 17 three brigades moved to Sutherland's Depot on the right of the line. Cox's Brigade covered the division front at Swift Creek until relieved and then joined the division at Sutherland's. In mid-March, 1865, the division was ordered into the trenches in front of Petersburg. There it remained until the night of March 24 when the 2nd Corps, still under General Gordon, was massed for an attack on Fort Steadman. The Sharpshooters who led the attacking force on the morning of March 25 were commanded by Colonel Hamilton A. Brown of this regiment. Although initially successful, the concentrated firepower and manpower of the Federal army forced the Confederates to retreat. Colonel Brown and many of his men were cut off and captured.

The remnants of the regiment returned to the trenches with the rest of the brigade and division. During the general assault on the morning of April 2, 1865, the Federals reached the divisional line near Fort Mahone. Grimes' Division attacked and reoccupied its trenches, only to have other portions of the line fall to the Federal assault. Retreat was necessary, and it began the night of April 2-3. Gordon's Corps acted as rear guard as the army moved to Amelia Court House. It camped five miles east of the town on April 4 while the army awaited the collection of supplies. The next day the retreat resumed and continued through the night of April 5-6. As the rear guard, Gordon's Division was subjected to attacks by Federal cavalry and infantry. At a crossing of Saylor's Creek, on April 6, Gordon's men made a stand and repulsed the assault on their front. To the south of Gordon's position, the Confederates under Generals Ewell and Anderson were severely defeated and captured. The Federals then moved on Gordon's right. The pressure forced the line to break in confusion, but Gordon rallied the survivors west of the creek and rejoined the army. At Farmville, on April 7, the men of Gordon's Corps went to the relief of General Mahone's Division. The Federals were held, and the army continued the retreat.

On the night of April 7-8, Gordon's Corps moved to the advance of the army. His lead elements reached Appomattox Court House in the late afternoon of April 8 and halted. Later that evening they found the Federal cavalry in their front. It was decided that an attack would be made the next morning to cut through the enemy. Gordon's men moved into position west of the town during the night. At 5:00 A.M. the advance began and drove the Federal cavalry from the crossroads. The Confederates then took up a defensive position and came under attack by Federal infantry and cavalry. Gordon held his line until word came of the truce. A cease-fire was arranged, and Gordon began to withdraw. Cox's Brigade had not received the cease-fire order, and as it moved back the men turned and fired on an advancing Federal cavalry force. After hearing the volley General Gordon sent word of the truce. The last shot had been fired. The Army of Northern Virginia was surrendered on that date, and on April 12, 1865, 72 members of the 1st Regiment N.C. State Troops were paroled.

FIRST NORTH CAROLINA INFANTRY

The First North Carolina Infantry was organized at the Warrenton Race Track, Warrenton, North Carolina, during June and early July, 1861. It was mustered into Confederate service there in mid-July, 1861. One thousand five hundred and eighty-seven officers and enlisted men were mustered in as members of the regiment, making it one of the largest Confederate infantry organizations when accepted into service.

The regiment was originally composed of twelve companies. Two of these companies, "L" and "M", were detached in September, 1861, however. More detailed information of the unit's companies is shown below.

"A"	nicknamed the Albermarle Guards (also known as the Edgecombe Guards); men from Chowan County
"B"	nicknamed the Wilkes Valley Guards; men from Wilkes County
"C"	men from New Hanover County
"D"	nicknamed the Caswell Rifles; men from Orange and Lincoln Counties
"E"	men from New Hanover County
"F"	nicknamed the Hartford Greys (also known as the Lafayette Light Infantry); men from Hartford and Northampton Counties
→ "G"	nicknamed the Burke Rifles; men from Washington County
"H"	nicknamed the Fayetteville Independent Light Infantry (also known as the Bagley Guards); men from Martin County
"I"	nicknamed the Enfield Blues; men from Wake County
"K"	nicknamed the Southern Stars; men from Halifax County
"L"	nicknamed the Bertie Volunteers; men from Bertie County; detached in September, 1861
"M"	nicknamed the Dixie Rebels; men from Wake County; detached in September, 1861

Like almost all Civil War units the First North Carolina Infantry was often known by an alternate designation derived from the name of its commanding officer. Names of this type used by or for the regiment appear below.

Montfort S. Stokes' Infantry
 John A. McDowell's Infantry
 Hamilton A. Brown's Infantry
 Jarrett N. Harrell's Infantry
 Matthew W. Ransom's Infantry
 James S. Hines' Infantry
 Tristram L. Skinner's Infantry
 Louis C. Latham's Infantry
 William T. Ennett's Infantry
 William M. Parsley's Infantry
 William H. Thomson's Infantry

Shortly after being mustered into Confederate service the First North Carolina Infantry was assigned to duty in the Army of the Peninsula. In early 1862 the regiment joined the Department of Northern Virginia. After serving in this command briefly, the regiment was ordered back to North Carolina where it served in the Department of North Carolina. It served here for only a short period of time and then returned to Virginia, joining the Army of Northern Virginia. It served in that Army until the summer of 1864. It then saw service in the Army of the Valley District. In December, 1864, the unit returned to service in the Army of Northern Virginia, serving in that army for the remainder of its career. Listed below are the specific higher command assignments of the unit.

Oct. 3, 1861	Sixth Brigade, Army of the Peninsula
Jan. 14, 1862	Second Brigade, Potomac District, Department of Northern Virginia
April 1, 1862	Fourth Brigade, Department of North Carolina
July 1, 1862	Fifth Brigade, D. H. Hill's Division, Longstreet's Command, Army of Northern Virginia
Sept. 20, 1862	Ripley's Brigade, Hill's Division, Jackson's Corps, Army of Northern Virginia
Dec. 10, 1862	Second (Ripley's) Brigade, D. H. Hill's Division, Second Corps, Army of Northern Virginia
May 1, 1863	Colston's (Third) Brigade, Trimble's Division, Second Corps, Army of Northern Virginia
May 28, 1863	Steuart's Brigade, Trimble's Division, Second Corps, Army of Northern Virginia
July 1, 1863	Steuart's Brigade, Johnson's Division, Second Corps, Army of Northern Virginia
Aug. 1, 1864	Cox's Brigade, Rodes' (Late) Division, Second Corps, Army of the Valley District
Dec. 31, 1864	Cox's Brigade, Rodes' Division, Second Corps, Army of Northern Virginia
April 1, 1865	Cox's Brigade, Grimes' Division, Second Corps, Army of Northern Virginia

The First North Carolina Infantry participated in a number of various type engagements during its career. These are identified below. Numbers after the events locate them on the map following this history.

He told her about fighting in war. He said to her that he had a shot Yankee like bird. When Mr Putnam (murderer) would call Pat recall Grandpa walking out to meet Mr Putnam and saying welcome (jokingly) I like you as well as any Yankee & I bet I have killed a thousand. Grandpa would tell about getting hungry in Elmina in prison. He got some money from somewhere & paid a colored man to help him get on the train. He came back with a friend on a horse. Friend talked about eating all he wanted. Grandpa suggested that he should eat sparingly. The friend ate all he wanted & died. Pat says Grandpa & Aunt Lena told her that Gilbert would have made a fine lawyer - that he wrote wills & deeds (I doubt this - RPU). Does not recall Grandpa working. Always wore a black coat. Remember Grandpa as being very prompt. Dipped snuff. Grandpa held court on porch each Sunday & he always sat in swing on outside. Pat says she understands Grandpa had a teacher in his home. There was a large horn stuck by lightning & burned. Pat does not for sure remember this. She does not remember the dairy being operational. She remembers GP sitting at front of church facing congregation. She remembers GP putting hand to ear & saying eh! - a mark of poor hearing. Remember seeing GP on death bed in front bedroom. (She suggests I see Sister Perry & Aunt Edna who would recall many more details). Pat attended the funeral. GP was respected & still "ran" the place. Remember all girls going to church + Uncle Frank lent money to rest of boys. [GETTIS, WIS, MALCOLM, REX, JEFF] Pat has 2 CIVIL WAR BUTTONS FROM THE UNIFORM OF BJU↑

LUCRETIA MILLS

Lucretia Mills, daughter of Naaman Mills and _____, was born 3 May 1802 in Edgecombe Co., NC, and died 26 Sep 1877. She married after May 1823 Gilbert Upchurch (b ca 1792, d ca 1845), son of Nathan Upchurch and Mackey Johnson. For more info see ch. COURT DATES ETCHED IN TIME (May 1823-pg. 51).

Lucretia is buried at Inwood Bap. Ch. Cem., Wake Co., NC - gravesite marked with tombstone. A memorial tombstone is also placed there for Gilbert - his actual burial site is not currently known.

On FC/1830, Lucretia and her children fit the description of Naaman Mills' household in Wake Co., NC. On FC/1840, Gilbert is listed as head of a household in Wake Co., NC.

After Gilbert's death, Lucretia and her family resided in Wake Co., NC (White Oak Twp.) on FC/1850-1860. In 1860, Lucretia owned real estate valued at $72 and a personal estate valued at $200. Lucretia resided in Wake Co., NC (Barton's Creek Twp.) with her son, Bartley and family on FC/1870. Lucretia lived to age 75.

Allegedly, Naaman Mills' Bible was passed down to Gilbert and Lucretia's descendants. According to various writings: "Lucretia's family started to move to Tennessee in 1812, but they stopped in Green Level, NC and bought a farm and settled there. She had five brothers and was the only girl. Her brothers were all farmers - very honorable people, but never rich. Her father was Naaman Mills. We have his Bible, which was printed in 1769."

The balance of this chapter will list the children and descendants of Lucretia Mills and Gilbert Upchurch. NOTE: The first child, Mariah may not have been Lucretia's child. The ten children:

COMPANY G "Washington Volunteers" Raised
 [PG 1 OF 6] in Washington Co, NC enlisted 24 JUN 1861 at Plymouth
 TROOPS SERVED TOGETHER

COMPANY G

This company, known as "Washington Volunteers," was raised in Washington County and enlisted at Plymouth on June 24, 1861. On July 3, 1861, the company was ordered to New Bern and from there to Raleigh and then to Warrenton, Warren County. Arriving at Warrenton about July 20, the company was assigned to this regiment as Company G. After joining the regiment the company functioned as a part of the regiment, and its history for the war period is recorded as a part of the regimental history.

The information contained in the following roster of the company was compiled principally from company muster rolls which covered from July through August, 1861; November through December, 1861; March through April, 1862; and June 30, 1862, through December, 1864. No company muster rolls were found for the period prior to July, 1861; for September through October, 1861; January through February, 1862; May through June 29, 1862; or for the period after December, 1864. In addition to the company muster rolls, Roll of Honor records, receipt rolls, hospital records, prisoner of war records, and other primary records, supplemented by state pension applications, United Daughters of the Confederacy records, and postwar rosters and histories, all provided useful information.

(52) Excerpts of Ltr 10 & 23 OCT 1980 Frank Jefferson U, Sr & RPA
concerning his recollection about his GF BJU

Dr. Robert Phillip Upchurch
Michael Enterprises
P.O. Box 35804
Tucson, Arizona 85740

Frank, my 1st cousin, relied on his memory for these comments. See my notes below which supplement Frank's memories - RPA

Dear Phillip:

I will write the things that I remember about our Grandfather. [BJU]

As a boy, he hunted turkeys and other small game and became a very good shot. He was also good at some kind of game, I believe he called it Ten Pens and he would go to matches and people would bet on him; which shows he had a good eye and it is not surprising that he became a sniper in the Confederate Army and that he was able to kill a good many soldiers.

I remember going hunting with Granddaddy and Daddy when I was a boy. Granddaddy was over 80 at the time and could still kill two quail on the rise. He would wait until the birds had flown almost out of range before throwing his gun to his shoulder and would fire almost at the same instant the stock would contact his shoulder. He hardly ever missed getting two birds on the rise.

[DADDY = FRANK JONES U]

As a boy he had a muzzle loading single barrell shot gun that his mother bought him at an auction sale. He always called it the "Widow Crocker" because it had belonged to a Widow Crocker. I kept this gun until about 8 years ago. Someone broke into our home and stole it along with a collection of guns that belonged to my sons and me.

Copied for CROCKER
FAMILY

Grandpa went into the Confederate Army when he was 16 years old. His brother, Bill wanted to pay someone to take his place, but Grandpa wanted to go and he became a sniper. He used the word "Sharpshooter" instead of sniper. He was wounded three times. He had one of the knuckles on one hand shot off by the man that I wrote about that he killed by shooting him through the frying pan that he had flapping on his back as he ran. This happened as Grandpa was being given his position for sniping for the day.

["BILL" = WILLIAM
GEORGE U]

He said that he would be given 40 rounds of ammunition per day and there were a good many days when he would use his 40 rounds before noon and would see a man drop almost every shot.

There was one thing that seemed to worry Grandpa about the war more than anything else. He said that one day things were peaceful; no shots were being fired. His commanding officer called him as follows: "Meeting House, come quickly". He motioned for Grandpa to get behind a tree and pointed out three Yankee Officers who were standing together in the open. He said "Meeting House, do you think you can pick off one of them?" Grandpa knelt down to rest his rifle on the tree and shot. One of the officers fell.

Grandpa always felt that perhaps that he should not have tried to kill in this instance because no other combat was in progress at the time and as he said, it would have been so easy to miss and no one would have blamed him for missing because of the great distance. He asked the preacher at Inwood Baptist Church, as well as other people, if he had done wrong. He seemed to feel that he had done wrong.

He was near General Jeb Stuart when he was killed and he saw his body across the back of a horse when his body was being carried away.

[WAS IT JEB OR ANOTHER GENERAL?]

Grandpa was taken prisoner in Maryland and he spent a year or more in the Yankee prison in Elmira, N.Y.

[NOT MD BUT AT THE
WILDERNESS IN VA]

He said that they were served two meals per day. One meal would be a couple of slices of bread and the broth that some vegetables had been cooked in, and the other meal would be a slice of bread or two and the vegetables. He said that he weighed about 75 pounds when the war ended and was too weak to get on the train by himself. He had $20.00 that had been removed from the Yankee that had given him the shoulder wound. This $20.00 bill had been hidden by rolling it up in his coat sleeve and he gave it to a big strong fellow to push him on the train that was going to take him back home.

While in the prison, some of the guards would shoot into the prison yard to see how many prisoners they could kill in one shot. After this had happened several times, the commanding confederate officer asked permission to see the Yankee in command of the prison, and told him if one more shot was fired in to the prison that all of the prisoners would charge the guards and kill all of them. No more shots were fired.

Some of the people around the prison who felt sorry for the prisoners and the dirty ragged conditions that they were in, brought old clothes to give to the prisoners. The guards would cut off the sleeves and pant legs and throw the clothes over the fence into the mud and water for the prisoners. Granddaddy said that some of the clothes would have been pretty good clothing if the guards would not have ruined them.

As you know, Bill Upchurch died with a heart attack and he and Grandpa lost everything because Bill had his many businesses mortgaged to the hilt to continue expanding. He was involved with building the first cotton seed oil mill in the south, and the Carolina Cotton Mill in Raleigh and a fertilizer factory. He was also a big investor in a bank and owned a lot of real estate. He had about half interest in the square mile of farm land and the dairy and cotton gin that Granddaddy was operating. When Bill died, his various partners were not able to see that anything could be saved, so they managed to take it for themselves. It was said that if Bill would have lived longer, he would have been very successful.

Granddaddy was able to buy the farm, dairy and cotton gin because his neighbors would not allow anyone to bid against him when it was sold at auction.

Daddy and Uncle Gettis said that they remember when Granddaddy came home one day and said "Well, I have finished paying for this place for the second time".

During the civil war, Uncle Las, the blind brother and the ladies of the house got along as well as could be expected. After the war, there was a lot of trouble with carpet baggers and run away soldiers and other "trash" robbing homes. One night someone knocked on the door and continued to bang on it as though to knock the door in. Uncle Las, who could see very little but could see as well as anyone else in the dark, went out the back door and slipped up on the three carpet baggers who were trying to get into the house. Uncle Las had with him a walking stick that he had made and had bored a hole in the head of the stick and filled it with lead. He knocked two of them down with the stick and the other one ran. One of the men knocked down did not leave. They buried him in the hog pen so that the mud and hog tracks would erase any sign of a grave.

As for my impression of Grandpa; (1) He had a good personality and remained interested in people and business as long as he lived (2) He was respected for his good judgement by his children and neighbors (3) He had a strong opinion on various things and was probably right on a large percentage of them for the time that he lived.

His children should have had a better education but this was not entirely his fault. They had a very poor beginning in schooling and during that time, higher education was not considered important for farmers.

(52) Excerpts of str 10 & 23 OCT 1980 - CONTINUED

Uncle Gettis was sent to Cary Academy and was expelled after he helped overturn all of the out houses at Halloween.

Aunt Maude was sent to college and became so homesick that she quit after a month or two.

[MARTHA RAY U]

I would say that Grandpa was a good man and was well liked and respected. It was unfortunate that his children did not have better elementary schooling and did not have a better chance to get an education. This accounted for much of the problems that they had during their lives.

Considering everything, especially the depression of the 1930's, our family did well to survive as well as they did, and what Granddaddy was able to salvage from the misfortune that occurred at his brother Bill's death, helped all of us. It could have been worse, as it was with many of our neighbors who were farmers.

There are several stories that Grandpa told and several funny ones that his sons told on him that I remember since writing to you.

This story happened while Grandpa was a sniper in the Civil War. He and a buddy were slipping through a heavily wooded area when they were fired at by some Yankees. He and his buddy would run from tree to tree trying to avoid fire and trying to get a clear shot. Grandpa noticed that when his buddy peeped out from behind a tree trunk, he would stick his butt out too far, and he told him that he better be more careful, but his buddy continued to make this mistake until a bullet cut through both cheeks of his butt. Grandpa said that he never saw a man cut up so much, and in spite of the horror of seeing his buddy wounded, he could not help but laugh.

When Grandpa recovered enough from the Civil War he started getting around friends. He was invited to attend a school play and he saw a beautiful girl who had the leading part. He declared on the spot that he would marry that girl and he did marry her.

[Mme AURORA O. RAY]

Bill Upchurch imported the first Jersey cows in this country, or maybe it was in the South, from Jersey Island, and they raised cows to show and to sell from their stock.

One day a young cow was sold and needed to be loaded onto a wagon to be taken away. This cow had never been led nor had she ever had a rope on her, so when they put a halter and a rope on her she would not move. She set her legs and could not be pulled or pushed. Uncle Malcolmb told Grandpa "I know how to make her move." Grandpa, who was at the end of the rope told him to "Move her then." Uncle Malcolmb got a wheel barrow and ran it with much noise toward the cow's back legs. She took off with Grandpa. He was taking very long steps to keep up with the cow and hold his balance. He saw that he could not keep up with the cow who was running like a deer, so when the cow ran near the hay stack, he "cocked up his heels" and flew through the air about twenty feet before hitting the haystack. Of course this was the funniest thing the sons had ever seen.

[GEORGE MALCOLM U]

Another story is about a opossum hunt with the boys. The dogs treed a opossum in a hollow tree and after trying hard to get the opossum out of the tree by twisting a stick, the boys had just about given up hope. Grandpa said solemnly, "If I knew the opossum's tail was behind him, I would run my hand in there and pull him out. Uncle Malcolmb said, "Pa you know damn well that the opossum's tail is not on his head." Grandpa said, "Boy if you say another word, I'll have to get on you." This is another thing that Grandpa had to live with the rest of his life.

(54) Partial Notes of RPA Visit 6 DEC 2001 with "Monk"
Perry [MILEY ALBERT PERRY]

Monk reports that Miley Perry owned several hundred acres of land. He had a will which set aside the home tract for his wife (My Aunt Bessie) and he gave the remainder in tracts to his children but with the restriction that the tracts could not be sold but would pass to his grandchildren. However, Monk said lawyers convinced to sell Perry's tract.

Francis did not get a tract right away but eventually got the home place per Miley's will.

Monk says he & Bryan got their increments when their father died or they bought other tracts of the original Miley Perry Farm. They traded this for NC state wooded land on Yates Mill Pond Road & built a subdivision there.

Monk says his current tract was bought by his father from a Mr. - - - [Bartley Jefferson U] must have sold it to Mr. - - -. Monk says Aunt Ellie & Aunt Bessie had 50± acre tracts on Mill River Road.

- (55) Input from CIVIL WAR - SEE REVERSE - Capt^Δ James Henry Foote of the Wake Light Infantry (Co I 1st Rgt, N.C. State Troops) writes on 5 OCT 1861 to thank those of Wake Forest, Forestville & Ralesville, NC for sending articles to the troops. This unit was organized in Wake Co, NC at Forestville, NC on 16 JUL 1861 and assigned to 1st Rgt, NC State Troops. Capt^Δ Foote joined 16 MAY 1861 and left 19 DEC 1862. He therefore overlapped the service of Bartley Jefferson U who enlisted on 15 JUL 1862 and served in Co G of the same Regiment. Letter addressed to: ^Δ Brother Huffman and reference ^Δ James S. - (37) Recollections about the children of Bartley Jefferson
 U by Doris Ruth U in conference with RPT on 24 JAN 2001 in her home in Sun City, AZ

AUNT MAUDE

She would Crochet making Counterspanes and other things
 She also did tatting. She made daily trips to the store at the crossroads

Doris says she and Aunt Maude spent 2 weeks with a relative CALIE MASON RAY near Six Forks
 Maude taught Bible school for 2-weeks each summer
 Maude loved children and would make ersatz
 "snuff" from cocoa & sugar for Doris Maude's love letters were kept in a trunk at the top of the stairs (on the landing as the stairs turned). Among these was one from Mr Broughton, Esq.

 (presumably J. Melville Broughton - future governor)
 The trunk also held a large doll which Uncle
 Rex brought back from France for sister Perry [LENA]. As to Maude remaining single Uncle
 Rex said Pa felt no one was good enough to be her husband. (Presumably the same for Aunt Lena & Aunt Pat). Maude pulled Jackie to the store in a wagon

AUNT LENA

She sewed. She became the matriarch of the family Doris recalls that Frances (Perry) Wilson got a picture painted by Aunt Lena. After Aunt Lena died the structure of the household changed. Aunt Lena named Uncle Rex's son
 Charles Rex U but Aunt Ruth was unhappy with the "Charles" part and had it changed

(57) Recollections - Denis Rutt U - 24 JAN 2001 - Continued

UNCLE GETTYS

Denis and I discussed the relationship of Uncle Gettys to the family of Uncle Frank but could only conclude that the close relationship just ended. Uncle Gettys & Uncle Rex often argued - presumably good naturedly.

UNCLE MAC

He was in Norfolk, VA working when Uncle Rex and Aunt Rutt got married and also moved to Norfolk presumably because Uncle Mac was there. They all worked for Mr DeFORD, presumably in a Dairy. Denis went to his funeral but otherwise does not remember him.

UNCLE REX

He was taught upstairs - never went to the Cary Academy as did some of his siblings. Aunt Rutt went to the Academy but dropped out at age 19 & married Uncle Rex.

Uncle Rex courted one of the SCOTT girls [MARY?] and she may have had a child by him but she quickly married someone else before the child was born. Uncle Rex vacationed with the Scott family at Ocracoke Island. After the birth/death of their son Hugh, Uncle Rex & Aunt Rutt moved back to NC and built the house across the road from her father. There their son Allen was born. Aunt Rutt had her father take her to the Court house to exchange the name "Charles" given to the boy by Aunt Lena. Uncle Rex called him "BOY" or "SON" never by his name.

Uncle Rex moved about a lot. Al Holk noted that Uncle Rex seemed quite stable until some pressure would build up causing him to drink to excess. This and the hard times in which he raised his family caused him to change jobs frequently. Sometimes he would move back to the Upchurch Homestead. On one move Uncle Rex took one child and move to his folks home and Aunt Ruth took the other and moved to her parents home. Doris says she was born somewhere around Cary, NC. This was a broad birth or was the birth of Jackie, dau of Aunt Ruth was living at the Upchurch Homestead when Jackie was born and kept Jackie while Doris worked. Uncle Gettyr had something to say about this to the effect that the child would grow up not knowing her mother [Apparently Uncle Gettyr needed more peace & quiet]. Doris took affront at this, comment and said that at least Jackie's Grandmother (Aunt Ruth) was a great person to know. When Aunt Lena died the family prevailed upon Uncle Rex & Aunt Ruth to move back to the Upchurch Homestead and take care of Aunt Maude & her siblings per which Uncle Rex was to get the homeplace.

This arrangement came apart in due course. Our cousin Frank Jefferson U, Sr gave Uncle Rex a sum of money to cancel the deal. Then later Aunt Maudie lived with Aunt Edna.

DORIS ALSO RECOLLECTS

She went to AUNT PAT's funeral but otherwise has no recollection of her.

Sister Perry got the Parker furniture but Doris cannot confirm that this came from the home of our Great Uncle George William U.

Eleanor Martin got the organ

Doris does not recall any Barnie at the Upchurch Homestead but both she & I recall the concrete watering trough in a field near the house. Doris says Jackie played in this.

Doris recalls being with our Aunts as they cracked walnuts on a rock in the grove - strangely I have a similar memory. Menck Perry has a lot of recollection about our Aunts & Uncle and an interest.

(57) Recollections - Doris Ruth U - 24 JAN 2001 - Continued
 ADDED COMMENTS FROM DORIS (22 JAN 2002)

Uncle Mac - He was working in Norfolk at Dr Ford's dairy farm. Daddy went there because Uncle Mac ask him to. Daddy went back to Raleigh married mother & took her to live there & Mr. Dr Ford built a house on the place for mother & dad to live in.
Uncle Bert
 When their first son Hugh was born in Norfolk & died 3 days later dad took him in a casket back to Raleigh ^{on the train} for burial. Mother was so upset they moved back to Raleigh. She wasn't upset because he took Hugh back but because she was so far from home. Mother & daddy had saved enough money to buy land across from the home place (across the road from Aunt Maude & Aunt Lena) & built a house. During the depression daddy was out of work, took out a mortgage, couldn't pay it & lost it.

Aunt Lena - we cracked hickory nuts aunt Maude made jello & put the nuts in it. Sit it in the front hall on a table to gel. She also made "tea cakes" & wrapped them in a towel to keep fresh.

(57) Recollections - Doris Rutta U - 22 JAN 2002 - CONT.

Uncle Rex

Daddy always had dogs. He got a rat terrier for me at a very young age. "Queen" lived to be 13. When she died daddy sat up all night with me + Queen. Put her in a box + sang songs + put flowers on her grave.

Daddy had a lot of good qualities but even when the pressure got to him. Whenever I told him of something I had done, he always said "I'm proud of you gal." I never remember doing anything that special but he always made me feel important.

(58) 20 JUN 2006 - RPA while in Raleigh, NC road out to the Area of Upper & Lower Barton Creeks to get a feel for the land which includes George U bought on Longford Branch and on which B.T.U. lived circa 1868-1870. In retrospect I think we looked more at the land between Upper & Lower Barton Creeks - Need to go back & look more above Upper Barton Creek.

(59) In part from Ltr 13 NOV 1981 - Mayfred U to RPA

Mayfred reports on a list of Upshur's who were in the Civil War - including B.T.U. Co G. 1st NC Inf. Pvt - Pvt.

BARTLEY JEFFERSON U

(61) NOTE: This hypothesis proposed by RPH 16 MAR 2007

It is clear that ^AJDRAP and ^ABartley Jefferson U served side-by-side in the unit was being captured on the same day and enduring prison together at Elmira, NY.

It seems reasonable to hypothesize that ^AJDRAP told ^ABartley about the lovely ^ARAY girls he knew in Barton Creek TSP Wayne Co, NC as subsequently ^AJDRAP and ^ALee Hanchins Ray & Bartley and her sister ^AAnna O. Lay. JDRAP = JOHN DERRICK R. ALLEN

Monk has recently visited Clara (Matthews) Hill who is age 90 - b 1917 - and lives near Water Chapel and has a history of that Church. She would be happy to have us pay her a visit. She reports a Mr WATTS gave land for the Church. She has been a member many years. She was born in Kings Orchard and lived about 10 years in the Altam Perry house at a time when Bartley Jefferson was alive. She knew him and tells how she would go for milk and he would amuse her by saying he could stop the clock from churning. Also he would catch her by her ankle with his cane. Clara says she remembers RPL. Clara is an African-American Aileen continued the Upchurch connection story. Her parents separated when she was age 9 [she is 91 now born about 1915] She was born at Dix Hill where her father worked. In the 1920's she lived with her Mom's Grandparents* in Uncle Rex's house across the road from my GF B.J.U. She knew him and often visited in the home and enjoyed these visits. She attended a Carleugh School, Hugh Mason & Centennial in Raleigh and Cary School. On the bus ride to Cary Frank Jefferson U. would slide against her and push him off her seat. She finally had an outburst and called him an SOB.

SON OF LUCRETIA (MILLS) UPCHURCH

1. BARTLEY JEFFERSON UPCHURCH (b 11 May 1841, d 23 Jan 1929) enlisted 15 Jul 1862 in Wake Co., NC and was discharged Apr 1865. B.J. served when he was 21 to 24 yrs. old, for 2 yrs., 9 mos. His highest rank attained was Private. B.J. served in the 1st NC Regiment, Co. G, known as "Washington Volunteers" and "Burke Rifles". This Co. was raised in Washington Co., NC. 19 Aug 1862 the 1st NC moved by railroad to Orange Court House, VA and 4-5 Sep 1862 crossed into MD. 14 Sep 1862 they were heavily engaged with Union troops at Fox's Gap, MD. 17 Sep 1862 B.J. & Co. fought at the Battle of Antietam, MD, where he was wounded in the arm from an artillery shell explosion. 2 Oct 1862 he was hospitalized in Richmond, VA, and 16 Dec 1862 again hospitalized.

8 Jan 1863 B.J. was transferred to a hospital in Danville, VA. 27 Feb 1863 he rejoined his Co. at winter quarters near the Rappahannock River. 29 Apr 1863 the 1st NC was ordered to Hamilton's Crossing, VA and 1-5 May 1863 participated in the Battle of Chancellorsville, VA, where B.J. was wounded again. 1-3 Jul 1863 they participated in the Battle of Gettysburg, PA. Mid Jul 1863 B.J. & Co. moved to Martinsburg, VA and 14 Oct 1863 participated in the Bristoe Station, VA campaign. 27 Nov 1863 they were heavily engaged with Union troops at Payne's Farm, VA and B.J. was wounded in the hand. The 1st NC went into winter quarters near Pisgah Church, VA.

5-7 May 1864 they participated in the Battle of the Wilderness, VA and B.J. was again wounded. 12 May 1864 B.J. & Co. were engaged near Spotsylvania, VA and he and most of the 1st NC were captured. He was imprisoned at Point Lookout, MD and 6 Aug 1864 transferred to Elmira, NY.

14 Mar 1865 B.J. was paroled at James River, VA during a prisoner exchange. 21 Mar 1865 B.J. was hospitalized in Richmond, VA. 28 Mar 1865 he was furloughed for 30 days, and then the war ended. A very weakened B.J. Upchurch returned home to Wake Co., NC.

2 Jul 1923 B.J. applied for a soldier's pension from the State of NC, for wounds that he received during the Civil War. He made the application in Wake Co., NC. B.J. stated he was "wounded 3 times. 1st at Sharpsburg, 2nd at Chancellorsville, 3rd time in Wilderness. Captured at Horse Shoe, May 12, 1864 and spent 2 mos. in prison at Point Lookout, and 8 mos., 10 days at Elmira, NY". William H. Penny was B.J.'s witness, and the application was approved.

(69) Attached Photo purported to be of BJU.

This copy arrived from Gethse Rodley up on 20 JAN 2009. It is a copy of the same photo I saw in the home of his Father, Frank Jefferson U, Sr "Frankie" in Charlotte, NC in 1989. At that time I doubted that it was of BJU although Frank, Jr seemed convinced that it was. And now Gethse has convinced himself that it is indeed of BJU. However, hard evidence is lacking.

On 21 JAN 2009 I sent a copy to Margaret Louise Harris asking her to compare the photo with any she might have of her GGF. W. E. U - brother of BJU.

After I posted the letter to Peggy I looked up a photo of W. E. U published with his obituary and noted a very similar picture - both with a full head of hair - but BJU parted his on the left and W. E. U parted his on the right. Now, I was beginning to think the attached really is a photo of BJU. My photos of BJU in later years show him with a thin head of hair which in earlier years could have been thick. I knew he had a beard in later years - and he always seemed in later years to have a coat on.

(72) These notes pertain to the efforts of RPA & SSU & Mark and Nancy & RPA & SSU & "Mark & Nancy" checked into the Hampton Inn in Manassas. Nancy was not feeling well so RPA & Mark drove to Chantilly to suggest the site where GF B.J. Upchurch under Gen D.H. Hill joined Lee's forces. We also briefly inspected the 1st & 2nd Manassas battlefields. Nancy stayed in room while we ate at Crocker Banell.

(27) 25 MAY 2008 (SUN).

Nancy not well but wanted us to continue. Made a brief stop at Manassas #1 & then on to MONROE Battlefield where they have a new Museum. Bought a book on General Rhoder. Learned that there is where he brought his entire force after leaving Chantilly. He is said to have reformed his force at Fredericks, MD and there is a photo of his troops marching into town. They camped on what is known as the Best Farm. Here is where Lee decided to divide his force sending Jackson & his Corp to capture the Federal Force at Warrenton Ferry. Here is where the lost order was found. Lee began to withdraw his force beyond South Mountain and to assign D.H. Hill's unit as rear guard. We rode through the southernmost pass where the Correspondence Monument is located. GF B.J. Upchurch was probably at one of the other two more northern passes. D.H. Hill had Headquarters in Boonsboro but eventually joined Lee at the main Battlefield site.

We attended a movie & a lecture at the Antietam Site and then visited the key spots where D.H. Hill's unit fought. We finally found the southern road.

We traveled to Gettysburg & spent the night. Nancy still not eating. We ate Sat only Tuesday. She did not eat.

(28) 26 MAY 2008 (MON)

Nancy continued to throw up over night and had pain. It was decided Mark & RPA should have a quick look at a few key Gettysburg sites & then Mark should take Nancy to her Hospital in Raleigh. We inspected Latimer's Gun site where he was wounded from shrapnel wounds he died in a few weeks. We rode along the route where BTJ fought under Stuart and on to Culps Hill. We all left for home at 10:30 AM

- (73) RPU 18 OCT 2005 Observation About the Sale of 382 Acres of the late Buckner Ray Land on 7 DEC 1896 in Northern Wake Co, NC to his son Willis S. Ray for $700 - BOOK 142, PAGE 420

When Buckner Ray died in 1881 he willed all his property to his wife for use at her discretion. She [JANE CAROLINE GRADY] did not die until 1908. Evenso, it must be that Buckner's land was allocated to his children prior to 7 DEC 1896 as it is some of his 12 children who are selling the 382 Acre tract and the widow is not referenced in the deed. Presumably these 382 Acres had passed to 7 of the 12 children of Buckner according to the 7 DEC 1896 Deed. Each would have gotten 100 [one of the 7 was AURORA O. (RAY) UPCHURCH - which accounts for her inheritance from her father's estate] The 7 owners are listed as follows: (# = CHILD NUMBER)

#3 LEE HAWKINS RAY (she must have died before the sale as her share is sold by sons CHARLES [L.] ALLEN & GEO. [B.] ALLEN)

#4 WILLIAM HENRY RAY

#5 AURORA O. (RAY) UPCHURCH

#7 JAMES A. RAY (FATHER HUS BARTLEY JEFFERSON UPCHURCH SIGNED)

#9 ROBERT EVERSON RAY

#10 ALFONZO COLUMBUS RAY

#12 CHARLES BUCKNER RAY

COMMENTS RE OTHER 5 CHILDREN

#1 CHARLES W. RAY - NOT AN NEIR - DIED 1862

#2 ZADOCK DANIEL RAY - NOT INVOLVED

#6 GEORGE WASHINGTON RAY - NO OWNERSHIP IN 382 A BUT IS SHOWN AS A JUSTICE OF PEACE ON THE DEED

#8 WILLIS S. RAY - NO OWNERSHIP IN 382 A - HE WAS THE BUYER

#11 MARY C. (RAY) PENNY - NO OWNERSHIP IN THE 382 A

ONE PRESUMES WIDOW JANE MAY HAVE TRANSFERRED ASSETS TO # 2, 6, 8, 11 BEFORE 7 DEC 1896

Note that the spouses of the 7 sellers are shown on the deed. New info gained shown by [] .

Wife of R. I. RAY = CLARA EVA PENNY

Wife of J. R. RAY = IDA [C] RAY

Wife of W. H. RAY = NANCY [H] RAY

Wife of George B. Allen - ZELMA [A] ALLEN

Note that 4 names on the deed are hard (impossible) to read.

Note that #8 in later years was known to live at the Buckner Ray Homestead - presumably this 382 A

ADJACENT LAND OWNERS: #6 & #10 + JOHN ADAMS, JOHN D. OWENS, PARTAM, -- HOLKADAY, PATTON, McDAVES

(74) 28 APR 2007 - PG27- RPU & Monk Perry tour SCTSP

met Monk at 9 AM and started touring SCTSP to take pictures and mark places on the map. Took picture of Hokie in 7-day old mule colt. Went to SE corner of original Upchurch Tract on Inwood Church Rd to the East & North line a 180 Acre Tract where the Holt Family once lived. Alton could have bought this for $2500. It was bought by two Attorneys - ALDRIDGE & STEWART about 1940. They also got Perry's adjoining 25 Acres.

Monk says there was a spring in the part of the Upchurch Tract which was used to keep hutter cool. Monk has seen the concrete remnants. He said Uncle Gether reported that it took two people to operate the churn. There was a path across the field to the 1334 home as that is where Miley Perry got his mail. Beyond Perry's 25 Acres there lay 25 Acres on either side of the road. This was land that went to Clyde. Then came the 50 Acre home place which eventually went to Frances. Next came 17 Acres for Lena & Lena got the 60 Acre Pace Tract.

Of the 75 (73.5A) Tract given to Alton - the front 25A was given to Aunt Bessie but Monk wonders if she ever got rent. Monk recalls that Lena would collect money from her siblings for clothes for Aunt Bessie, when Bessie was in a rest home the cost was not equally shared.

(75) Notes of RPU & Monk Perry Visit to Frances Holt Tilley on

SAT 13 OCT 2007

The three of us tried to recall how BJUT must have carried out his farming operations. We concluded that he had a number of tenants and probably went out each morning to get things moving and that he later rode on a horse to check up on operations. Probably had a hard time getting the boys to work.

① Excerpt from RPH NC Trip 9-23 OCT 2007

From Pg 19 - 16 OCT 2007 - Visit with [△]Elma Elizabeth Moore

Elma went to Centennial School in Raleigh for her first three grades. There was a school here that operated from Raleigh but it was discontinued after the 3rd grade. Then Elma went to [△]Enterprise School one year while [△]Swift Creek Elementary was being built & then finished at Swift Creek. Her teacher at Enterprise was Mrs BLACKLOCK. Other teachers were Mrs BRAGG & Mr Shearon (Principal). Elma knew my sister [△]Ernestine Ray U and [△]Patty Lane U and was in school with them. She remembers the Bartley Jefferson U household and said the family had lots of land - implying they were well off. She always wondered why no one in the household worked and yet they seemed to have plenty of money.

[△] Elma says her sister Josephine was born at the Bart Moore Farm but when Jo was an infant they moved to the house BJU had built for his son Rex Edgar U. Jo does not remember this. When Jo was about 14 her family moved to the Inwood School House, then to Alma's home, then bought the house on Lake Street Rd. From the Rex U home they moved to the Medlin House on Mid Pine Rd and then back to the Bart Moore Farm.

Jesse Moore & Bart Moore were foot friends and were surprised when they parted ways about 1932 - only to reunite after a couple of years.

② 28 APR 2007 PG 30, 31 - RPE & Monk Perry Visit Clydia Mae Mathews on Tryon Rd, SCTSP - WAISE CO, NC

Returned to Monroe to pick up my car and to go to 1:00 PM appointment.

Spent 1:00 - 3:00 PM with CLYDIA MAE (Mathews) Hill.

A colored woman b. 1917 - will be 90 next month.
She lived in the Altam Perry House in the 1920's & 1930's Her step-father, Henry Fletcher, was Sexton at Inwood (Custodian) and was in this role when the church burned in the 1930's. She knew B.J.U. and Miley Perry but was not able to tell much about them. Clydia worked many years in the School Lunch Program and was a Supervisor - Got Retirement & Social Security

Clydia says Miley Perry always had a large garden
- cellars, turnips, etc. - he took them to town for sale.

Clydia in 1947 bought 1/2 Acre from Mr Altam for $50 and had a few room house built for $400. The only child of Mr Altam was Margaret Altam who m'd John Henry Johnson. Margaret & John were said to be the most beautiful of all

4 MAY 2007 - PG 52 - Monk Perry reports that the Home Place of B.J.U. was called WOODLAND per one of seven Scott Sisters to whom Monk took a stick from the B.J.U. Farm.

○ From the Briefing of Frances Holt Tilley - 6 OCT 2011

FT said her mother recalled B.J.U. after his wife died getting dressed up to go "see one or more wise women saying" "I have to go see the wise and do my duty"; Sister Perry said she never knew what the "duty" was.

- ③ From Notes of RPH phone conversation with Miley Reed Perry "Mank" - 10 APR 2007

Mank has recently visited Clara (Mathewz) Hill who is age 90 - b 1917 - and lives near Wath Chapel and has a history of that Church. She will be happy to have us pay her a visit. She reports a Mr WATTS gave land for the Church. She has been a member many years. She was born in Kings Orchard and lived about 10 years in the Alters Perry house at a time when Bartley Jefferson was alive. She knew him and tells how she would go for milk and he would amuse her by saying he could stop the clock from churning. Also he would catch her by her ankle with his cane. Clara says she remembers RPH. Clara is an African-American.

(84) From Profile of Miley Albert Perry - Entry 15 JUN 2009

- △△△ Mankie uncle Perry Perry related a story to Mank
- △ about how GF at Elmira had his long coat cut off
- △ by the guards. ^{↳ [BARTLEY JEFFERSON U]} Mank now reads elsewhere that
- this indignity was imposed on a group at Elmira
- △ Then the story passed on by Perry is validated.

2. Gilbert U

- a. [Bartley Jefferson U] b. 1841 - d. 1929 (XID-106)

- (86) From Book "Images of America - Greenville, NC" by Ernest Dallas - 2008 - Arcadia Publishing. Chapter Two of this book pp 27-42 starts with a photo of scroll work. When I saw this I immediately thought of the scroll work on the home BJU owned from 1870 onward. I am now reinforced in my recent conclusion that evidence surrounding BJU shows him to be a sort of County Gentleman rather than a hard scrabble farmer.

Two

THE PROMISE OF PROSPERITY 1865-1900

No other towns in Wake County possess more homes embellished with this style of intricate millwork. Most of these decorative elements appear on homes built or renovated between 1870 and 1880 and reflect a new sense of prosperity in the postwar years. It is believed that Page and Ellington, a local cabinet and window blind manufacturing company located in nearby Cary, created these treatments. (Photograph by the author.)

We discussed the UPENBACH TRUNK which staged upstairs at home of BJU FH & Doris were shown the contents but I was not. FH reports contents:

- Letters from Rex in France
- A little dress
- Book - Little Women

FH says after she learned cousin entering as a child Aunt Maude sat her at the desk and FH wrote family names in the Bible.

Eddie has the coat rack that was in the front hall.

FH says there was a Governor for the girls in the BJU home & they taught the girls to do fancy things - paint (at Leona) & - Aunt Maude Maude says Uncle Wm bought a freezer & bragged saying it would hold four goats. He wanted it given to Sister Perry.

FH says Maude Wm put sheet rock overhead in the middle room.

FH says she can date a time when Uncle Maude ran the store - Sister Perry born 1907 as a 3 year old would be shown off at the store and encouraged to curse, & - At the urging of the operator Uncle Maude so he ran the store as of about 1910

(90) From Biofile of Bonnie Bell Jefferys - Entry 29 MAY 2010

Bonnie reports the following re the home of Bartley Jefferson U and his daughter Martha Ray U "Aunt Maude"

The Upchurch Trunk normally rested at the top of the stairs in the BJU home and Aunt Maude would show descendants Sam U & Frances Holt Tally certain items - girl things. The trunk went with Aunt Maude when she moved to Uncle Frank's and then with her to Hillsboro, NC to Bonner home. There Aunt Maude broke her leg and was cared for elsewhere until death. Bonnie got the trunk by default & now has it in her home in Uelmington, NC. It is empty. Aunt Maude in Hillsboro when Bonnie's children were 1-3. Bonnie has several papers she will copy & share with us (probably came from the trunk). Bonnie also has the Upchurch Rocking Chair that traveled the same route as the trunk.

We discussed whether Aunt Maude was bright or drunk and concluded there is evidence for both. Bonnie did say Aunt Maude would make her little Phillip sad by telling him that he was not performing his job of folding wash clothes well.

(91) From Biofile of Wiley Albert Perry 31 MAY 2010 - Pg 47

Wiley reports that Walter Stephens told him that Chas Woodard, 1334, and other veterans would meet in SCOW to discuss Civil War experiences. Walter also said 1334 taught him how to set spurs on a rooster to get best results in a cock fight - 1 for head and 1 for leg.

(92) Re Citations for William George U - Gattie Bradley U notified RPU via email on 6 OCT 2010 that there was a citation in the 1887 issue of The Cultivator and County Centinel Vol 52 pg 495 that mentioned my Great Uncle William. It was found and is reproduced below:

"We observed that a correspondent of the Jersey Bulletin traveling in North Carolina writes in highly complimentary terms of the Jersey Hards of our friends Messrs B. P. Williamson and W. G. Upchurch and Dr James M'Kee of Raleigh. During the year ending May 1, 1884 4363 (?) lbs of butter was made from the milk of eleven cows at the "woodland" farms of Mr Upchurch, including four three-year olds, one five-year old, and six two-year olds."

RPU Commentary and observations:

1. It seems most likely that reference is being made to three separate Jersey Hards - those of Williamson, Upchurch & M'Kee - HOWEVER, note that the 1891 Brannen's Directory for Farmers in Surft Creek Twp showed Williamson & Upchurch [RPW & WGU] owned a 696 Acre farm. [Item 6 BJA BIOFILE]
 2. This article provides a rare citation for the Upchurch Farm called "woodland" - presumably owned by Bartley Jefferson U & WGU.
 3. Citations to "WOODLAND" are shown in the BJA Bioguide as follows:
 Items 6, 18, 81
 4. Note that Item 6 is from my FEB 1955 interview with Uncle Gattie Henderson U in which he specifically mentioned the SCTWP Farm of BJA as "woodland"
 5. Note that 18 is from my 24 FEB 1999 visit to Edna Lois U in which she referred to the SCTWP Farm of BJA as "woodland"
 6. Note that 81 is from a 4 MAY 2007 conversation with Mike Robert Perry in which he refers to the SCTWP Farm of BJA as "woodland"
- Note that as of 10 OCT 2010 I have created a file for SCTWP Farms under WGU/SCTWP/Farms

Uncle MAC died in Rex Hospital. Frances Holt says Allen came to her house. She put on a long dress & they bicycled to Rex where her mother admonished her for her attire and for coming.

Uncle Gettis was bright of all - knew the Bible & politics. He would discuss politics in detail with James Baxter Johnson, Sr who spent a lot of time at the store. He mounted game birds in an elegant look. When FH & Dan & Holt bought Upholster's land on Tryon Rd Uncle Frank did the negotiating. Uncle Gettis was lazy. For years he walked to Uncle Frank's 6 days per week. In the beginning he returned home for lunch. This became a bone of contention and he then had lunch at Uncle Frank's.

FH remembers Uncle Mac.

FH does not remember any Uncle who drank except Uncle Rex. Rex did not like his SIL Al Holt - said he was a Yankee.

The organ was bought by BJU for Aunt Maudie. She took organ lessons at Meredith's & brought the wood many Parkin Springfield.

FH remembers Aunt Pat. Aunt Pat raised Lena Upholster Perry. The Parlor furniture came from Uncle William [Wau]. Aunt Bessie said "If the sofa could talk ---" Aunt Bessie stayed at Uncle William. She and Belle went to the State Fair and sat in a box.

There were shades of dark skin in the family Aunt Bessie & daughter Lena.

FH dau Lisa met in DEC to a man with 2 bays & 2 master's degrees. Now on honeymoon.

Cattle and Dairying. Before the Civil War, some 17,000 cows were raised in Wake County. Just as farmers were regaining wartime losses, the stock law soon caused cattle production to decline to fewer than 9,000 by 1890, as tenants and small landowners no longer enjoyed the benefit of free range. Even so, until the early twentieth century most cattle herds were still considered "unimproved."⁷¹

Simultaneous with passage of the stock law was a movement among leading farmers around Raleigh to introduce thoroughbred cattle to Wake County. William G. Upchurch of Raleigh introduced Jersey cattle in 1883. Aside from their higher value on the market, Jerseys' milk and butter were touted as being much richer than that from native cows. Upchurch bought three cows from Carrolton Jersey Farm in Maryland and constructed a creamery "fitted up with the best apparatus and appliances" on his Woodland Stock Farm southwest of Raleigh. He constructed a reservoir to supply cool, fresh spring water for his stock and hired an experienced dairyman from New York to run the operation. By 1890 he and his brother, B. J. Upchurch, had a herd of sixty-five registered bulls, milk cows, and calves. Calves were sold every year throughout the southeastern United States, and butter was sold to local residents. "Owing to the distance from Raleigh [four miles], it does not pay to bring milk to the city to sell it," an 1890 feature article states. "The milk is fed to calves and pigs."⁷²

① From Profile of Francis Holt Tully Entry - 23 JUN 2012

In 1955 Francis Holt & family paid Uncle ^ΔGettis $500 for land. What did he do with it.

FN remembers the roof on the ^ΔBSU home leaked badly. They replaced only some parts of the roof.

At one point ^ΔHolt Tully offered to build a house for Aunt Maude, etc in exchange for the ^ΔBSU home. Uncle Gettis blocked this.

FN and I discussed in some detail possible reasons the 6 unnamed children of BSU lived in their father's home and let it fall down. We could come up with no satisfactory reason. Of course the Depression was a problem, Father did not have good opportunities to make money etc, etc. Ma Perry (Aunt Bessy) said Gettis, ^ΔWick & ^ΔMelrose were lazy. That is a good bet for Gettis but he did have a garden, hogs, chickens & helped with groceries - worked at Golf course & at Yates Chicken Farm. - He just did not earn much. We agree ^ΔFrank Jr took advantage of the situation but while his children benefitted they should not be made to feel guilty.

- ① Input from muley Albert Perry to RPU by phone 15062012
 Crasfile also with Uncle Win & Uncle Mac

I related to Monk the story [△]Francis Helt told me² about [△]Helt offering to build Aunt Maudie a nice house in exchange for her land. Monk had thought that it was [△]Harold D. Nelson, so who floated this deal but Monk conceded that the Francis Helt version could well be right. In any case the proposed deal caused Uncle Gertie to contact Uncle Rex in Nayakla and to persuade him to move into the home to avoid the deal. My take is that Uncle Gertie would always been angling to get the land for Frank, Jr and this is what happened in the end. Monk says he was always told that the land was somehow supposed to go to Uncle Rex's son [△]Allen (maybe as a follow on to the return of Uncle Rex to the home. -- RBJ)

Monk and I once again lamented the fact that the 6 unnamed children of [△]BJ4 lived and their lives in the home of their father and let it fall down around them. One could hardly blame the girls as they had not been prepared to work outside the home and opportunities were quite limited considering the Depression and all [But the opportunity was not zero!!]. The boys were the biggest disappointment. Growing at home one might guess they were raised spoiled and selected not to break out of the mold.

FH does not know much about the Rays but a child says "PAP RAY", a relative, lived near them in Raleigh on Bloodworth at corner of East of Jones Street. Presumably FH & I talked about Dotie RAY (had insurance sister MA in Dix Hill) who taught FH in 2nd Grade

From the ^{BJU} Home ^{Amos} James Martin got a parcel chair for his oppo. Aunt Lena painted a picture

Thank you very much for your time discussing the 1st North Carolina Regimental Battle Flag at the Museum. My great grandfather was a sharpshooter in Company C of the 1st North Carolina and was captured on May 12th, 1864 at Spotsylvania Court House in the Mule Shoe. His regiment was in Johnson's Division and these colors were lost early that morning when Hancock's massive assault overran their position and captured all but thirty men of that division. If you could arrange a viewing of this flag it would be a tremendous honor to see and photograph it. My cousin Mr. Miley Perry and I would make arrangements to visit at anytime you could work us in. Thank you again for your time in this request.

Dear Cathy, → [RICHMOND MUSEUM]

I have given this flag business some more thought and would like to add to my previous email. First of all I apologize for incorrectly spelling Payne's Farm earlier. I also would like to mention the word farm that is stenciled on the bottom of WD 421. I felt earlier that this was in reference to Frayser's Farm, but since it is on the bottom of the flag it may be for Payne's Farm. As I understand it, the stenciling on the bottom is for the most current battles. If it is in fact for Payne's Farm then we can eliminate that battle as a possibility for the capture of the flag. If the flag was taken at the Wilderness then I don't see how they would have had the time and resources to have a new one stenciled for Spotsylvania. From the pictures I have seen of the flag captured at Spotsylvania, it appears to be in almost perfect condition with all new stenciling. Maybe the flag was replaced after being captured at the Wilderness! Thanks, Gettis

 BRADLEY A VIA EMAIL 4 MAR

Dear Mr. Upchurch,

You are more than welcome for the flag appointment! I am glad you both enjoyed your visit to the Museum.

I really appreciate you sending me your research and observations, which sound reasonable to me. I have printed a copy of your email and added it to the flag's file, so that in the future we'll have better information on this flag and its identification.

I received responses from my flag colleagues regarding the 1st and 38th NC flags. Here's what they had to say regarding the 1st NC (WD 421), which reinforces what you wrote:

First response: "WD 421 is the flag of the 1st North Carolina State Troops not the 1st North Carolina Volunteers which in 1862 became the 11th NCT (1st NC Vols). North Carolina had a very confusing system of numbering regiments. When the war started the adjutant general authorized 10 regiments of State Troops who would serve for three years or the duration of the war. The state also formed 14 regiments of Volunteer Troops who enlisted for six to 12 months. Needless to say this confused people in both North Carolina and Richmond (and still drives people crazy today). When the terms for the Volunteer Troops expired many of the soldiers re-enlisted but in order to end the confusion of having two 1st NC, two 2nd NC, etc the number 10 was added to the number for each Volunteer Regiment. Thus the 1st North Carolina Volunteers became the 11th NC (1st NC Vols). I trust you are completely confused by now. So again, WD 421 is the 1st North Carolina State Troops not 11th (1st NC Vols) (the 10 State Troop Regiments kept their numerical designation). The 1st North Carolina State Troops ended the war in Cox's Brigade so Howard based his ID on the flags of the 4th North Carolina State Troops and the 30th North Carolina Troops."

Second response: "Check out the battle honors on WD#'s 307 & 434. They are almost identical to WD#421. As to the time-frame of the capture; the 1st NC was actually the 2nd unit to bear that numerical designation. The original 1st became the 11th and they were never merged. The second 1st retained that designation thru Appomattox."

And here's what one of them had to say regarding the 38th NC (WD 63):

"The ID for WD#63 came from Rich Rollin's research for his book "Damm Red Flags" and is based on unit positions. As this flag is totally unmarked I take Rollin's id as very tentative. Troop positions may look nice on a map, but actual battlefields seldom resemble maps! Rollins was not certain himself for he states in his footnote that the flag could be either that of the 18th or 38th NC. As we approach 150 years after the fact his id may be as close as we come."

I hope this information is helpful to you. Despite years of intense research, it's frustrating that sometimes we may never know the whole story.

Best wishes,

Cathy Wright

Dear Mr. Upchurch,

One of the flag fellows responded thus:

The 1st NC Inf (2nd) were definately at Appomattox. At least the survivors of the Regiment were convinced of it! About 70 odd men are found on the Appomattox surrender rolls. (see SHSP Vol. 15, pg. 260). The Diary of Events in the OR's also puts the Regiment at Appomattox, as does Clark's "History of North Carolina Regiments" (Vol. 1, pgs 135).

I don't know much about NC regiments, but I hope this helps!

Dear Cathy,

Thank you for all of the time and effort you have given to the history of this flag. I do have one more request if you can spare a little more time. I hope you will give your flag consultants a few of the facts we have established about WD 421 and see if they will offer an opinion about its capture date.

We know WD 421 belonged to the 1st North Carolina State Troops. The entire 1st North Carolina was captured along with all of Major General Ed Johnson's Division at the Mule Shoe in the Battle of Spotsylvania on May 12, 1864. The battle flag for the 1st was captured and now belongs to the North Carolina Museum of Natural History. That particular flag is in very good condition and only shows signs of gun powder and a tear where it was ripped from its staff, telling me it had been replaced recently. The 1st North Carolina did not exist after May 12, 1864. Payne's Farm was at one time stenciled on the bottom of WD 421. Now all that remains is the word "Farm" because the word Payne's was torn from the flag. The location of that battle honor on the bottom tells us that WD 421 was captured somewhere between Payne's Farm (Mine Run) and Spotsylvania. After the Mine Run Campaign, the 1st North Carolina was not heavily engaged again until the Battle of the Wilderness which occurred several days before Spotsylvania. At the Wilderness they fought from a defensive position, but also countercharged and captured the entire 146th New York Infantry and two guns. I feel like WD 421 was lost at the Battle of the Wilderness and most likely in this countercharge. I would be most grateful if your consultants would give their opinion about the capture date of WD 421.

Thank you again for your time and patience.

Dear Phil,

In some recent research I found some information about the stenciling of battle honors on the 1st N.C.S.T. flag. Ed Johnson's Division was supplied with battle flags that had their battle honors painted on them by an artist before they left the Richmond Depot. See the web site below and go the section concerning the Third Bunting issue.

The 26th North Carolina has recently completed the fund raising for its sixth such banner, and has begun work on its 2011 preservation project, a flag of the 1st Regiment N.C. State Troops. That flag, an Army of Northern Virginia third-bunting issue patterned battle flag, has battle honors painted in blue, with the regimental number painted in yellow in the center. During the early morning of May 12, 1864, at the Battle of Spotsylvania Court House, Virginia, the 1st Regiment N.C. State Troops, with the rest of Brigadier General George H. Steuart's Brigade, bore the brunt of a massive Federal assault on that portion of the Confederate lines known as the Mule Shoe. During the struggle, the color bearer of the 1st N.C. State Troops, John J. Reams of Northampton County, in a bitter hand-to-hand fight, had the flag of his regiment literally ripped from the flag staff. The flag was returned to the State of North Carolina in 1905.

Partnership with North Carolina Museum of History

The Society for the Historical Preservation of the 26th Regiment North Carolina Troops, Inc. & The North Carolina Museum of History have entered into a unique partnership to save North Carolina's Civil War Artifacts. From its inception, the mission of the 26th NCT has been to perpetuate the history of the original 26th NCT and the State of North Carolina's role in the American Civil War. We have always held to the belief that it is of the utmost importance that we preserve our ancestors' artifacts and monuments for future generations of North Carolinians.

In pursuit of this goal the 26th NCT can list the following accomplishments:

- Raised the necessary funds to restore the North Carolina Memorial at Gettysburg (1982 to 1985)
- Assisted the North Carolinian Society in their placement of the two monuments to the 26th NCT on the Gettysburg Battlefield (1985 & 1986)
- Published numerous letter collections and unpublished images of North Carolina soldiers in our historical magazine, Company Front (began publishing in 1987)

- Assisted the North Carolina Museum of History (NCMOH) in their opening of the Civil War Exhibit (1999 to 2005)
- Raised over $7,500 to preserve and restore one of the original battle flags of the 26th NCT, which is owned by the North Carolina Museum of History (NCMOH) in Raleigh (2005)
- Raised over $25,000 to place a suitable monument to remember the brave men and boys of the 26th NCT who fought their first battle of the Civil War at New Bern, North Carolina on March 14, 1862. (2002 to 2007)
- In January of 2004, the 26th NCT and the NCMOH officially formed a Partnership to raise the necessary funds to restore our State's Civil War artifacts
- 2007 – our second project for the NCMOH, the Regiment was responsible for raising the money for the preservation of the battle flag of the 52nd NC Regt....(raised $5,400)
- 2007 & 2008 – the Regiment raised $10,000 towards the Museum of the Confederacy project, which allowed the NCMOH to bring home:
 - (a) the 26th NC's Gettysburg flag
 - (b) the battle flag of the 37th NC
 - (c) the coat, sword and sword belt of Major General Bryan Grimes
- 2008 – the Regiment was responsible for raising the money for the preservation of the battle flag of the 47th NC...(raised $8,300)
- 2009 – the Regiment was responsible for raising the money for the preservation of the remnants of the battle flag of the 58th NC... (raised $7,000)

MUSEUM OF HISTORY

History Happens Here

The North Carolina Museum of History (NCMOH) holds an impressive collection of North Carolina Civil War flags and uniforms. Many of these artifacts need extensive conservation before they can be exhibited. Textile conservation is a time consuming, specialized, and expensive task, as hundreds of hours are needed to stabilize just one flag or uniform. With State funding not available to restore these artifacts, it is imperative that we all step up to help. Become Involved and Help Preserve North Carolina's Civil War History.

You or your organization can help save North Carolina's Civil War heritage by supporting the museum's conservation work. Please mail your check, payable to the North Carolina Museum of History Foundation and mail to the address listed below. Please indicate that your donation is for the "26th NCT Partnership," which is a restricted account meaning that all money so marked will only go towards the 26th NC's current conservation project. The Museum of History Foundation is a nonprofit 501(c)(3) organization, and gifts are fully tax deductible. Please mail your donation to:

⑩ NOTES OF RPU CALL 9 NOV 2011 TO FRANCES NOLT TIZLEY

! We discussed the Bartley Jefferson U home. Frances Holt recalls that the dog walk walks were lived with rock.

Frances says her MOTHER Lena Perry mentioned big pots that were used in an open fire place in the old kitchen. Frances recalls a big table stored in the big home in the 2nd downstairs room that had been used in the old kitchen. Our best guess is that the old kitchen might have been used as late as 1920.

Frances recalls being told BTH had a little money in the bank when he died in 1929.

Frances mentions yet again that at one point Aunt Lena U. was engaged to a friend Edward of the Edwards Shoe Store in Raleigh. Also, that Aunt Lena U. was engaged to a Mr. Stephenson of the Stephenson Music Store in Raleigh. Aunt Bessie (and probably Aunt Lena) spent time - overnight - weekends, etc., at the home of William George U. in Raleigh. It was this Stephenson that gave Aunt Bessie the ring that Clyde Perry lost in the ice cream mix at Pratt State.

We discussed the Scotts, Taylors, Yates, Greens, etc. I pointed that the Scotts + Taylors were aloof and considered themselves above the Rhamkette people. Frances agrees but says the Upchurchs were also aloof and only had time for the upper class Scotts, Yates, Greens, etc.

Aunt Bessie said she and Anna Yates stood up for each other - meaning they were made of honor at each other's weddings.

⑪ See Profile of Eleanor Marks U, II - Entry 24 JUN 2012 for photo of namer said to be given to EMU, II as a child. She was b. 1875 so a guess - the gift maybe 1890 - shows how BTH & wife treated their children.

(18) FROM NOTES OF DORIS RUTH U CALL TO RPU 35AN

We discussed our GF ^ΔBartley Jefferson U. I asked if she ever knew of him going to towns and she said "Yes". Her father Uncle Rex told her many times about how as a young kid her went to Raleigh with his father (BJU) and that BJU bought bananas - the first Rex had ever seen. They went by a horse drawn vehicle (Doris says wagon - I suspect Buggy). Uncle Rex ate bananas all the way home and got sick. From then on he could not tolerate bananas and would not let Aunt Ruth have bananas in the house.

We also agreed we could recall no report of BJU meeting his brother Bill in Raleigh nor could we recall a report of BJU having any stock in the various Raleigh enterprises mounted by Uncle William.

(19) From Biopile of Wiley Albert Perry - 15 JUL 2012

Wiley agrees the vase given to Aunt Ellie tells something positive about the BJU household. He has a single toy tea cup out of a set given to Aunt Maude as a child.

Wiley later reported that he and Nanny found more examples of the tea set at a flea market - RPU

⑬

Beginning in the Autumn of 1862, the new third style 3rd hunting issue battle flags were distributed by the quartermaster's department. . . . Four divisions received flags so marked: D.H. Hill's Division in April of 1863, A.P. Hill's Light Division in June of 1863, Edward Johnson's "Stonewall" Division in September of 1863, and Beth's Division in the same month. The honors were printed on the last two issues by Richmond artist, Lewis Montague.

The email also forwarded a 6 MAY 2011 email Gettin sent to Mark Perry. Gettin provided a link I got to a site giving information on the 3rd hunting issue as regards Ed Johnson's Division in which BPU served. See below. The entire forwarded not sent so the above relevant wording was copied.

CC & CIVIL WAR FILE

△ BJU BIOFILE

Phil,

Let me know if I can be of help on the Civil War article for the WCG Journal. You mentioned Bartley was captured at the "Bloody Angle" and I would like to clarify that somewhat. Bartley was in the "Mule Shoe" on May 12, 1864 and was captured along with almost all of Major General Ed Johnson's Division. Bartley's Regiment, commanded by Colonel Hamilton Brown was located at the East Angle of the the "Mule Shoe". Twenty thousand Union troops under Lt. General Winfield Scott Hancock attacked this four hundred yard section of the "Mule Shoe" at four thirty in the morning of the 12th. The Federal troops took this position in the flank and rear and threatened to cut the Confederate forces in half. Lee poured in his reserve units to hold this line so he could form a new defense at the rear of the "Mule Shoe". The fighting to hold this position raged for nearly twenty four hours. The worst of the battle was at a salient on the west side of the "Mule Shoe", which became to be known as the "Bloody Angle". Fighting there became hand to hand with the bodies piled three or four deep. This was about a thousand yards west of the East Angle. Bartley and the men captured with him at dawn had been marched to the Federal rear while the "Mule Shoe" was contested. Confederate General Ed Johnson had breakfast with Union General Winfield Scott Hancock since the Federals got him up so early. The 1st North Carolina State Troops were no more. Hamilton Brown was wounded and captured three times the morning of the 12th. Brown had been placed in a Federal ambulance where he proceeded to take a pistol from the driver and captured the ambulance and crew and took them to the Confederate rear. Colonel Brown would later be placed in command of the 1st North Carolina Battalion Sharpshooters and would be present at Appomattox. Bartley's company commander, Captain Louis C. Latham was not present at Spotsylvania because he was wounded at the Battle of the Wilderness. Latham would also be among those at Appomattox. Latham was a UNC graduate and after the war would attend Harvard, and be elected to the North Carolina House of Representatives and the United States Congress. Hancock's capture of Johnson's division and the "Bloody Angle" are two of the most famous events of the war, but they are not one in the same.

Thanks, Gettis

(27) From RPU call 22 OCT 2011 to Miley Albert Perry "MONK"

RE THE BARTLEY J. U HOME & PROPERTY

The house site is now owned either by Frank Jensen kids PAT or JEFF. The old well has been filled in. In the 1950 era a deep well was dug but who paid for it is not yet known.

The 2-Room kitchen burned after the main house. Monk says Horn is suggested. The main house was burned shortly after it was no longer occupied.

Monk says in photos show the main house was painted white. To me it always looked weathered and unpainted. Monk and I agree there were 2 additions with the 6-8' wide narrow kitchen being last. It must have been added when the girls stopped cooking in the 2-Room kitchen. Monk says they cooked in one and ate in one.

We discussed the fact that the dock boards were deteriorated and were hazardous to walk on. Neither Monk nor I could grasp how Uncle Gathie & his could let this happen. It would have been so easy for them to make at least rough improvements. BJU himself must have tolerated some poor maintenance in the 1920's.

Booth and his gang of acolytes—Lewis Powell, David Herold, John H. Surratt Jr., Samuel Arnold, Michael O'Laughlen, and George Atzerodt, plus others lost to history who drifted in and out of his orbit—would change that by kidnapping the president.

Booth's gang was not at full strength on April 14. Rebel courier John Surratt was in Elmira, New York, and it was impossible to command his return on a few hours' notice. Surratt had been away since March 25, the day he left for Richmond. The Confederacy's days were numbered, but Secretary of State Judah Benjamin had a final mission for the courier: Go North once more, pass undetected through Union territory, cross the border into Canada, and deliver dispatches to General Edwin Gray Lee, a cousin of Robert E. Lee, and head of Confederate Secret Service operations in Montreal. Surratt left Richmond on March 31 and on April 6 checked in at St. Lawrence Hall, unofficial headquarters of the South's covert operations there. Lee gave Surratt another mission: Go to New York to spy on the Union's prisoner-of-war camp at Elmira, in preparation for a raid to break out the Confederate soldiers languishing there. Surratt arrived in Elmira on April 13 and devoted the next two days to spying and shopping. He drew detailed sketches of the prison, counted the guards, tallied their small arms and cannon, and estimated the number of prisoners. He also made time for a personal mission. Surratt, a fastidious dresser—although not in the same league as Booth—visited clothiers in search of suits and shirts. On April 14, while Booth was planning the assassination, Surratt's most pressing concern was finding some fresh, white shirts to spruce up his wardrobe.

A CIVIL WAR LOVE STORY

By
Robert Phillip Upchurch
And
Gettis Bradley Upchurch

Bartley Jefferson Upchurch, a grandson of Nathan Upchurch, I, was a veteran of the Civil War. He grew up in the Green Level Area of Western Wake Co., NC and lived there until he departed for the war in 1862. After the war he returned in 1865 to Green Level to care for his destitute widowed mother and his blind brother and sister. Soon, before 1870, we find him in Northern Wake Co., where he married a local lass, Aurora O. Ray. The family has often wondered why Bartley moved from western to northern Wake Co. after the war. Along the way one idea surfaced but now another has appeared.

The first idea derived from the fact that a brother of Bartley, William George Upchurch had bought a farm in Barton's Creek Township of northern Wake Co. Being a Raleigh business man William presumably offered the Barton's Creek Township farm as a refuge for his impoverished relatives during the stressful times of Reconstruction.

Now the second idea surfaces. It turns out that John Derrell Allen, a native of Barton's Creek Township, served with Bartley throughout the Civil War. In fact they were both captured at Spotsylvania Court House in Virginia on the same day, May 12, 1864, and they both were imprisoned at Elmira, NY. Bartley served in Company G and John in Company I, both in the 1st Regt. N. C. State Troops. Next comes the coincidence that the two comrades-in-arms returned home to marry daughters of Buckner Ray. John married Lee Hawkins Ray, a sister of Aurora.

These facts allow us to speculate that during the war John had ample opportunity to tell Bartley about two charming Ray sisters of Barton's Creek and that should the fortunes of War allow they should each lay claim to one of these attractive ladies. Now we have no way of knowing whether Bartley was attracted first to the farm in Barton's Creek Township or the Ray ladies his buddy John had described to him. If it was first to the farm then it does not take much imagination to visualize that upon finding himself in Barton's Creek Township Bartley would soon have encountered John. The trail to the Buckner Ray home then no doubt became well traveled.

From the early 1870s on we find the family of Bartley in Swift Creek Township south of Raleigh, NC. Over the years the two families maintained some contact. And now, in 2007 an effort is being made for the third and fourth generations of these families to get to know each other. They would be 2nd and 3rd cousins. Once more the trails of Barton's Creek Township will be traveled – this time to the homes of the grandchildren and great grandchildren of John and Lee Hawkins (Ray) Allen.

Family ties sometimes withstand the burden of time and space. In the 1970s I set myself the task of gaining my first impression of the Barton's Creek Township in northern Wake County which my grandparents had forsaken in 1870 for a domicile south of Raleigh. I reached age old Rogers Store in northern Wake and explained my quest to the store operator who turned out to be Jesse Knox Ray, Jr., my second cousin. With only a few words out of my mouth he proclaimed "you must be Little Jeff's boy". This was the name by which my father was called in his youth to distinguish him from his father, Bartley Jefferson Upchurch, who was called "Jeff". I was astounded that my name was known in a community I had never visited before and which my grandparents had left a hundred years ago. Obviously, some contact had been maintained between the Ray enclave in northern Wake and the Upchurch outpost established south of Raleigh. Over time I was to get hints of these interactions. But, my imagination will always take me back to the battlefields of the Civil War where two young men together endured hardship beyond belief. This they did even as they shared thoughts of hearth and home and the prospects of fruitful union with sisters who unknowingly awaited for young men to return bowed but not broken.

Love stories lead to great things. Some of these stories come into full flower by the use of our imagination. And, so it was with Aurora and Lee and their gallant young men oh! so many years ago.

The process whereby family historians gather, process and ^{that} share heritage information is an erratic enterprise with many side paths. With luck, we ensnare others in our passion for history. Thus, this article on a love story, and the pictures shown of two of the participants, brings to the fore a side path. It concerns the fact ^{that} my work on family history has led to deep friendships with two first cousins-once-removed - Miley Albert Perry "Monk" and Gettis Bradley Upchurch. Their fathers Alton Owen Perry, Sr., and Frank Jefferson Upchurch, Sr, were Wake County natives. Together we have repeatedly visited the many Civil War Battlefields where our ancestor, Bartley, fought under General Lee. We are proud of the fact that Cousin Gettis has become a superb Civil War Historian in several respects. When I asked him for details on the medal shown on Bartley's lapel in the photo, he responded as follows:

"Phil,

The medal that Bartley is so proudly wearing is the "Southern Cross of Honor". At a reunion of Confederate Veterans in 1898, Mrs. Alexander S. Erwin of Athens, Georgia conceived the idea of presenting medals to all Confederate Veterans who provided loyal and honorable service to the Confederacy. Mrs. Erwin and Sarah E. Gabbett of Atlanta, Georgia designed the medal and received authorization from the United Daughters of the Confederacy to award them to the Veterans under the UDC banner.

There was no charge for the medal and it could only be earned. The UDC ensured that only qualified soldiers and sailors received the "Southern Cross of Honor". Several states such as Virginia made it a misdemeanor to wear one if you were not entitled to do so.

The medal is a Maltese Cross with a wreath of laurel surrounding the words "Deo Vindice (God our Vindicator) 1861-1865", with the inscription "Southern Cross of Honor" on its face. The back has a Confederate battle flag surrounded by a laurel wreath and the words "United Daughters of the Confederacy to UCV".

The first "Southern Cross of Honor" was presented to Mrs. Erwin's husband, Captain Alexander S. Erwin by the Athens, Georgia chapter of UDC on April 26, 1900. Bartley Jefferson Upchurch was presented his in January 1910 by the Raleigh Chapter of the UDC. There were almost 79,000 Veterans honored with these medals.

The UDC also provided at no cost, headstones for graves with these same markings and or a cast iron "Southern Cross of Honor" grave marker with a stake to be placed in the ground for the Veterans who qualified if requested.

The "Southern Cross of Honor" is often mistakenly linked to the Confederate "Roll of Honor". The "Roll of Honor" was created by the Confederate Congress on November 22, 1862 to honor soldiers and sailors for valor. The medals were never made because of the scarcity of materials that the South experienced, but a "Roll of Honor" was kept and was an honor in itself. This "Roll of Honor" was read at the first parade dress after it was granted. The men of a unit would vote to award this distinction after a battle if they thought someone worthy. This was the South's version of the "Medal of Honor". The war ended before any medals could be minted and presented to the members of the "Roll of Honor". Bartley Jefferson Upchurch was awarded the "Roll of Honor" at the Battle of Payne's Farm in the Mine Run Campaign.

I hope this is the information you need, if not please let me know.

Thanks, Gettis".

And so, telling a Civil War love story morphs into additional facets about the Civil War and promotes the pleasure of cousins coming together in joy – and sharing with the larger community our knowledge about the circumstances that prevailed during and after the Civil War.

"I was born in Hillsboro, N. C. I 'longed to Charles Holman and my missus was named Rachel. He owned a plantation near Hillsboro. It was a mighty big plantation in Orange County, an' he had a good many slaves on dat place. We had tolerable good food an' log cabins and clothes dat you wove in de loom. Home wove cloth. We had no feather bed. We did not know nuthin' 'bout feather beds. Slaves like dat had bunks an' some slept on de floor. We went barefooted most of the time. Slave shoes had wooden bottoms on 'em. Chilluns was not give shoes at our place till dey was big enough to work.

"I 'member seein' de Yankees. Dey wore blue clothes an' had brass buttons on 'em. De only work I done was to sweep yards an' nurse small chilluns. I done very little heavy work. My mother was named Nicy Oldman an' she worked in de field. My father was named Billy Briggs, cause he 'longed to the Briggs family. I do not 'member seein' my father but one time. I never seen a slave sold or whupped, but I heard tell of it. My mother tole me 'bout marster whuppin' so severe. We had a rough boss. He had two colored foremen. Dey were slaves who 'longed to marster.

"Dere wus no patches allowed to any of the slaves, an' none of 'em had any money.

"We wus not allowed to have any prayer meetin's. Mother said she never knowed one on de plantation.

"Dere wus a lot of talk 'bout de patterollers but marster done his own sneakin' around. He done a lot of eavesdroppin'. My mother said when dey tho't he wus asleep he wus awake. He wus strict on his slaves an' I didn't know what church wus. No books of any kind wus allowed to slaves an' I can't read an' write.

"They give two days Christmas. Mother said dat had always been marster's rule.

"I 'member de cornshuckin's. Dey lasted two or three days. Dere wus enough slaves to shuck de corn. Dey had plenty of cider at corn shuckin's an' a lot better things to eat den at other times. Marster made corn, peas, an' tobacco on de farm, mostly corn. Dey had plenty hogs an' dat wus a time when dey killed 'em. Dryin' up de fat for lard, trimmin' an' saltin' de meat an' chitlins. De hog guts wus called chitlins. Slaves wus allowed to eat meats as soon as de hogs wus gutted. Dey wus allowed to boil some lean parts of de meat an' eat it at de killin's.

"We played base an' hide an' jumpin' when I wus a chile.

"When we got right smart an' sick we had a doctor. When we wus not mighty sick, we took tea made of catnip, sassafras, an' roots.

"Yes, I 'member when dey tole us we wus free. Mother got up de chilluns to leave. She got just a few clothes. I'member seein' my uncle come to de house an' put up de horse. He put 'im in de stable an' we all lef' together. We went to my uncle 'bout five miles away on his marster's plantation. His marster was named Harvey Roundtree. We stayed there three weeks, den we went to a white man's place, Bill Gates. We stayed there several years. Mother had six chilluns. Three wus boun' out for dere victuals an' clothes an' three wus with her.

"We come to Wake County when I was fully grown. We come in a covered wagon. I saw father one time to 'member him. He died before de war closed, an' mother never married again. We went to Mr. Jeff Upchurch of Wake County an' worked on his farm. We stayed there ten or twelve years an' I married while we was there. I married Albert Stephenson. We stayed right on there about six years after we married. We then went to Mr. Lonnie Stephen's place, the man who onct owned my husband's father. We stayed there two years workin' as day hands, then we rented a farm from Mr. Joe Smith. Dis wus de fust time any of us had ever farmed for ourselves. We kept it up until old age made us unable to farm an' all de chilluns had got grown an' lef' us.

"We had thirteen chilluns, an' six is livin' yet. My husband died two years ago dis comin' August.

"Slavery from what I knows an' whats been tole me was a mighty bad thing. Don' see how some of de slaves stood it. I never did min' work but I is unable to work now. I has got a good will but I is worn out. De only way I lives is by goin' 'round 'mong my people. I have no home of my own."
