Hi Alan----

Jay Buck, the Manager of Upchurch and Allied Families Association, Inc, has kindly forwarded me his exchanges with you. In some cases, as now, I depart from my other primary duties to promote mutual interests. I will now offer a few comments and we can see how much mutual interest unfolds.

UAFA concentrates on American Families that trace their heritage back to North Carolina in the 1750-1850 era. The core of our interests are 22 Upchurch Clans, each headed by a patriarch/matriarch who lived about the time of the Revolution. They appear on our website as Enrolled Families. We also embrace "related" families.

The Strickland Family you mention is one of our related families. My extensive research in Franklin County, NC, since the 1960's has generated substantial Strickland information. My wife is a Strickland descendant. Let's move step-wise to see how much mutual interest we have.

The name Kinchen Upchurch has surfaced numerous times, but hard facts are scarce. We will be happy to explore this with you. Jay can direct you to our posted Upchurch Biofiles where you can see details first-hand. Among the Upchurches with a first name starting with "K," there are several versions representing different people. They were found in Franklin County, NC in the 1750-1850 era and involve a lot of confusion. A collaborative effort to resolve any of the confusion would be welcomed.

If you have interest/time to help us elevate the Strickland Family as a related UAFA Family or to resolve Strickland/Upchurch connections we would be happy to engage.

Sending all best wishes,
Phil Upchurch, Founder, Allied Families

I'll check that additional link, soon.

The only "solid" link to an Upchurch that I had was:
US and International Marriage Records, 1560-1900

Name: Elisha Strickland

Spouse: Upchurch?

Elisha is attributed with vital dates of 1740-1795. Some discussion (wouldn't call it sources), attribute Ms Upchurch with a first name (and sometimes an alternate maiden name) of Kitchen or Kinchen. The vital dates attributed to her are ca. 1737-1794. She supposedly is a daughter of James Upchurch I (1685-1765).

In terms of my relatedness to an Upchurch line, then, she is the only gateway ancestor of which I am aware. She and Elisha had a daughter Martha Polly Strickland (1771-1850) who married Brasel or Braswell Strickland (1774-1833).

Their son Wrightman or Wright Strickland (1800-1868 – whose profile is basically incomplete on WikiTree – the only reference is a supposed "Braswell Strickland Family Bible," which no one has actually proved in an accessible way) had a possible illegitimate daughter Martha Strickland (1837-1912) who married Nathan Snipes (1827-1906). Their son Elijah Thomas Snipes (1859-1935) married Vinetta Nettie Mazingo (1862-1952 – whose origins I am seeing if I can firm up now). Their daughter Polly Etta Snipes (1883-1978) married Horace Marvin Culbreth Sr (1880-1943), who were my great grandparents.

Some of this line I have entered at WikiTree. I did a small bit of an update to James Upchurch I \(1685-1765\). Daughter "Kitchen" is entered at WikiTree, but not with any real solid sourcing.

That I would want to tackle soon, but as it turns out, more than one Elisha Strickland has been entered, in error, at WikiTree, and mass confusion exists on whether he married the same woman that his brother Jacob married.

A second website, www.alliedfamilies.com, (password - 2014allied#), might also be of interest to you. We would love to know more about your family history and to exchange information. If you will send us a few names/dates/places that connect you to earlier Upchurch generations we will be happy to search our files and send you a report. We have a huge Upchurch collection much of which is not published. It would be a pleasure to walk you through the part that pertains to your heritage.

Descendants of Mathew Strickland (1648-1696) through Four Generations

Forrest King, CG

This article on the Mathew Strickland family was written at the urging of Dr. Edgar MacDonald,<sup>[1]</sup> a descendant of Stricklands from Duplin County, North Carolina. He asked if I would help determine how his family was related to Mathew Strickland of Isle of Wight County. To help me get started, he sent me all the Strickland notes that he had accumulated over the years.

My first guess was that an earlier researcher had probably written a reasonably sufficient history so that I could use it as a basis, make whatever modifications seemed appropriate, and identify the connections from the history to his earliest known Strickland ancestor. In checking the Internet and other sources, I found many wills, land abstracts, and other data fragments which were very useful, but there was no detailed history family available. Unfortunately, there was also some obviously undocumented and inaccurate information that was widespread throughout the Internet. This was particularly true when it came to identifying the surnames of women who married into the Strickland family.

This article is my attempt to document the Mathew Strickland family for four generations. The types of records mentioning Stricklands through the first four generations vary significantly. A number of Stricklands left wills, estate inventories, or other records of estate distribution that help identify the names of spouses and children. Some Stricklands did not leave wills, but tracing land transactions from one generation to the next helps to understand relationships. In a number of instances, determining relationships depends on how close Strickland families lived to each other and on estimated ages of the individuals involved. In a very few cases, the spouses of the female Strickland descendants can be documented.

Generation 1

1. MATHEW<sup>1</sup> STRICKLAND was born about 1648 probably in England and died in Isle of Wight County, Virginia after 1695.<sup>[2]</sup> He married ELIZABETH (—) probably in England by 1670. Elizabeth was born about 1649 probably in England and died in Isle of Wight County after 6 Jun 1687.<sup>[3]</sup> She is mentioned only once in the records when her husband sold some land.

<sup>3</sup> Isle of Wight County, Virginia Will and Deed Book 1715-1726, volume 2, part 2, pages 578-580; FHL microfilm 0,032,021. [It is also called the "Great Book." For the first 100 years of the county records, wills and deeds are intermixed in the same record books.] She signed her name with an "E".

Mathew<sup>1</sup> Strickland first appears in Virginia, leaving no clues about when he traveled to the New World and where he came from. It has been argued that many of the early Virginians are from southwest England,<sup>[4]</sup> but that is very speculative at best as a place to look for Mathew. He does not appear in the records much during his lifetime and so provides little information about his associates, thus making it difficult to trace other relationships in search of additional information.

The first evidence that Mathew<sup>1</sup> was in Virginia is found in the land patent records. On 26 Sep 1678 he patented 902 acres located more than 30 miles from the James River in Isle of Wight County on the main swamp of Ring Sale [Kingsale] at Beaver Dam branch beginning at a pond by the side of the swamp being the line of Wm. Collins.<sup>[5]</sup> He used 18 headrights in purchasing this land, including five for a Richd. Strickland.

Mathew's initial appearance in the Virginia records prompts several observations. First, there is no further mention of any Richard Strickland in the Virginia records, so Richard's relationship to Mathew<sup>1</sup>, if any, is currently unknown. Second, there is also no mention of any headright for Mathew<sup>1</sup>, his wife, or any of his children in the Virginia records. It is conceivable, but by no means certain, that the five headrights listed for Richard Strickland could have been for Mathew, his wife, and three children. There is a reference to an Eliz. Strickland in a patent by Robert Lucy dated 3 Nov 1673 for land on the south side of the James River on the Blackwater in Charles City County.<sup>[6]</sup> It is possible but not likely that there is a connection to Elizabeth, the wife of Mathew<sup>1</sup>.

The 902-acre patent on Kingsale Swamp purchased by Mathew<sup>1</sup> was not without controversy. On 20 Nov 1683, a subsequent patent by Capt. Henery Applewaite claimed this same land because "Mathew Strickland deserted for want of seating."<sup>[7]</sup> Somehow Mathew kept possession of this land, since he and wife Elizabeth sold 800 acres from this patent to William Evans on 6 Jun 1687.<sup>[8]</sup> The problem may have resulted from some poor bookkeeping either at the land office or by the Isle of Wight County clerk. Mathew had already given Thomas Jones a 99-year lease on 102 acres of this land on 6 Nov 1682<sup>[9]</sup> before Henry Applewaite applied for his patent. There is no court record to tell definitely how Mathew held on to the property.

<sup>7</sup> Virginia Patents 1679-1689, 7:329; FHL microfilm 0,029,324. It had been more than three years since Mathew's last patent on Blackwater Swamp. He must have relocated his plantation in 1680 to his newest purchase, which led Capt. Henry Applewaite to think that he had abandoned the property on Kingsale Swamp. The headrights claimed by Henry Applewaite were different from the headrights Mathew Strickland used to patent the same property. The names of Henry Applewaite's headrights do not appear to be used on any subsequent land purchases.

<sup>8</sup> Isle of Wight County, Virginia Will and Deed Book 1662-1715, volume 1, part 2, pages 578-580; FHL microfilm 0,032,021.

Even though Mathew purchased land in 1678, there is no indication as to how much earlier he arrived in Virginia, because the records of the time were incomplete. Bacon's Rebellion in 1676 was so disruptive that very few records were kept in Isle of Wight during that period. Mathew is not found in any of those records.

On 20 Apr 1680, Mathew patented another 1,803 acres in Isle of Wight lying on the main Blackwater adjoining Col. Pitt, George Pierce, and Col. Bridgers.<sup>[10]</sup> He had obtained another 36 headrights by this time. Mathew<sup>1</sup> now owned over 2,700 acres of land, which ranks him among the larger landholders of the county. As a comparison, only 6 landowners in the upper parish of Isle of Wight County had more acreage in the 1704 Virginia Quit Rent rolls.<sup>[11]</sup>

It has been proposed that he may have obtained headrights by being involved in some mercantile or shipping business, thereby making enough voyages or getting sufficient wealth to buy the headrights he used in his purchases. There are several considerations that limit the likelihood of this possibility. First, Mathew was illiterate, which would make being a merchant difficult.<sup>[12]</sup> A review of all the known merchants through the mid-1720s in Isle of Wight<sup>[13]</sup> identified only one as illiterate.<sup>[14]</sup> Second, merchants were constantly buying and selling goods with a number of individuals at any one time. The order-to-shipment delivery time was quite lengthy in the 1600s. One would expect a merchant's debts and credits to be found frequently in the estate records of his contemporaries in Isle of Wight County. Mathew does not appear in any Isle of Wight County estates acting like a merchant.

Third, the time to cross the ocean during this period of time is typically eight to nine weeks. If Mathew had obtained the headrights on his trips alone, he would have made a number of voyages over several years in order to accumulate the necessary headrights for 2,700 acres by 1680. There is no evidence that he made any voyages at all. Fourth, Mathew purchased only two properties and then stopped any further land purchases. He was under 40 years old on his last purchase. If he were in the mercantile business, he would still have been accumulating wealth and would probably have continued purchasing land. On the other hand, if his wealth was inherited, he had already purchased all that he could. Last, it should also be noted that all his land purchases were more than 50 miles from the James River, which would have made being a merchant more difficult.

<sup>14</sup> Isle of Wight County, Virginia Will and Deed Book 1715-1726, 2:147-150; FHL microfilm 0,032,002. Francis Seagraves, the illiterate merchant, was authorizing his "well beloved friend" Jonathan Sanderson to represent him in selling a piece of property.

How he had obtained sufficient funding for 54 headrights remains a mystery. It is most probable that he inherited wealth from either his father or his wife Elizabeth, likely before he came to Virginia. It is possible to buy headrights from other individuals, but that takes capital as well.<sup>[15]</sup> The typical cost of transporting a person from England to Virginia was over eight pounds, more than half a year's wages in the 1600s.<sup>[16]</sup>

There is a reference to a Mathew Strickland found in the North Carolina headrights, which work much the same way as headrights in Virginia.<sup>[17]</sup> Rowland Buckley proved seven headrights on 20 Apr 1694, including a Mathew Stricklin.<sup>[18]</sup> There is very little information in the Virginia and North Carolina records about Rowland Buckley. The available information does not give any clues if the Mathew Strickland he claimed as a headright is Mathew<sup>1</sup> or Mathew<sup>2</sup> or some other unknown Mathew, nor does it indicate that any relationship existed between Rowland Buckley and the Strickland family of Isle of Wight County. Rowland shows up for the first time when he patents 350 acres on Corrowaugh Swamp in Isle of Wight County on 22 Sep 1682.<sup>[19]</sup> Corrowaugh Swamp runs into the Blackwater Swamp about 8 miles upstream of where Mathew Strickland probably lived by 1678. Rowland Buckley sold his property on 19 Jan 1683<sup>[20]</sup> and is no longer found in the Virginia records. He owns land in the Pasquotank precinct of North Carolina on 25 Feb 1696.<sup>[21]</sup>

The only hint of Mathew's profession in the records was a mention of his tailoring skills in the estate of Robert Worgar.<sup>[22]</sup> He never held a position in Isle of Wight County. He appeared very rarely in the Isle of Wight records, and the records concerning him show him as a member of the middle class rather than the upper class.

<sup>20</sup> Isle of Wight County, Virginia Will and Deed Book 1662-1715, volume 1, part 2, pages 502-503; FHL microfilm 0,032,021. Acreage sold at that time is not listed, but Rowland is no longer found selling land in Isle of Wight County.

<sup>22</sup> Isle of Wight County, Virginia Will and Deed Book 1661-1715, 2:306; FHL microfilm 0,032,022. That estate owed Mathew money for some garments he made.

Mathew<sup>1</sup> probably died about 1696<sup>[23]</sup> without leaving a will and owning 1,803 acres of land from his 1680 patent. However, many of his children, if not all, can be determined by the selling and disbursement of his remaining 1,803 acres. One or more of these children mentioned were not of age at his death. Below is a list showing the disbursement on 14 Aug 1699 of this land by his sons Mathew<sup>2</sup> and William<sup>2</sup> to the other siblings.<sup>[24]</sup>

- 1) to sd. Mathew<sup>2</sup> a parcel of land whereon “my father lived” beginning at the mouth of Horse Swamp running up to Gum Branch, along the branch Col. Pitt’s line, sd. Mathew’s plantation, and all the land on the south side of Horse Swamp.
- 2) 150 acres of land on Gum Branch at the old plantation to brother John<sup>2</sup> Strickland and his heirs.
- 3) 150 acres to brother Samuel<sup>2</sup> Strickland lying at the head of the Watson Branch adjoining Arthur Whitehead.
- 4) land above the Watson Branch and on the south side of the Horse Swamp to brother William<sup>2</sup> Strickland.
- 5) 150 acres to brother Joseph<sup>2</sup> Strickland adjoining Blackwater Branch between “my plantation” and the line of Mr. Woodward.
- 6) 250 acres of land on the Black Pond that was given to Jno.<sup>2</sup> Strickland but was previously sold by Will.<sup>2</sup> Strickland unto Arthur Whitehead.
- 7) “Every one to have his part according to his articles att age to receive furthermore if I or either of us defraud them or either of them he sd. Defraudor shall forfeit his own part according unto those articles to him or them that shall be defrauded.”

Even with this level of detail for his property distribution, it is still a little unclear how many acres each one of the children of Mathew<sup>1</sup> received because the acreage that Mathew<sup>2</sup> and William<sup>2</sup> received is not stated. Table 1 below shows how the land from the patent of 1,803 acres was sold by Mathew’s<sup>1</sup> children over the next 25 years:

Where DB= Isle of Wight County Deed Book and GB= Isle of Wight County Great Book [Wills and Deeds]

There is a 317-acre discrepancy between the 1,803 acres purchased by Mathew<sup>1</sup> in 1680 and the total of 2,120 acres distributed and sold by Mathew's<sup>1</sup> children from this same tract. A possible answer to the discrepancy will surface when we more closely examine the land dealings of Thomas Boon and his son Ratcliff, who were purchasers of 860 acres from this patent. Table 3 below shows that their land transactions end up 295 acres short of what they seemed to have owned.

It is also interesting to note that both John<sup>2</sup> and Joseph<sup>2</sup> were given 150 acres of land in 1699 distribution. However, there is no record of either of them selling his land. Only Joseph is found subsequently in the Isle of Wight records, appearing in 1718 as a will witness. It is presumed that both died without heirs. Their land must have reverted to their brothers William and Mathew, who then sold the land.

One of the best sources for determining the number of acres owned by Mathew's<sup>1</sup> children would have been the 1704 statewide Quit Rent rolls. Unfortunately, it appears that no roll was taken of the lower parish of Isle of Wight County where Mathew lived. If any roll was taken of the lower parish, it was subsequently lost.

There have been attempts to tie the Stricklands of Maryland to those of Isle of Wight County because of similarity of family names. Elizabeth, wife of Mathew<sup>1</sup> Strickland, would then have been Elizabeth Loreen. This connection is sufficiently refuted in the Strickland Scene magazine.<sup>[25]</sup> Elizabeth, wife of Mathew<sup>1</sup> Strickland, is only found in the records selling land with her husband on 6 Jun 1687.<sup>[26]</sup>

Children of Mathew Strickland by his wife Elizabeth were:

2. i. MATHEW<sup>2</sup> STRICKLAND, b. probably in England about 1671, m. ANN BRASWELL in Isle of Wight County about 1705, and d. in Isle of Wight County after 14 Jul 1730.<sup>[27]</sup>
3. ii. SAMUEL STRICKLAND, b. probably in England about 1672, m. ABIGAIL (--) in Isle of Wight County about 1692, and d. in Isle of Wight County after 27 May 1718.<sup>[28]</sup>

<sup>28</sup> Isle of Wight County, Virginia Will and Deed Book 1715-1726, 2:26; FHL microfilm 0,032,002.

4. iii. WILLIAM STRICKLAND, b. probably in England about 1673, m. OLIVE (---) in Isle of Wight County about 1695, and d. in Bertie County, North Carolina after 1727.<sup>[29]</sup>
- iv. JOHN STRICKLAND, b. probably in England about 1674 and d. in Isle of Wight County after 14 Aug 1699.<sup>[30]</sup> John and his brother William witnessed a land transaction between William Carver and William Crumpler on 19 Feb 1697/8.<sup>[31]</sup> He last appeared in the records in the division of his father's land, from which he received 150 acres.<sup>[32]</sup> There is no record of him selling this land.
5. v. ELIZABETH STRICKLAND, b. probably in Isle of Wight County about 1676, m. THOMAS BOON in Isle of Wight County about 1698, and d. in Isle of Wight County after 1723.<sup>[33]</sup>
- vi. JOSEPH STRICKLAND, b. in Isle of Wight County about 1680 and d. in Isle of Wight County after 27 May 1718.<sup>[34]</sup> He was a witness to his brother Samuel's will in 1718 in his only appearance in the records.

Generation 2

2. MATHEW<sup>2</sup> STRICKLAND (Mathew<sup>1</sup>), born about 1671 probably in England and died in Isle of Wight County after 14 Jul 1730.<sup>[35]</sup> He married ANN BRASWELL, daughter of Richard Braswell and wife Sarah (---), in Isle of Wight County about 1705. Ann married (2) MR. EDWARDS in Isle of Wight County before 15 Nov 1731.<sup>[36]</sup> She died in Isle of Wight County after 22 Jan 1732.<sup>[37]</sup>

Mathew<sup>2</sup> Strickland seems to be the oldest child of Mathew<sup>1</sup> because he appears in the records first and he is responsible for distributing the land after his father's death. His first appearance is in 1696 when selling the remaining 102 acres of the 902-acre patent to Henry Baker on 12 May 1696.<sup>[38]</sup> He is found mostly in the Isle of Wight County books selling the land that previously belonged to his father. Mathew also patents 400 acres on the Nottoway River on both sides of Little Swamp on 17 Aug 1725.<sup>[39]</sup>

Mathew's wife Ann Braswell is mentioned in the will of her father Richard Braswell dated 28 Jul 1724/5.<sup>[40]</sup> She appears on two deeds as shown on Table 1 above and is the executrix of her husband's will dated 14 Jul 1730.<sup>[41]</sup> She marries secondly Mr. Edwards by 15 Nov 1731.<sup>[42]</sup> There is no mention of her after 22 Jan 1732.<sup>[43]</sup>

Mathew probably lived all but his first few years in Isle of Wight County and died between 14 Jul 1730 and 25 Oct 1730.<sup>[44]</sup> He specified in his will that his land could only be sold to the next heir and never go out of the Strickland family. It is probable that all of his children were unmarried at that time of his will. The two oldest sons, not named, were to take care of the cattle given to their younger brothers in the will. In his estate inventory recorded 26 Jul 1731, Mathew had a number of farm animals. This is the only indication of his possible profession.<sup>[45]</sup>

Children of Mathew Strickland by his wife Ann Braswell were:

6. i. JOHN<sup>3</sup> STRICKLAND, b. in Isle of Wight County about 1706, m. UNKNOWN about 1733, and d. in Edgecombe County after 9 May 1765.<sup>[46]</sup>

- iii. MATHEW STRICKLAND, b. in Isle of Wight County about 1709 and d. in Isle of Wight County after 14 Jul 1730.<sup>[48]</sup> Mathew is mentioned only in the will of his father and given animals. There is a Mathew Strickland that the Raleigh Register newspaper abstract claims to be 95 or 96 years old in 1828,<sup>[49]</sup> but it is doubtful they are the same person.

3. SAMUEL<sup>2</sup> STRICKLAND (Mathew<sup>1</sup>), born about 1672 probably in England and died in Isle of Wight County after 27 May 1718.<sup>[57]</sup> He married ABIGAIL (---), in Isle of Wight County about 1692. Abigail died after her husband in Isle of Wight County.<sup>[58]</sup>

Samuel Strickland showed up only a few times in the records, but he did leave a will. There is no record of his birth, but he was probably born about 1672. He mentioned a wife Abigail in his will, but there are no clues as to her last name. He was given 150 acres at the head of Watson Branch when his father's estate was divided on 14 Aug 1699.<sup>[59]</sup> He rented some or all land he inherited from his father to Peter Daniel on 25 Sep 1714.<sup>[60]</sup>

In his will dated 27 May 1718,<sup>[61]</sup> he mentions wife Abigail, sons Stephen, Samuel, and Joseph, and daughter Rachel. He also divides 300 acres "where I now live" equally among his three sons. There is no record of this 300 acres being purchased by Samuel<sup>2</sup> or later being sold by his children. It is possible that he obtained the land from his marriage to Abigail.

Children of Samuel Strickland by his wife Abigail (---) were:

- 11. i. JOSEPH<sup>3</sup> STRICKLAND, b. in Isle of Wight County about 1693, m. ANN THORNTON in Isle of Wight County about 1711, and d. in Edgecombe County after 20 Mar 1746/7.<sup>[62]</sup>
- ii. STEPHEN STRICKLAND, b. in Isle of Wight County about 1697 and d. in Isle of Wight after 25 Nov 1734.<sup>[63]</sup> He is mentioned in his father's will and given 100 acres of land, a horse, bridle, and saddle.<sup>[64]</sup> He patents 100 acres on the north side of the Meherrin River on 22 Feb 1724<sup>[65]</sup> and sells this land to William Bryan on 25 Nov 1734.<sup>[66]</sup> He does not show up in the records after that time and does not sell the land given to him by his father.

4. WILLIAM<sup>2</sup> STRICKLAND (Mathew<sup>1</sup>), born about 1673 probably in England and died in Bertie County, North Carolina after 1727.<sup>[69]</sup> He married OLIVE (—) in Isle of Wight County about 1695. Olive was born about 1672 and died in Bertie County after 1727. She is not mentioned by name after her husband's will.<sup>[70]</sup>

Like his brother Mathew, William also appears in the records primarily in land transactions. He helps his brother Mathew distribute his father's land to his brothers. William and his brother John are witnesses to a land transaction between William Carver and William Crumpler dated 19 Feb 1697/8.<sup>[71]</sup>

The acreage he received in the family land distribution in 1699 was the only land he owned in Virginia. William and his wife Olive sold to Ratcliff Boon 200 acres of the Mathew<sup>1</sup> Strickland 1680 patent on 8 Mar 1715.<sup>[72]</sup> William was a resident of North Carolina by 16 Mar 1723 when he was called William Strickland Senr. as he and wife Olive sold another 150 acres of the Mathew<sup>1</sup> 1680 patent to William Powell.<sup>[73]</sup> Since he did not appear in any of the Chowan tithable lists that cover up through 1721, it is likely that he relocated to North Carolina not long before 1723.

His wife Olive was born probably about 1672 and only shows up selling land with her husband and in her husband's will. She is typical of a number of the spouses of the Stricklands over the first four generations. Her last name cannot be proven, but family histories have assigned a last name to her nevertheless.

In these family histories, Olive has been given the last name of Pitman. There is an Olive, daughter of Thomas Pitman, in Isle of Wight County records in 1728. This Olive is of the wrong generation to be the wife of William<sup>2</sup>. Olive Pitman is missing from her grandfather Robert Lancaster's will in 1720<sup>[74]</sup> and still may be under age at her father's will in 1728.<sup>[75]</sup> In order for Olive to be the husband of William<sup>2</sup>, she would have been born in the same generation as her grandfather Robert Lancaster. This same Olive

Pitman is also reported to be the wife of Elias Fort who died in North Carolina sometime before 1759.<sup>[76]</sup> Furthermore, the Pitmans were living in Surry County, Virginia starting in 1650 and did not come to Isle of Wight until sometime between 1704 and 1712, a number of years after Olive married William<sup>2</sup>.<sup>[77]</sup>

William left a will dated about 1728 and probated in May 1728 in which he listed his loving wife (unnamed) and five sons.<sup>[78]</sup> William gives to “my Loving Wife all the rest of the Goods and Chattels both within and without During Life.” William also gives to son Samuel “my now Dwelling plantation after his mother’s decease.” Samuel was born about 1710 and Olive was still alive in 1715,<sup>[79]</sup> so that makes Olive the unnamed loving wife. There is no record of Olive after that date.

There is a little mystery surrounding the land that William<sup>2</sup> gave to his children in his will. There is no record of him either buying this land or getting it as a gift. The tract in question was initially patented by William Boon on 11 Nov 1723 for an unknown quantity of acres on the Meherrin River. The land was sold or given as a gift from William Boon to William Strickland, but the deed was not recorded.<sup>[80]</sup> If it was a deed of gift to William<sup>2</sup>, the relationship between the two is not known. A possibility is that Olive is a daughter of William Boon. Since Olive was born about 1672, that is not likely. William Boon was probably not old enough to be her father because there are no references to a William Boon before 1710 in either Virginia or North Carolina. There are other possible relationships, but there is insufficient information to properly evaluate those options.

- iv. JOHN STRICKLAND, b. in Isle of Wight County about 1708, and d. probably in Johnston County, North Carolina after 1744. John is mentioned in his father's will in 1728 and given 100 acres lying on the Roanoke.<sup>[84]</sup> There is no record of John selling this land. He does appear as witness a number of times, which allows us to track his movements during his lifetime. Although the will is undated, John first appears as a witness in the will of Nicholas Boon.<sup>[85]</sup> He then appears with brothers William and Joseph witnessing a deed in Bertie County from William Powell of Isle of Wight to James Millikan on 7 Nov 1729.<sup>[86]</sup> He begins showing up in the Edgecombe County records on 23 Jan 1736 when he witnesses the will of William Murphy<sup>[87]</sup> and later a deed of a land sale from Nathaniel Cooper to Edward Gullede dated 19 Feb 1744.<sup>[88]</sup>
15. v. SAMUEL<sup>2</sup> STRICKLAND, b. in Isle of Wight County about 1710, m. MARY (---) possibly the last name of DAVIS in Bertie County about 1738, and d. in Johnston County, North Carolina after Feb 1784.<sup>[89]</sup>

5. ELIZABETH<sup>2</sup> STRICKLAND (Mathew<sup>1</sup>), born about 1676 probably in Isle of Wight County and died in Isle of Wight County after 1723.<sup>[90]</sup> She married THOMAS BOON, possible son of Nicholas Boon, in Isle of Wight County by 1698. Thomas Boon died in Isle of Wight County after 1723.<sup>[91]</sup>

It is possible that Thomas Boon is the son of the Nicholas Boon who is found in the Isle of Wight records starting from 7 Feb 1667<sup>[92]</sup> when he owes money to William Ruffin, to 1694 when he owes money to the father of George Greene.<sup>[93]</sup> Nicholas was a follower of Nathaniel Bacon during Bacon's Rebellion. He signed a petition of clemency in Isle of Wight in 1676.<sup>[94]</sup> On 7 Jul 1684, Nicholas was mentioned in the estate of Thomas Pitt.<sup>[95]</sup> The Pitts were neighbors to the Stricklands in Isle of Wight County, so there is a good chance that Nicholas Boon knew Mathew<sup>1</sup> Strickland and his family. It is also possible, but not likely, that Nicholas Boon of the Isle of Wight records was the Nicholas Boon who purchased 40 acres in Chowan County, North Carolina on the south side of the Meherrin River on 16 Apr 1721.<sup>[96]</sup> Nicholas Boon of Chowan County had underage children at home when he wrote his will about 1720.<sup>[97]</sup> If he were the Nicholas Boon of Isle of Wight, then he married a second time to a much younger woman.

There are at least three adult Thomas Boons within a 50-mile area, which causes confusion to researchers. In addition to Thomas Boon, the husband of Elizabeth<sup>2</sup>, there are two other Thomas Boons over the Virginia border in Chowan County, North Carolina. These last two Thomas Boons are father and son, as can be shown by land transactions. The activities of each Thomas Boon can be traced independently by studying the records closely.

The two Chowan Thomas Boons are easily identified in the records. On 12 Feb 1728/9, Thomas Boon Jr. sells to Elias Fort Sr. 150 acres on the south side of the Meherrin River with Thomas Boon Sr. as a witness.<sup>[98]</sup> The older Thomas Boon first appears in the records on 17 Oct 1719 when he purchases 380 acres on the north side of the Meherrin River.<sup>[99]</sup> There is only one Thomas Boon (Thomas Boon Sr.) found in the 1721 Chowan tithables.<sup>[100]</sup> Thomas Boon Jr. first appears when he buys 50 acres on the south side of the Meherrin River from William Boon on 16 Sep 1721,<sup>[101]</sup> making his birth probably near 1695. That makes Thomas Boon Sr. born about 1670 and therefore of the same generation as the Thomas Boon who married Elizabeth<sup>2</sup> of the same generation.

The problems arise when Thomas Boon, husband of Elizabeth<sup>2</sup>, is assumed also to be Thomas Boon Sr. of Chowan County. The records show that they are two different individuals. Thomas Boon Sr. of North Carolina and Thomas Boon of Isle of Wight County are buying, selling, and witnessing land transactions regularly from 1715 to 1723 in different states. There are no references to either Thomas Boon being from another county or colony when they do sell land (e.g., being of North Carolina when selling land in the colony of Virginia or vice versa). This shows that these two Thomas Boons are separate persons.

Nevertheless, a deed found in Northampton County indicates that there may be some family relationship between the Boon families of early Virginia and North Carolina. On 21 Feb 1742, a Ratcliffe Boon of North Carolina sold Thomas Lyle of Surry County 40 acres of land that was previously purchased by his father Joseph Boon on 9 Nov 1725.<sup>[102]</sup> Thomas<sup>2</sup> Boon of Isle of Wight County also had a son named Ratcliff<sup>3</sup>. Ratcliff is an unusual first name in either colony.

<sup>101</sup> Chowan County, North Carolina Deeds 1719-1750, C1:126; FHL microfilm 1,730,346. He is called Thomas Jr. and he has actual possession of the property.

<sup>102</sup> Bertie County, North Carolina Deeds 1725-1728, B:57-58; FHL microfilm 0,018,246. Joseph Boon had taken possession of the property prior to its purchase.

There is contact by the Virginia Boons and the Lyle family of Northampton in the next generation. Ratcliff<sup>9</sup> had a son named Jacob<sup>4</sup> who migrated to Northampton and married Lucy Lile or Lyle, who is probably the daughter of this Thomas Lyle who purchased the 40 acres in 1742.

Thomas<sup>2</sup> Boon, husband of Elizabeth Strickland, is first found in the Isle of Wight County court records by references. He was assigned to the road crew of William Murphy on 12 Dec 1694.<sup>[103]</sup> His house is mentioned as the location for a payment between William Jolly and Robert Coleman about 7 Oct 1695.<sup>[104]</sup>

Thomas Boon mostly appears in the Isle of Wight records buying and selling land. He last appears with wife Elizabeth selling 180 acres to Peter Mackone on 28 Oct 1723.<sup>[105]</sup> He does not leave a will or an estate. The only clues as to any descendants come from subsequent land sales by his son Ratcliff<sup>9</sup> that will be shown on Table 3 below. There is no record of any of his land purchases going to anyone except Ratcliff. All his Isle of Wight County land descended to son Ratcliff.

Child of Thomas Boon by his wife Elizabeth Strickland was:

16. i. RATCLIFF<sup>3</sup> BOON, b. in Isle of Wight County about 1695, m. UNKNOWN in Isle of Wight County by 1715, and d. in Isle of Wight County after 1754.

Generation 3

There is no early census or tithables information available to help identify where the Stricklands were before the mid-1780s. Fortunately, there are some very good clues found in the military records of the mid 1750s in North Carolina. Because of the threat of war with France in the Appalachians, the governors of Virginia and North Carolina authorized militias to be created in each state in the 1750s.<sup>[106]</sup> At this time, descendants of Mathew<sup>1</sup> Strickland can be found in the North Carolina counties of Edgecombe, Johnston, and Northampton. Most of the records of Edgecombe County militia units have survived. Johnston County records are reasonably comprehensive, but the Northampton County records seem to be incomplete. There are a number of known adult Stricklands during this period who are not included in any of these military lists.

Table 2 below shows militia participation of adult Stricklands from Edgecombe and Northampton Counties, with information taken from the book Colonial Soldiers of

6. JOHN<sup>3</sup> STRICKLAND (Mathew<sup>2</sup>, Mathew<sup>1</sup>), born about 1706 in Isle of Wight and died probably in Edgecombe County after 9 May 1765.<sup>[109]</sup> He married UNKNOWN in Isle of Wight County about 1733.

John may be the oldest of the children of Mathew and Anne. He is first mentioned in the 1730 will of his father when he was given 100 acres of land on Green Pond.<sup>[110]</sup> There is no record of him selling this land.

Sometime before 1752 John migrates to Edgecombe County, North Carolina. He surveys a tract of land on Sapony Creek on 16 Dec 1752.<sup>[111]</sup> He eventually settles in the Sapony Creek area and purchases 450 acres on 5 Mar 1763.<sup>[112]</sup> He sells this land on 9

May 1765.<sup>[113]</sup> He is assigned to help lay a road from the bridge by Duncan Lamont to Samuel Kennedy's property on the Sapony to Benjamin Lane's road on 23 Sep 1760.<sup>[114]</sup>

John does not leave a will, but some things can be learned about his probable descendants. He is found under the command of Benjamin Lane in the militia for Edgecombe County (see Table 2). Lazarus Strickland is also in this same military unit. Based on the date of his first land acquisition, Lazarus seems to be much younger than John and so is probably John's son. Lazarus Strickland and a Simon Strickland each buy land from the same patent on Bear Branch in Edgecombe County from Edward Moore on 10 Dec 1763. Each one witnesses the other's purchase. These land transactions indicate a close relationship between Lazarus and Simon, who could be brothers.

Children of John Strickland by his wife Unknown were:

- i. (probably) LAZARUS<sup>4</sup> STRICKLAND, b. in Isle of Wight County about 1739 based on his first appearance in the land records m. EDITH (---)<sup>[115]</sup> in Edgecombe County about 1761, and d. probably in Nash County after 1799.<sup>[116]</sup> Edith is mentioned only in a court record dated 14 May 1792.<sup>[117]</sup> On 13 Aug 1761, Lazarus was a surveyor for land on the south side of Tosnet Swamp in Edgecombe County.<sup>[118]</sup> He purchased his first tract of land from Edward Moore on the east side of Bear Branch adjoining Arthur Taylor totaling 130 acres on 10 Dec 1763.<sup>[119]</sup> He had been living on the property prior to its purchase. Lazarus was overseer of the road from his Uncle Jacob's land to Reuben Williams as of 2 Apr 1778.<sup>[120]</sup> During the Revolutionary War period, he was very active in purchasing land. Lazarus and Harman Strickland were appointed guardians of the children of Mary Dyson on Feb 1788.<sup>[121]</sup> He is found in the 1790 Federal census<sup>[122]</sup> as well as the 1800 Federal census in Nash County.<sup>[123]</sup>

DINAH TAYLOR, daughter of Samuel Taylor, in Edgecombe County about 1763, and d. probably in Nash County after 1800.<sup>[124]</sup> Simon first appeared in the records when he purchased 150 acres on Bear Branch on 10 Dec 1763.<sup>[125]</sup> On 23 Feb 1783 in the Nash County deed book, he received land from the estate of Samuel Taylor by right of his wife Dinah, who was a sister to Samuel.<sup>[126]</sup> He then moved to Johnston County for a couple of years where he was living on the north side of Little River according to a

William is first mentioned in the will of his father. He is given “land on the east side of the swamp” and animals.<sup>[131]</sup> He is listed as a neighboring landholder to a John Edwards on the north side of the Meherrin River as of 20 Sep 1745.<sup>[132]</sup> There is no record of William selling this property, but on 10 Sep 1760 a John Strickland appears to be the current property owner.<sup>[133]</sup> John may be a son or a brother, but the relationship is yet unknown.

William migrates to Edgecombe County, North Carolina by 15 Feb 1750, where he patents 400 acres on the Tar River.<sup>[134]</sup> William also helps with civic duties. On 26 Jun 1759 he is assigned to be a road overseer in the place of William Ruffin<sup>[135]</sup> and on jury duty three months later on 25 Sep 1759.<sup>[136]</sup> On 18 Jul 1767 William petitions to have one acre on each side of the Tar River for a grist mill.<sup>[137]</sup> William then sells one acre on 20 Feb 1768 to his brother Jacob for 15 shillings, thus forming a partnership with Jacob in the grist mill.<sup>[138]</sup> William last appears when he sells 285 acres he patented on 26 Apr 1754 plus one acre and his share of the public grist mill to Edward Moore on 28 Jun 1770.<sup>[139]</sup>

There is no record of William<sup>3</sup> having children. John mentioned above is one possibility. A second is Mathew<sup>4</sup> Strickland, a great-grandson of Mathew<sup>1</sup> whose father cannot be definitively identified at this point. Mathew<sup>4</sup> had dealings with Edward Moore, the same Edward Moore to whom William sold his mill in 1765.

MARY PERRY, daughter of John Perry,<sup>[140]</sup> in Bute County on 5 Jan 1774<sup>[141]</sup> and d. in Wake County on 18 Jul 1828.<sup>[142]</sup> Mary died on 25 May 1817 at age 65 or 66.<sup>[143]</sup> Mathew first appears in the records as a resident of Granville County, North Carolina when he purchases land on Little River Creek in Johnston County on 1 Feb 1765.<sup>[144]</sup> In Sep 1772, Mathew's land is now part of Wake County when he brings Hardy Griffin, an orphan, to be bound to him and the clerk prepared the indentures accordingly.<sup>[145]</sup> In the 1782 tax list, Mathew has 1,911 acres and three slaves in Wake County tax records.<sup>[146]</sup> By the 1790 Federal Census, he appears to have all seven children listed later in his will living at home.<sup>[147]</sup> Mathew seems to be called to jury duty on a regular basis in the 1790s. In Sep 1795, he is found delinquent for jury duty<sup>[148]</sup> for which he is later excused.<sup>[149]</sup> Mathew fails to show up again six months later and that seems to end his jury duty responsibilities.<sup>[150]</sup> In Feb 1810 Mathew and son John P. are defendants in a suit by John Pace over the use of Buckner Upchurch as a worker. Elizabeth married (2) JOHN WILSON in Nash County after 9 Dec 1782.<sup>[156]</sup> She died after Aug 1791.<sup>[157]</sup>

Joseph is executor of his father's will and given animals and household furniture.<sup>[158]</sup> Shortly after that time, he begins to accumulate land when he purchases 240 acres on the Nottoway River on 13 May 1732.<sup>[159]</sup> On 23 Nov 1734, he is paid money out of the estate of William Boykin.<sup>[160]</sup> Sometime before 1746, he has relocated to Edgecombe County and with wife Frances is selling his property in Isle of Wight County.<sup>[161]</sup>

Joseph was a constable in Edgecombe County and was relieved of this duty on 22 May 1746.<sup>[162]</sup> He purchased his first land in Edgecombe County on Stoney Creek on 19 Nov 1748,<sup>[163]</sup> after which he patented 400 acres Bear Branch on 28 Oct 1751.<sup>[164]</sup> On 10 Jan 1754, Joseph sold to John Edwards of Southampton County 50 acres in Southampton County on the north side of the Meherrin River.<sup>[165]</sup> This land was patented by his father Mathew on 17 Aug 1725<sup>[166]</sup> and came to Joseph either as a gift from his father before he died or as a transfer from one of his brothers. Joseph was not given land in his father's will.

Joseph and his son David are called on to lay out the road path between the bridge over Stoney Creek and his home on 5 Dec 1761.<sup>[167]</sup> He and brother Jacob were signers of a petition to repeal a 1723 law taxing all free Blacks.<sup>[168]</sup> He could be the Joseph who was the road overseer from the Little River Bridge to the Edgecombe County line as of Oct 1763.<sup>[169]</sup> a surveyor for a land purchase on 22 Mar 1750/1 by father-in-law Arthur Taylor on Green's path, which about a mile from the Tar River.<sup>[204]</sup> Jacob buys and sells many tracts over his lifetime. The land he purchased in Edgecombe County eventually became part of Nash County when it was created in 1779.

He marries Priscilla Taylor by 1731. He is mentioned in the will of Priscilla's father Arthur Taylor dated 19 Aug 1765 and is responsible for taking care of two of his brothers-in-law.<sup>[205]</sup> Priscilla is executrix of the will of James Wells and is mentioned in his estate in 1767.<sup>[206]</sup>

Jacob performed many different civic responsibilities in Edgecombe County. These civic responsibilities started in a negative way when he failed to show up for jury duty on Jun 1759.<sup>[207]</sup> Jacob and brother William were on the petition for a road from Tar River to Slate Hills on 27 Sep 1759.<sup>[208]</sup> He and brother William Strickland were on a grand jury on 23 Jun 1761.<sup>[209]</sup> On 20 Feb 1768, he purchased one acre on the north side of the Tar River from his brother William in running a public mill.<sup>[210]</sup> They were now partners in this grist mill. Jacob also started to distribute his property to his sons Mark and Henry in Nov 1769.<sup>[211]</sup>

In the 1782 Nash County tax list, Jacob has 1,190 acres of land and eight slaves.<sup>[212]</sup> He leaves a will dated 18 Aug 1788 and is dead by May 1790.<sup>[213]</sup> His inventory lists some animals and crops.<sup>[214]</sup>

Solomon has the opportunity to manage several work crews in the 1760s even though he does not appear to be a land owner at that time. It is not certain when he purchased his first tract of land. He is living or had shortly moved away from a property on the south side of Turkey Creek on 10 Aug 1778.<sup>[218]</sup> This property refers both to "Solomon's Spring Branch" and to "improvements where the sd. 10. Christiana died in Wake County after 9 Dec 1797.<sup>[287]</sup>

Sampson is mentioned in his father's will of 1730 and is given 150 acres where his father used to live.<sup>[288]</sup> This land was on the Meherrin River in Isle of Wight County neighboring the property of Thomas Taylor, according to a land patent dated 16 Sep 1740.<sup>[289]</sup> This property would become a part of Southampton County when it was created in 1749. Sampson seems to have been the last Strickland to leave Virginia for North Carolina.

The marriage of Sampson generates some questions. There appears to be a large gap between the births of his first two children, which raises the possibility that he was married more than once. Elizabeth Taylor, daughter of neighboring landowner Thomas

Taylor, is a likely candidate for Sampson's first wife. When Thomas Taylor left a will in Southampton County on 7 Aug 1754, he left daughter Elizabeth (Taylor) Strickland a slave.<sup>[290]</sup>

Estimating the ages of the children in the will of Thomas Taylor is a useful exercise to see if Elizabeth is of an appropriate age to be Sampson's wife. At the time of Thomas Taylor's will, Elizabeth is the only married daughter and is probably the oldest. If she is the oldest, Elizabeth would probably be in her 20s, meaning that she was born before or near 1730. Sampson is of the right age and owns neighboring land, which makes him the Strickland most likely to be the husband of Elizabeth (Taylor) Strickland.

Another indication that these families of Stricklands and Taylors could be connected is a land sale from Joseph<sup>3</sup> Strickland of Edgecombe County to John Edwards on 10 Jan 1754 in Southampton County.<sup>[291]</sup> Harris Taylor, brother to Elizabeth (Taylor) Strickland, was a witness to the sale, and Joseph is a brother of Sampson.

There is another Elizabeth Strickland in Isle of Wight County who has not been placed who could be the daughter of Thomas Taylor mentioned in his will probated in Southampton County in 1754. On 12 Oct 1751, an Elizabeth Strickland is being helped out by the Newport Parish of Isle of Wight County because she is poor.<sup>[292]</sup> If this Elizabeth were his daughter, it is doubtful that she would be receiving welfare in a neighboring county while her father was still able to provide for her care.

Before 9 Jan 1761, Sampson migrated to Johnston County where he purchased 275 acres on both sides of Powell Creek.<sup>[293]</sup> While he was living in Johnston County, he was responsible for taking care of the estate of William Pike, an orphan, on 21 Jan 1762.<sup>[294]</sup> He also served as a juror in Apr 1764.<sup>[295]</sup>

Sometime in the late 1750s, Sampson's first wife dies. During the 1760s he marries his second wife Christiana, who was younger than he by several years. There is about a nine-year gap between the births of Sampson's first and second children. Sampson<sup>4</sup>, a son of the first marriage, was old enough to fight in the Revolutionary War.<sup>[296]</sup> Christiana was the guardian to all the other children on 3 Mar 1783.<sup>[297]</sup> Obadiah,

Abel, Mary Ann, Lot, Mathew and Braswell are all under 14 years old on that date. On the next day, John Rogers and John Pubbs posted security for Christiana to be guardian for Obadiah and Braswell.<sup>[298]</sup>

Sampson lived in the part of Johnston County that became Wake County in 1771. In Sep 1774, he had some kind of disagreement with the colonial government. All the details are not available, but here is what we are told in court documents dated 6 Sep 1774:

Joshua Haugton having been Security for Sampson Strickland in a suit our Sovereign Lord the King against said Strickland surrendered the Principal in Discharge of his Bail, Defendant gave other Security to wit, William Doram and Paul Martin who were approved by the Court.<sup>[299]</sup>

He is brought into court again in Dec 1777 because he refuses to take the oath of allegiance, so the court “pronounced his banishment agreeable to law” on 4 Dec 1777.<sup>[300]</sup> That penalty could be death or banishment from the colony.<sup>[301]</sup>

There is evidence that he was not banished or put to death even though he is not found in the records after Dec 1777. There is no record that he had any land taken away from him. His estate in 1784 included many farm animals.<sup>[302]</sup> If Sampson<sup>3</sup> were not around to manage the farm, Christiana and the children or hired help would have been responsible for all the animals. It is a big responsibility for a mother with very small children unless son Sampson<sup>4</sup> was able to help and still fulfill his military duty.

Sampson<sup>3</sup> left an estate in Wake County dated 30 Sep 1784.<sup>[303]</sup> His children were mentioned in his estate documents, with his wife getting his estate to provide for the family. Most of his children ended up in Franklin County shortly after his death, due to a boundary adjustment taking land from Wake County. Christiana may already have been dead by 2 Mar 1790 when son Braswell chose another person besides her as guardian.<sup>[304]</sup> Notwithstanding, she was mentioned in the estate sale of husband Sampson on 8 Dec 1797.<sup>[305]</sup>

Child of Sampson Strickland by his first wife Unknown, possibly Elizabeth Taylor was:

- i. SAMPSON<sup>4</sup> STRICKLAND, b. probably Southampton County, Virginia about 1754, m. his cousin (1) BYTHE (---) in Wake County about 1780<sup>[306]</sup> who died before 1816 and (2) ELIZABETH (---) in Nash County before 14 Sep 1816,<sup>[307]</sup> and d. in Franklin County on 16 May 1839.<sup>[308]</sup> Sampson first shows up in the records as a soldier in the Revolutionary War in 1780 when he enlists in Wake County.<sup>[309]</sup> He sells to brother Obadiah 250 acres on the north side of Mocoso Creek on 28 May 1784.<sup>[310]</sup> Sampson does not show up much in the records beyond in the Federal Censuses in Nash County. He does show up in the Wake County tax list from 1792 to 1794.<sup>[311]</sup> Sampson then moves to Franklin County where he shows up on their tax lists from 1804 to 1815.<sup>[312]</sup> He, wife Elizabeth, and others sell 85 acres on the Willow Meadow Branch on 14 Sep 1816.<sup>[313]</sup> Sampson's relationship to the other individuals is not specified. His mother was named as his guardian on 3 Mar 1783.<sup>[338]</sup> Mathew received money in the will of his brother Lot dated 31 Dec 1784.<sup>[339]</sup> There is no other record that can be tied specifically to this Mathew after this point. - vii. BRASWELL STRICKLAND, b. in Wake County about 1774, m. MARY STRICKLAND, daughter of Elisha<sup>4</sup> Strickland, in Franklin County about 1792, and d. probably in Franklin County after 1832.<sup>[343]</sup> Braswell was probably the youngest child of Sampson. He was still under age when he came to court and chose cousin Elisha Strickland as his guardian on 2 Mar 1790.<sup>[344]</sup> Braswell did receive money in the will of his brother Lot dated 31 Dec 1784.<sup>[345]</sup> He had 200 acres in the Franklin County tax list dated in 1799.<sup>[346]</sup> Braswell was involved in a lawsuit in Wake County dated Jun 1805 regarding the will of Elisha Strickland. It seems that there was an insertion into the will where Braswell's wife was to get a legacy and he was suing Elisha's other legatees for rectification.<sup>[347]</sup> Braswell won the lawsuit but he somehow assaulted one of the parties and therefore had to pay court costs. He appealed the decision in May 1806.<sup>[348]</sup> Braswell showed up on the Franklin County tax lists from 1804 to 1815 owning 217 acres.<sup>[349]</sup> He was found in the 1830 Federal Census in Franklin County.<sup>[350]</sup> Braswell was mentioned in the estate of William Dunn dated Mar 1833.<sup>[351]</sup> daughter of William Thornton, in Isle of Wight County about 1711. Ann died in Edgecombe County after 20 Mar 1743.<sup>[353]</sup> She appeared only in one land transaction.

Joseph was given 100 acres in his father's will dated 27 May 1718.<sup>[354]</sup> He first appeared in the records as a witness to a deed dated 20 Jun 1722 from John Barnes and his wife Anne to Thomas Hampton for 238 acres on the south side of the Blackwater adjoining Flagg Swamp.<sup>[355]</sup> It is this same tract of land that helps determine the last name of his wife Ann. On 20 Dec 1723, Thomas Hampton sold this land to William Thornton.<sup>[356]</sup> William Thornton did not leave a will and was dead by 26 Nov 1733.<sup>[357]</sup> This land was next sold on 26 Mar 1743 when Joseph Strickland and wife Ann now of Edgecombe County sold these 238 acres to Richard Vick.<sup>[358]</sup> The assumption here is that Ann inherited this land from her father without going through a will or estate. It is also possible that there is some other unrecorded deed, thereby making Ann something other than a Thornton.

Joseph and his brother Stephen moved near the current town of Boykin, Virginia where they each patented land on 22 Feb 1724.<sup>[359]</sup> Joseph also patented 75 acres on the east side of Tarraroe Creek adjoining Joseph Lane's land. A little over a year later on 24 Mar 1725, Joseph purchased another 185 acres on the south side of Tarraroe Creek by John Jones' land.<sup>[360]</sup>

Joseph was a witness of the will of his uncle William dated 14 Jul 1730,<sup>[361]</sup> neighbor Thomas Pitman's will dated 3 Mar 1727/8,<sup>[362]</sup> and the inventory of William Boykin's estate dated 23 Nov 1734.<sup>[363]</sup> Joseph sold his 1725 patent of 185 acres plus 100 acres on the neighboring property on 24 Oct 1737.<sup>[364]</sup> He then moved to Edgecombe County sometime before 26 Mar 1743, when he and wife Ann sold 238 acres that once belonged to William Thornton as mentioned earlier.<sup>[365]</sup> Joseph patented 500 acres of land on both sides of Deep Creek on 22 Nov 1744.<sup>[366]</sup> He sold the last of this land on 20 Mar 1746/7<sup>[367]</sup> and not seen in the records again.

Joseph<sup>3</sup> did not leave a will, so identifying his children becomes difficult. There is one probable child that has been identified, a Harman Strickland who witnesses a deed with Joseph Strickland on 18 Nov 1736 in Isle of Wight County. This Harman would probably have been born no later than 1715 if he was of legal age at the time he witnessed the will.<sup>[368]</sup> Harman also moves to Edgecombe County and by 1744 resides on Deep Creek near Joseph Strickland. Later Harman<sup>4</sup> purchases 200 acres on Deep Creek and then by deed gives this land to his only known son Harman<sup>5</sup> on 20 Oct 1774.<sup>[369]</sup> Joseph's<sup>3</sup> and Harman's<sup>4</sup> dealings and movements together in the same vicinity in both states make a father-and-son relationship very likely.

Child of Joseph Strickland by his wife Ann Thornton was:

- i. HARMAN<sup>4</sup> STRICKLAND, b. in Isle of Wight County about 1712, m. UNKNOWN in Isle of Wight County about 1730, and d. in Edgecombe County after 20 Oct 1774. He first appeared with his father as a witness to a deed dated 18 Nov 1736.<sup>[370]</sup> Shortly thereafter, he relocated to Deep Creek in Edgecombe County, perhaps at the same time as his father in the early 1740s. He was assigned to be a member of Mr. Blount's road crew to the Tar River on 19 Feb 1744.<sup>[371]</sup> Harman patented land on Deep Creek on 20 Oct 1744. This is probably the only land he ever owned. Deep Creek became a part of Halifax County when it was created in 1759. Harman last appeared in the records giving son Harman<sup>5</sup> 200 acres of land on the east side of Deep Creek and Indian Branch on 20 Oct 1774.<sup>[372]</sup> His son Harman<sup>5</sup> was under age at the time of this gift. He is often confused with his son Harman<sup>5</sup>. Harman<sup>5</sup> left a will in Halifax County on 13 Sep 1796 and mentioned a son named Harman<sup>6</sup> as well.<sup>[373]</sup> If they are the same person, Harman<sup>4</sup> would have been about 84 years old in 1796.

Digression on the probable daughters of Thomas Boykin and marriages to Stricklands

The connection between Thomas Boykin and the Strickland family should be explored because Thomas Boykin had two daughters who married Stricklands. Thomas Boykin leaves a will dated 13 Apr 1748.<sup>[374]</sup> He mentions son Thomas Boykin, as well as Ann Crafford, Martha Thornton, Eliz. Strickland, and Patience Strickland. The will does not specifically identify the last four as daughters, but that is the implication. The females mentioned in the will are to receive 1 shilling from his estate if they request it of son Thomas Boykin. This then raises the question of which Stricklands were the husbands of Elizabeth and Patience Boykin.

The following analysis is not definitive, but it reflects my attempt to answer this question. First, there will be some background information on Thomas Boykin to show where he purchased land. Next, a study of neighboring Stricklands will then be made to determine the most likely candidates to marry Boykins. Last, a review of Ann (Boykin) Crafford and Martha (Boykin) Thornton will add some supporting evidence as to which family their sisters married into.

<sup>374</sup> North Carolina Wills 1663-1789, Bor-Col, will of Thomas Boykin, arranged alphabetically, FHL microfilm 0,018,043.

Thomas Boykin who left the will in 1748 is the son of Edward Boykin and the brother of William Boykin of Isle of Wight County. Before moving to North Carolina, Thomas had lived on property owned by his father on Tucker Swamp in Isle of Wight County sometime before 18 May 1723.<sup>[375]</sup> On that date, his father Edward Boykin gave the land to his son, Thomas' brother William. William mentions brother Thomas Boykin in his will dated 19 Jun 1731.<sup>[376]</sup>

Thomas Boykin first appears in North Carolina when he buys 420 acres on the south side of the Meherrin River adjoining Rebecca Braswell, Moye's Branch, and Thomas Moye on 23 May 1722.<sup>[377]</sup> This land is near the border with Virginia on the Meherrin River. In a deed for a neighboring property dated 12 Feb 1732/33, this same land is described as near "the Elbow tree of the old County line."<sup>[378]</sup> Thomas also patented 200 acres of land on the south side of the Meherrin River adjoining Kirby's Creek, Meadow Branch, and the mouth of Maple Branch on 23 Mar 1723.<sup>[379]</sup> These properties are less than 8 miles apart.

It is unclear which of these two properties was the primary plantation where his family would have lived. Both properties descended to his son Thomas, who died in April 1781 in Wayne County, North Carolina. Son Thomas' will was subsequently destroyed by the British march through the area.<sup>[380]</sup> Any information contained in his will about these properties has been lost.

Estimating the ages of Thomas Boykin's daughters is important to help determine which Stricklands are of appropriate ages to be their husbands. Based on his first appearance about 1722, Thomas Boykin Sr. was probably born about 1695 to 1700, which means that his probable daughters were born after 1715. This would make Elizabeth and Patience most likely to be married after 1735 to the younger Stricklands of the third generation or older ones of the fourth generation. The assumption being used is that Thomas Boykin and his two future sons-in-law lived in the same general area.

There are several possible Stricklands who could have married into the Boykin family. Thomas Boykin Sr. was a neighbor on his Kirby's Creek property to Mathew<sup>3</sup> Strickland (William<sup>2</sup>) who purchased 300 acres on 15 Nov 1744<sup>[381]</sup> and Samuel<sup>3</sup>

<sup>375</sup> Isle of Wight County, Virginia Will and Deed Book 1715-1726, volume 2, part 2, pages 553-554, FHL microfilm 0,032,002. Thomas Boykin is mentioned as a previous occupant of the property.

<sup>381</sup> A. B. Pruitt, Colonial Land Entries in North Carolina, 4 volumes (No place: No publisher, 1994), 1:79 no. 1143. This land is next to Robert Monger

(William<sup>2</sup>) Strickland who purchased 150 acres there on 15 Sep 1741.<sup>[382]</sup> Both are possible husbands for the Boykin daughters, based on their proximity to Thomas Boykin Sr. However, Mathew<sup>3</sup> and Samuel<sup>3</sup> are probably too old to be husbands for the Boykin daughters, since they were born about 1705. These Stricklands probably would have married between 1725 and 1730. Their children would then have been too young to be married to a Boykin daughter.

There are two other Stricklands within a reasonable distance of Thomas Boykin Sr. On 22 Feb 1724 Joseph<sup>3</sup> (Samuel<sup>2</sup>) purchased land on Tarraroe Creek in Isle of Wight County,<sup>[383]</sup> which is under 10 miles as the crow flies from Thomas Boykin's property near the Virginia border, and Joseph<sup>3</sup> (William<sup>2</sup>) on 4 Feb 1741/2 purchased 150 acres of land on Courdoroy Swamp, which runs into the Meherrin River between the two properties owned by Thomas Boykin.<sup>[384]</sup> Joseph Strickland<sup>3</sup> (Samuel<sup>2</sup>) is about same age as Samuel<sup>3</sup> and Mathew<sup>3</sup> mentioned above; therefore, he would be too old and his children would all be too young. Joseph<sup>3</sup> (William<sup>2</sup>) has children of marrying age in the late 1730s and 1740s and therefore is the most likely candidate to be the father-in-law of Elizabeth and Patience Boykin.

There are some additional clues to help narrow down the identity of the Stricklands who married Boykins. Thomas Boykin Sr. had two other married daughters mentioned in the will, Ann (Boykin) Crafford and Martha (Boykin) Thornton. The families of these two daughters, along with Samuel Strickland and his Boykin wife and Samuel's brother William, migrate to the Cohary Swamp area of Duplin County, North Carolina from 1755 to 1765.

The husband of Martha seems to be Thomas Thornton Jr. Thomas Thornton Sr. was a close neighbor to Thomas Boykin on his Virginia border property. This was the only Thornton family anywhere near this area. Thomas Thornton Sr. purchased 230 acres from William Bennett on the north side of the Meherrin River and the county line; the deed was recorded in Nov 1724.<sup>[385]</sup> This land was described as "adjoining the old county line" when it was sold by a Thomas Thornton Sr. on 9 Mar 1746.<sup>[386]</sup> Thomas Thornton Sr. was still in that area about Oct 1751 being surveyor for the property of Charles Skinner on Mirey Branch in Northampton County.<sup>[387]</sup>

After the 230 acres were sold in 1746, Thomas Thornton Sr. and Thomas Thornton Jr. relocated to the branches of the Cohary in Duplin County by 15 Mar 1755.<sup>[388]</sup> Thomas Thornton Jr. had a wife named Martha. They were married by 1748, since

Thomas Thornton and wife Martha had a son named John who was born 31 Aug 1749.<sup>[389]</sup> Based on this evidence, Martha is probably the Martha (Boykin) Thornton mentioned in the will of Thomas Boykin Sr.

The Ann (Boykin) Crafford component also provides information. There are two adult Craffords in the general area, William and Arthur. William is the likely husband of Ann Boykin. William Crafford becomes a neighbor to both Joseph<sup>3</sup> (William<sup>2</sup>) and Thomas Boykin Sr. when he purchases land on Kirby's Creek on the south side of the Meherrin in 1736.<sup>[390]</sup> Northampton deed records show that William has a wife named Ann.<sup>[391]</sup> William also migrated to Cohary Swamp area for a period of time.<sup>[392]</sup> Arthur Crafford is not the husband of Ann Boykin, since a deed dated 11 Aug 1729 gives his wife's name as Jane.<sup>[393]</sup> He also was probably too old to marry a daughter of Thomas Boykin Sr.

There is other information that also may help make this Boykin-Strickland connection. There are probably three sons of Joseph<sup>3</sup> (William<sup>2</sup>) (Samuel, perhaps John, and William) who followed Thomas Thornton and William Crafford to the Great Cohary Creek area of Duplin County.

The use of the first name Thomas, after grandfather Thomas Boykin Sr., also provides a clue. A land sale on 22 Aug 1765 shows that Joseph<sup>3</sup> (William<sup>2</sup>) does have a grandson named Thomas Strickland. Grandson Thomas had inherited this land from his uncle Exum because Exum died without heirs. Thomas is called the son of eldest son of Joseph<sup>3</sup> in the deed.<sup>[394]</sup> This Thomas Strickland is the only Strickland with that first name before about 1775. The father of Thomas is probably Samuel because Samuel appears to be the oldest child of Joseph. Samuel is also the right age to have married either Patience or Elizabeth Boykin.

The other Strickland-Boykin marriage is harder to pin down. The wife of John (Joseph<sup>3</sup>) is not known, but John is probably too young to have married a Boykin. Brother William is probably too young and his only known wife is Sarah.<sup>[395]</sup> The only other son of Joseph<sup>3</sup> (William<sup>2</sup>) who is the right age is Joseph<sup>4</sup>, and the name of his wife is also unknown. Joseph<sup>4</sup> lived his life in Northampton. Joseph is probably the other Strickland who married either Patience or Elizabeth Boykin.

12. JOSEPH<sup>3</sup> STRICKLAND (William<sup>2</sup>, Mathew<sup>1</sup>), born about 1698 in Isle of Wight and died in Northampton County after 25 Sep 1755.<sup>[396]</sup> He married ELIZABETH (—), probably in Isle of Wight County about 1718. Elizabeth died in Northampton County after 1760.<sup>[397]</sup> She married (2) ROGER ALLEN before 22 Sep 1760.

Joseph may have been the oldest son of William<sup>2</sup> Strickland and was born about 1702. He received 100 acres lying on the Roanoke in the will of his father in 1728.<sup>[398]</sup> On 7 Nov 1729 he and brothers William and John witnessed a deed in Chowan County from William Powell of Isle of Wight to James Millikan.<sup>[399]</sup>

Joseph was living in the part of Bertie County that became Northampton County in 1741. On 2 Feb 1741/2 he purchased from Nicholas Boon 150 acres in Northampton County on the south side of the Meherrin River adjoining Corduroy Swamp.<sup>[400]</sup> On 25 Oct 1743, Joseph purchased 100 acres on the south side of the Meherrin River from his brother Mathew, which Mathew had inherited in his father's will.<sup>[401]</sup> This tract of land descended to Joseph's son Joseph<sup>4</sup> without being recorded in the courts.<sup>[402]</sup> In addition to another 100 acres on the south side of the Meherrin River from brother Mathew on 25 Oct 1743, Joseph bought 284 acres on the north side of Wild Cat Swamp in central Northampton County.<sup>[403]</sup> He sold 100 acres of the Wild Cat Swamp land on 4 Jan 1749.<sup>[404]</sup> Joseph made his last land purchase on 1 Mar 1755 when he bought an undetermined number of acres on the Great Branch adjoining William Moore and Mr. Underwood.<sup>[405]</sup>

He married Elizabeth whose last name is unknown. Elizabeth could not be the Elizabeth Strickland mentioned as a daughter in the will of Thomas Boykin dated 13 Apr 1748 in Northampton County,<sup>[406]</sup> since Thomas Boykin Sr.'s daughter is of a later generation than Joseph and his wife Elizabeth.

Joseph wrote a will dated 25 Sep 1755<sup>[407]</sup> in which he lists some but not all of his children. In fact, it is possible that Joseph only mentioned his children that were still at home because he gave the “remainder of the estate to raise the children.” None of the daughters mentioned in Joseph’s will were married at that time.

The will does not name two documented children who can also be tied to Joseph<sup>3</sup>. One of them is his son Joseph<sup>4</sup>, who as mentioned earlier received land not recorded in the courts. The second child is Samuel. As shown earlier, Samuel’s<sup>4</sup> son Thomas sells some land that was initially given to Exum<sup>4</sup> in the will of Joseph but transferred to Thomas because Exum had died without heirs.<sup>[408]</sup>

There is a William Strickland in the same Northampton County area where Joseph<sup>3</sup> lived who could be a grandson but not a son of Joseph. This William Strickland leaves a will dated 1 Feb 1786 that gives his estate to his wife Mary and then to his children.<sup>[409]</sup> None of the children appear to be married at the time of the will, so William is probably in his 40s at the time. William first appears as a witness to a deed transferring land on the west side of Kirby’s Creek from John Pitman to Harmon Taylor on 14 May 1765.<sup>[410]</sup> He witnesses a second deed on the same day between the same parties for land on the Meherrin River and the county line.<sup>[411]</sup> Because of when and where William first appears and his probable age, William could be a grandson but not a son of this Joseph<sup>3</sup> (William<sup>2</sup>). Alternatively, he could be a son of Joseph Strickland<sup>3</sup> (Samuel<sup>2</sup>) who was living near the Virginia border and Meherrin River.

Joseph is dead by Nov 1755.<sup>[412]</sup> His wife Elizabeth marries Roger Allen before 1760. Roger Allen and wife Elizabeth sell 184 acres on Wild Cat Swamp on 22 Sep 1760.<sup>[413]</sup> This is the land where Joseph Strickland had previously lived.

Children of Joseph Strickland by his wife Elizabeth were:

UNKNOWN but probably PATIENCE or ELIZABETH BOYKIN in Bertie County by 1739, and d. probably in Sampson County after 1790.<sup>[414]</sup> Samuel stays out of the records until he relocates to Duplin County and patents 140 acres on Nixon’s Branch adjoining Mark Phillips on 5 Dec 1761.<sup>[415]</sup> Nixon’s Branch is a stream running into the Great Cohary Creek.<sup>[416]</sup> Samuel and son Thomas are witness to a deed in Duplin County dated 1 Nov 1762.<sup>[417]</sup> By 11 Dec 1770, Samuel is a neighbor to probable brother-in-law Thomas Thornton

- ii. JOSEPH STRICKLAND, b. in Bertie County about 1724, m. UNKNOWN but possibly PATIENCE or ELIZABETH BOYKIN in Northampton County by 1746, and d. probably in Northampton County after 1772. He appears very little in the records. He is not mentioned in his father's will in 1755; nevertheless, he obtains 100 acres on the south side of the Meherrin River that previously belonged to father Joseph<sup>3</sup>. This land could be the land given to his sister Rachel in their father's will. Since there is no record of her disposal of the land, Rachel must have died without heirs. Joseph keeps this land until 30 May 1772 when he sells it.<sup>[421]</sup> Joseph also witnesses the will of Robert Cobb on 14 Oct 1765.<sup>[422]</sup>
  - iii. - v. (possibly) JOHN STRICKLAND, b. in Bertie County about 1732 and d. probably in Cumberland County after 1777. John migrates to Duplin County like most of his brothers. He lives a brief time on Little Cohary Creek, and his improvements to the tract were mentioned when the land was sold on 3 Feb 1769.<sup>[433]</sup> He also purchases 150 acres of land on the east side of Black Mingo,<sup>[434]</sup> and then sells it to Jonathan Godwin of Edgecombe County on Oct 1771.<sup>[435]</sup> At some time, a Mathew Strickland makes improvements to this land before it is sold by John. By 19 Dec 1777, John purchases 150 acres on the east side of Stoney Run, which was a branch of Black Mingo in Cumberland County.<sup>[436]</sup> He also is called a delinquent debtor in Cumberland County for the year 1777.<sup>[437]</sup>

  - viii. EXUM STRICKLAND, b. in Bertie County about 1738 and d. in Northampton County before 22 Aug 1765.<sup>[440]</sup> He receives a plantation of 184 acres in the will of the father. This is the land where his father last lived. He dies without issue, and the title to the land transfers to Thomas<sup>5</sup> Strickland, who in the deed is called "the son of the eldest son" of Joseph<sup>3</sup> Strickland. The eldest son of Joseph<sup>3</sup> Strickland seems to be Exum's brother Samuel,<sup>[441]</sup> meaning that the land transferred to Exum's nephew Thomas<sup>5</sup> Strickland.

William was born in Isle of Wight County. He made his first appearance in the records in Bertie County, North Carolina in a land dispute found in a deed dated 23 Aug 1723. It seems that Martha Brown, wife of William Strickland, had received 150 acres in her father's will dated 15 Dec 1718,<sup>[443]</sup> but the patent lapsed between the time of the will and the death of her father. Below is an excerpt from the deed:

Wee the said Barnabe and Mary Mackinne for and in consideration of a Deed of Gift made by William Brown late desesed of this Government and by his last Will did Give to his Daughter one hundred and fifty acres of Land which is to say Martha Brown which Land was Laps before the aforesaid Browns Death and now is become due to me the aforesaid Barnabe Mackinne by Virtue of a relapsed Patten bearing date 22 day of November 1723 and being now Exchanged by William Strickland the husband of the said Martha Brown with Joseph Joyner.<sup>[444]</sup>

William continued to live very close to the land that his wife inherited. Over the next 20 years, he bought and sold several tracts of land in the same vicinity. These tracts were to become part of Northampton County when it was formed in 1741. By 1744, he had relocated to Edgecombe County, where it is recorded in court minutes that he had three white tithables.<sup>[445]</sup> He patented land on Cypress Pond by 30 Oct 1753.<sup>[446]</sup> His neighboring property holders included two individuals, Abraham Hill and John Grice, whose daughters would marry his sons.<sup>[447]</sup> The land he purchased in Edgecombe County became part of Halifax County in 1759. There was a William Strickland and wife Sarah who sold 125 acres in this vicinity on 26 Aug 1766.<sup>[448]</sup> Although this could be a second marriage for William<sup>3</sup>, it is most likely that the land descended to his son William<sup>4</sup> who sold it instead on that date.

William did not leave a will, but three sons (William, Aaron, and Moses) can be identified because they were militia members with him under the command of William Haywood listed in Table 2 above. All three lived in the same neighborhood of Halifax County during the early 1760s. In this same neighborhood, there are three other male Stricklands (Jacob, Joseph, and Isaac) who are of the same age. I believe all six to be brothers. In addition, there is an Abraham Strickland who appears to be the same age as the others. He may also be a brother.

Several of these possible Strickland brothers moved to Bladen County, North Carolina and purchased land on Drowning Creek in the late 1760s and early 1770s. It then becomes very hard to distinguish William's<sup>3</sup> children from his grandchildren by 1770 in Bladen County.

Children of William Strickland by his wife Martha Brown were:

- i. AARON<sup>4</sup> STRICKLAND, b. in Bertie County about 1724, m. CHRISTIAN HILL, daughter of Abraham Hill, in Edgecombe County by 1753, and d. in Robeson County, North Carolina after 1800. Christian is mentioned only in relationship to her father's gift to her and her husband.<sup>[449]</sup> Aaron first shows up as a surveyor on a patent by his father-in-law Abraham Hill that was surveyed on 4 May 1756.<sup>[450]</sup> Aaron and his wife Christian are given 100 acres of land and furniture by his father-in-law Abraham Hill on 17 Mar 1762.<sup>[451]</sup> Aaron also witnesses the will of Richard Lansdill dated 16 Mar 1768.<sup>[452]</sup> Aaron makes his first purchase in the Drowning Creek area when he patents 100 acres adjoining Richard Smith on 15 Dec 1769.<sup>[453]</sup> He also patents 150 acres on Drowning Creek adjoining Richard Smith on 18 Nov 1771.<sup>[454]</sup> On 18 Nov 1778, Aaron purchases 200 acres on Drowning Creek about one mile below Farley's bridge. This part of the creek was sufficient for supporting a mill.<sup>[455]</sup> The land he owned was constantly impacted by the ever changing North Carolina County borders. His land on Drowning Creek eventually became part of Robeson County when it was created in 1787. He is found in the 1800 Federal Census<sup>[456]</sup> in Robeson County but not in the 1810 Census.

- ii. ISAAC STRICKLAND, b. in Bertie County about 1726 and d. at an unknown date. Isaac shows up first purchasing 56 acres on Beaverdam Swamp in Halifax County on 8 Mar 1760.<sup>[457]</sup> There is no record of this land ever being sold. He last shows up in the records on 3 Mar 1764 when he provides a deposition in the land dispute involving his brother Jacob.<sup>[458]</sup> Isaac disappears from the records at that point.
- iii. JACOB STRICKLAND, b. in Bertie County about 1728, m. UNKNOWN in Northampton County after 1752, and d. probably in Martin County, North Carolina after 1790. Jacob's first public appearance in the records came as a surveyor of land in Northampton County on 30 Oct 1753.<sup>[459]</sup> Jacob patented 630 acres in Halifax County adjoining Thomas Kearney, William Branch, Alston, and William Neville on 1 Nov 1760.<sup>[460]</sup> He patented a tract of land sometime that was subject to a challenge that went all the way to the Colonial Supreme Court. Not all the information is found in the depositions about the actual tract, so it is hard to identify it separately. Nevertheless, Jacob had lost title to the property in some lower court and had appealed the decision. The case hinged on the testimony of one Solomon Williams, who either perjured himself or did not understand the questions posed to him by the lawyers. The final result of the appeal is not known.<sup>[461]</sup> Jacob patented 500 acres on Reedy Branch in Halifax on 1 Mar 1780<sup>[462]</sup> and by 17 Oct 1783 he was living in Martin County when he sold this tract of land.<sup>[463]</sup> He is found in the 1790 Federal Census<sup>[464]</sup> in Martin County but not in the 1800 Census.

- iv. WILLIAM STRICKLAND, b. in Bertie County about 1730 m. SARAH (---) in Edgecombe County by 1758, and d. probably in Anson County after 1779. He probably purchased or inherited 125 acres on Elk Marsh that he sold with wife Sarah on 26 Aug 1766.<sup>[465]</sup> William moved with brothers Aaron, Joseph, and Abraham to Bladen County and purchased land on Cabbage Creek by 22 Jan 1773.<sup>[466]</sup> William is found in the 1774 tax list with his son Philip.<sup>[467]</sup> William and son Elias are chain carriers on a tract of land neighboring William as of 10 Feb 1779.<sup>[468]</sup> William purchased additional land on Cabbage Creek next to where he lived on 12 Nov 1779 in his last appearance in the records.<sup>[469]</sup>
- v. JOSEPH STRICKLAND, b. in Bertie County about 1732 and d. at an unknown date. Joseph first appears as a surveyor with brother Jacob for a tract of land in Northampton on 30 Oct 1753.<sup>[470]</sup> As Table 2 shows, Joseph is a member of Nathaniel Bradford's company along with brothers Isaac and Jacob. He may be the Joseph who purchases land in "Bladen or Anson" County on west side of Drowning Creek on Bay Pond adjoining Jacob Strickland on 11 Mar 1775.<sup>[471]</sup> This Joseph disappears from the Bladen County tax list shortly thereafter. There are at least two possibilities as to where he went. A Joseph Strickland patents 640 acres on Mocason Creek in Wake County on 9 Jun 1779.<sup>[472]</sup> There also is a Joseph Strickland Sr. in the reconstructed 1790 Georgia Census.<sup>[473]</sup> The Joseph of the Bladen County area is hard to differentiate from other Josephs of the fifth generation.
- vi. MOSES STRICKLAND, b. in Bertie County about 1735 m. possibly REBECCA GRICE in Edgecombe County by 1758, and d. in Halifax County in 1765.<sup>[474]</sup> He is also a witness of the will of John Grice dated 16 Mar 1764 who gives his daughter Rebecca Strickland some money.<sup>[475]</sup> This Rebecca may be Moses' wife. Moses is a witness to a land transaction on 1 May 1764.<sup>[476]</sup> He gives a nuncupative will to his brother Jacob, who reported that Moses gave "all my estate to my wife [unnamed] to maintain herself and my children she paying my Debts."<sup>[477]</sup>

- vi. (probably) ABRAHAM STRICKLAND, b. in Bertie County about 1740 m. MARTHA (---)<sup>[478]</sup> in Halifax County by 1764, and d. in Bladen County after 1778. Abraham was too young to be in the militia with his brothers in the mid 1750s. He moves to Bladen County where he purchases 100 acres on the northeast side of Drowning Creek adjoining Richard Smith on 26 Apr 1768.<sup>[479]</sup> For the next 9 years, he buys and sells small tracts in the same vicinity. Abraham purchases 100 acres on the east side of Drowning Creek on 1 Aug 1770.<sup>[480]</sup> On 2 Jul 1773, Abraham and Martha sell 200 acres on Drowning Creek.<sup>[481]</sup> Abraham sells his last tract of land on 26 Jul 1775.<sup>[482]</sup> He is shown in the 1779 Bladen County tax list with no land and only 5 head of cattle.<sup>[483]</sup> He may be the same Abraham who was the administrator of the estate inventory of John Strickland in Robeson County dated 26 Jul 1787.<sup>[484]</sup> He is not the Abraham who appears in the Anson County records; that Abraham is the son of his brother Aaron<sup>4</sup>.<sup>[485]</sup>

Mathew is found for the first time in his father's will in 1728 and is given the cornfield near his father's plantation and all the land with it.<sup>[487]</sup> He first patented 300 acres of land on the north side of the Moratock River joining Mill Swamp and Joseph Richardson on 7 Nov 1727.<sup>[488]</sup> Mathew did return briefly to Isle of Wight to witness a gift of land from Edward Chitty to Edward's nephew Abraham Baggett on 14 Aug 1739.<sup>[489]</sup> Mathew also spent some time in Edgecombe County, where on 25 Oct 1743 he sold to brother Joseph the 100 acres of land on the Meherrin River which he had received from his father's will.<sup>[490]</sup>

His next land purchase was a little further upriver on Kirby's Creek adjoining Robert Monger, where he patented 300 acres in Northampton County on 14 Nov 1744.<sup>[491]</sup>

He subsequently mortgaged this property on 9 Jul 1745 to John Deberry.<sup>[492]</sup> Some time before 26 Feb 1750, he relocated to Johnston County and started to sell off his land on Kirby's Creek.<sup>[493]</sup>

He patented 300 acres of land on the Neuse River on 20 Feb 1754, where he remained for a number of years.<sup>[494]</sup> He may have been the Mathew Strickland on the south side of Bushes Creek sometime before 28 Apr 1768.<sup>[495]</sup> Mathew also purchased 165 acres on the south side of Neuse River on a branch of Mill Creek called Reedy Branch on 20 Jul 1766.<sup>[496]</sup> When he sold it on 21 Mar 1768, it was described as the place where "Mathew Strickland now lives."<sup>[497]</sup> He became an overseer of a road on 16 Jul 1766.<sup>[498]</sup>

Mathew was probably the "poor, aged, and infirm man" referred to in the Anson County Court records in Jul 1775. The court recommended to the General Assembly that he be exempt from taxes.<sup>[499]</sup>

Lot is listed as Mathew's child because Lot was born in Johnston County by 1759<sup>[500]</sup> and both he and Mathew<sup>3</sup> moved to Anson County at about the same time. The only other Strickland who was in Johnston County early enough to be the father of Lot is Mathew's brother Samuel. Samuel left a will and did not mention a son named Lot. Frederick and John are also possibly sons of Mathew because of their age and proximity to Mathew<sup>3</sup>.

Children of Mathew Strickland by his wife Unknown were:

to Strickland” on Feb 1749.<sup>[535]</sup> This land had been patented by William Boon on 11 Nov 1723 and is probably part of the unrecorded deed from William Boon to William<sup>3</sup> Strickland, father of Samuel. Samuel follows his brother Mathew to Johnston County, where he patents 200 acres on the north side of the Neuse River adjoining Capt. Benjamin Williams on 28 Sep 1754.<sup>[536]</sup> He remains in Johnston County for the rest of his life and continues to buy and sell land on a regular basis.

Samuel was very active in the community. He was found serving as a juror on several occasions and also was appointed in Apr 1767 to help lay off the road from Cross Mill Creek at Lewis Johnakins landing.<sup>[537]</sup> He even brought a petition to the Johnston County court that got referred to the legislature. He came to court on 21 Apr 1760 to declare his son Stephen an idiot who therefore should not be taxed.<sup>[538]</sup> The Court referred that matter to the colonial legislature, where he was granted an exemption on 8 Nov 1762.<sup>[539]</sup>

His wife’s last name could be Davis for two reasons, albeit both circumstantial. Samuel’s oldest son is named Davis. Also, Samuel is a neighbor in Northampton County for a number of years to Thomas Davis during the time he would have married. When Samuel moves from Northampton County to Johnston County, he sells his property to Thomas Davis on 17 May 1745.<sup>[540]</sup> Unfortunately, Thomas Davis did not leave a will to provide any additional clues to validate this possibility.

Beginning in 1779, Samuel started to distribute his land to his sons. He left a will dated 16 Feb 1784<sup>[541]</sup> and was deceased by 1 Jun 1784 when his inventory was recorded at court.

Children of Samuel Strickland by his wife Mary were:

NANCY (—) in Johnston County by 1762, and d. in Johnston County after 12 Oct 1806.<sup>[542]</sup> Nancy died after the will of her husband was written. Davis is sometimes called David in the records. Table 3 below is an analysis of the land purchases and sales by Thomas<sup>2</sup> Boon and his son Ratcliff<sup>3</sup> Boon from 1702 to 1752. Column 1 identifies whether the participant is Thomas or Ratcliff. Column 2 names the other party in the land transaction. Column 3 indicates where the land was located. Most of these transactions are from Mathew<sup>1</sup> Strickland's 1680 patent for 1,803 acres (called "Strickland patent" below). Column 4 shows number of acres purchased, and column 5 shows number of acres sold. Column 6 keeps a running total of the acres owned by both Thomas and Ratcliff after the completion of the transaction. Columns 7 and 8 provide the year and reference for the land purchase or sale.

At Thomas' death sometime after October 1723, he owned 460 acres of the 1680 patent to Mathew<sup>1</sup> Strickland, with son Ratcliff<sup>3</sup> Boon owning an additional 200 acres. From 1724 to 1752, Ratcliff<sup>3</sup> Boon bought only 75 acres of Strickland patent land in 1740/1 while selling or giving away 440 acres. Thus Ratcliff disposed of more land than he had purchased in his lifetime, which means that he was also disposing of some land belonging to his father Thomas. These land sales make Ratcliff<sup>3</sup> Boon probably the oldest son of Thomas Boon, since the oldest son typically inherited the land at the death of the father. Thomas could have had other children, but none can be traced back to him.

Table 3 also provides additional insight to the 2,120 acres sold from the Mathew Strickland patent shown in Table 1 earlier. Table 1 showed that 317 acres were sold over and above the 1,803 acres purchased by Mathew Strickland. Table 3 demonstrates just the opposite problem, listing land available to sell by Ratcliff and his descendants that was not sold. The overage of land sold in Table 1 is nearly offset by the underage of land sold in Table 3.

According to Table 3, Ratcliff<sup>3</sup> Boon had 295 acres remaining to be sold, as found in column 6, after selling 150 acres to son Jacob Boon for 5 shillings in 1752. This was Ratcliff<sup>3</sup>'s<sup>3</sup> last recorded deed and was for the plantation he where living at the time. In addition to land, Ratcliff gave son Jacob<sup>4</sup> furniture, dishware, animals, and all the remainder of his estate. He also made Jacob the administrator over his estate.<sup>[577]</sup> On 26 Mar 1770<sup>[578]</sup> Jacob Boon sold the 150 acres he purchased from his father in 1752. He did not sell any other land in Isle of Wight. There is no mention of any remaining land from the Mathew Strickland patent in Jacob's will dated 13 Oct 1778.<sup>[579]</sup> Somehow there is either an unrecorded transaction for a total of 295 acres or a mistake in acreage of a previous recorded land transaction.

Ratcliff<sup>3</sup> makes his first appearance in the records when he purchases 200 acres from William<sup>2</sup> Strickland and wife Olive on 8 Mar 1715.<sup>[580]</sup> He witnesses a land transaction from William Mayo to George Murrell Jr. dated 28 Feb 1742.<sup>[581]</sup> His only other appearances in the records are when he distributes land to his three sons, Ratcliff Jr.,<sup>[582]</sup> James,<sup>[583]</sup> and Jacob, as mentioned before. Since Ratcliff<sup>3</sup> did not leave a recorded will, it is difficult to know all of his children. He could have died by 31 Aug 1755 when there is a Ratcliff Boon mentioned in a deed without a Sr. or Jr. attached to the name.<sup>[584]</sup> He could have also died after 5 Feb 1756 because on that date, Ratcliff Boon Jr. was in a suit with Dewry Warren.<sup>[585]</sup>

- i. RATCLIFF<sup>4</sup> BOON, b. in Isle of Wight County about 1718, m. (1) MARY (---)<sup>[586]</sup> in Isle of Wight County about 1740, (2) MARY RAIFORD, daughter of William Raiford, in Isle of Wight County by 1771,<sup>[587]</sup> (3) PATIENCE BRADSHAW, daughter of Richard Bradshaw, in Isle of Wight County before 1784,<sup>[588]</sup> and d. in Isle of Wight County about 1799.<sup>[589]</sup> On 7 Nov 1746, he first shows up in the records purchasing 190 acres of land from Joseph Johnson.<sup>[590]</sup> Ratcliff is appointed to look after the courthouse bridge on 12 Nov 1747.<sup>[591]</sup> He is the appraiser on the estate inventory of William Pope dated 6 Dec 1750.<sup>[592]</sup> By 1 Feb 1777, he is referred to as "old Ratcliff Boon" in a deed sale.<sup>[593]</sup> His will is dated 28 Mar 1795.<sup>[594]</sup> Ratcliff<sup>4</sup> was probably married three times. The name of the mother of his children is Mary (---), the first wife. He married his second wife Mary Raiford before 28 Oct 1771<sup>[595]</sup> and the third wife Patience Bradshaw before 15 Apr 1786.<sup>[596]</sup> Since he married two women named Mary, there has to be a way to differentiate between them. First wife Mary and husband Ratcliff sold to Henry Johnson 190 acres on 28 Nov 1746<sup>[597]</sup> in her only appearance in the records. Second wife Mary (Raiford) Strickland received one shilling from her father William Raiford in his will dated 28 Oct 1771<sup>[598]</sup> and Ratcliff is mentioned later as receiving one shilling in the estate of William Raiford.<sup>[599]</sup> This shows that Mary Raiford married Ratcliff Boon. However, further study of her father William Raiford's will shows that Mary Raiford cannot be the mother of Ratcliff's children. William provides legacies for five daughters; three are married and two are not. Mary is mentioned first in the will. Assuming she is the oldest, it would place her somewhere near 30 years of age or about 20 years younger than Ratcliff<sup>4</sup>. Son

He first appears in the records receiving 150 acres of land and the remainder of the estate of his father in 1752.<sup>[610]</sup> Jacob is living in Northampton County when he buys 200 acres of land from Thomas Liles on the south side of Kirby Branch on 10 Jun 1756.<sup>[611]</sup> He is still living in Northampton when he sells the 150 acres left to him by his father in Isle of Wight County.<sup>[612]</sup> He leaves a will in Northampton County dated 13 Oct 1778; the will is not probated until Dec 1790.<sup>[613]</sup>
