Dewhirst diligent in protecting desert for public

● In one term as a county supervisor she helped pass 35 planning proposals.

By DAVID PITTMAN
Citizen Political Writer

Iris Dewhirst, a former member of the Pima County Board of Supervisors who died yesterday, will long be remembered for her efforts to preserve what she believed were precious portions of Sonoran Desert.

Mrs. Dewhirst, who died at her home at the age of 68 of pancreatic cancer, played a role in protecting and preserving desert environs by supporting buffer zones, helping create Tortolita Mountain Park, securing land trades to protect Catalina State Park and developing a regional trails system.

Services for the former community activist will begin at 4 p.m.

OBITUARY

Friday at Christ Church United Methodist, 655 N. Craycroft Road.

Mrs. Dewhirst was elected to the Board of Supervisors from District 1 in 1984, first by grabbing 63 percent of the vote to defeat two-term Supervisor Katie Dusenberry in the Republican primary, and later by overwhelming Democrat James Howell by an even greater margin in the general election.

During that campaign, Mrs. Dewhirst stressed environmental protection, planned growth and neighborhood issues. She struck a chord with voters with her pledge not to be "the quarterback for the graders and bladers (developers)."

"The way my mother put it, 'If you want a better life for your children and your children's children, you have to do something about it,'" said Kathleen Hover, Mrs. Dewhirst's daughter.

"I think she was proudest of the environmental work she did. She was instrumental in passing 35 different proposals as a member of the Board of Supervisors that had to do with the comprehensive planning of Pima County."

Mrs. Dewhirst served just one term on the board, however, finishing third in a three-way Republican primary in 1988 in an election that eventually saw Republican Greg Lunn win the supervisor's post. Many of those who urged Dewhirst to get involved in politics in the first place abandoned her during her re-election bid.

"I have no apologies to make to anyone," said Dewhirst after her primary defeat. "I did what I was elected to do."

Mrs. Dewhirst had a small-town background, having graduated from a one-room school in Kansas. As she often told voters, she was the first from that school to receive a college degree, which she paid for by cleaning houses and doing yardwork.

That degree came from Kansas State University, where she graduated in 1950 with a bachelor's in physical education.

Mrs. Dewhirst moved to Tucson in 1957 when her husband, Leonard Dewhirst, took a job as a professor at the University of Arizona's Agriculture College. He later became associate dean of the college.

In a 1984 newspaper interview, Mrs. Dewhirst said she and her husband decided "when we were young and dreaming" that he would earn a living, and she would work for the community as a "career volunteer." It was in that role that Mrs. Dewhirst served on the Governor's Commission on Arizona's Environment, as president of Arizona Clean & Beautiful, chairwoman of the Air Quality Executive Committee for the Pima Association of Governments and in various capacities for several youth organizations.

She was also a member of the YWCA, Friends of the Tucson Public Library Board, the Mental Health Resources Board, the Tucson Arts Council, Traveler's Aid and Christ Church United Methodist.

A recipient of the Women on the Move YWCA Lifetime Achievement Award, Mrs. Dewhirst also had a library in Catalina named in her honor.

Mrs. Dewhirst was born Feb. 26, 1927, in Wamego, Kan., the daughter of Lawrence Jacob Orsborn and Charlotte Honor Brown.

She is survived by her husband of 48 years; two sons, Mark W. and Kirk L. Dewhirst; daughter Kathleen Hover; two brothers, Merle and Harmon Orsborn; and seven grandchildren.

① From Wake Treasurer Vol 3 No 2 (SUMMER 1993)
Pg 43 - In an article entitled "The Genesis of Wake County"; by Marshall DeJaney Haywood

In 1835 and again in 1841 the United States Government published lists of soldiers of the Revolution who were pensioned for services in that war. At the risk of being tedious, I give the Wake County lists in full. Persons desiring a statement of the war record of any veteran herein named can obtain the same free of charge by addressing a request therefore to the Commissioner of Pensions, at Washington City. Except when other wise designated, persons mentioned were privates in the service of North Carolina. Some of the names are spelled differently on the two lists, and these variations I have indicated below. The list published in 1835 was as follows: Berthett ALLEN, James ADAMS, Philip ADAMS, James AMES, John AMOS, Christopher BABB, James BROWN, Jesse BRYANT (Virginia), William BURTON (or William H. BURTON), Jacob BYRUM, Benjamin CARPENTER, James CHRISTIAN 2nd, William CLIFTON, George COLE, Robert DODD, Reuben EVANS, John GREEN, Jesse HARRIS (or HORRIS), James HUGHES (Virginia), Thomas JINKS (Corporal), Francis JONES, Vincent KING, Joshua LYNCH, David MABRY, Jesse MANUEL, John MARR, Shadrach MEDLIN, Naaman MILLS, James NANCE, senior (Virginia), Jesse OSBORN, Drury PITTIFORD (Virginia), William POLK (Major), Elisha POPE (Virginia), Frederick RIGSBY (or RIGSBEE), Thomas ROSS, John RHODES, Aaron ROBERTS, Robert SNEED (Virginia), Joseph SHAW (Pennsylvania), Isaac SMITH, Samuel STANDEFORD (Virginia), Samuel SCARBOROUGH, senior, (Virginia), Jonathan SMITH, senior (Captain), John SHERRON, John SWENNEY, William TATE, Nathan UPCHURCH, William WILDER, Burrell (or Burwell) WHITEHEAD, John WALKER, John WILLIAMS, and Jesse WALL. In addition to the above, the list of 1841 gives the following names, without indicating rank, or State in which they served: James HARWARD, Thomas HOLLAND, Richard PIPEN, William SLEDD, Rufus WILLIE, and William WOOD. Some of these veterans were dead before lists were published. Joel TERRELL, whose name also appears on the pension roll of 1835, appears to have rendered his military service in the United States Army after the Revolution - possibly in the War of 1812.
