WILLIAMS, Sandy, Private

Previously served in Company D, 35th Regiment N.C. Troops. Transferred to this company on 27 December 1862. Present or accounted for until paroled at Appomattox Court House, Virginia, 9 April 1865.

The company, known as "Cedar Forks Rifles," was from Wake and Chatham Counties and enlisted in Wake County on 28 May 1861. It went into the camp of instruction near Company Shops (Burlington), Alamance County, 1 June 1861, and was assigned to this regiment [Sixth Regiment] as Company I. After joining the regiment, the company functioned as a part of the regiment, and its history for the war period is recorded as a part of the regimental history.

The information contained in the following roster of the company was compiled principally from company muster rolls for 20 June 1861, through February 1864, and 15 September through December 1864. No company muster rolls were found for the period prior to 20 June 1861; for March through 14 September 1864; or for the period after December 1864. In addition to the company muster rolls, Roll of Honor records, receipt rolls, hospital records, prisoner of war records, and other primary records, supplemented by state pension applications, United Daughters of the Confederacy records, and postwar rosters and histories, all provided useful information.

C.B. Williams was son of Robert William and of Susan —.
 C.B. came from Camden/Camden Co NC where his people were big farmers. He was in 1st class at N.C. State College. Started 1889 - finished 1893 - went to Johns Hopkins Univ & was there when Francis was born. He got an M.A. somewhere but no PH.D. He built this home in 1909. Frances recalls that her father walked home for lunch each day to the home on 1405 Hillshire St. His health got bad and he retired. He wrote a book on Corn. Her father relied heavily on "Kathy" Kathryn McKimmon, secretary of Agronomy. She was a Crews.

④ FROM N.C. STATE ALUMNI MAGAZINE REC'D 22 APR 1987

Everybody Went to State

It's not by accident that Frances Leigh Lucas, a freshman enrolled in the School of Engineering, and her sister, Julia Park Lucas, a junior in electrical engineering, chose N.C. State for their college education. Family history and family loyalties played a big part in the choices of these young women.

Coming from a family in which, according to Julia, "everybody went to State" and almost everybody was an engineer, both sisters confidently made their choices of study. And considering their ancestors, their confidence is not a surprise.

From their mother's side of the family, Julia and Frances are great-grandchildren of Charles Burgess Williams '93, valedictorian of the first graduating class at N.C.

State and captain of its first football team—a chemist who earned his M.S. at this institution and his Ph.D. at Johns Hopkins and who returned to N.C. State to serve as its first dean of agriculture and later as head of the department of agronomy. Williams Hall was named in his honor.

The Lucas sisters are also great-grandchildren of Charles Benjamin Park, who served N.C. State with distinction for 50 years as practical mechanics instructor and superintendent of shops. The value of his service was recognized when Park Shops was named for him.

That's the first generation of the legacy. Then follow sons Frank Williams (B.S. textiles '28), Thomas N. Park (B.S. engineering '22) and grandchildren Margie Park Lucas (M.Ed. special education '82) and Thomas N. Park Jr. (A.A. crop science '84).

Enter the Lucas family—Ashleigh M. Lucas (B.S. electrical engineering '61) who is married to Margie Lucas, and his brothers, John Wesley Lucas (B.S. industrial arts '64) and Joseph R. Lucas (B.S. electrical engineering '56).

And today on campus, the daughters of Ashleigh and Margie are making their marks—Julia as a co-op student in R&D at the Northern Telecom subsidiary Bell Northern Research; and Frances, who is presently enjoying freshman courses, playing soccer with the Raleigh '69 Spartans and preparing for engineering co-op opportunities in the fall.

The excerpt below is from the feature article in this issue entitled

"AG HALL ON AG HILL"

This excerpt serves to document CBW as the first Dean of the College of Agriculture and cites his tenure as Dean 1917-1923

Dr. Johnny Wynne is the 11th dean to hold office in Patterson. His predecessors are C.B. Williams (1917-1923), B.W. Kilgore (1923-1925), I.O. Schaub (1926-1945), Leonard D. Baver (1945-1948), James H. Hilton (1948-1953), Dean W. Colvard (1953-1960), H. Brooks James (1960-1970), J. Edward Legates (1971-1986), Durward F. Bateman (1986-1997) and James L. Oblinger (1997-2003).

Some say that Wynne is the 12th dean of the College. Around 1901, Charles W. Burkett, appointed professor of agriculture, or college agriculturist, by the state Board of Agriculture, directed N.C. A&M's agriculture curriculum, oversaw significant growth in enrollment and agriculture course offerings and helped the students organize a chapter of Alpha Zeta, the agriculture honorary fraternity, according to Alice Reagan, in North Carolina State University, a Narrative History (1987, N.C. State Alumni Association). George T. Winston, N.C. A&M president, and some of the college's agriculture faculty supported the notion of Burkett as dean, but the suggestion was met with resistance from trustees and some faculty.

Burkett resigned in 1906 never having officially served as dean. It wasn't until 1917 that Williams, an alumnus of N.C. A&M, was elected first dean.

I adored my Grandfather Williams.
I lived in the house with him for 21 years. I give him credit today in the example he set for the happy, healthy, full life that I am living today at age 71. It will take some time to gather my thoughts. I promise to have it in the mail before we leave for Florida March 10th unless something unforeseen happens.

Yes, I have been in Williams Hall several times. I have also taken my two children there. I, too, was in California when the building was dedicated so I missed that.

Several years ago - perhaps 10 or so Williams Hall had some work done on it and a rededication. My sister found out about and called to find out why the family was not invited.
The office told her that they were under the impression none of the family were left. The head of the Agronomy Department called my other sister, Margie, greatly chagrined. His son was a brother of my niece, Julia, and Julia had never told them of the connection.
Julia is unassuming. She is a nice girl, though. She and her younger sister graduated from State with high honors in Electrical Engineering.

Dear Cousin Phil,

I am enclosing a copy of the N. C. State Alumni News which featured my grandfather Williams in July, 1947.

As I said before I loved my grand- father. He is one of the few people I have known who found the abundant life. Christ said he came to bring us. He had everything good health, success, happy marriage and prosperity. He had all of the fruits of the spirit and joy just bubbled up in him.

I was born eight months after my Aunt Lorraine died. She was my grandfather's favorite. Mother said his hair turned white overnight and she remembers him sitting in his chair crying and crying.

I was the only child for six years and spent a great deal of time with my grandparents. I started out calling them "Maggie and C. B." - only I wouldn't say the C. I still remember the day in the garden when I was five or six that Grand- mother said it was time I called her Grandmother but B. liked his name. So B he was to all four children.

When I began to grow into adulthood I began to have depression. I didn't know what it was then but I knew that B. had the answers for a happy life. I would sit on a stool at his feet and talk to him while he was puffing on a cigar. So this day whenever I smell a cigar I think of him. I would ask him to show me the way. All he would say was "Go to Sunday School and church, read your Bible get a good education and read 'Time' magazine." I've never liked "Time" and I doubt if he would today.

I would also ask B. to tell me what my purpose was in life. All he would say was, "I can't tell you that but when you find the way you will know it." He was right.

Grandmother, on the other hand, was a preacher. One minute she would be pushing me socially and the next religiously. She would say, "Leave her alone, Margaret, she will find the way."

He was a man who loved his wife. She in turn, admired and respected him. It was she who bragged about his accomplishments as he never would. He kissed her every time he came from work and went to the college. She came with baggage, though. She developed asthma

When she was pregnant with Aunt Susanna and was a semi-invalid a great deal of her life. Until she got better she spent every summer and fall at High Hampton in the mountains. She left him with three rawdy children (from all reports); and according to mother, Grandmother's religiously fanatic aunt who lived with them. A lesser man would have run off with someone else.

Long before I ever heard of anyone talking about diet and exercise B. advocated eating lots of fruits and vegetables, walking, and getting a good nights rest. He didn't drive a car and walked back and forth to work twice a day. He was only sick, even with a cold, once in my life and that was when he had the flu the Christmas before he died.

He was also a conservationist urging us to turn off the lights and shutting off the water. Daddy thought he wasted more electricity shutting off and on the lights.

The only time I ever saw him sad was the day George Washington Carver died. Grandmother told me not to bother B. as he was mourning the death of Dr. Carver. I did manage to slip by Grandmother later. B. said, "The world has lost its greatest scientist and the finest Christian gentleman I've ever known". I assumed that Dr. Cook was a white professor at State. Therefore I was astonished that someone black was a Phd. Grandmother's answer was, "why not?"

B. was also very punctual. In fact he so insisted on being on time that I grew up thinking that being late was a character defect.

He also thought that a cursivity developed character. He was concerned that white children had life too soft. He, in particular, would be annoyed that I did not want to walk six blocks to school. He had had to walk three miles each way to get an education.

B. went to Sunday School, Church, Sunday night services and Wednesday night prayer meeting. He and Grandmother were fitness and generous to the poor. When I was young we were in the midst of the great Depression. I never saw anyone turned away. He and Grandmother also did a lot of work on the house then which kept people employed long after they both were dead. People came back to pay tribute. Some we had never seen before. My roommate in college became a social worker in 1948. She told me that most of the Welfare Cases they had my grandparents had helped at one time or another. They were also very generous to us.

B. loved football. Every home game he, mother and I and later the younger children would walk up to Riddick Stadium. Daddy, who had been a star football player at State, would go ahead to keep the time as hold the lines. I sat in his monogram club seats while B. & mother would sit across the stadium in the faculty section. As we would leave the house Grandmother would be listening to the Metropolitan Opera. Mother would always say, "I don't know why grandma likes that beautiful music." Grandmother couldn't understand why we loved football as she use to watch in the days when they didn't have forward passes. Mother thought that a particularly exciting Duke Forest game helped to sell Papa as she called him.

When I was young he was the only person I knew who had gone to Europe. I have a miniature of me when I was two in a little pink dress he brought back from Durtzland. Mother said he had a hard time finding something to drink ^{in Europe} since he didn't drink wine. He also went to all of the 48 states except Moore.

Mother told two stories about him which I think reflect his character. He never finished his Phd at either Ohio or Ohio Wesleyan. Mother's birth presented that. He just was Dean of Agriculture, Dr. Kilgore, who was a neighbor, persuaded the Trustees to give him that job as he had a Phd. Mother said she was in Spring Break in the mountains when there were headlines in the paper that her father had been fired. It greatly embarrassed her. Although she was very friendly with the Kilgore children, she never liked Dr. Kilgore and thought he deserved his miserable last days. B. apparently never harbored any ill feelings and he and Grandmother would not let Mother say anything unkind about him (Dr. Kilgore).

There was a secretary in the Agronomy Department who wasn't very good. The man under B. wanted her fired. B. said, "No, I, too, am a slow learner just give her time." She turned out to be one of the best secretaries they ever had. The man cried when she left. Mother probably got that story either from Katy McKinnon, a neighbor and family connection, or from Randolph Hill, daughter of D. N. Hill, and life long friend and college roommate of Mother. Both worked for years for my Grandfather.

Mother also said that when they were young they were guinea pigs for all the say bean foods my grand father was working on.

I never heard B. expressed any worry, anxiety, anger or condemnation of anyone. The closest he ever came to criticizing anyone was Roosevelt. He said he was a money spender.

There were some things that peaked him. That was when I would leave my bike in the rain as my skates where he could trip over them. Also when we would do scatter brain things he say "Just rattling around".

One day in June of 1947 he woke up, fixed his breakfast, fainted and died a few minutes without pain in my mother's arms. Mother thinks his natural placemaker failed out just as he's did many years later. I think he died just the way she had wants his children to go. Long after he died people would tell me how much they loved him and what a wonderful Christian he was.

Altogether all I would say about him is that he was a man of few words, strong, loving, kind, generous, moral, happy, modest, and had a wonderful sense of humor.

I hope this will do. You helped give some very pleasant memories.

Sincerely,
Dwanna

P.S. I use to tell him that I was going to name a son for him. He would just chuckle. My husband had just a chair of names and named our son after his deceased brother and your two fathers. I have often thought that George would have had too much to live up to had he been named for his great-grandfather.

COVER

Mr. Williams died suddenly in the morning of June 25, 1947, at his home.

The following was sent to the printer on June 20, 1947, and we decided to use the cover story as it was written before Mr. Williams died.—Editor.

Pictured on this month's cover is Charles Burgess Williams who graduated with the first class in 1893 with the highest scholastic honors of his class. Mr. Williams' record contains a number of "firsts." He entered State College the first day it opened, and as far as we know, he was the first student from Camden County to enter State College. He was captain of the first A & M football team. He was the first instructor appointed in chemistry. He was the first head of the department of agronomy. He was the first dean of agriculture. He was the first president of the Wake County State College Club.

Mr. Williams was one of the first people to become interested in the growing of soybeans in this country, and he became actively interested in this plant many years before it had been propagated by the United States Department of Agriculture. When the soybean was first planted on a very small acreage in the eastern part of the state, Mr. Williams immediately recognized its worth and began a campaign to make it popular, a campaign that his associates say was so spectacular and interesting that it became known all over the United States.

Mr. Williams was born at Shiloh, Camden County, N. C., on Dec. 23, 1871, the son of Robert J. Williams and Susan Burgess Williams. He grew up on a general farm and attended the rural schools of the district. He later attended the Shiloh High School and Military High School at Littleton. On October 3, 1889, he entered the first class of the new North Carolina A & M College and graduated with highest honors, having specialized in agriculture and chemistry.

The summer following his junior year in college was spent in Central New York State on the farm of his professor of agriculture. His father and grandfather were fairly large landowners of some of the best farm lands in Camden and Currituck Counties, N. C.

Shiloh, the oldest Baptist Church in North Carolina, was organized in 1727 at the home of William Burgess, an ancestor of Mr. Williams. Mr. Williams joined the Shiloh Baptist Church when he was a boy and all of his life he has been a faithful member of his church. He attends the First Baptist Church in Raleigh where he is deacon. . . .

Several years ago, Frank H. Jeter, who has charge of publicity for the entire college, said, "In my opinion, Professor Williams is the outstanding authority in the South on soils and fertilizers. He was one of the first to recognize the value of a soil survey, supplying fundamental information necessary to a full knowledge of the fertilizer requirements of the various crops. He has consistently worked toward the end that every foot of land in North Carolina shall be surveyed before the job is completed, and it is largely due to his interest that such a large part of the State survey has been completed."

Mr. Williams has been connected with State College ever since October 3, 1889, which is almost fifty-eight years. This is a record. In addition to the other positions recorded in the first part of this story, Mr. Williams was first appointed assistant chemist of the North Carolina Agricultural Experiment Station where he served for three years when he left to attend Johns Hopkins University for a year on a state fellowship in chemistry. His active interest in soil survey work has already been related, and he was made chairman of the tobacco research committee in 1920.

Mr. Williams has been listed in "Who's Who in America" for many years. He is a member of Phi Kappa Phi and the Pine Burr Society, both honor groups; the American Society of Agronomy; National Grange; and is a Fellow of the American Association for the Advancement of Science. In 1918, the "Country Gentleman," national publication, selected him as one of seven Blue Ribbon men and women of the United States for his research work with soybeans. In 1933 he was featured in "Town and Country Review," an English magazine published in London.

In Atlanta on February 5, 1941, the Association of Southern Agricultural Workers honored Mr. Williams with the following citation: "Native of North Carolina, close to its soil from boyhood, graduate, with highest honors, in the first class of its agricultural mechanical college, he has devoted his life to its service as chemist, agronomist, Dean of Agriculture, and director of its experiment station.

"He has been a leader of leaders in one of the most progressive of Southern states; has initiated and conducted experiments in a wide field of agricultural research; and is now honored for a long career of distinguished service to his state, his section, and his country."

In 1939 he was awarded a special certificate at the annual meeting of the North Carolina Building and Loan League in recognition of his having served twenty-five years or more as a director of a Raleigh Building & Loan Association.

Mr. Williams has always been careful to save and have bound all of the printed publications of the various experiment stations of the country, and for years the only agricultural library to be found at State College was that made up of the files in his office. Since 1896, Mr. Williams has been the author or co-author of more than 230 articles, bulletins, and books. The publications referred to cover every imaginable subject in soil and fertilizer research. Among the most interesting of these is the report of a trip made by a party of twenty-two southern agricultural leaders in the summer of 1928, of which party Mr. Williams acted as chairman. The study covered the soil building and fertilizer practices of France, Switzerland, Germany, Holland, and Belgium. Many details of his story of the visit to Europe and the titles of many of his publications were printed in STATE COLLEGE NEWS of January, 1936.

Mr. Williams is married to the former Miss Margaret Williams Moring who was born in Raleigh, N. C., October 4, 1879 of a family long identified with the civic, religious and social life of the community. Her father, Mr. Frank O. Moring, was for many years a prominent merchant and cotton mill executive.

The Moring home was at 127 N. Blount Street. Mrs. Williams graduated from Peace College in Raleigh and the Southern Conservatory of Music in Durham. For a number of years she was active in Raleigh's musical circles, playing both piano and violin. She was married to Mr. Williams of Elizabeth City on July 5, 1900. They have one daughter, Mrs. Frances Williams Park and one son Frank Moring Williams. A second daughter, Susanne Burgess, died in 1926 twenty years of age.

Mrs. Frances Williams Park attended St. Marys School and the public schools of Raleigh and graduated from Woman's College in Greensboro. For two years following her graduation, she held a position with the Morris Plan Bank in Raleigh. On June 6, 1925, she was married to Thos. N. Park, son of Mrs. Charles B. Park and the late Prof. Park of State College. They have four children, three girls and one boy. The oldest girl, Susanne, will be a senior next year at Womans College. She made her debut last fall at the Raleigh Debutant Ball sponsored by the Terpsichorean Social Club.

Frank Moring Williams attended the Raleigh Public Schools and graduated from State College in textiles, class of 1928.

He was a member of Pine Burr and Phi Kappa Phi, honor societies, Sigma Nu fraternity, Phi Psi and several social clubs. During his senior year he was president of the German Club and a member of Pan-Hellenic Council.

For ten years after graduation, he was with the South Eastern Underwriters Association of Atlanta, Ga. He was a lieutenant in the navy for two years during World War II, stationed with the Bureau of Yards & Docks in Washington, D. C.

He is now State Special Agent for Seibels Bruce & Co., fire insurance managers, of Columbia, S. C.

In 1932 he was married to Margaret Crowder of Raleigh, daughter of Mrs. T. B. Crowder and the late Mr. Crowder.

Mr. C. B. Williams is one of the original members of the Memorial Tower Committee. His hobbies are football and fishing. Mrs. Williams is a charter member of the Raleigh Womans Club and is a member of the Vicinia Book Club.

Two brothers of Mr. Williams came to State College. Dr. Claud B. Williams, now deceased, was a prominent physician in Elizabeth City for many years. Mr. J. B. Williams, the other brother, is now living in Camden County and his post office is Camden, N. C.

Gets High SAL Post

ELEVATION of J. K. Waitt to the post of Valuation Engineer for the Seaboard Air Line Railroad has been announced by W. D. Simpson, the road's Chief Engineer. Waitt succeeds T. W. Roby, recently named Chief of Research and Planning for the line.

A native of Raleigh, Waitt is a graduate of North Carolina State College, where he received a degree in civil engineering.

First becoming connected with the Seaboard in 1904, he has been with the system since that time, except for the period 1908-1913, when he was active in the development of Florida phosphate rock deposits.

Serving in varied engineering capacities after his return to the road, he was made Real Estate Agent in 1925 and was closely identified with the line's expansion and construction activities in the following years. His new duties will embrace jurisdiction over valuation matters and real estate transactions.

He is a member of the Engineers Club of Hampton Roads and also the President of the Norfolk-Portsmouth Alumni Association of North Carolina State College.

M. A. Negro has been appointed Real Estate Agent to succeed Waitt. A native and life-long resident of Norfolk, he began his service with the Seaboard in 1917 in the Engineering Department.

NOTE: C. G. WILLIAMS is shown above as President of ASA in 1926. I am wondering if this could be CBW. I need to check this out. However, I have not noted anywhere in the Profile of CBW that he was President - but he was active in ASA in the 1920's and could have been President - RPA 3 JUN 2006

(14) Mrs C. B. Williams had a granddaughter, a Mrs Walter J. Whitley, who permitted early Upchurch records to be copied. (18)

My grandfather, C. B. Williams, was such a dear sweet man and he passed away when I was 10 years old. Although he was retired at the time, he frequently went to his office on campus. The family sold the house in 2004 and it is now filled with offices. The good thing is that the owners have kept the house interior pretty much like I remember it (no wall changing, etc.) and have even kept the wallpaper in the parlor that I picked out for my parents.

Making History Come Alive

The article about Dr. Tom Stafford in NC State magazine was a great tribute to an enthusiastic and dedicated member of the NC State family. My family and I met him at the Legacy Luncheon we attended with our daughter, Julia, and her family last August when our grandson, Tyler Owens, entered NC State as a freshman. Dr. Stafford was most interested in our family history since Tyler is a 5th generation Wolfpacker. My grandfather, Charles B. Williams, was in the very first graduating class, and each generation has followed with NC State University graduates. Dr. Stafford told us about his Bell Tower tour, and I later arranged for my senior group at Hayes Barton Methodist Church to take the tour. The tour brings to life the story of those first students and physically travels from Holladay Hall, the initial building on campus, to the Bell Tower, noting its beginnings and significance. I had a big surprise when we first took the tour when Dr. Stafford featured a picture of the first freshman class—including my grandfather—and then a picture of my family taken at the Legacy Luncheon. Thank you, Dr. Stafford, for making history come alive.

Charles Burgess Williams, captain of NC State's first football team in 1892 and valedictorian of the first graduating class in 1893.

Lucas, 77, was the third generation of her family to attend NC State, following in the footsteps of her football-playing grandfather and father. Two more generations followed, including two granddaughters who are current students here. As always, members of the family that are still based in Raleigh and Cary, will have a family tailgate prior to Saturday's Homecoming game against Clemson.

Her grandfather, Charles Burgess Williams, made his way from the Camden County town of Shiloh in the northeast corner of North Carolina to Raleigh in October 1889 as one of the 72 students to enroll in what was then called the North Carolina School for Agriculture and Mechanic Arts. He was both the captain of the first football team and the valedictorian of the first graduating class, back when Holladay Hall was the school's only building.

"It all started so small," Lucas says. "I think my grandfather would be very proud of what it has become, but it would be overwhelming to him, I'm sure."

History now knows Williams as North Carolina's "Mr. Soybean," having introduced that $6 billion cash crop to the state before the start of the 20th century. He later became head of NC State's agronomy department and the first dean in the College of Agriculture and Life Sciences. Williams Hall on NC State's main campus is named in his honor.

Margie Lucas grew up in the Williams-Park House, a two-story Victorian home on Hillsborough Street that was outside Raleigh's city limits when her grandfather built it in 1909.

○ RPU Theory Regarding the Possible Relationships between the UPCHURCH - LAMBETH - LASSITER - JOHNSON Families of Chatham & Wake Counties, NC
[LAMBETH AKA LAMBERT; LASSITER AKA LASATER; LASATER, LASSISTER - all filed as underlined]

A. KNOWN FAMILY RELATIONSHIPS:

X. JOHN LASATER b. abt 1797 () d. abt 1844

m. d. CATHERINE LAMBETH b. l. & abt 1837

A. JOSEPH BELL LASATER m. d. 1852 () QUINETT UPCHURCH d/o SIMS U

Y RPU comments as of 13 DEC 2003 - Possible relationships related to I & X above: Nathan U, I, Head of Clan, m. d. () Mackey - -, thought to have been Mackey Johnson, possibly d/o Julia Johnson. I speculate that somehow the proposed Mackey Johnson could be related to the above families of JOHNSON, LAMBETH, & LASATER considering that she had grandchildren with given names of MARIAN, LAMBETH & LASATER. More especially note that Mackey had a grandson (my great uncle) LAMBETH LASATER UPCHURCH - an unlikely combination of given names unless tied to earlier related family members.

Pg 7:

Charles Fabius Williams, the eldest son, was born July 26, 1860. He married Annie Maria Johnson on June 14, 1888. (Family Bible.) They built a home on the land he inherited from his father. It was a four-room house to begin with, with other rooms added as the family increased.

Charles Fabius Williams was a farmer and raised very fine hogs which won many blue ribbons and prizes at State Fairs. His natural preference was more for machinery or politics than for farming. In his early married life he ran a sawmill, a grist mill, and a cotton gin, until he was persuaded it would be better to concentrate on tobacco farming. He was a justice of the peace and his neighbors often called on him for advice. He resembled his mother in being fair in coloring, very sociable by disposition, and fond of good quality in everything. He was a good workman and a great believer in finishing every job right. He was an active member of the Olive Chapel Baptist Church and superintendent of its Sunday school for many years. He was superintendent the year it became the first A-1 rural Sunday school in the South.

THE FAMILY of JOHN MARSHALL WILLIAMS & ELIZABETH UPCHURCH
Mark's Creek Township, Wendell, North Carolina

John Marshall Williams - born c. 1810-12, in Chatham, Wake or maybe even Franklin County. Parents unknown, but believed to have had a brother or nephew named Jefferson Williams (appearing on 1850 census in Wake County's Marks Creek Township) Marshall married c. 1832 to Elizabeth Upchurch, born March 1808, Chatham County to Gillium Upchurch & Sarah Smith. Marshall died between July-November 1865 and Elizabeth sometime after the 1900 census, where she is listed at 92 years old. The couple are buried in the Williams Family Cemetery in Knightdale, Wake County, NC.

Elizabeth's sister Harriett Upchurch was born c. June 1812. She never married and lived most of her life with JM & Betsy Williams until her death on January 15, 1882, and is buried beside her sister in the family cemetery.

Arthelia married Larkin A Smith on February 4, 1866, in Wake County. Arthelia passed away on November 3, 1888, but her gravesite is not known. Both the Williams and Scarborough family cemeteries have unmarked graves, so either might hold her remains.

The four-tiered wedding cake was decorated with pink and white spider lilies on each layer and topped with the traditional bride and bridegroom figures.

Hostesses were Evelyn Horton, Nell Williams, Stennella Ellis, Betty Perry and Anne Maria Bisette. Hellos were said by Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Alford.

Rehearsal dinner

The "P" could stand for Pearce, Punetto or Perry based on probabilities - but no CLAUDIA is in RPA files under these last names.

Our community was surprised with the news that Derwin Williams of Asheville, son of Harold Williams and Sara McLaurin, grandson of Mrs. Cloyce Williams and Mrs. Blonza Smith, has a cyst on his brain. He is in the process of consultation and scheduling what corrective action to take with surgery. Most all of us know and love Derwin. Keep him close to your heart and in your prayers. Remember his family members, too.
