James Theophilus Adams served in Company D, North Carolina 26th Regiment, Confederate States of America, rising from the rank of lieutenant to lieutenant colonel. His picture and an account of his service appear in Chief Justice Walter Clark's History of North Carolina Regiments, Vol. II; in George C. Underwood's History of the Twenty-Sixth Regiment of the North Carolina Troops in the Great War 1861-65; and in Richard B. McCaslin's Portraits of Conflict, a Photographic History of North Carolina in the Civil War. He was in command of the regiment when General Robert E. Lee surrendered at Appomatox, VA; and he signed the paroles of the men. For a period he also commanded General James Johnston Pettigrew's Brigade, during its retreat from Petersburg, VA. His name appears on the Confederate monument in Holly Springs, NC; and a picture of him is on display in the Holly Springs Masonic Lodge.

Following the war he returned to his home in Wake County to farm and become engaged in the lumber business. He and other members of the Adams family bought the timber rights to tracts of land, then set up sawmills to cut and dress the lumber. His home, located near Holly Springs, is still (August 2000) standing. It is pictured on page 364 of Kelly A. Lally's book, The Historic Architecture of Wake County, North Carolina, and is incorrectly identified as the home of "Col. David Adams" (his brother).

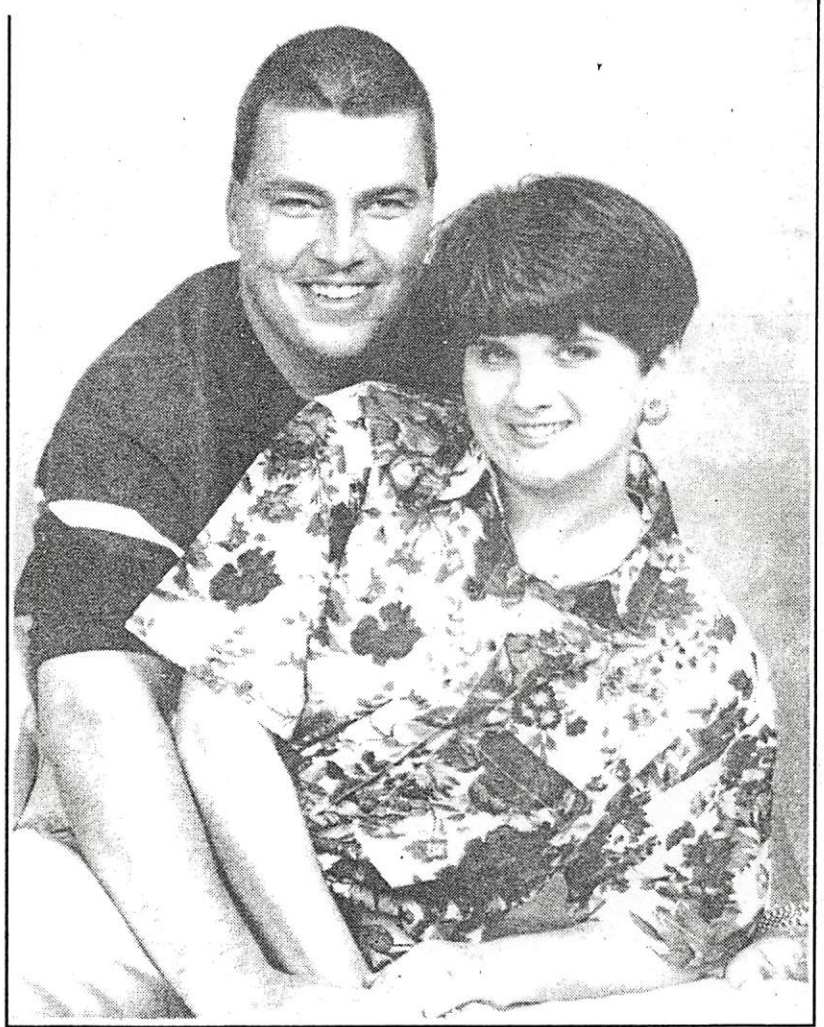

His birth, marriage and death dates are given in a family Bible, and photostats of those pages are included in these papers. He was named as Lucy Ann Beckwith's husband in Green Beckwith's will, Wake County, NC, Record of Wills, Book A, 1878-1884.

Ellington, Adair say wedding vows

Mrs. Johnny Ray Adair

Miss Tammy Marie Ellington of Apex became the bride of Mr. Johnny Ray Adair of Cary on October 25 at Swift Creek Baptist Church. Rev. Elmer L. Joyner was the officiating minister.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Craven Langston of Apex and Mr. and Mrs. Larry Ellington of Raleigh. Parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. Duane Adair of Knightdale.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of ivory taffeta with silk venise lace. The bodice had a sweetheart neckline and a low v'd back accented with taffeta bows. The fitted bodice was adorned with an abundance of sequins and seed pearls. The long bishop sleeves had accents of venise lace and ribbon. The full skirt was scattered with venise appliques on front and back of train that extended into a chapel length train edged with lace and ribbon. She wore a fingertip veil of illusion with juliet cap covered with seed pearls.

Mrs. Kelli Edwards was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Chris Langston and Wyndy Walters.

The bridesmaids wore wine taffeta dresses with off the shoulder necklines.

Duane Adair was his son's best man. Ushers were Steve Adair and Kirk Kauz.

Brother of the bride Wayne Ellington was special soloist.

Following a reception in the church fellowship hall the couple left on a wedding trip to the mountains. They will make their home in Cary.

James Theophilus Adams served in Company D, North Carolina 26th Regiment, Confederate States of America, rising from the rank of lieutenant to lieutenant colonel. His picture and an account of his service appear in Chief Justice Walter Clark's History of North Carolina Regiments, Vol. II; in George C. Underwood's History of the Twenty-Sixth Regiment of the North Carolina Troops in the Great War 1861-65; and in Richard B. McCaslin's Portraits of Conflict, a Photographic History of North Carolina in the Civil War. He was in command of the regiment when General Robert E. Lee surrendered at Appomatox, VA; and he signed the paroles of the men. For a period he also commanded General James Johnston Pettigrew's Brigade, during its retreat from Petersburg, VA. His name appears on the Confederate monument in Holly Springs, NC; and a picture of him is on display in the Holly Springs Masonic Lodge.

Following the war he returned to his home in Wake County to farm and become engaged in the lumber business. He and other members of the Adams family bought the timber rights to tracts of land, then set up sawmills to cut and dress the lumber. His home, located near Holly Springs, is still (August 2000) standing. It is pictured on page 364 of Kelly A. Lally's book, The Historic Architecture of Wake County, North Carolina, and is incorrectly identified as the home of "Col. David Adams" (his brother).

His birth, marriage and death dates are given in a family Bible, and photostats of those pages are included in these papers. He was named as Lucy Ann Beckwith's husband in Green Beckwith's will, Wake County, NC, Record of Wills, Book A, 1878-1884.
