FURTHER IDENTIFIED AS: HISTORY OF POSEY CO., IN 1913

Dr. David Walter Welch was born near Galatia, Ill., in 1848. He is the son of E. G. Welch and Nancy (Upchurch) Welch. The father was of an old Virginia family, but was raised at Murfreesboro, Tenn., and moved to Southern Illinois when quite a young man. Dr. Welch's mother was born at Galatia, which was founded by her father, David Upchurch, lived there all her life and died in the same village at the age of eighty. The father died at the ripe age of eighty-eight in the same village. Dr. Welch, the oldest of twelve children, was reared on the farm near Galatia, attended the village schools in winter and later the Illinois State Normal at Normal. He taught school for fifteen years, three years in Shawneetown, Ill.; two as assistant superintendent of Evansville, Ind., schools; two as superintendent of Rockport schools, which he re-organized and graded, and two as superintendent of schools in Boonville, Ind. He read medicine at home of evenings and afterwards in the office and under the tuition of Dr. George B. Walker, dean of the faculty at Evansville, Ind. He graduated from the Evansville Medical College in 1886, having previously lived in the country northeast of Mt. Vernon, Ind., for four years. He located in Mt. Vernon in 1888, where he has since resided. Some years ago he took a post-graduate course in the Chicago Clinical College, and served four years on the board of pension examiners during the Harrison administration, being associated with the late Drs. Smith and Holton. He was married in 1868 to Miss Jennie R. Wright, of Cloverport, Ky. They have five sons and two daughters, all grown and married. He is in politics a Prohibitionist. There are just two planks in his political platform. He hates whisky and mud. He is the originator of the movement which resulted in building more than 200 miles of rock and gravel roads in Posey county. He met fierce opposition and defied it. Before that the county had not a foot of decent road. They have at this time more than 200 miles and are still building.

David Walter Welch, M. D., of Mt. Vernon, was born in Saline county, Illinois, near Galatia, March 5, 1848, and is a son of Egbert G. and Nancy (Upchurch) Welch. His father was a native of Tennessee, and came of an old Virginia family, and at the age of eighty-eight years he died at Galatia, Ill., where he was a pioneer settler, and his mother was born at Galatia, Ill., and was a daughter of David Upchurch, who came from North Carolina to Illinois, and was the founder of Galatia. Dr. Welch was reared on the farm, attended the country schools, and the Illinois State Normal at Normal, Ill., and then engaged in the profession of school teaching for fifteen years. He was superintendent of schools at Rockport, Ind., for two years, of the schools of Boonville, Ind., for two years, having previously been assistant superintendent of schools at Evansville, Ind. His early teaching was in Illinois. He was at Shawneetown for three years. He read medicine in the office of Dr. George B. Walker, dean of the Evansville Medical College. He then began practice in the country about five miles northeast of Mt. Vernon. He located in Mt. Vernon in 1888. He did post-graduate work at the Chicago Clinical College, and is a member of the Mt. Vernon City, the Posey County, and Indiana State Medical societies, and also of the Ohio Valley Medical Association. Dr. Welch married in 1868 Jennie R. Wright, of Cloverport, Ky. They have five sons and two daughters. The Doctor is a Prohibitionist in politics. He is not only an able and prominent physician, but as a citizen is progressive. To him is largely due the steps that led to the improvement of the public roads in Posey county, in which matter he received strong opposition, but the splendid roads of the county stand as a monument to his spirit of progress and foresight.

Dr. David Walter Welch was born near Galatia, Ill., in 1848. He is the son of E. G. Welch and Nancy (Upchurch) Welch. The father was of an old Virginia family, but was raised at Murfreesboro, Tenn., and moved to Southern Illinois when quite a young man. Dr. Welch's mother was born at Galatia, which was founded by her father, David Upchurch, lived there all her life and died in the same village at the age of eighty. The father died at the ripe age of eighty-eight in the same village. Dr. Welch, the oldest of twelve children, was reared on the farm near Galatia, attended the village schools in winter and later the Illinois State Normal at Normal. He taught school for fifteen years, three years in Shawneetown, Ill.; two as assistant superintendent of Evansville, Ind., schools; two as superintendent of Rockport schools, which he re-organized and graded, and two as superintendent of schools in Boonville, Ind. He read medicine at home of evenings and afterwards in the office and under the tuition of Dr. George B. Walker, dean of the faculty at Evansville, Ind. He graduated from the Evansville Medical College in 1886, having previously lived in the country northeast of Mt. Vernon, Ind., for four years. He located in Mt. Vernon in 1888, where he has since resided. Some years ago he took a post-graduate course in the Chicago Clinical College, and served four years on the board of pension examiners during the Harrison administration, being associated with the late Drs. Smith and Holton. He was married in 1868 to Miss Jennie R. Wright, of Cloverport, Ky. They have five sons and two daughters, all grown and married. He is in politics a Prohibitionist. There are just two planks in his political platform. He hates whisky and mud. He is the originator of the movement which resulted in building more than 200 miles of rock and gravel roads in Posey county. He met fierce opposition and defied it. Before that the county had not a foot of decent road. They have at this time more than 200 miles and are still building.

David Walter Welch, M. D., of Mt. Vernon, was born in Saline county, Illinois, near Galatia, March 5, 1848, and is a son of Egbert G. and Nancy (Upchurch) Welch. His father was a native of Tennessee, and came of an old Virginia family, and at the age of eighty-eight years he died at Galatia, Ill., where he was a pioneer settler, and his mother was born at Galatia, Ill., and was a daughter of David Upchurch, who came from North Carolina to Illinois, and was the founder of Galatia. Dr. Welch was reared on the farm, attended the country schools, and the Illinois State Normal at Normal, Ill., and then engaged in the profession of school teaching for fifteen years. He was superintendent of schools at Rockport, Ind., for two years, of the schools of Boonville, Ind., for two years, having previously been assistant superintendent of schools at Evansville, Ind. His early teaching was in Illinois. He was at Shawneetown for three years. He read medicine in the office of Dr. George B. Walker, dean of the Evansville Medical College. He then began practice in the country about five miles northeast of Mt. Vernon. He located in Mt. Vernon in 1888. He did post-graduate work at the Chicago Clinical College, and is a member of the Mt. Vernon City, the Posey County, and Indiana State Medical societies, and also of the Ohio Valley Medical Association. Dr. Welch married in 1868 Jennie R. Wright, of Cloverport, Ky. They have five sons and two daughters. The Doctor is a Prohibitionist in politics. He is not only an able and prominent physician, but as a citizen is progressive. To him is largely due the steps that led to the improvement of the public roads in Posey county, in which matter he received strong opposition, but the splendid roads of the county stand as a monument to his spirit of progress and foresight.

Walker, Welch wed Aug. 8 in Raleigh

Paula Carol Welch of Knightdale and Charles Edward Walker of Pensacola, Fla., were united in marriage Aug. 8 at Victory Free Will Baptist Church in Raleigh. The double-ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Terry Miller, brother-in-law of the bride.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Garry Welch of Knightdale. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. William Walker of Pensacola, Fla.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown featuring a fitted bodice overlaid with scalloped chantilly lace adorned with pearls. The sheer puffed sleeves were edged and appliqued with lace. Flowing from the waist, a train of organza was layered with tiers of chantilly lace. The bride's fingertip-length veil of illusion was gathered to a headpiece of roses and streamers of pearls. Her bouquet was a multifloral cascade of peach, mint and lavender, set in lace.

She was attended by her sister, Tammy Miller, of North Kingstown, R.I., as matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Pam Welch of Knightdale, sister of the bride; Melissa Senkbeil of Phil Campbell, Ala., cousin of the bride; and Patricia Welch of Sidney, Ohio, cousin of the bride.

The bridal attendants wore dresses of crinkled cotton with brush strokes of pastel peach, mint and lavender. The fitted waists and full skirts were accented by wide belts in matching fabric. Each attendant's attire was accessorized by a strand of lavender beads at the V neckline and a floral headpiece.

They carried inverted miniature parasols of lace filled with flowers.

Other attendants were Shari Lynn, cousin of the bridegroom, as the flower girl, and Dusty Wilson, cousin of the bridegroom, as ring bearer.

The bridegroom chose his brother, Jeff Walker, of Pensacola, Fla., to be his best man. Ushers were Brian Welch of Knightdale, brother of the bride; Bill Jewell of Wilmington; and Brad Baird of Nashville, Tenn.

Church decorations in the wedding colors included cross-stitched pew markers made by Charlene Wilson, aunt of the bridegroom.

Wedding music was presented by vocalist Pam Welch, sister of the bride, and pianist Angie Beard.

Angie Welch of Sidney, Ohio, presided at the bride's book.

Assisting at the reception in the church fellowship hall were Diana Wolaver of Sidney, Ohio, and Cheri Rowe and Michelle Rowe of Nashville, Tenn.

The bride is a graduate of Gateway Christian School in Virginia Beach, Va., and Southeastern Free

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Edward Walker

Will Baptist College at Wendell. Her husband is a graduate of Tate High School in Pensacola, Fla., and attends Southeastern Free Will Baptist College. Both are locally employed.

After a wedding trip to the Smoky Mountains, the couple will make their home in Zebulon.

The parents of the bridegroom hosted a rehearsal dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Harmon.

A basketful of Apex

By DAVID LEONE
Staff Writer

Lina Dowd has lived near Apex her entire life.

Growing up she was one of eight children in the Welch family in the Olive Chapel area. Later, she married Lynn Dowd and moved to Green Level.

Lynn passed away in 1979.

After brushing the edges of the town for 66 years, Lina finally moved to Apex in 1983.

That was about the time she took up basket weaving.

A woman named Judy Mallow peaked Lina's interest then with a course on how to turn ordinary pine needles into extraordinary baskets.

She has been at it ever since.

"I just enjoyed doing it, it helps me to have something to do," Lina says.

Lina collects the needles that fall to the ground outside of her home, making sure to only pick up the straight ones.

She then takes a pot of boiling water and pours it over them, letting the needles soak for two hours.

"That kind of helps to soften them up so you can work with them better," she says.

Lina follows up by scraping off the dark ends. Then, the pine needles are ready for sewing.

Her only tools are a wide-eyed sewing needle and an inch-long metal gauge so Lina can tell when to introduce a new pine needle to the basket.

She weaves them together with all the patience and care her old fingers can afford — she has to pause every so often because it pains her back to sit in one place too long.

Depending on the size of the basket, Lina also adds up to 13 black walnuts. They are sliced thin and sewn in, and are the highlight of the unique design.

She uses a nylon upholstery thread to band the needles together — nylon because "It's real strong."

Lina knows thread — with three daughters to raise, she says she was "always making one thing or another."

"I made my children's clothes when they went to school," Lina adds.

She double stitches the thread along the top of the basket, for looks mainly, and reinforcement.

"You have to go from one stitch over to another to make them straight every time," she says.

"When making baskets, you have to keep the white ends from showing," she says.

When all finished, Lina coats the basket with a "pure orange shellac" and lets it dry.

"It takes about a day to make a little one," she says, "and takes about a week to make the ones with 13 nuts in them."

The finished baskets decorate her home. She has made them for family, friends, friends' friends — really just about anyone.

"I made 200 for a couple who were going to some kind of meeting and wanted to give the baskets away," Lina says.

The hand-crafted baskets that Lina Dowd gives away to others could be making her a lot of money, thinks Carole Kish, owner of the "Unique and Wonderful Place" store in downtown Apex.

So, Kish decided to put the baskets in her store, with all the proceeds of the sale going to Lina.
