Wall, Ammons wed

Lisa Ann Ammons of Garner and Bobby Gregg Wall of Middlesex were married Oct. 24 at 2 p.m. at Watkins Baptist Church in Middlesex. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Kenneth Benton.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl J. Ammons of Garner. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Bobby W. Wall of Middlesex.

The bridegroom's grandparents are Hazel Wall of Middlesex and Elsie Stallings of Zebulon.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white formal gown of satin and alencon lace adorned with beaded pearls and scattered sequins. The gown featured a scalloped V-neckline in front and back, outlined with pearls. A string of pearls hung across the back. The leg-o'-mutton sleeves tapered to the wrist and ended with scalloped lace at the back of the hand.

The fitted bodice was adorned with lace down to the basque waistline. A full, gathered skirt fell from the waist and flowed into a cathedral-length train. The hemline of the gown and train were edged in a matching border lace.

For her headpiece, the bride chose a crown covered with alencon lace and adorned with crystals and pearls. Cascading from the crown was a two-tiered, fingertip-length illusion enhanced with pearls and a finished edge. She carried a bouquet of roses, carnations, baby's breath and fern.

She was attended by her sister, Donna Moran of Garner, as matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Amy Heyward of Fuquay, Patti Pasour of Gastonia, Lenae Riggan of Rockingham and Susan Wall of Middlesex, sister of the bridegroom.

The attendants each wore a mauve satin tea-length gown featuring a white laced and beaded collar. The matron of honor carried a bouquet of white carnations, roses, baby's breath and fern. The bridesmaids' bouquets consisted of carnations, baby's breath and fern.

Carla Ammons, sister of the bride, was the flower girl, and Stephen Allen, nephew of the bride, served as ring bearer.

The bridegroom chose his father to be his best man.

Ushers were Scott Carter of Wendell, Ronnie Parrish of Zebulon, Scott Strickland of Smithfield and Eddie Driver of Middlesex, cousin of the bridegroom. They wore grey tuxedos with mauve bow ties and cummerbunds.

Wedding music was presented by Dara Edwards of Wendell, organist, and Marty and Bonnie Green of Middlesex, vocalists.

Janie Westbrook of Garner directed the wedding.

The bride graduated from Appalachian State University and is a special programs department manager at Garner Senior High School. Her husband graduated from Smithfield Selma High School and N.C. State University. He is a microimaging specialist at Glaxo.

After a wedding trip to the Pocono Mountains, Pennsylvania, the couple will make their home in Garner.

N.Y. editor, Truman in-law dies

Zebulon native Clifton Daniel, who made a name for himself as editor of The New York Times and Harry Truman's son-in-law, died Monday in Manhattan from stroke and heart disease problems. He was 87.

Daniel's journalism career took him from the Zebulon Record to covering war-torn Europe and the Middle East. He got his start sniffing out stories working in a drugstore owned by his father, Elbert Clifton Daniel, a Zebulon mayor.

After graduating Wakelon High School, Daniel earned a degree from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, then worked a year as associate editor of The Dunn Daily Bulletin before spending four years as a reporter, political writer and columnist for The News and Observer in Raleigh.

In 1937, Daniel went to work for The Associated Press in New York. One of his friends there was author Thomas Wolfe, a fellow Tar Heel.

After seven years as an AP reporter and editor, Daniel was transferred from New York to Washington, D.C., and then to London.

Daniel remembered as close friend, professional

In 1944, he was hired by The Times and stayed on in London covering the Supreme Headquarters of the Allied Expeditionary Force. Later, he followed the advance of the First Army into Belgium and Germany.

Zebulon historian Edythe Tippet said her first memory of Daniel was when he came home from London during World War II to speak at a Wakelon school assembly. She was around age 13 at the time.

Longtime Zebulon residents Frank and Jean Wall were friends of the Daniel family. A former mayor, Frank Wall recalls they were invited to many receptions by Daniel's family. After the events were over, Frank Wall remembers he would sit in the den with Daniel and President Truman for friendly chats.

Jean Wall said it was a thrill for them to meet the president. She remembers Daniel's mother did not have a washing machine at her home.

"Margaret would ask to come over to our house to use ours when they were in town," she said.

The Walls kept in contact with the Daniels through the years. "Clifton said you're the only ones that keep me informed about what's going on in Zebulon," Jean Wall added.

Elbert Clifton Daniel Jr. was born Sept. 19, 1912. His mother was Elvah Jones Daniel and his great-grandfather was Zachariah G. Daniel, an illiterate farmer who came to the United States from England.

In those days Zebulon had a population of 500. As a teenager, Daniel was known as E.C. and worked part time for his father, an enterprising druggist who became the first person in town to own a telephone and later the head of the N.C. Pharmaceutical Association.

Years later, in a speech at UNC-Chapel Hill, Daniel gave this account of how he first became a reporter:

"I read one of those articles in a boys magazine on 'Choosing a Career.' It said that if you wanted to be a newspaperman, if you wanted to write, the best thing to do was to start writing. It didn't say anything about going to journalism school. It just said, 'Send in something to the local paper.' So I did.

"As I remember, it was an account of a basketball game. It got printed. Having one item published was enough to convince me that I was God's gift to journalism. I was pretty soon writing all the local news in the Zebulon Record during summer vacations from school."

Working in the drugstore "was a lucky coincidence, because there was no better place in the town to gather news," Daniel told his audience. "The chief of police and the deputy sheriff used to hang around there all the time. We took calls for the doctors. Visiting politicians dropped in to shake hands. Farmers talked about the price of tobacco and cotton. In fact, nearly everybody in town went down to the drugstore for one reason or another during the week. I can still remember one night when a fellow walked in, apparently holding his head on with his hands. His throat was cut from ear to ear. I got a doctor for him — and a story for the Zebulon Record."

In 1956, Daniel married novelist Margaret Truman, the only child of the former president. Margaret Daniel wrote or edited a score of books under the Truman name.

After her first mystery novel, "Murder in the White House," became a best seller in 1980, she said in an interview, "My husband tells me to stick to what I know."

In addition to his wife, Daniel is survived by: four sons, Clifton Truman, William Wallace, Harrison Gates and Thomas Washington Daniel; as well as five grandchildren.

① From Wake Treasures Vol 3 No 2 (SUMMER 1993)
Pg 43 - In an article entitled "The Genesis of Wake County"; by Marshall DeJamey Haywood

In 1835 and again in 1841 the United States Government published lists of soldiers of the Revolution who were pensioned for services in that war. At the risk of being tedious, I give the Wake County lists in full. Persons desiring a statement of the war record of any veteran herein named can obtain the same free of charge by addressing a request therefore to the Commissioner of Pensions, at Washington City. Except when other wise designated, persons mentioned were privates in the service of North Carolina. Some of the names are spelled differently on the two lists, and these variations I have indicated below. The list published in 1835 was as follows: Berthett ALLEN, James ADAMS, Philip ADAMS, James AMES, John AMOS, Christopher BABB, James BROWN, Jesse BRYANT (Virginia), William BURTON (or William H. BURTON), Jacob BYRUM, Benjamin CARPENTER, James CHRISTIAN 2nd, William CLIFTON, George COLE, Robert DODD, Reuben EVANS, John GREEN, Jesse HARRIS (or HORRIS), James HUGHES (Virginia), Thomas JINKS (Corporal), Francis JONES, Vincent KING, Joshua LYNCH, David MABRY, Jesse MANUEL, John MARR, Shadrach MEDLIN, Naaman MILLS, James NANCE, senior (Virginia), Jesse OSBORN, Drury PITTIFORD (Virginia), William POLK (Major), Elisha POPE (Virginia), Frederick RIGSBY (or RIGSBEE), Thomas ROSS, John RHODES, Aaron ROBERTS, Robert SNEED (Virginia), Joseph SHAW (Pennsylvania), Isaac SMITH, Samuel STANDEFORD (Virginia), Samuel SCARBOROUGH, senior, (Virginia), Jonathan SMITH, senior (Captain), John SHERRON, John SWENNEY, William TATE, Nathan UPCHURCH, William WILDER, Burrell (or Burwell) WHITEHEAD, John WALKER, John WILLIAMS, and Jesse WALL. In addition to the above, the list of 1841 gives the following names, without indicating rank, or State in which they served: James HARWARD, Thomas HOLLAND, Richard PIPEN, William SLEDD, Rufus WILLIE, and William WOOD. Some of these veterans were dead before lists were published. Joel TERRELL, whose name also appears on the pension roll of 1835, appears to have rendered his military service in the United States Army after the Revolution - possibly in the War of 1812.

MARY LOUISE WALL

Obituary in News & Observer of Raleigh, NC MON 22 NOV 2004
From Ann Pal

Mary Louise Wall Maynard

SEPTEMBER 16, 1916 - NOVEMBER 20, 2004

CARY - Mary Lou Maynard passed away peacefully at Mayview Convalescent Center early Saturday morning.

Mary Lou and her husband Gerald Maynard were long time residents of Cary, North Carolina. They were people of great faith. Married for more than 50 years, they were deeply devoted to each other, their sons and daughters-in-law, their grandchildren, their extended families, and their church. Friends and family will long remember their gentle lives, their kindness, and their gracious hospitality.

Mary Lou Maynard served her Lord her entire life and the Baptist State Convention for more than forty years. During her tenure at the Convention she worked in many different capacities, serving in secretarial positions for the Biblical Recorder, the Training Union Department, The Mission Department, and the Department for the Inter-Racial Understanding.

During her adult years, Mary Lou was very involved in the activities of First Baptist Church of Cary. She taught Sunday School, was involved in the Women's Missionary union, and participated in the Church Circles. She was very active in the Cary Garden Club and participated in many other civic activities in the small but growing town of Cary.

Mary Lou grew up in Raleigh, North Carolina. She lost her father before the Depression. Through determination, hard work and the generosity of the Tabernacle congregation, her Mother Pattie Wall and the other children managed to keep their family together. As a child and a young woman, she was a member of Tabernacle Baptist Church. She was baptized and married at Tabernacle. After their marriage, she and Gerald soon moved to Longview Gardens where they became founding members of Longview Gardens Baptist Church. They were long time members of First Baptist Church in Cary, and later moved their membership to Westwood Baptist Church, also in Cary.

Mary Lou was a graduate of Hugh Morson High School in Raleigh. She finished secretarial school before going to work briefly with WPA. She proudly accepted a position with the Biblical Recorder. Her career supporting the work of North Carolina Baptist was long and distinguished.

Mary Lou is preceded in death by her beloved husband Gerald Johnson Maynard, her Father, Henry Peyton Wall, her Mother, Pattie Bagwell Wall, her brother Clarence Peyton Wall.

Mary Lou is survived by her son, Gerald Peyton Maynard, his wife Ellan Maynard, and their children, Joel Peyton Maynard and Anna Margret Maynard, and her son, Richard Dixon Maynard, his Carol Marie Maynard and their son, Alan Dixon Maynard.

Mary Lou is also survived by her sister, Lucille Smith and her husband, Ray Smith; her brother, Henry Wall and his wife, Sue J. Wall; her sister-in-law, Inez Wall, her sisters-in-law, Elva Maynard and Pina Maynard; brother-in-law, Ernie Poston.

She also enjoyed a large family of many nieces and nephews, friends, co-workers, and the kind and loving staff of Mayview Convalescent Center.

Funeral arrangements will be handled by Brown-Wynne Funeral Home, Saint Mary's Street, Raleigh. Friends wishing to visit individually may do so at Brown-Wynne from 10 a.m. until noon on Tuesday, November 23.

The memorial service will be at the new Tabernacle Baptist Church on Leesville Road at 1:30 in the afternoon.

The family will see friends in the Gathering Room at the Church following the service.

A graveside service will be held at 3:30 p.m. at the Apex Cemetery on Highway 55.

In lieu of flowers the family requests that memorial donations be made to Tabernacle Baptist Church, 8304 Leesville Road, Raleigh, NC 27613.

The Zebulon Record THUR 18 MAY 1989 Zebulon, NC

Zebulon woman celebrates birthday, reflects on past

By MARY BETH NEWHART
Record staff writer

Birthdays are holidays that come, without fail, every year. Some folks quit counting them when they reach a particular age. Some hide under the guise of thirtysomething, fortysomething or fiftysomething.

But Naomi W. Evans of Zebulon is proud to tell folks how old she is. She turned 99 on Monday, and that makes her the oldest resident in the Zebulon town limits, and the oldest member of the Zebulon Baptist Church.

"This is my home," she said in an interview two weeks ago. "There wasn't much to Zebulon when I was young."

Although she can't recall exact dates, she does remember a time when Zebulon was much less the booming community it is now.

"I remember when the railroad went through here," Mrs. Evans recalled. "I was a little girl. I don't know how old I was, but I remember the whistle blowing. You had to go through the woods to get to the depot."

The coming of the railroad wasn't the only method of transportation she remembers.

"When the first car came, I had never heard tell of such a thing. You could hear it coming — chug-a, chug-a, chug-a," she said. "Everyone wanted to see it so we'd all run out. It just looked like one little seat and a couple of tires."

Mrs. Evans later related that she went to school in Wakefield. "I was 7 years old when I first started school. When I got older, I would substitute for the teachers when they got sick."

Her experience as a substitute led her to pursue a career in teaching. She attended Atlantic Christian College in Wilson.

"My best subjects were math and English," Mrs. Evans said. "I always wanted to be a teacher because my mama was a teacher."

Taking her teaching certificate, Mrs. Evans spent two years' teaching school in Franklin and Wilson counties. It was during that time that she met her husband, Dolphus Evans.

"I got married and my husband didn't want me to teach," Mrs. Evans explained. "At that time, you didn't get much money for teaching. So we settled on Horton Street here in Zebulon."

They were married 60 years before her husband died in 1972.

She said she was blessed with three daughters and one son from that marriage. They are Doris Winstead, Janis Alford and Frances Murray, all of Zebulon; and Donahue Evans of Raleigh.

"They were good children, and they still are," Mrs. Evans stated. "I've got the best kind of children ever raised. Every one to right are Garry Wall; his wife, Frances; son, Mark; son, Ayden; his wife's mother, Penina Bunn Brantley; and daughter, Naomi.

of them is as good as can be. They look after me now."

Mrs. Evans never considered getting married again after her husband passed on. "One was enough for me," she said with a chuckle. "But I wish I would have gone back to teaching after my children were old enough."

Mrs. Winstead recalled growing up under the watchful eye of her mother.

"We all had a good time growing up," she said. "Everybody knew everybody then. The drugstore was the place where all the boys and girls would get together and hang out."

Mrs. Evans said that her children, 10 grandchildren and 10 great-grandchildren, are what keeps her going. "I still love to stay home with the children," she said. "I remember all those little girls rushing in."

Mrs. Evans isn't the only one in her family to live into her 90s. Her mother, Frances Brantley Wall, lived to the age of 93.

"I figure every year is going to be my last," she said with a smile. "Everybody's younger than me. All my friends are gone. I can't see and I can't hear, but I'm still kicking — just not too high."

Sam "Pa" Wall In Loving Memory

August 27, 1908
September 16, 1995

One year ago today, God looked around his gardens, and found an empty place. He then looked down upon this earth and saw your caring but tired face. A golden heart stopped beating, a precious smile was seen one last time, and hard working hands were relaxed as God put his arms around you and lifted you to rest. With tears in our eyes and sadness in our hearts we watched you slowly fade away. God's garden must be beautiful because he always takes the best.

He knew you were suffering, and he knew you were in pain. He knew you would never get well on this earth again. He saw the road was getting rough, and the hills were hard to climb; so he closed your loving but weary eyes and whispered, "Peace Be Thine." Yes, God broke our hearts when he called you home. But you didn't go alone; for part of us went with you on that day. You have two more great-grandchildren since you left, wish you could have seen them. Your sweet smile, your unconditional love for everyone, and your caring for family and friends will live in our heart forever.

We love you and miss you more and more each day.

*With all our love,
Your Family*

For her headpiece, the bride chose a V-shaped pearl headband veil featuring silk roses, pearl sprays and iridescent sequins. The triple pouf cascaded into an elbow-length veil of tulle netting which was edged at the hem with hand-sewn lace and seed pearls. The headpiece was a handmade gift to the bride.

Other attendants were Lauren Highsmith, niece of the bride, flower girl; and Jeffery Upchurch, nephew of the bridegroom, ring bearer.

The bridegroom wore a black tuxedo with a tailcoat and matching cummerbund and bow tie.

He chose his father to be his best man. Groomsmen were Shawn Tutor, Chad Wall, Gary Buzzerio and Lee Thompson.

The altar was decorated with a 15-branch brass candelabrum accented with a bouquet of mixed flowers in shades of purple, fuchsia and white; two 15-branch spiral candelabra; and two 9-branch candelabra accented with ferns and ivy. The unity candle and double-kneeling bench had matching bouquets of flowers. The windows were marked with burning tapers, mixed greenery and satin bows. The aisle pews were marked with burning tapers accented with bouquets of mixed flowers, complete with lovebirds joined together with sequined ribbons and gold wedding rings.

Prior to the beginning of the ceremony, a single candle was lit by Chad Wall, brother of the bride, in memory of the couple's deceased grandparents.

Music was presented by Mena Perry, organist; Marilyn Evans, pianist; Wanda Garner, soloist; and Bruce Edwards, soloist and guitarist.

Brenda Whitley directed the wedding and was in charge of floral designs and decorating. Tammy Medlin kept the register and Leigh Poole gave out programs. Rice maids were Elizabeth Browning, Amanda Sayles, Tina Powell and Jennifer Buzzerio.

The bride is a graduate of East Wake High School and is employed as a Pharmaceutical Technician III at Glaxo in Zebulon. Her husband is a graduate of Fuquay-Varina High School and N.C. State University. He is manager of Kerr Drugs in Cary.
