Holland, Ahle are married

Virginia Lynn Holland and William Andrew Ahle were united in marriage at two o'clock in the afternoon on Saturday, July 22, 1995, at Apex Baptist Church. The double-ring ceremony was officiated by Rev. Phil Qualls.

The bride is the daughter of Charlie and Ann Holland of Apex. The groom is the son of Robert and Sue Ahle of Tempe, Ariz.

Escorted by her father, the bride wore a candlelight satin gown heavily embroidered with lace and pearls. The fitted skirt fanned out into a full lace train. A floor-length veil cascaded from a pearl and sequin tiara.

Attending the bride as matron of honor was her sister, Paula Holland Mills. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Jennifer Padgett, sister of the groom; Miss Rebecca Holland, sister of the bride; Mrs. Paige High, cousin of the bride; and Mrs. April Hancock.

The junior bridesmaid, Miss Rachel Ann Smith, and the flower girl, Miss Melanie Smith, are nieces of the bride.

The bridal attendants wore fushia gowns accented with pearl buttons. They carried arm bouquets of rubrium lilies.

Robert Ahle attended his son as best man. The groomsmen were Steve Moore and Dan Moore, both of Arizona; Brian Padgett, brother-in-law of the groom; and Andy Holland.

Drew Dixon, nephew of the bride, was the junior groomsman.

Wedding music was presented by Tim Farrar, pianist; Robert Stroup, trumpeter; and Mrs. Charlene Holland Smith, soloist. Music at the reception was provided by Mrs. Bertie Stevens, harpist.

The bride's mother wore a teal green fitted lace jacket accented with rhinestone buttons and flowing chiffon skirt. The mother of the groom wore a pink chiffon dress studded with pearls.

Following a reception at the C.C. Jones Building, the couple left for their honeymoon to Charleston, S.C. The couple will make their home in Apex.

The bride is a graduate of Meredith College and is employed at Holland's Jewelers.

The groom is attending NCSU, majoring in computer engineering.

Pre-nuptial courtesies

Mrs. Rosalyn Cox hosted a kitchen shower at her home in June.

Mrs. Bonnie Mills, Mrs. Tanya Mills, Mrs. Carla Markham, Mrs. Jackie Tingen and Mrs. Zula High hosted a miscellaneous bridal shower at Apex Baptist Church.

A lingerie shower was given by Miss Julie Smith of Raleigh.

The bridesmaids luncheon was held at Prestonwood Country Club.

Wesley U came to IL around 1843 from NC. He had and Mary Ann Patterson in NC. They settled in the little village of Buckhorn southeast of Tenebec. They had a family of 11 children. There is some dispute in our family about the spelling of Patterson. Some say it wasn't exactly Patterson but similar. We have tried to find the graves of Wesley U + his wife Mary Ann but with no luck. They were probably buried in the Buckhorn cemetery and the markers or stones have been destroyed. The cemetery has been fairly well kept up.

In doing a little research we find her name was Patterson instead of Patterson. I thought her name was Mary Ann but can find no proof of it. Paige named to nursing excellence institute Sandi S. Paige, RN, CNIII, CCRN, of Pilot, from Nash General Hospital Critical Care Unit, is one of sixty registered nurses from across the state who has been named to the Institute for Nursing Excellence 1993, a program of the North Carolina Legislative Study Commission on Nursing.

The Institute for Nursing Excellence is a personal and professional educational event to reward outstanding staff nurses; to encourage them to remain in the profession of nursing; to increase their capacity for leadership; to enhance their ability to be role models; and to attract others into nursing.

The state study commission considered staff nurses vital to the health-care system and provided funding for a pilot program focused on these nurses. The commission was concerned about nursing in North Carolina and drafted legislation for nurse recruitment and retention.

The focus of the Institute is on renewal and retention in the nursing profession through discussions on role modeling, mentoring, change and the lifelong learning facilitated by an interdisciplinary faculty and augmented by readings, field trips, and guest presentations.

Ms. Paige, a nurse for seven years, was nominated by her supervisors, colleagues and patients for being a superior staff nurse. Through letters of reference, she was evaluated on direct patient care, teamwork and leadership skills by a selection committee of nurses from around the state.

All full-time staff nurses in the state were eligible to apply for this award.

The Institute is being conducted by the Wake Area Health Education Center under the auspices of the North Carolina Center for Nursing and in cooperation with the AHEC Nurse Council.

Ms. Paige is married to Gene Paige and lives in the Pilot community.

and John Wayne's widow

weds after 19 years

It was tough finding someone to fill The Duke's shoes, but after 19 years John Wayne's widow Pilar finally remarried last week during an ocean liner cruise.

On November 18, 62-year-old Pilar and Texas mogul Jesse Upchurch, 73, boarded an ocean liner in Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., and during a 30-minute ceremony in the ship's observation lounge, they were married, surrounded by 24 of their family and 20 close friends.

Pilar told The ENQUIRER: "Jesse has made me feel like a young, cherished bride again. He bought me a fabulous home in Fort Worth and we have the ranch to go to where he lets his Texas heritage come out and play.

"Whenever I look at Jesse, my heart just goes flip-flop. That's true love."

Pilar was dressed in a full-length white wedding gown with a glittering tiara holding back her hair in Spanish style.

"Pilar's son Ethan gave away the bride to Upchurch, a Texas tycoon, aboard the 439-foot cruise ship Seabourne Legend," said an insider.

Jesse paid $2,000 per person — $92,000 total — for the wedding voyage which left from Ft. Lauderdale, stopped in Nassau and Key West and returned to Ft. Lauderdale on November 21.

Pilar met Jesse on a blind date arranged by Sandy Rhineberger, her business associate and close friend, during a whirlwind weekend in October 1996.

"I knew there were few men in the world who could fill The Duke's shoes," Sandy said. "I also knew that Jesse Upchurch, a strong, quiet Texan, was such a man."

The wedding party continued celebrating when they got off the luxury ocean liner with a party held at Donald Trump's exclusive club, Mar-a-Lago, in Palm Beach.

'They want to be playing cards or drinking with him'

Wayne's image is preserved

Paintings by the actor's widow set the nostalgic scene for his admirers, including customers of an Arlington restaurant.

BY JEFF PRINCE
Star-Telegram Staff Writer

ARLINGTON — John Wayne photos spark unusual memories for the late actor's widow. A buckskin-clad Wayne from 1953's Hondo makes her think of Lassie.

"There was more than one Lassie, you know," said Pilar Wayne Upchurch, recalling an all-night poker game that included Wayne and the handler of the famous collie. "The Duke won all the Lassies. The next day the man was devastated; that was his livelihood."

Wayne gave the dogs back after a good laugh, she said.

Upchurch, a native of Peru but a longtime Californian, moved to Fort Worth after marrying local businessman and philanthropist Jesse Upchurch in 1998. She is a lifelong artist, who produces paintings of Wayne and his Hollywood cronies, along with landscapes and animals.

Texana Grill, a new restaurant on Interstate 20 near Cooper Street, created a rustic John Wayne Room, furnished with cypress tables, hickory chairs and a wall covered with Wayne photos. The owners purchased an Upchurch print for the room and invited her to the commemoration.

Special to the Star-Telegram/BRIAN LAWDERMILK

Pilar Wayne Upchurch inspects the John Wayne Room at the Texana Grill in Arlington. The large painting in front of her is her work.

"Even though he's not from Texas, he's a legend here," restaurant owner Gilbert Cuellar said of Wayne. "We'll continue to add to this."

Upchurch marveled at a large picture, laminated on wood, with "The Duke" written in rope across the top. It's the nickname she uses when referring to her late husband.

Not that she talks constantly about Wayne.

Before driving to Arlington yesterday, she relaxed in her 3-story, 11,000-square-foot house in southwest Fort Worth. Jesse Upchurch stood in the back yard, watching their German shepherd, Shako, swim in the pool.

"It's a wonderful thing, to paint," she said. "You get lost and forget everything except mixing your paints and getting the right colors."

The walls are covered with original paintings, some in frames, some painted directly onto the wall. Some feature The Duke, others depict landscapes, animals and her children.

She paints in a small studio on the third floor. Rather than stride the stairs, she rides up in a quiet, wood-paneled elevator — the only bare walls in the house.

"I have no walls left," she said, speaking in a gentle voice with a slight Spanish accent. "I guess I could put a few in the elevator."

The studio, next to a window overlooking a golf course, is cluttered with easels and canvases, although her paint tubes are carefully organized on a table.

She has painted most of her life, but never as prodigiously as she has since Wayne died, in 1979.

"When he was living we were like gypsies, moving from location to location," she said. "The kids were little. It was difficult to find time to paint."

She has stuck with realism but is considering an exploration of expressionism. Still, it's her paintings of Wayne that attract the commissions. Movie fans pay her to paint them in scenes with the actor.

"They love John Wayne, and they want to be playing cards with him or drinking with him," she said.

Pilar Palette was 18 and acting in a movie being shot on location on the Amazon River when she met Wayne, who was traveling in the area. The director arranged a dinner party in the actor's honor, and he was seated beside a nervous Palette. She was unfamiliar with his work but thought he was "incredibly handsome."

Wanting to impress him, she complimented his work in For Whom the Bell Tolls.

"I think you've got me mixed up with my friend Gary Cooper," Wayne drawled.

Later, she flew from Peru to a Los Angeles studio to dub the movie.

"I was walking out a door and he was walking in," she said. "He said, 'I remember you, How about having dinner tonight?' I thought, 'Whoa, this guy moves fast.'"

They went to dinner and fell in love.

They married in 1954 and had three children, Ethan, Aissa and Marisa Wayne.

Wayne's movie career began as an extra in silent films and lasted nearly five decades. He won a best actor Oscar for True Grit in 1970.

The couple's house was often filled with friends, including Lee Marvin, Ward Bond, Richard Boone and director John Ford.

Upchurch remembers them as a charismatic, fun-loving bunch.

Except for one.
