ALLEN VANCE (7) MARCOM

Input by phone on 30 MAY 2008 to RPA from Irene Allen
 Re more details on her membership in the Markham Family (sometimes spelled MARCOM) - & Re her awareness of Jerry descendants of James C. Marcom via his son Allen.

Irene also mentions along with Cathy a James T Marcom - how he fits in not clear to RPA.

(*) appears there
 is the family relation that Irene contacted
 after the 2002
 death.

* Later records by RPA show Marian Ann Grady was d/o
 MARK GRADY md 1821 Martha Shipp - ancestor of RPA

Secrets for long life: Don't watch TV, don't smoke and don't drink

Apex resident Lonnie Marcom celebrates 98th birthday today

By Mary Beth Phillips
Staff Writer

Here is the secret to longevity, according to Lonnie Marcom, who turned 98 today: "I don't smoke, I don't use alcohol, and I try to treat the other fellow like I would be treated."

Perhaps it has also helped that he still works in his garden every day, and that he watches very little television. "TV is for folks that ain't got nothing else to do," he says.

Marcom sits in a low chair that is older than he is, which his father had used on his tobacco farm 100 years ago, and weeds his garden. The chair helps him out because otherwise, "I can stoop over, but when I go to get up, I can't get up," he said.

He also hoes the rows of butter beans, tomatoes, cucumbers, okra and bell peppers, and prunes his fig bushes early in the morning, before the North Carolina sun gets too hot. After that, he sits in the shade and enjoys his yard. Then, "in the middle of the day, I take me a nap in the air conditioning."

Marcom was born in Cary on North Harrison Avenue into a farming family. He attended school through the seventh grade, but quit because four miles was too far to walk, and they didn't have bus service.

'TV is for folks that ain't got nothing else to do.'

—Lonnie Marcom,
98-years-old today

"I got most of my education from reading newspapers," he said. His niece, Cassie Marcom, calls him "a very smart man."

Marcom left the family farm in 1922 at the age of 21 and moved to Durham. His first job was operating a streetcar.

When they modernized and got buses, he drove a bus for 17 years, then served as assistant dispatcher for 20 years. The last five years of his time with the Durham Transit Authority were spent as a dispatcher. "I worked 45 years and four months for them," Marcom said, "and now they give me a pension."

Marcom moved to his home on North Salem Street in 1975, after living 52 years in Durham. He had married his wife, the former Pearl Prince, in 1931. She had grown up in Apex, and been a member of Salem Baptist Church, so they rejoined when they returned. She died in 1988. He then lived alone until last July, when he fell in his yard and couldn't get back up.

"I spent the whole night flat on my back," Marcom said. "It looked like it was going to rain all night. I thought I was gonna drown."

But it didn't rain, and his neighbor, Lydia Pearson, found him the next morning. After spending three days in the hospital, he returned home. His niece, Cassie Marcom, began staying with him during the week, and a caregiver now spends the weekends. He also stopped driving after that incident.

Marcom stopped attending services at Salem Baptist Church after "I got so I couldn't hear what the preacher was saying," but he gets a visit and a free meal from church members on Wednesday nights.

His friend Tommy Maynard helps him with the garden, and takes the extra vegetables to a produce stand on Ten-Ten Road.

Though Marcom loves growing things, he has no regrets that he didn't make a living as a farmer. In the days before tractors, when horses and mules did the plowing, "the farmers didn't get nothing for what they made," he said. Even today,

"they don't know whether they will make anything or not," though they are not as dependent on the farm as they used to be. "We used to raise our own meat and everything. We would carry the wheat and corn to the mill and have it ground up into flour and meal.

"I don't know what it is, but the good Lord is keeping me here for something," Marcom said.

○ The Philip Jones Family - Alan R. Jones - 24 APR 2007 - DOC
 "DOC" actually refers to two documents obtained by RPM from Alan R. Jones on 24 APR 2007. The second and in volume Pages 13 - 25 and is actually an oral interview given by 90 year old CAROLINE AUGUSTA JONES "CARRIE" to Charles H. Utley in 1936. Carrie never married, was a teacher and lived in Snyft Creek TSP, Wake Co, NC. She was D/o Barnabas Jones, II "Barney Jones" 1819-1906; G-D/o Martin Jones
 & G-G/o Ethelred Jones 1748-1835.

EXCERPTS - (PART III)

In the 1850's there were perhaps only 1/2 dozen homes
 between [△]Barney Jones home and Raleigh along [△]Aunt's Ferry Rd. Carrie recalls her Aunt took her to Raleigh in the 1850's when Raleigh was only a village. They went to the Dry Goods store of [△]W. H. Tucker & [△]R. S. Tucker which after the war became famous. They found owner William H. Tucker lying on the counter taking a break.

[△]ARCHIE POWELL mentioned for inclusion in the article a recap of when Wake Co was formed from earlier counties

The article posits that the first settlers in Wake Co did not take land grants. Families prior to 1700 included FRANKS, JONES, UTLEY & probably EDWARDS, TAYLOR, & BROWN

In 1790 [△]SWANNIE EDWARDS, SR came to Wake Co, NC
 from NY and settled in front of the present home of [△]FURMAN LYNCH

JAMES COLMAN MARCOM

① LIVING STONES History of Inwood Bapt Church 2000 WAKE CO, NC
PG 22, 23

Inwood's first pastor was Elder J. C. Marcom,^T who helped in the organization of the church. Marcom was already well known in the Raleigh Baptist Association, and was in regular attendance at its meetings. Often he had some part on the program, and often he served on committees of the Association. At the time he began serving Inwood he was also pastor of Kinnie's Creek Church and Piney Grove Church in the Raleigh Association, and presumably pastor of another church in another Association as well. Inwood extended an "indefinite call" to him at its organization in 1877, with the stipulation that at any time either he or the church became dissatisfied with the relationship it could be terminated. Such an indefinite call was unusual but not unknown.

Marcom conducted services at Inwood on the fourth Sunday of each month, and on the preceding Saturday. For nearly every service, both the conference on Saturday and the worship service on Sunday, J. B. Strain, church clerk, recorded the texts upon which the pastor based his sermons. Marcom seems to have preferred preaching from the New Testament, for only approximately a third of them were from the Old Testament. Unfortunately, there is no clue as to the content of the sermons.

At no point do the minutes of the church conference reflect any dissatisfaction either on the part of the church or on the part of Marcom. For some reason, however, he resigned at the end of 1879. The minutes for the January, 1880, conference record the election of his successor, who actually began his work with the church at that time.

J. C. MARCOM^T - Minutes 1877-1879

- ② See Notes of RPA call 19 SEP 2002 to Irene Olive.
Irene has located the gravesite of James Colman Marcom, the first member of Inwood Baptist Church. She says the spelling of the middle name is most often COLMAN (I presume it could be COLEMAN - RPA)

As background, from my Markham file (Marcoms here - you know how that is - from same VA ancestor): On 27 Feb 2000, I called Mrs. Henry T. Lawrence on Piney Grove-Wilbon Rd. at Stone Crystal Dr. (NE quad.) re the Olive connection each has. She then told me that back of their house was a cemetery which they had recently cleaned - buried there was a preacher named Marcom. Right off, I felt it was Rev. James C. (she didn't recall his first name). Several days later Kit and I went there and indeed found the graves to be of the Rev., his wife, five of their children plus one large quartz rock for a footmarker with a very rusty funeral home marker at the head.

I don't recall all said about the house except that several rooms are pre-Civil War. Surely the Marcoms lived there. No one has ever contacted the Lawrences about them. In 2002 I identified a descendant from her obituary and called her daughter (in Cary!) who knew not about these graves. She immediately sent family info but is not the history/genealogy-minded one. No known visits yet from any family member. Talking to Carnell again now, they wonder what would happen to the graves when their place is sold - their children don't want it. So I asked if they were thinking of that - said they would if the price was right - but it's not on the market.

A barn behind the house, left of cemetery, is a "museum" full of old things from their families, etc., and an eating place for private parties, S.S. classes, etc. (red-checked tablecloths, etc.). They barbecue on a big cooker (or any menu, charge no more than cost). I've told Carnell I'm thinking of inviting just the 1st cousins there (I'm not good about that sort of thing anymore, if ever - tho' had them and theirs here in my backyard - once!).

C. On 3 APR 2008 I wrote to M/M H. T. Lawrence saying I would like to come to see them next month.

INTERACTION WITH INWOOD CHURCH & NELLIE SUE (SANDERFORD) PRICE IN MAY 2008

(A) 23 APR 2008

Called Sue Price (ne Nellie Sue Sandeyford), (919) 832-3007 and proposed that I meet with Inwood Church Rectory Group next month and that we visit the grave of Ren Marston, first pastor at Inwood. She is a member of the Committee & agreed to make arrangements we settled tentatively on meeting at the Church at 9:00 AM on 14 MAY for a sit down session and a field trip. She will invite the Cemetery Committee.

(B) 28 APR 2008

Sue Price called to say 14 MAY 08 at 9:00 AM is OK for a meeting of the Rectory/Cemetery Committee Group at Inwood Church. OK for me to bring others.

(C) 12 MAY 2008 Called & talked to M/M Henry T. Lawrence about our visit 10:30-11:00 on WED 14 MAY 2008. They are agreeable. Directions: Take 55 to Holly Springs then right on Aunt Ferry Rd. ^{1/2 MI} then left on Wilben - Paney Grove Rd. ^{2 MI} They are on the left after you pass through Wilben just before the bridge & in site of Paney Grove Church. Four columns - Two columns. Bull field on right.

(D) 14 MAY 2008

Spent 9:00 AM - Noon with Inwood Church Group. Seven were with us as we met for one hour in the Church Conference Room

Joe is chair of the History Committee; Mrs Connie Boyette is chair of Cemetery Committee (He^A was not present but had been informed of the meeting). Jessie was the only member present representing the Cemetery Committee. ^A Connie's NO = (919) 779-3097. Connie is OK with moving Mason's grave if others agree from Church Council/Trustee/Minister.

In the Church Cong. Room, RPU explained his connection to Inwood & his efforts re Swift Creek TWP history. There was no objection but no outpouring of interest.

There is some belief that the Church records were misfiled. Elizabeth Lander born 94 may be able to recall. Waddy Grant (919) 565-0394 may know. or word to Roger Cook. Agnes & Boston may know.

RPU & Mark drove to the Lawrence home near Kullbom. Jessie left meeting early & did not go on trip.

M/M Lawrence Melbourne we found on a tour of the Iron Fence enclosed Mason Cemetery, Ren Mason bur 1884. The eleven inscribed stones are of his family earliest 1856. One found marker very rusty marker grave of an unknown person.

The Lawrence say the 2.99 Acre plot will go to their children who will likely sell to a developer.

We toured the Lawrence Museum. Their children will no doubt sell the contents. ^A Bob McAllister is a collector and recognized several items worth $500 each.

^A Bob retired after 23 years in USAF. was at Eglin under AFAL for 10 years. He goes to Mexico, MO next week re a graduation.

Harry Lawrence worked for output builds Sheron Nuclear Plant for 7 years - then as a Plumber - then as a Maintenance Man for Wake Co. Schools

Ethel lives on Perry Road - has lived in area all her life. Has 2 sons - both live in area. She went to Samp Creek Elementary & Cary High. She & Joe recall a counterfeiter operation on Inwood Rd. Joe mentions murder case road from Yates Mill entrance.

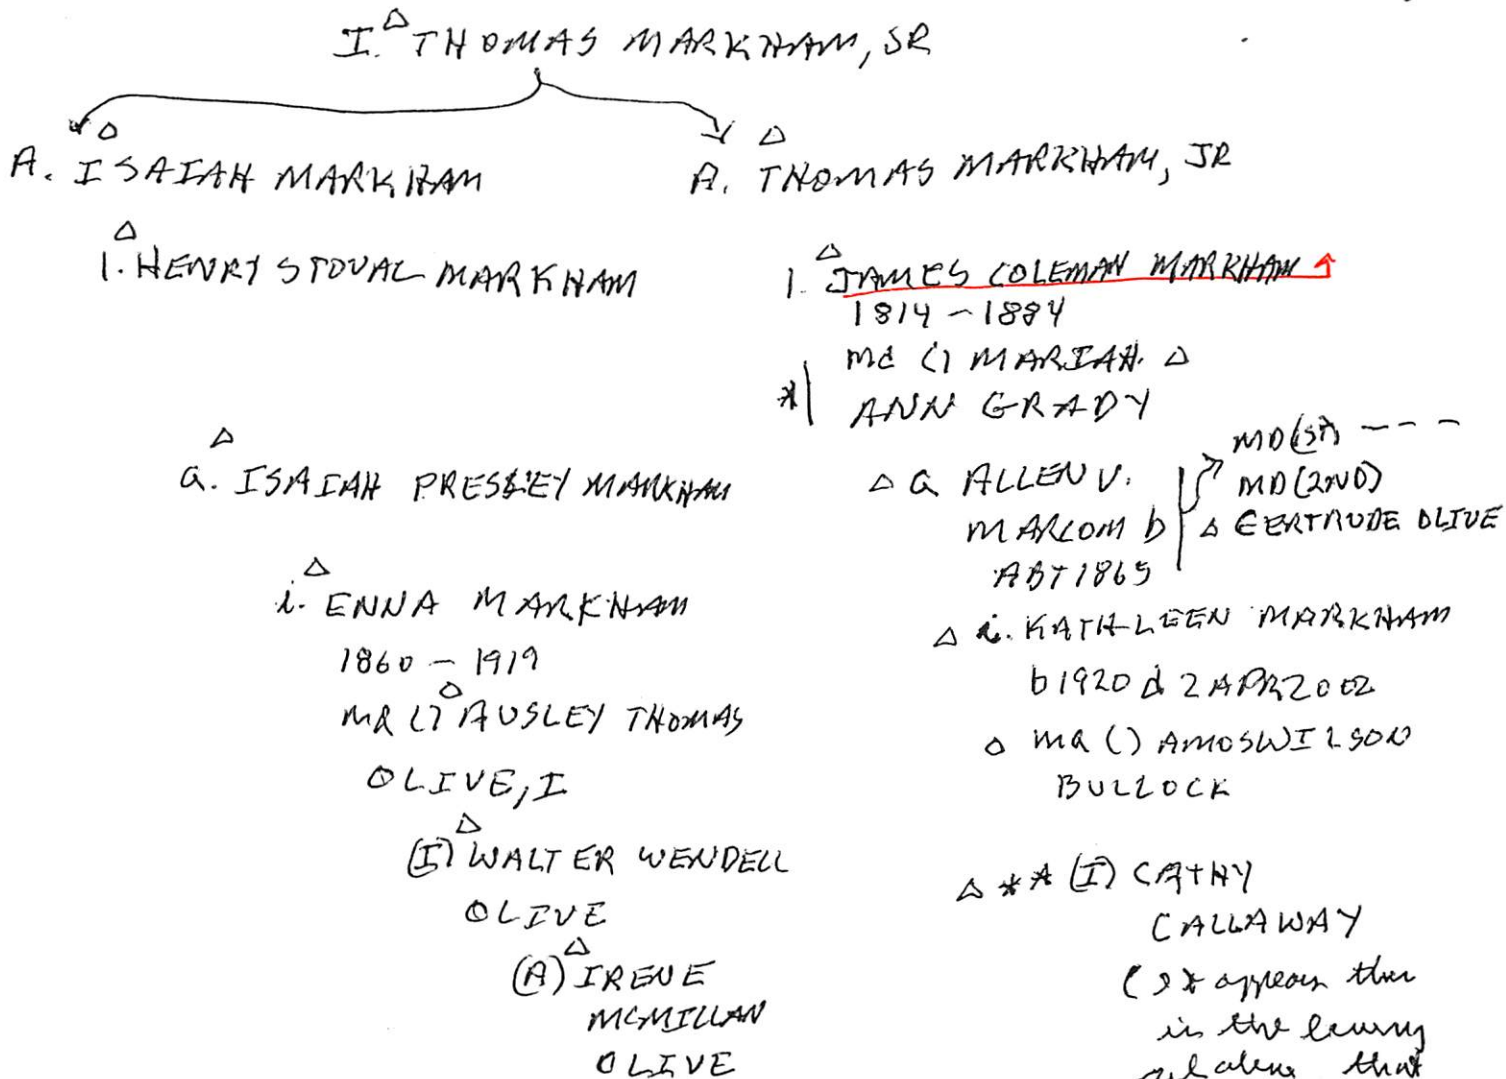

② 16 MAY 2008 - I went back to Lawrence home for a 2-hour private interview - see Profile of Henry Thomas Lawrence for Notes. Told Lawrence I would send them contact information for Bob McAlister

③ 28 MAY 2008

Called Bob McAlister and asked him if he could give her contact information of the Lawrence. He said OK but did not seem enthusiastic about helping them. He is on the History Committee at Inwood.

Secrets for long life: Don't watch TV, don't smoke and don't drink

Apex resident Lonnie Marcom celebrates 98th birthday today

By Mary Beth Phillips
Staff Writer

Here is the secret to longevity, according to Lonnie Marcom, who turned 98 today: "I don't smoke, I don't use alcohol, and I try to treat the other fellow like I would be treated."

Perhaps it has also helped that he still works in his garden every day, and that he watches very little television. "TV is for folks that ain't got nothing else to do," he says.

Marcom sits in a low chair that is older than he is, which his father had used on his tobacco farm 100 years ago, and weeds his garden. The chair helps him out because otherwise, "I can stoop over, but when I go to get up, I can't get up," he said.

He also hoes the rows of butter beans, tomatoes, cucumbers, okra and bell peppers, and prunes his fig bushes early in the morning, before the North Carolina sun gets too hot. After that, he sits in the shade and enjoys his yard. Then, "in the middle of the day, I take me a nap in the air conditioning."

Marcom was born in Cary on North Harrison Avenue into a farming family. He attended school through the seventh grade, but quit because four miles was too far to walk, and they didn't have bus service.

'TV is for folks that ain't got nothing else to do.'

—Lonnie Marcom,
98-years-old today

"I got most of my education from reading newspapers," he said. His niece, Cassie Marcom, calls him "a very smart man."

Marcom left the family farm in 1922 at the age of 21 and moved to Durham. His first job was operating a streetcar.

When they modernized and got buses, he drove a bus for 17 years, then served as assistant dispatcher for 20 years. The last five years of his time with the Durham Transit Authority were spent as a dispatcher. "I worked 45 years and four months for them," Marcom said, "and now they give me a pension."

Marcom moved to his home on North Salem Street in 1975, after living 52 years in Durham. He had married his wife, the former Pearl Prince, in 1931. She had grown up in Apex, and been a member of Salem Baptist Church, so they rejoined when they returned. She died in 1988. He then lived alone until last July, when he fell in his yard and couldn't get back up.

"I spent the whole night flat on my back," Marcom said. "It looked like it was going to rain all night. I thought I was gonna drown."

But it didn't rain, and his neighbor, Lydia Pearson, found him the next morning. After spending three days in the hospital, he returned home. His niece, Cassie Marcom, began staying with him during the week, and a caregiver now spends the weekends. He also stopped driving after that incident.

Marcom stopped attending services at Salem Baptist Church after "I got so I couldn't hear what the preacher was saying," but he gets a visit and a free meal from church members on Wednesday nights.

His friend Tommy Maynard helps him with the garden, and takes the extra vegetables to a produce stand on Ten-Ten Road.

Though Marcom loves growing things, he has no regrets that he didn't make a living as a farmer. In the days before tractors, when horses and mules did the plowing, "the farmers didn't get nothing for what they made," he said. Even today,

"they don't know whether they will make anything or not," though they are not as dependent on the farm as they used to be. "We used to raise our own meat and everything. We would carry the wheat and corn to the mill and have it ground up into flour and meal.

"I don't know what it is, but the good Lord is keeping me here for something," Marcom said.
